This championship

isn't just about these 25 guys. This is for every fan who has ever been to Fenway Park. This is for Johnny Pesky, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio and Ted. This is for Yaz and Lonborg, Tiant and Fisk, Evans and Rice. This championship is for everyone who came so close and for everyone who cared so much.

The Red Sox enter 2005 having sold out each of their last 145 regular season games at Fenway Park, "America's Most Beloved Ballpark." The streak is the third-longest in Major League Baseball history behind only Cleveland (455 consecutive sellouts from 1995-2001) and Colorado (203 in a row from 1995-97). Since the sellout streak began on May 15, 2003, no other club has drawn as many as 32,000 for every home game. En route to the World Championship, the Red Sox in 2004 became only the fourth team in history to sell out an entire season, joining the Indians (1996-2000), Rockies (1996) and Giants (2000). Playing in baseball's oldest and smallest park, the Red Sox attracted 2,837,304 to Fenway in 2004, an average of 35,028 per game. The club surpassed 2.8 million in home attendance for the first time, setting a club record for the fifth consecutive season. The previous Red Sox attendance high was 2,724,162 in 2003.

A NEW DAY

The Story of the New Red Sox

JOHN HENRY, TOM WERNER, LARRY LUCCHINO AND THEIR PARTNERS MADE FIVE COMMITMENTS TO THE FANS OF NEW ENGLAND AT THEIR INTRODUCTORY PRESS CONFERENCE ON DECEMBER 21, 2001.

After a 69-year stewardship of the Boston Red Sox and Fenway Park by Tom and Jean Yawkey, and their trustees, a new chapter in this franchise's compelling saga began December 20, 2001. A group led by veteran baseball owners John W. Henry, Tom Werner, and Larry Lucchino successfully outbid competitors and purchased the club, the park, and 80 percent of the New England Sports Network (NESN). The purchase price was estimated at $660 million, plus $40 million in assumed debt. The owners invested more than anyone else in the history of Major League Baseball.

At their introductory press conference December 21, 2001, the new leaders, flanked by their partners, outlined their blueprint for running the club. They made five commitments, the fundamental obligations of ownership, and have remained faithful to all five principles in these first three seasons.

TO FIELD A TEAM WORTHY OF THE FANS' SUPPORT

Acknowledging that the primary obligation of a club is to field a team worthy of the fans' support, the leaders set out to construct a club that would make New England proud. They would seek a team competitive on the field and one with whom fans could identify off the field. In their first three seasons, the new owners of the Red Sox have fielded teams that have won at least 93 games each year, participated in breathtaking postseason dramas the past two, and won the World Championship in 2004 that had been elusive for 86 years.

The new owners' actions were immediate. When the purchase of the club closed late in the day on February 27, 2002, Henry, Werner, and Lucchino made their first order of business the next morning a change in general managers. Mike Port replaced Dan Duquette on an interim basis through the season.

Five days after making that change, they dismissed Manager Joe Kerrigan, and on March 11, they replaced him with Grady Little.

On March 24, they added Assistant General Manager Theo Epstein. The Yale grad, who grew up a mile away from Fenway in Brookline, had been Director of Baseball Operations for the San Diego Padres.

The 93 wins of the 2002 Red Sox represented an 11-game improvement over the previous year. The pitching staff featured two 20-game winners, Pedro Martinez and Derek Lowe, and the league's leading hitter, Manny Ramirez, who hit .349 to capture his first American League batting championship. These three stars joined Nomar Garciaparra, Johnny Damon, Shea Hillenbrand, and Ugueth Urbina to give the Sox seven All-Stars.

But when the chill of September had given way to October, the American League East standings had finished in the same order for the fifth straight year: Yankees, Red Sox, Blue Jays, Orioles, and Devil Rays. And Anaheim rode the Wild Card to the world championship.

After the season, the Red Sox conducted a methodical and thorough search of candidates for the general manager's position. During the search, the club added expertise in quantitative analysis in Bill James, the author with innovative statistical systems and conclusions. Finally, on November 25, the club surprised the baseball world with the news that Theo Epstein would be the franchise's 11th general manager, and at 28, would be the youngest in baseball history.

The Brookline High grad embarked upon a clear plan to construct a relentless lineup. In essence, he replaced Tony Clark, Brian Daubach, Rey Sanchez, and Carlos Baerga with Kevin Millar, David Ortiz, Todd Walker, and Bill Mueller. He also managed to make those acquisitions while keeping intact the remainder of the starting nine (Ramirez, Damon, Nixon, Varitek, Garciaparra and Hillenbrand).

Strengthening the starting rotation by adding versatile Tim Wakefield (who had split the preceding 4 years between the bullpen and rotation), Epstein began what would be a season-long journey of building a bullpen.

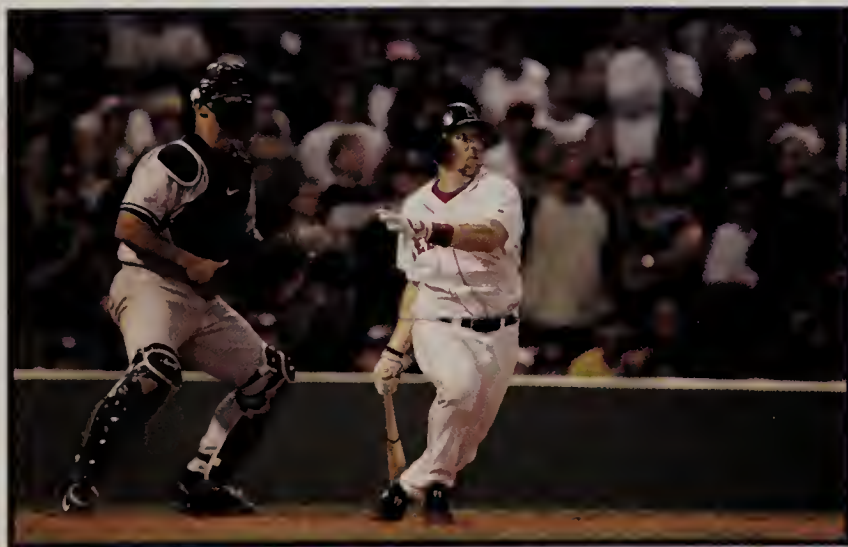

Meanwhile, the relentless lineup lived up to its promise with record-shattering abandon. When it came to slugging percentage, the Red Sox weren't the '27 Yankees—they were better.

Not satisfied with the bullpen as the July 31 trading deadline loomed, Epstein acquired Cincinnati's Scott Williamson and Pittsburgh's Scott Sauerbeck and starter Jeff Suppan for infield prospect Freddie Sanchez.

It was in the week that preceded their last series versus New York that Grady Little's club rallied, jelled, and showed its character. They encouraged each other to "Cowboy Up," a line from a movie and the title of a song (written by Ryan Reynolds, whose dad, Archie, played for the California Angels in the early '70s) that typified that play-when-you're-hurt, never-say-die clubhouse spirit. "Cowboy Up, dust yourself off, get back in the saddle, give it one more try. Sweat and blood, give it all you got. The road to heaven is a hell of a ride. The tough get going when the going gets tough so come on and Cowboy Up."

The Red Sox stormed through September, clinching the A.L. Wild Card September 25 and returning to the postseason for the first time since 1999. After falling behind the Oakland A's, two games to none in the best-of-five A.L. Division Series, the club rebounded with a pair of thrilling wins at Fenway Park, and a series-clinching finale in Oakland.

Facing the arch-rival New York Yankees in the American League Championship Series, the Red Sox split the first two in New York, dropped two of three at Fenway, won Game 6 to even the series, then played an instant baseball classic in a Game 7 for the ages. The Red Sox led, 5-2, and were 5 outs away from the pennant, when the Yankees rallied to tie in the 8th. Finally, in the bottom of the 11th, Aaron Boone led off with a pennant-winning homer, and one of the most captivating seasons in history drew to a close.

BILL MUELLER'S JULY 24 WALK-OFF HOMER OFF THE YANKEES' MARIANO RIVERA SET THE STAGE FOR THE 2004 RED SOX' HISTORIC RUN.

To bolster an already-outstanding team, the Red Sox were aggressive throughout the winter. They added premier startsing pitcher Curt Schilling, closer Keith Foulke, former Gold Glove second baseman Pokey Reese, and unheralded second baseman Mark Bellhorn. As they turned the reigns to new manager Terry Francona, the Sox inspired fans to acquire 2004 tickets at a record rate. Before single-game sales even started on February 1, fans had purchased 1.8 million tickets. The club had passed the 2.1 million mark in ticket sales before pitchers and catchers even reported to Spring Training. All were club records.

The 2004 club raced out to a good start, finishing April with a 15-6 record, which included 6 wins in 7 games against the Yankees. Suddenly, starting with a wet weekend in Texas May 1, the Sox fell into a long slumber, a 37-38 stretch that found them 52-44 through July 23, when the first-place Yankees beat them for the fourth straight time.

A change started July 24. In a memorable and hard-fought thriller, Bill Mueller beat Mariano Rivera 11-10 with a game-winning 2-run homer in the bottom of the 9th. Starting that day, the Red Sox went 46-20 the rest of the way.

A week later, Epstein made a bold move that bolstered the club even more. On July 31, minutes before the non-waiver trading deadline, the young GM traded icon Nomar Garciaparra to the Chicago Cubs in a 4-team deal that brought two former Gold Glovers, shortstop Orlando Cabrera and first baseman Doug Mientkiewicz, to the Sox. That same day, Epstein also acquired speedy outfielder Dave Roberts from the Dodgers. The change was immediately noticeable, and soon, would be undeniable.

Through July 31, the Red Sox had allowed 74 unearned runs in 102 games. Starting August 1, they allowed 20 in their final 60 contests.

Through July 31, the Red Sox were 56-46. They went 42-18 the rest of the way.

Through August 15, the Red Sox were 64-52. Starting August 16, they were 34-12, including an initial stretch in which, starting August 16, they were 16-1 and 20-2.

The improved defense improved the pitching, highlighted by Curt Schilling, who led the American League with 21 wins.

And on September 27, the Red Sox won at Tampa Bay to clinch a post-season berth for the second straight year. It was only the fourth time in franchise history that the club had qualified for the postseason in consecutive seasons (1903-04, 1915-16, 1997-98).

In the American League Division Series, the Red Sox punctuated a dramatic sweep of the Anaheim Angels with David Ortiz's 10th-inning sudden-death home run over the Green Monster that sent Fenway fans into delirium.

The crowd quieted, however, when in the American League Championship Series, the archrival Yankees rattled off three straight wins, the third a 19-8 shellacking of the Sox at Fenway. When the bottom of the 9th began in Game 4, the Yankees were three outs away from an embarrassing sweep, leading 4-3, with nearly invincible closer Mariano Rivera on the mound. Nearly.

Kevin Millar, whom Theo Epstein had aggressively pursued because of his approach at the plate, patiently drew a walk. Roberts, acquired because of his superlative speed and attitude, ran for Millar and stole second base (after spending the previous four innings studying tapes of the Yankees' relievers). Defending American League Batting Champion Bill Mueller drove a single up the middle, scoring Roberts, and the game was tied. In the bottom of the 12th, breaking up a nail-biting marathon, Ortiz again delivered, again with a game-winning, sudden-death home run to right. The Red Sox would live another day.

That next day, Game 5, would go even longer than Game 4. And again, at long last, in the bottom of the 14th inning, Ortiz delivered yet again, with a game-winning, sudden-death single to center that amazingly sent the series back to New York for Game 6.

The tight tussle in Game 6 was another one for the ages. Blood seeped through Curt Schilling's surgically repaired ankle and sock for all to see, as he shut down the Bombers and silenced the crowd. Umpires reversed two calls, both times making the correct correction. And in the end, the Red Sox prevailed, 4-2, forcing a Game 7.

No major league team had ever come back from 0-3 to even force a Game 7, let alone win. And win they did. In robust fashion. Johnny Damon was the star of stars with two home runs, including a grand slam, and the world watched in disbelief and widespread happiness as the Red Sox wrested the pennant from the clutches of the New York Yankees.

Facing the St. Louis Cardinals for the third time in a World Series (1946, 1967, both 7-game losses), the Red Sox continued their streak. They rattled off four straight wins, from slugfests to pitchers duels, and at last, after 86 years, the wait was over. The World Championship belonged to Red Sox Nation.

More than 3.2 million filled the streets of Boston and the banks of the Charles River as a parade of Duck Boats filled with Red Sox moved through the city and then, using their amphibious apparatus, continued into the river as fans cheered, waved, and cried.

The celebration continued as the Red Sox took the trophy to each state in New England, (plus many outside the region) and committed to visit every one of the 351 Massachusetts cities and towns that requested it. A journey of love, to be sure.

A team worthy of the fans' support? In 2004, for the first time in franchise history, the Red Sox sold out all 81 games. Starting May 15, 2003, the Red Sox have now sold out 145 straight regular season home games. They reached 2.7 million in attendance for the first time in 2003; they reached 2.8 million for the first time in 2004. It was the fifth straight year that the Red Sox had established a new season attendance record (2,837,304). Red Sox Nation undoubtedly believed this team was worthy of their support, and showed its passion with demands that far exceeded the supply at Fenway Park.

TOPRESERVEALLTHAT'SGOODABOUTFENWAYPARK ANDTO TAKE THAT EXPERIENCE TO A HIGHER LEVEL

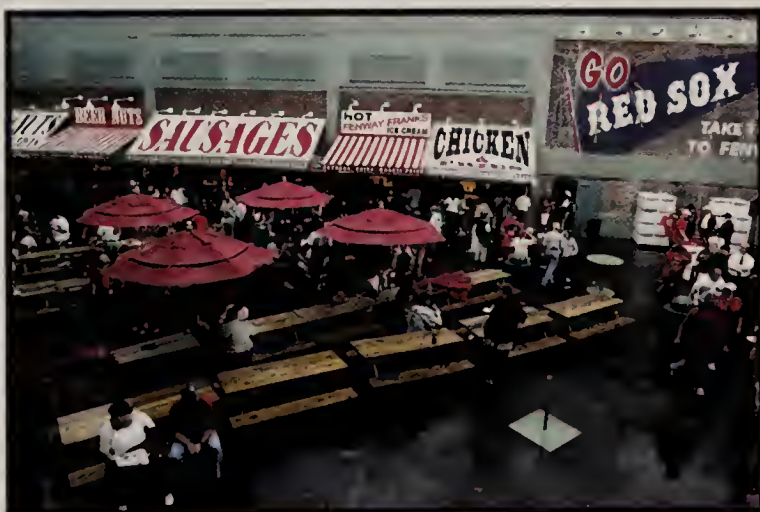

While playing baseball is the Red Sox' highest priority, the club's new leadership has put great emphasis on improving venerable Fenway Park and enhancing the experience of going to a ballgame. The new ownership set out to make clear improvements to these two products as well.

Adding the expertise of architect Janet Marie Smith, who helped execute Lucchino's vision in the creation of Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the club has rattled off a slew of Fenway Improvements in 2002, 2003, and 2004. The principle of the "Year I Improvements" was to add seats, shorten lines, and increase amenities. The principles of the "Year II & III Improvements" were to add more seats, space, and information.

Immediately after purchasing the club, the new Red Sox leaders added 400 seats in time for Opening Day, 2002. Converting standing room to seating room without changing capacity, the club added 91 Bench seats, 149 Roof Box seats (82 on the first base side, 67 on the third base side), and 160 Dugout seats (80 on each side).

The club and concessions partner Aramark quickly increased the number of points of sale for food and beverage from 57 to 67. To create the space, the club removed cumbersome, intrusive, and unfriendly wire fences inside Gates B and C. Later in the season, they added 11 more points of sale (78 total) on Yawkey Way.

A new venue for fans in-game and post-game, the Players Club welcomed fans in the 7th inning, and earlier during rain delays. Season ticket holders found a home in a new dining venue that would later be named the Red Sox Hall of Fame Club presented by Volvo. The club also added a new lounge for Red Sox players, a new interview room for the media, and new amenities in the press box.

THE BIG CONCOURSE IN RIGHT FIELD (ABOVE) DEBUTED IN 2003. A NEW THIRD BASE CONCOURSE FOLLOWED IN 2004, AND A GRANDSTAND CONCOURSE, ABOVE THE EXPANDED RED SOX CLUBHOUSE, WILL OPEN IN 2005.

The Red Sox also painted, scrubbed, and cleaned the park, removing banners heralding the 1999 All-Star Game, and adding new ones celebrating the 90th anniversary of baseball's oldest ballpark.

Later in the year, the club added another group of improvements. Topping the list was the September 5 opening of the Yawkey Way Concourse, an expansion of the park onto the neighboring street. The move added 25,000 square feet, doubled the fans' space on the third base side of the park, and cleared more metal clutter inside Gate A. Fans were able to enter via 30 turnstiles, up from the previous total of 18.

On that same date, the club began opening the gates two hours before game time. The early opening eased the rush and allowed fans to watch Red Sox batting practice.

An array of new menu items on Yawkey Way included "El Tiente," authentic Cuban cuisine with the opportunity to meet Red Sox legend Luis Tiant. In addition to the great righthander, a former Red Sox player signed autographs for two hours before each game in Autograph Alley, using space liberated by the expansion. The club also reduced lines by adding more ATMs and more restrooms for ladies, men, and families. Children also enjoyed games, entertainers, and musicians each day.

In addition to creating a Red Sox Hall of Fame (presented by Volvo) in the former Fenmore Room, the club paid tribute to Ted Williams by renaming the 600 Club the .406 Club.

In 2003, the club added 174 seats atop the fabled left field wall and drew rave reviews. Boston Magazine would later dub the Green Monster Seats as the best seats in Boston. The Red Sox added 87 Home Plate Seats on the field and 133 more Dugout Seats. Again, they converted standing room to seating room to maintain the existing capacity.

A new "Big Concourse" was introduced August 18 to the media and made its debut the next day. Fans found 25,000 more square feet beneath the center field bleachers and right field grandstand and enjoyed new menu options from new kitchens. The park's concession stands increased to 81, the width of the concourse doubled from 30 feet to 60 feet, and usable space between Gates B and C tripled.

The club added 26 new picnic tables, 23 round "stand up" tables, 16 televisions, approximately 100 restroom fixtures, six water fountains, three more ATMs, a Fan Services center, and a First Aid station with Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. The spacious restrooms for men, women, and families appear to be the largest in Baseball.

Fans also enjoyed more room inside Gate D when Aramark moved its offices to the "Laundry Building."

In addition, fans received more game information. The scores of National League games returned to the manual scoreboard in left field after a 27-year absence, and a "Pitchers Board" and "Hitters Board" provided new electronic information from above and beyond the left-centerfield bleachers. The "Pitchers Board" provided the type of pitch, speed, pitch count, and other information, while the "Hitters Board" displayed appropriate "inside baseball" information, such as how a hitter has fared against a particular club, pitcher, or baseball situation. The two boards were sponsored by Fleet (now Bank of America), and flanked a single ad panel.

In 2004, the Red Sox created a new Fenway Park neighborhood, the Right Field Roof. Installing tables shaped like home plate that accommodate parties of four, the roof added 192 new seats and space for 250 standing room patrons. New amenities included unique menu items, such as baby back ribs, in-seat service, plus new restrooms, a new open-air bar with televisions, and a new elevator. The tables and standing room sold out within hours of going on sale.

Across the field, the club revamped the dank area beneath the third base seats. The refreshed Third Base Concourse added new concessions, new restrooms, and new space, just as the Big Concourse had done the year before. The space also featured new water fountains, new ATMs and a new port of entry, Gate E, at the corner of Lansdowne St. and Brookline Ave.

Adding new amenities for the Dugout Seat patrons, the club created the Crown Royal Club on the Third Base Concourse, a new dressing room for umpires, and new offices for the baseball operations staff.

Later in the season, the club introduced "Rem Dawg's on Yawkey," an open-air concessions area featuring popular former second baseman and current television analyst Jerry Remy. NESN moved its pre-game show to Yawkey Way as well, and a new pizza stand, Calzone Rossi (that's Red Sox in Italian) started serving slices. At the request of fans, bicycle racks were added on Van Ness St., and new street lights and trees were added to Van Ness St. and Yawkey Way.

In addition to the structural changes, the club added new personal and ceremonial touches. On Opening Day, 2002, while Aerosmith star Steven Tyler, a friend of Henry, belted an inspiring national anthem, a new giant flag draped across the length of the Green Monster. Then, from behind the flag, emerged the Super Bowl champion New England Patriots, who marched in with their trophy, threw 25 simultaneous Ceremonial First Pitches to the entire Red Sox squad, and shook hands, hoping to bestow their championship karma on their baseball brothers.

Two days later, the players greeted fans at the gates, a gesture of intimacy and goodwill appreciated by their adoring faithful.

The club added ceremonies to honor heroes and thrill children every game. From leaders of group outings to little fans shouting "Play Ball!" to cue the start of the game, the Red Sox used their sacred lawn to cast the spotlight on average citizens and community heroes.

Those citizens experienced another Fenway First June 16, 2002, when the club introduced a Fathers Day Catch at Fenway. While the club played in Atlanta, approximately 20,000 fans spent parts of their afternoon playing catch on the Fenway Park outfield grass.

A little more than a month later, July 22, the club invited the public to Fenway to celebrate the life of Ted Williams, who had passed away July 5. During the day, fans quietly walked the warning track, admiring displays that illustrated not only his playing career, but his role as an American patriot and a pioneer in the development of the Jimmy Fund.

That evening, a crowd sat captivated by stories from teammates Johnny Pesky and Dom DiMaggio, comrades in war Sen. John Glenn and Jerry Coleman, protégés Carl Yastrzemski and Nomar Garciaparra, Jimmy Fund leaders and patients, and the long-time voices of the Red Sox, Ned Martin (who would ironically pass away the next day) and Ken Coleman (who would pass away the next year). Then an assembly of Red Sox alumni took the field, in their old positions, in their old uniforms, and gravitated to a left field flower display in the form of a Number 9. The players knelt and placed flowers as well, as together, a community bade farewell to the greatest hitter that ever lived.

Through the summer, the club chose 25 Fenway Ambassadors from more than 3,500 applicants. Diverse in age and backgrounds but unified in their sensitivity to fans, the Ambassadors made their debut September 5. This proactive, outbound goodwill force rides the T (creating a "Boston T Party"), greets fans at Kenmore Square, selects children for ceremonies, and stealthily bestows gifts upon unsuspecting, wide-eyed little ones.

Fans continued to enjoy the ambiance and experiences of Fenway Park even in the off-season. The club opened the doors each year on Halloween for Boston's children to "trick or treat" in safety and comfort, while Red Sox corporate partner Stop and Shop supplied the candy.

Less than two weeks later, the Red Sox celebrated Veterans Day, both at Fenway and in the community.

After each season, the Red Sox have organized a Holiday Caravan to area hospitals and schools, and welcomed children to Fenway for a Holiday Party.

Additional innovations in 2003 included players meeting fans in an On-Field Photo Day, a Mothers Day Walk in the Park, a reprise of the Fathers Day Catch, and baseball and softball clinics for boys and girls. Before each Friday home game, the club honored "Medical All-Stars," local physicians and scientists searching for cures for cancer and other diseases.

The park also attracted an array of America's top singers and musicians. Lou Rawls (national anthem) and the late Ray Charles (America the Beautiful) opened the season, and Boston's James Taylor delivered an anthem for the ages near the close of Opening Week. Stephen Stills, Huey Lewis and the News, Country star (and Holliston, MA native) Jo Dee Messina and the Eagles' Glenn Frey visited the park, as did Hollywood's Rob Reiner, Spike Lee, Ben Affleck, and Jennifer Lopez. In 2004, Saturday Night Live's Seth Myers made several visits, and former SNL star Jimmy Fallon spent many September days at Fenway with Drew Barrymore, as they used the location to shoot the Farrelly Brothers' new film, "Fever Pitch."

And the players added to the ambiance as well. In 2003, Kevin Millar delivered a home video taped as a teenager of his singing and dancing to Bruce Springsteen's, "Born in the U.S.A." The humorous display brought fans to their feet and gave the Red Sox their version of Anaheim's Rally Monkey: Rally Karaoke Guy.

Ironically, the real, live version of the song would help cap two more innovative nights at Fenway. Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band played the first ever rock concerts at Fenway September 6 and 7 before capacity crowds of 36,298 each night. With sparkling weather and a nearly full moon, the energetic performer had the crowd on its feet virtually the entire show both nights. A year later, Jimmy Buffett would add color and a sweet atmosphere in another pair of sold-out concerts September 10 and 12.

During the three seasons, there was a new ambiance and spirit, indeed.

TO MARKET AGGRESSIVELY TO A NEW, BROAD REGION

The third commitment of the new Red Sox ownership was to market the club aggressively to a new, broad region. The club, blessed with fans throughout New England, across the nation and around the globe, engaged in programs to demonstrate that loyalty is a two-way street.

From January 24-31, 2003 the Fenway Ambassadors, Red Sox alumni, and current players rode through frigid and blizzard conditions to meet fans in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Red Sox Winter Caravan presented by Coca-Cola also paraded through Boston and other areas in Massachusetts in February, and culminated with the departure of the team's equipment truck from Fenway for Ft. Myers, FL, February 10, 2003.

A Summer Caravan continued the outreach, this time with combinations of Henry, Werner, and Lucchino. The visits to each state included pomp and ceremony from elected officials and fans at public rallies, and personal interaction and financial contributions at children's group homes (formerly called orphanages) in each state.

In addition to the outbound visits, the club held celebrations at Fenway for each of the states, and for the children whom the club's owners had met at the homes.

In January and February, 2004, the caravan again took to the highways and backroads. An assortment of players and coaches visited each state in New England. And the club reprised the celebrations of each state at Fenway during the season.

The club also began the labor-intensive process of personally answering fan mail from throughout the region. The individual attention enhanced the bonds of goodwill and led to Lucchino's new expression, "micromarketing."

In addition to the grass roots marketing, the club worked more closely with NESN, the booming New England voice that carries Red Sox games and programming to most of New England, and beyond.

Upon winning the World Series, October 27, 2004, the Red Sox received the long-awaited trophy, and immediately set out to share it with their fans. The Red Sox carried the grand symbol of faith rewarded to every state in New England, plus New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington, D.C., Florida, and the Dominican Republic. In addition, the club committed to bring the trophy to each of the 351 cities or towns in Massachusetts that requested it. The journey will continue well into 2005.

Along the road of the Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts Lottery, another symbol of victory joined the celebration. "The Final Out Ball," the ball that Edgar Renteria hit, that Keith Foulke snagged, and that Doug Mientkiewicz caught to ignite massive jubilation that still echoes, was mounted in a handsome case by Heritage Creations, Inc., and now accompanies the trophy on many of its visits. These on-going caravans bring the Red Sox, and a personal touch, to a new, broad region.

TO BE ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMMUNITY

The new leadership of the Red Sox vowed to be active participants in the community, and has taken that outreach to new levels. Immediately after completing the purchase of the club February 27, 2002, the new ownership group established the Red Sox Foundation, and ever since, has made commitments that have now exceeded $18 million.

An immediate beneficiary was the Joey Fund, which received $150,000 from a Red Sox spring training game vs. Houston to help fight cystic fibrosis.

The new leadership has focused its community and philanthropic efforts on four areas: health, education, athletics, and urban social issues.

The landmark health program continues to be the Jimmy Fund, which in 2004 celebrated the 51st anniversary of its partnership with the Red Sox. The club still devotes more than a million dollars in cash or value, including title sponsorship of the Jimmy Fund's largest fundraiser, the Pan Mass Challenge presented by the Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox Foundation has donated nearly $1.5 million in cash in 2003 and 2004 through that sponsorship alone.

Beyond the money, the Red Sox honor the doctors at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund Clinic throughout each season. Hundreds of citizens who had earlier been treated at DFCI formed a giant 50 in center field on April 18, 2003, a living demonstration of the progress the physicians and scientists have made throughout the years.

On August 27, 2004, 25 doctors in their lab coats walked across the outfield grass to a standing ovation as the fans learned the type of cancer research each scientist was pursuing. When they reached the pitchers mound, the entire Red Sox team was waiting at home plate to catch each of their tosses for the Ceremonial First Pitch. That night was the third annual WEEI Radiothon, the second straight televised by NESN, and for the third straight year, the event set a record. After raising $325,000 in 2002 and $1 million in 2003, the event raised nearly $1.5 million in 2004.

Visits, both organized and impromptu, to the hospital by players and to the ballpark by patients also characterized the relationship, which Ted Williams helped pioneer.

The Red Sox created the centerpiece of their education efforts in 2003. On May 8, the club announced the Red Sox Scholars program, and on September 16, introduced 25 Boston 6th graders whose academic talent and financial background merit a $5,000 college scholarship, provided the students maintain good grades and citizenship.

The Red Sox Scholars were students in the Bell program (Building Educated Leaders for Life), an elementary academic enrichment program started by Earl Martin Phalen and chaired by Professor Charles Ogletree of Harvard Law School. Partners in the Red Sox Scholars program include Boston City Schools and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, which provides 25 mentors from their medical staff for each class.

On June 9, 2004, the second class of Red Sox Scholars took the field, each with a player, as the Class of 2003 proudly welcomed them.

The focus of the club's recreation efforts are four community athletic programs. Rookie League introduces young children to baseball and the RBI League (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) does so for older children.

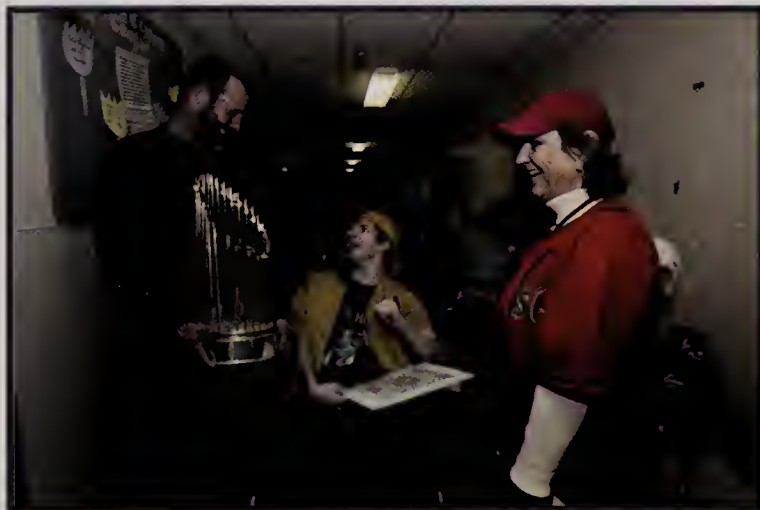

The club announced a new kind of league, the Boston Area Church League, August 8, 2002. Children play Saturday doubleheaders, often coached by their pastors with district attorneys as umpires. The Boston Police also volunteer in the program, which debuted August 10, 2002. Fleet Bank, World-Wide Multimedia, Inc., and the Hilton Hotels helped launch the program, which in 2004 completed its third season. A spin-off of the successful program then began in Springfield, MA.

The fourth community athletic program was announced December 19, 2002. The club established Red Sox Children's Retreats, weekend respites from asphalt and noise at the beautiful, tranquil Ron Burton Training Village created by the beloved patriarch and first player in the history of the New England Patriots. The respected philanthropist, who attended the press conference announcing the partnership, passed away September 13, 2003.

The Red Sox in 2004 made their landmark program regarding urban social issues the Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury. With a $50,000 donation, Principal Owner John Henry initiated the partnership, and literally saved some of the key programs that help the youth of this and surrounding neighborhoods.

The step boldly accented the aggressive outreach in the communities of color that the club began pursuing immediately after the new leaders took over. Starting April 4, 2002, the Red Sox began meeting with community leaders to demonstrate that Fenway's doors were open and that all were invited. By the end of March, 2003, John Henry was honored as the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts' Man of the Year.

The club instituted a tradition by using the dual nature of January 31—both Jackie Robinson's birthday and the eve of Black History Month—to provide an annual seminar that teaches children what they should learn—and teach—about the man who broke baseball's color barrier. At the first seminar, in 2003, the club assembled several hundred children who listened to Roger Kahn, author of "The Boys of Summer" and a close friend of Jackie Robinson. Author and Boston Herald writer Howard Bryant emphasized that, thanks to

Robinson, each child is able to dream of any job in the world. No limits, no ceilings. First base coach Dallas Williams described his appreciation for the road that Robinson had paved for him.

The fresh initiative also inspired Massachusetts Senator John Kerry and Rep. Richard Neal to begin successful legislation in their respective Houses that resulted in Congress bestowing the Congressional Gold Medal to the family of the late Jackie Robinson. The ceremony was set for March 2, 2005.

On January 31, 2004, the guests were the legendary Buck O'Neil, spry in his early 90s, and Sharon Robinson, Jackie's daughter. The Red Sox purchased Sharon's new book about her father, "Promises to Keep," and distributed them to 350 children.

On January 31, 2005, Senator Kerry and Rep. Neal spoke of the Congressional Gold Medal, and why Jackie Robinson is one of the few (300) American heroes to warrant the honor. Author Scott Simon and Robinson's granddaughter, Sonya Pankey, gave additional perspectives.

The Red Sox' enhanced Community Relations Department arranged for 214 appearances in 2002, a club record 452 in 2003 (202 alumni, 250 current uniformed staff), and another club record 520 (a record 242 alumni, a record 278 current uniformed staff) in 2004. The club had also provided help approximately 6,000 times in the three seasons to accredited non-profit organizations in New England (including a record, 2,867 donations of items or experiences in 2004).

The front office staff joined the community efforts, actively supporting the Pan-Mass Challenge, the American Heart Association's Heart Walk, Walk Far for NAAR (National Alliance for Autism Research), and the United Way.

Beyond the front office staff, the Red Sox Wives were energetic philanthropists. The wives created and sold out an ABC book for children, "Fenway Park, A to Z," published September 5, 2002. In 2004, they created the sequel, "Fenway 1-2-3." The wives have also produced a variety of events that have generated record amounts of food for the hungry and funds to fight diabetes, cancer, and abuse of women.

TO END

THE CURSE OF THE BAMBINO AND WIN A WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP FOR BOSTON, NEW ENGLAND, AND RED SOX NATION

In only three years at the helm, the leaders of the Red Sox achieved the ultimate goal. They broke the proverbial "Curse of the Bambino," if it ever existed, and extinguished the suspense and frustration that had been a psychocivic phenomenon known throughout the world of sports.

The ultimate goal for any team any year, this commitment represents an understanding of the years, decades, and generations of anticipation of the club's first World Championship since 1918.

Ironically, the Red Sox have had more winning seasons (32) starting with the Impossible Dream season of 1967 than any other major league club. The rest of the top five: New York Yankees, 30; Los Angeles, 28; Cincinnati, 25, and Baltimore, 24.

They've also won at least 90 games in 11 of those 38 years. And all the while, the fans pour into the little park in the Fens, express their passion in record numbers, and believe that this is the year. And at last, in 2004, it was. And it was certainly a new day.

RED SOX OWNERSHIP

THE RED SOX
ORGANIZATION

JOHN W. HENRY
Principal Owner

John W. Henry, an avid baseball fan, often refers to baseball as an "affair of the heart." Known throughout the game as an involved and passionate owner, he believes the people of New England have always been and will always be the true owners of the Boston Red Sox. Mr. Henry views his role as a steward of New England's beloved baseball team, charged with the responsibility on and off the field of ensuring the Red Sox continue to win World Championships while further enhancing the relationship between the community and the team.

The wonderful fulfillment of the dream to win Boston's first World Series in 86 years capped a stunning first three years for

Mr. Henry and his partners.

The team captivated an adoring and faithful Red Sox Nation with the greatest comeback in baseball history, all the more satisfying after being heart-broken the previous year in Yankee Stadium when Aaron Boone ended a dramatic seven-game championship series to decide the pennant.

In 2004, the club that never quit, even when down three games to none to the archrival Yankees, won four straight—in breathtaking fashion—to capture the pennant, then four more in a row to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals and send millions into delirium. The achievement came less than a thousand days (973) after purchasing the club.

On December 20, 2001, the Boston Red Sox partners voted unanimously to sell 100 percent of the team's interests to an investment group headed by Mr. Henry and Tom Werner. The Major League clubs approved the ownership transfer from the Yawkey Trust and limited partners January 16, 2002. The sale closed February 27, 2002.

Mr. Henry actively contributes to and collaborates with Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino on a variety of aspects of the baseball experience.

"Larry Lucchino is my role model when it comes to baseball executives. His track record is impeccable. His commitment and passion for excellence on the field, creating fan-friendly environments and setting standards for community involvement make our ownership of the Red Sox something I look forward to each day.

"Tom Werner and I are like brothers. We talk every day about ideas on how to improve everything from the New England Sports Network to the length of the grass on the field. We are blessed with an incredibly strong ownership group that loves the Red Sox."

Henry not only set out to win multiple World Series, but to make sure the Red Sox were active participants in the community. As a result, the club's community relations department has set records each of his three seasons as principal owner in the number of appearances arranged for players in the community, and the amount of authentic memorabilia donated to non-profit organizations in New England to help them raise funds.

Immediately after taking ownership, Mr. Henry and his partners founded—and funded—The Red Sox Foundation. "The Red Sox Foundation is now the largest of its kind in baseball, and it plays a key role in many areas of New England. The owners, staff and players of the Red Sox are working together to bring enlightened leadership and teamwork in relation to community efforts."

Mr. Henry, along with current and former partners, have made donations or pledges of more than $18 million to the foundation, which focuses on health, education, recreation, and urban social issues.

With his passion and enthusiasm for baseball, Mr. Henry is accessible to the media and fans. He's often seen moving throughout ballparks in Spring Training and during the regular season. He sits in many areas of Fenway Park, from the Bleachers to the Green Monster Seats to the seats near the dugouts, and often greets fans at the gate. That exposure and interaction helped inspire the improvements that have widened the concourses, reduced concession lines and augmented the restrooms at Fenway Park.

"I love to listen to and interact with fans," Henry said. "Perhaps not every fan can identify with me, but I think I can identify with most of them because I've been a passionate baseball fan all my life. I know that even the best baseball team cannot win every night, but I want to make sure our fans win every night—that they enjoy as many aspects of our game, our tradition, and the Fenway experience as they can. If they don't, I want to know why and see what I can do to address their concerns immediately. It is the New England fans and their representative media that have created the romance, mystique and passion that we all feel when the words 'Boston Red Sox' are spoken."

Mr. Henry has garnered a wealth of experience—and eight championship rings—at three different levels in his 17 years (through 2004) in baseball at an ownership level. Prior to purchasing the Red Sox, he was chairman and sole owner of the Florida Marlins. He was also a limited partner of the New York Yankees, and was chairman and majority owner of the Tucson Toros of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

Mr. Henry also formed a co-ownership with Boca Raton, FL attorney Don Sider in the West Palm Beach Tropics of the Senior Professional Baseball League. The Tropics, managed by former Red Sox manager Dick Williams, posted a league-best 52-20 record in his one-year ownership, led by Hall of Famer Rollie Fingers and All-Stars Toby Harrah, Dave Kingman, Mickey Rivers and Al Hrabosky.

Mr. Henry is chairman of John W. Henry & Company, Inc. (JWH), which he founded in 1981. Located in Boca Raton, FL, JWH is currently among the largest alternative investment firms in the world, managing foreign exchange, financial futures and commodities for leading money center banks, brokerage firms, multi-national corporations, retirement funds and private clients worldwide. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Future Industry Association, National Association of Futures Trading Advisors (NAFTA) and the Managed Futures Trade Association. He is a recognized leader in alternative asset financial product innovation.

In early 2002, he and his family purchased a home in Boston. Born in Quincy, IL, John spent most of his childhood in Forrest City, AR, where his parents owned a farm. He was a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan growing up, listening to St. Louis Cardinals broadcaster Harry Caray on the radio. At age 9, he saw his first major league game at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis—the very city where he would see his own Boston Red Sox celebrate in triumph after completing the greatest comeback in baseball history.

THOMAS C. WERNER Chairman

Like fans all across Red Sox Nation, Chairman Tom Werner feels enormous pride that the ballclub captured the World Series Championship after an 86-year drought. Three years ago, at their first press conference, Werner, John Henry and Larry Lucchino promised to work tirelessly to bring Red Sox fans a World Series trophy. Now their goal as stewards is to continue to guide an organization that can be a model of excellence both on the field and in the community.

A respected and veteran baseball owner for the past 15 years, Werner helped initiate the only ownership bid in 2001 that sought to save and protect Fenway Park. Messrs. Werner, Henry and Lucchino have overseen annual Fenway improvements that have restored luster and dignity to America's Most Beloved Ballpark. They have helped lead the effort for a kinder, more fan-friendly atmosphere at the ballpark that has resonated with parents, grandparents and children. The Red Sox Foundation, established immediately after the purchase of the team, is another example of their leadership. In three short years, its charitable donations are already well into the millions of dollars.

Werner, a member of the Television Academy Hall of Fame for his extraordinary achievements as a creator and producer of many groundbreaking series, has had baseball in his soul his entire life. He played the game during his childhood, coached his children in youth baseball and has attended countless major league games. As a 17-year-old freshman at Harvard, Werner gave his heart to the ultimate underdogs, the Impossible Dream Red Sox of 1967. He has been a devoted follower of the Red Sox ever since. (In fact, for his visual studies class at Harvard, Werner created a documentary about Opening Day at Fenway Park, starting with the quiet, quaint park at rest, then exploding with the excitement of fans pouring into the ballpark. The education in film would lead to a rewarding career in television; the passion for the Red Sox and Fenway Park would later lead Werner to begin a quest to buy the team when it was offered for sale in 2001.)

Werner is also an active contributor to Major League Baseball. He was appointed by Commissioner Selig in January of 2003 to serve on a special task force that examines and makes recommendations about Major League Baseball in the 21st century. Werner is one of only three owners in this select group, which also includes players as well as experts in academia, marketing and business. He was also recently appointed to the Board of Major League Baseball Enterprises, which has oversight over national media arrangements as well as Major League Baseball Properties.

In addition to these responsibilities, Werner takes great pride in his contributions to the success of the New England Sports Network. Most people in the television industry now regard NESN to be one of the strongest sports channels in the country, as it televises almost 300 live events each year, including Red Sox and Bruins games. Since 2001, NESN has more than doubled the amount of original programming it airs.

Werner's entry into Major League Baseball came in 1990 when he led a group that purchased the San Diego Padres. He served baseball on the national level as a member of the Executive Council and Chairman of the Television Committee. As such, he was a key force in establishing one of the most crucial innovations in baseball history -- the Wild Card, the very element that enabled the Boston Red Sox, years later, to win their first World Championship since 1918.

Werner feels that the relationship between the ballclub and Red Sox fans is the most special in all of baseball. Amid the clubhouse pandemonium that occurred after the final game in St. Louis, Werner remembered the generations of fans who had yearned for such a day.

"This victory is dedicated to countless fans who have said to John, Larry and me that they just want to live long enough to see one championship in their lifetime. And it is dedicated to all the former Red Sox players upon whose shoulders this 2004 club was carried." In this regard, Werner recalled the comment Ted Williams uttered: "If they ever won it, I would feel so damn warm inside."

Embodying the values of integrity and quality, Werner (born April 12, 1950) has already achieved a lifetime of accolades in the television business. He and his partner Marcy Carsey have helped create such hits as "The Cosby Show," "A Different World," "Roseanne," "Third Rock from the Sun," "Cybill," "Grace Under Fire" and "That 70s Show." Werner has also received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Producers Guild of America. His company has garnered 24 Emmy Awards, 11 People's Choice Awards and numerous Golden Globes, Humanitas Prizes and Peabody Awards.

In 2000, Werner and his longtime partners Marcy Carsey and Caryn Mandabach, joined forces with Geraldine Laybourne and Oprah Winfrey to start Oxygen, a 24-hour cable channel serving the modern woman. Oxygen is one of the fastest growing cable networks ever, now in more than 50,000,000 homes.

Werner spends much of the year in Boston, where he maintains a residence. He has served on a number of boards, including the White House Fellows Commission, and he presently is on the board at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

LARRY LUCCHINO President/CEO

Larry Lucchino was named President/CEO of the Red Sox upon the closing of the purchase of the team on February 27, 2002. Previously President/CEO of the Baltimore Orioles (1988-93) and the San Diego Padres (1995-01), Lucchino is a veteran of 25 years in Major League Baseball. With the Red Sox, Lucchino manages the franchise on a day-to-day basis with the active involvement of, and in collaboration with, Principal Owner John Henry and Chairman Tom Werner.

The Red Sox' cherished 2004 World Championship that ended an 86-year drought produced Lucchino's second World Series ring. He also won one in 1983 with Baltimore, to go with a National League pennant ring with San Diego in 1998.

Lucchino is the first President/CEO to win pennants for two different franchises—let alone in two different leagues—since Hall of Fame executive Larry MacPhail did so more than 50 years ago with the Brooklyn Dodgers (1941) and the New York Yankees (1947). They are the only two to have done so, though Al Rosen also won pennants as President/CEO of the Yankees in 1978 and as President of the San Francisco Giants in 1989, but Bob Lurie was the Giants' CEO.

Overall, in his 15 full seasons as President/CEO, his clubs have a winning record of 1,249-1162 (.518 pct.), and have reached post-season play four times (1996, 1998, 2003, 2004), won two pennants, and one World Series.

In addition to a running championship franchises, Lucchino has earned a legacy for creating ballparks that have transformed the structures' role in the fan experience, their influence on franchise value, and their place within the community.

His vision for Oriole Park at Camden Yards, an old-fashioned downtown ballpark with modern amenities, ushered in the era of revolutionary ballpark architecture and ambience responsible for much of the game's resurgence since 1992.

He also had the vision for the ballpark that saved baseball in San Diego. Petco Park, a park designed to look and feel like San Diego, is the civic jewel approved in a 1998 landslide vote on Proposition C, a campaign that Lucchino spearheaded. As much as the Padres needed a ballpark, the city needed a catalyst to redevelop an underutilized 26-block area in the city's downtown. As promised, the ballpark revitalized a key neighborhood, as it had done in Baltimore (and in other cities subsequently). The entire design of the park was completed in August, 2001, and construction was well underway when Lucchino left the Padres and later joined John W. Henry and Tom Werner in their successful effort to purchase the Red Sox, December 20, 2001.

While every other group that sought to purchase the Red Sox advocated a replacement for venerable Fenway Park, the group led by Henry, Werner, and Lucchino was the only one that sought to save—and improve—America's most beloved ballpark. Again drawing upon his passion for ballpark architecture, design, and ambiance, Lucchino has overseen the successful additions at Fenway of Green Monster Seats, the Right Field Roof Seats, Dugout Seats, the Yawkey Way Concourse, the Big Concourse, and the Third Base Concourse. These and other well-received innovations were carefully planned to enhance the fans' experience while respecting the integrity of the historic park and the surrounding neighborhood.

In addition to championships and popular ballpark design (and redesign), Lucchino has made his mark in the cutting-edge marketing of baseball. In Baltimore, his efforts produced record-setting attendance as the Orioles' fan base expanded from 2 million to 6 million. In his 14 years with the Orioles, the season ticket base increased from 1,600 to 28,000 plus a 13,000-person waiting list.

In his seven years with the Padres, the season ticket base more than doubled from 5,081 to 12,380 through 2000. Under his leadership, the Padres recorded their top three all-time attendance figures in his last four years there.

Boston's attendance has set franchise records in each of his first three years, and in 2004, for the first time in the franchise's 104-year-old history, the Red Sox sold out every one of its 81 home games (and 145 straight going back to May, 2003).

Each of the three franchises he has served as chief executive has established a foundation during his tenure (The Orioles Foundation, The Padres Foundation, and The Red Sox Foundation). Under his leadership, each franchise has reinvigorated its philanthropy, its community relations efforts, and its ballpark ambiance to ensure that all fans feel welcome.

Lucchino's passion for ballparks is rivaled by his drive for baseball's internationalization. He pioneered the effort to play Major League Baseball's first regular season games in Mexico (1996) and Hawaii (1997), and established baseball's first International Opener in Monterrey, Mexico in 1999. He also serves on MLB's International Committee.

He has served on MLB's Restructuring Committee, the American League's Cable Television Committee, and as Chairman of the Player Development Contract Negotiations Committee. He was a member of the Realignment Committee and the Commissioner's Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics, which released its recommendations for attacking the game's economic and competitive balance issues in July, 2000.

Born in Pittsburgh (9/6/45), Lucchino was an All-City League basketball player and a second baseman on the Pittsburgh city championship baseball team at Taylor Alderdice High School. He graduated with honors from Princeton University in 1967 and was a 1972 graduate of Yale Law School. At Princeton, he was a member of two Ivy League championship basketball teams.

In 1974, he joined Williams and Connolly, the law firm founded by his mentor, friend, legendary sportsman and trial attorney Edward Bennett Williams. He became a partner in 1978 and specialized in sports law and litigation. He was general counsel to the Washington Redskins, where Williams was president and part owner, and was a member of the Redskins Board of Directors from 1979 to 1985. When EBW bought the Orioles on August 2, 1979, Lucchino also became the baseball club's vice president/general counsel. He was named president by EBW in May, 1988, to rebuild the club's baseball and business operations. He was part-owner of the Orioles from 1989 until the club was sold at the end of the 1993 season and of the Padres from December 1994 to 2002.

The avid sportsman has the unique distinction of earning World Series rings (Orioles, '83; Red Sox, '04), a Super Bowl ring (Redskins, '83), and a Final Four watch (Princeton, '65). Lucchino has been active in numerous civic and charitable efforts in Baltimore, San Diego, and Boston with particular involvement in the research and treatment of cancer. He is married to Stacey Johnson Lucchino, and has two stepchildren, Davis (15) and Blair (13).

BOSTON RED SOX VICE CHAIRMEN

ORGANIZATION

DAVID I. GINSBERG, Vice Chairman

David Ginsberg became vice chairman of the Red Sox upon the closing of the sale, February 27, 2002. He works with Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner and CEO/President Larry Lucchino on business, financial and strategic issues. He had been Vice Chairman of the Florida Marlins in a similar role starting in 1999. Ginsberg is also vice chairman of New England Sports Ventures, the holding company that owns the Boston Red Sox and the interest in New England Sports Network (NESN). He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Red Sox Foundation.

Ginsberg is the CEO of Trilene Capital Partners (TCP), a recently formed investment management company. TCP specializes in identifying and seeding talented hedge fund managers. Ginsberg served as the special advisor to the chairman and as a director at John W. Henry & Company (JWH) beginning in 1999 until June 2002. Before joining the Marlins and JWH, Ginsberg was a private investor and consultant. At Global Asset Management (GAM) in London, he started and served as the managing director of the Multi-Manager Group, one of the largest multi-advisor groups specializing in hedge funds, from its inception in 1989 until 1995. Prior to joining GAM, he was the vice-president in charge of the Mergers and Acquisitions Advisory Group at the National Westminster Bank USA, where he had begun his career as a corporate lender in 1981.

Ginsberg is a native of Winthrop, MA. He graduated from The Northfield Mount Hermon School and received a B.A. from Kenyon College. He later received an M.B.A. with a concentration in finance from the Boston University Graduate School of Management.

PHILLIP H. MORSE, Vice Chairman

Phillip Morse was named Vice Chairman in 2004. He has been a partner in the Henry-Werner ownership group since 2002.

Morse grew up in Danvers, MA and has two brothers living in the Boston area.

He attended the University of Maine, played baseball for the Black Bears, and graduated in 1964. Upon his graduation, Morse took a position in Boston with Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. He left Liberty Mutual in late 1966 to work in sales for a Glens Falls based small medical device company.

In 1969, Mr. Morse founded North American Instrument Corporation, a company focused on the development, manufacturing and sales of the first transparent fluid delivery system for coronary angiography, the Morse Manifold. By 1994, the firm had grown into NAMIC U.S.A. Corporation, an 800-employee designer and manufacturer of a wide array of medical devices for interventional cardiology and radiology. NAMIC made an initial public offering in 1991, and established operations in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in 1992 and in the Republic of Ireland in 1993. Morse served as NAMIC's Chairman until its sale to Pfizer, Inc. in 1995. Today, NAMIC U.S.A. is a member of the Boston Scientific family and after more than 30 years, the Morse Manifold continues to be used in more than 70 percent of all cardiac catheterization procedures.

After retiring from NAMIC in 1995, Mr. Morse founded Heritage Creations, Inc., a group of companies dedicated to providing premium quality products and services to premier private, public and resort golf courses, clubs and golf pro shops worldwide.

Mr. Morse currently serves on the board of directors of Evergreen Bank, a division of Banknorth, N.A., and was a former director of The Business Council of New York State, Inc. He is a generous contributor to numerous medical, athletic and educational charities, having made a recent gift of an artificial turf stadium field to the University of Maine at Orono. In a combined effort with Mr. Harold Alfond, a former Red Sox partner, the University of Maine now has an outstanding athletic facility in which to play football, soccer and lacrosse. Mr. and Mrs. Morse have three adult daughters, all of whom live and work in Boston and surrounding communities. The Morses divide their time between Boston, Lake George, New York and Jupiter, Florida.

LESLIE B. OTTEN, Vice Chairman

Leslie (Les) Otten became vice chairman of the Red Sox upon the closing of the sale on February 27, 2002.

Otten has been a fixture in the resort industry since he first entered Killington's management training program in 1972. He moved to a management position at Maine's Sunday River in 1973 and ultimately purchased the resort from the parent company in 1980.

Otten transformed Sunday River from a small resort to one of the nation's largest. In the process, he led many product and marketing innovations, including the introduction of shaped-ski technology. His efforts led to numerous national awards, including Inc. Magazine's Turnaround Entrepreneur of the Year in 1989.

Between 1994 and 1995, Otten's company acquired numerous resorts, including Attitash and Cranmore (NH), and Sugarbush (VT). In 1996, he founded the American Skiing Company upon the successful acquisition of Mount Snow and Killington in Vermont, and Sugarloaf in Maine. In 1997 the company became the nation's largest resort operator with the acquisition of The Canyons (UT), Steamboat (CO) and Heavenly (CA/NV).

Otten's most recent venture is as chairman and president of Sports Vision Technologies (Sports Vision). Sports Vision created and distributes the P3proSwing Home Golfing System — complete swing analyzer and golf simulator. Although new to the marketplace, the P3proSwing is already receiving rave reviews from industry colleagues.

Otten is the co-founder of Maine Handicapped Skiing, a Maine-based entity that has taught skiing and snowboarding to thousands of physically disabled New Englanders. He is the past president and chairman of the Portland (ME) Museum of Art, a member of the Conservation Law Foundation Board of Directors, a founder of Project Opportunity — an aspirations compact for high schools and a trustee at Gould Academy in Bethel, ME. He is chairman of the board at The Jeremiah Cromwell Disabilities Center which was founded on the premise that people with disabilities deserve the same dignity, inclusion, and respect that every person deserves as a birthright. The Center seeks to accomplish this through programs designed to be implemented anywhere in the United States. He is a graduate of Ithaca College and a resident of Newry, ME.

LUCINDA K. TREAT, Chief Legal Officer

Lucinda Treat joined the organization as Chief Legal Officer upon the closing of the sale, February 27, 2002. In that role, she is responsible for overseeing all legal affairs of the Red Sox organization. Since joining the Red Sox organization, she has assisted in the legal aspects of the renovation of Fenway Park, helped finalize the club's acquisition and development of its baseball academy in the Dominican Republic, served as a member of the board of directors of the Red Sox Foundation and handled various day-to-day legal issues for the club.

Prior to joining the club, she spent three seasons as Vice President and Corporate Counsel for the Florida Marlins, where she handled general corporate work and worked intensively on the Marlins' efforts to secure a new ballpark. She joined the Marlins after serving as an associate at the New York law firm of Shearman and Sterling, where she was a member of the Mergers and Acquisitions practice group.

A Washington, D.C. native, Treat earned a bachelor of arts degree with distinction from the University of Wisconsin, and she graduated magna cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center.

Treat is a strong supporter of community efforts and serves as a Trustee of the Wang Center and Chairman of the Board of Scenarios USA. She lives in the Boston area with her daughter, Madeline, and son, Remy.

CLUB EXECUTIVES

MIKE DEE Chief Operating Officer

Mike Dee was named Red Sox Chief Operating Officer March 7, 2004, less than 2 years after he joined the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs on July 15, 2002. The ten-year baseball veteran oversees the club's day-to-day business operations.

Since his arrival in Boston, Dee has worked on a wide range of innovative projects. In his two plus years with the Red Sox, Dee has been instrumental in the club setting all-time attendance records in 2003 and 2004, bringing Bruce Springsteen and Jimmy Buffett to Fenway Park, enhancing the game-day operations of the Red Sox staff and improving the quality of concessions and service through his work with concessionaire ARAMARK. In addition to having an active role in developing new business opportunities through his work with the Corporate Partnerships department, Dee was a key component to the design and implementation of the Green Monster Seats, the Yawkey Way Concourse and the Big Concourse. In addition to his responsibilities in Boston, Dee negotiated a 15-year lease extension to keep the Red Sox in their Spring Training home at City of Palms Park in Lee County, FL and oversees all Red Sox Spring Training operations.

Dee also serves as president of Fenway Sports Group (FSG, LLC.), which develops entrepreneurial activities and opportunities related to the sports and services industries. The creation of FSG, a wholly owned direct subsidiary of New England Sport Ventures (NESV), was approved in March, 2004 by the partners of NESV, the company that owns the Red Sox, Fenway Park, and 80 percent of the New England Sports Network (NESN). Under his leadership, FSG launched FanFoto, an in-ballpark photography service for fans, at Fenway Park and Turner Field. In addition to representing professional sports enterprises throughout the country, FSG has also completed a media and marketing rights deal with Boston College as the Eagles prepare to join the Atlantic Coast Conference.

At the Major League Baseball level, Dee was one of five members selected to serve on the MLB Industry Meetings Advisory Committee. He currently serves on the Advisory Board for MLB Advanced Media.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Red Sox, Dee has been active in community endeavors. He is a two-time "Heavy Hitter" fundraiser and member of the Red Sox cycling team, Team 9, which, in the Pan Mass Challenge, makes the annual 192-mile bike ride to raise money for the Jimmy Fund. He was also co-chairman for the 2003 American Heart Association Heart Walk that raised more than $880,000. Additionally, Dee serves on the Board of Directors for the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Prior to his arrival in Boston, Dee spent eight seasons with the San Diego Padres. Before leaving the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs to join the Red Sox in 2002, Dee helped guide a dramatic increase in local revenue and helped the Padres earn an industry-wide reputation for innovative marketing. He also played a key role working with Larry Lucchino to build support for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, including negotiating new long-term concession and television agreements.

Before joining the Padres, Mike spent 10 years with Ramer Equities, the last four in his native Baltimore as national sales director of Bruning Paint Company, a Ramer holding.

Dee currently serves on the Board of Directors of Scott Paint, Co. of Sarasota, FL and On-Guard of Havre de Grace, MD, both Ramer holdings.

Mike also serves on the Leadership Council at his alma mater, Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, PA, where he played basketball and earned a degree in government in 1985.

Mike and his wife Karen reside in Wellesley, MA with sons Spencer (5) and Tommy (2).

DR. CHARLES A. STEINBERG

Executive Vice President/Public Affairs

Dr. Charles Steinberg joined the Boston Red Sox as Executive Vice President/Public Affairs March 1, 2002 after holding a similar position with the San Diego Padres, for whom he had worked the past seven years. Steinberg began his career spending 19 years with the Baltimore Orioles.

He has now earned four championship rings—for the 1979 American League pennant with Baltimore, the 1983 World Championship with Baltimore, the 1998 National League pennant with San Diego, and the 2004 World Championship with the Boston Red Sox.

He has worked with Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino ever since Lucchino joined the Orioles in 1979.

In his first three seasons in Boston, Steinberg has been a key creative force in the franchise's fan-friendly attitude, warm hospitality, and expanded ceremonies, special events, and marketing.

Responsible for the fan's experience at Fenway Park and for the Red Sox' relationship with the community, Steinberg oversees the club's communication, good will, and fan relationships. These areas include public and community relations, electronic and live entertainment, television and video production, and advertising and customer service.

Among his responsibilities and innovations with the Red Sox are the Opening Day ceremonies, players greeting fans at the gates, the Father's Day Catch at Fenway, the Tribute to Ted Williams, the Fenway Ambassadors program, the Yawkey Way concourse, as well as community events on September 11, Halloween, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, the birthdays of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Jackie Robinson, and Valentine's Day.

In the community, Steinberg has helped re-energize the club's efforts, creating the Red Sox Scholars program ($5,000 college scholarships for 25 Boston middle schoolers each year starting in 2003), the Boston Area Church League, and Red Sox Children's Retreats at the Ron Burton Training Village.

With the Padres, Steinberg had similar responsibilities and was a key contributor to San Diego's successful campaign to build franchise-saving Petco Park. He also created the Padres Scholars, a similar scholarship program that now has more than 250 students, including 25 seventh graders in 1995 that in 2004 became the first class that graduated from college.

Steinberg won an Emmy Award for his television production of the story of the 1998 National League Champion Padres, and won a Telly Award for the video of the remarkable story of the 1989 Orioles.

On the field, Steinberg orchestrated the finale of Baltimore's Memorial Stadium in 1991, the opening of Oriole Park at Camden Yards in 1992, and the ceremonies surrounding the 1993 All-Star Game. He also started the planning of Cal Ripken's "Streak Week" festivities, and created the celebration of the career of future Hall of Famer Tony Gwynn in 2001.

The Baltimore native's baseball career began at age 17 with an internship from Gilman School arranged with the Orioles' Jack Dunn III, grandson of the man who first signed Babe Ruth.

For six years (1977-82), he was statistician for Hall of Fame manager Earl Weaver and continued that position with manager Joe Altobelli through the Orioles' World Championship season of 1983.

Steinberg created the club's first video production department in 1985, first customer service department in 1993, and ultimately headed its public relations department.

After working for the Orioles while earning his undergraduate degree from the University of Maryland and his doctorate from Maryland's dental school, Steinberg continued his front office work while also assuming the role of team dentist. In 1982, he helped establish the Academy for Sports Dentistry, of which he is a founding and charter member. An amateur musician and songwriter, Steinberg served on the board of the San Diego Symphony. He is now on the board of the Boston chapter of the Anti-Defamation League and is on the Advisory Board of the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts.

LAWRENCE C. CANCRO

Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs

Larry Cancro has served as Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs since 2003. The veteran of 27 years in Major League Baseball, including 20 years with the Red Sox, is responsible for the club's relationships with the businesses in the Fenway neighborhood, the securing of recording artists such as Bruce Springsteen and Jimmy Buffett for concerts at Fenway along with the operational details associated with that endeavor, and consultation with the Ballpark Planning and Development Department on Fenway Park improvements. Additionally, Cancro works with civic and government groups to ensure open dialogue between the club and members of the community.

Prior to his promotion, Cancro was Vice President of Sales and Marketing since January 1996. He joined the Red Sox in February of 1985 as director of marketing and became Vice President of Marketing in February of 1990.

During Cancro's tenure in sales and marketing, the Red Sox set six club season attendance records, and attendance increased from the previous season 13 times. Cancro introduced to the Red Sox new sales technology such as the 24-hour touch-tone telephone ordering (the first of its kind in pro sports) and real time internet ordering service. He helped start the Friendly Fenway fan program and expanded fan food options at Fenway. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force and was instrumental in creating the mascot, Wally the Green Monster™.

Cancro is the chairman of the Greater Boston Convention & Visitors Bureau Sports Advisory Council. He was awarded the Convention Bureau's Spirit of Appreciation Award for his efforts in attracting sports-related conventions and tourism to Boston such as the Baseball Winter Meetings and the National Sports Forum. He is on the Sports Advisory Council for Franklin Pierce College. He has served on the Jimmy Fund Long Range Planning Committee. He is currently on the steering committee for The Greater Boston Association for Individuals with Cognitive and Developmental Disabilities. He was honored as GBARC Man of the Year in November 2004. He is also the Vice President of the New England Chapter of the National Alliance for Autism Research and serves on NAAR's National Board of Directors. He is a member of the Board of Directors for Melmark-New England, a private, not-for-profit, community-based organization dedicated to serving children and adolescents who have a history of challenging clinical, educational, behavioral and health needs.

Cancro served governors Weld and Cellucci on the Governor's Sports Advisory Council. He was a member of the board of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership and currently serves on the Executive Council of the Mass Sports and Entertainment Commission. He was on the Boston Host Committee for World Cup Soccer and the 1996 Olympic Gymnastics Trials Advisory Committee. He was on the Board of Advisors for the Local Organizing Committee for the 1998 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Final Four. He has been a member of Massachusetts Organization Vying for the Industry of Entertainment (M.O.V.I.E.) and was chairman of the marketing committee of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership. Cancro has served on both MLB's Marketing Advisory Committee and Advertising Advisory Committee. He served as chairman of MLB's Research Committee and on MLB's Licensing Committee from 1982-85.

In February, 1999 Cancro was a panelist at the Smithsonian Institution for a special program entitled "The Minor Leagues - An Appreciation." He was a featured speaker at a symposium on branding in sports for "Strategy and Business" magazine. He has also been a speaker at the International Sports Summit and the National Sports Forum.

Born in New York City, Cancro graduated from Tuckahoe High School in Eastchester, NY, where he was raised. He graduated from Boston University with a B.A. in psychology. In 1978 he began his career in pro baseball as an assistant general manager for the Eastern League Jersey Indians, Double-A affiliate of the Oakland A's. He joined the Atlanta Braves as a sales representative in 1979, and in 1981, was promoted to group sales manager. In 1983 he was named director of merchandise operations and was responsible for creating baseball's first mail-order catalog of team merchandise. Larry resides in Andover, MA with his wife, Luise, and their daughters Laura Marie and Lisa.

THEO EPSTEIN Senior Vice President/General Manager

In his first two seasons as Senior Vice President/General Manager, Theo Epstein helped build the 2004 World Champions that ended 86 years of near misses and decades of despair.

The youngest General Manager to win a World Series wasted little time making his mark on the baseball world. While he immediately pledged to transform the Red Sox into a "scouting and player development machine," he also set his sights on returning the franchise to the postseason for the first time in four years.

Only 28 years, 11 months at the time of his November 25, 2002 appointment, the youngest GM in baseball history has reshaped not only the Red Sox roster, but also the personality of the team he grew up cheering from his childhood home in Brookline, mere blocks from Fenway Park.

The end results: the Red Sox came within five outs of the World Series in 2003 and, in 2004, the club completed a remarkable post-season run with its first World Series title since 1918. In Epstein's first two seasons, the Sox played in October in back-to-back years for just the third time in the franchise's 104-year history.

In 2004, the additions of Curt Schilling and Keith Foulke bolstered the pitching staff, while off-season pick-up Mark Bellhorn joined the nucleus of baseball's best lineup, which returned virtually intact. Minutes before the July 31 non-waiver trading deadline, Epstein boldly engineered a pair of deals that reshaped the Red Sox for the stretch run. The GM acquired two Gold Glove defenders, shortstop Orlando Cabrera and first baseman Doug Mientkiewicz, in a four-team trade that sent Nomar Garciaparra to the Cubs. The arrival of Cabrera, Mientkiewicz and speedy outfielder Dave Roberts--acquired from the Dodgers in another deadline deal--helped inspire a Red Sox revival. Suddenly the club that had sputtered through three months and ranked near the bottom of the majors in team defense had turned a weakness into a strength. Meanwhile, the offense jelled.

For the second consecutive season, the Red Sox played their best baseball when it mattered most, sprinting toward the playoffs by recording the best record in the majors from August 1 through the end of the regular season (42-18, .700). And they saved their best for last, closing out an 11-3 postseason with a major league-record eight consecutive wins against the Yankees in the ALCS and the Cardinals in the World Series.

In 2003, free agent signings Bill Mueller and David Ortiz and players acquired via trade like Kevin Millar and Todd Walker were key off-season pickups targeted by Epstein and his baseball operations staff, who sought and achieved a relentless lineup. They joined other hard-nosed competitors like Trot Nixon, Jason Varitek and Tim Wakefield on a roster that also included All-Stars Pedro Martinez, Manny Ramirez, Nomar Garciaparra, Johnny Damon and Derek Lowe.

With an end-of-season roster that included nine players who were not in the organization when the 2003 season opened, the Sox returned to the postseason for the first time since 1999. After overcoming a two games to none deficit to defeat Oakland in a thrilling five-game Division Series, the Red Sox lost a dramatic ALCS to the Yankees, dropping the decisive seventh game in 11 gut-wrenching innings.

"Theo was quite simply the right choice," Red Sox Principal Owner John W. Henry said the day Epstein was promoted from assistant general manager, a post he had held for eight months. "He has been a constant source of ideas, energy and intelligence for us since he came to Boston. He joins a select group of young and highly talented general managers in today's game who are revolutionizing baseball.

"His boundless passion for the game, his leadership skills, and his resolve to push for deals that make sense for the long term, regardless of what may or may not play well publicly, have convinced us that he is the right individual to lead our baseball operation."

Honored in January as the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America's Major League Executive of the Year for the second year in a row, the 31-year-old (born December 29, 1973) is in his 14th season in Major League Baseball, his fourth with the Red Sox. The graduate of Yale University and University of San Diego Law School previously served as director of baseball operations for the San Diego Padres and was active in all aspects of the club's baseball activities, including player evaluation, scouting, player development and contract negotiations. Epstein joined the Padres' baseball staff in 1997, and in 1998 the club won the second National League pennant in its history.

The 11th general manager in Red Sox history began his baseball career in 1992 as a summer intern with the Baltimore Orioles. He returned to the club as an intern in 1993 and 1994, and after his 1995 graduation from Yale, accepted a position with the Padres. Theo worked in the entertainment department in 1995, and in media relations during the Padres' West Division championship season of 1996. He then joined General Manager Kevin Towers in baseball operations in 1997.

Epstein grew up in Brookline, MA, where his family has lived since moving from New York City in 1978. He attended Lawrence School and Brookline High School.

SAM KENNEDY
Senior Vice President/
Sales and Marketing

Sam Kennedy was promoted to Senior Vice President/Sales and Marketing in 2005 after joining the club as VP/Corporate Partnerships on March 25, 2002. The Brookline, MA native was among the first executives that Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino brought with him from the San Diego Padres, for whom Kennedy had worked six years. Since joining the Red Sox, Kennedy and his staff have increased sponsorship revenue by more than 170 percent, premium licensing revenue by 130 percent and the season ticket base by 30 percent. Beyond the numbers, Kennedy has been a key contributor to the club's revitalized marketing effort. For example, the popular giant flag that drapes the Green Monster on special occasions was his idea.

Kennedy oversees sponsorship sales and service, ticket sales, and premium seating sales. In 2003, he helped conceive and execute the successful sales and marketing plan for the new "Legends Suite" at Fenway Park, the Dugout Seats innovation, and new tasteful advertising positions above the Green Monster. In 2004 Kennedy secured a long term partnership with Anheuser-Busch that was instrumental in the creation of the new Right Field Roof seats at Fenway. He is charged with developing the sales and marketing plan for the new club seats at Fenway Park, set to debut in April 2006.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Kennedy was the Padres' Executive Director/Corporate Partnerships and Broadcasting. Originally hired as an account executive in 1996, he tripled sponsorship revenues from 1996-2001. Kennedy oversaw the sale of signage at Qualcomm Stadium (home of the Padres, Chargers, Super Bowl XXXII and other events), virtual advertising, promotional programs, broadcast media and print advertising.

In 2000, he helped the Padres make history by creating and implementing the first-ever "Season Title Sponsorship." He also played an integral role in securing financing and developing the sales and marketing strategy for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, conceived by Larry Lucchino.

Sam attended Trinity College in Hartford, CT, where he played baseball and earned a degree in American Studies in 1995. At Brookline High, he was a classmate and baseball teammate of colleague Theo Epstein. In 2004 Kennedy was sworn in as a board member on the Massachusetts Governor's Committee for Physical Fitness and Sports. Sam and his wife of six years, Amanda, reside in Wellesley, MA with their 18-month-old son Jimmy and newborn daughter, Allison.

JANET MARIE SMITH
Senior Vice President/
 Planning and Development

Janet Marie Smith was named Senior Vice President/Planning and Development in 2005. She served as Vice President of Planning and Development for the Red Sox, since 2002, when the Henry-Werner Group purchased the franchise. She directs improvements and area planning for Fenway Park, the oldest ballpark in the major leagues. Built in 1912, Fenway's last significant renovation was in the 1980's. Her assignment is to evaluate the opportunities at Fenway for added capacity, additional space for fan amenities, and improved infrastructure and amenities in the neighborhood. Ms. Smith brings her experiences in urban development and passion for design to these endeavors as she has previous projects, including Atlanta's Philips Arena (1999) and Turner Field (1997), Baltimore's Oriole Park at Camden Yards, which opened in 1992, and Battery Park City in New York (1984).

Ms. Smith's work with the Red Sox complements efforts she began in 2000 as Vice President of Planning and Development with Struever Bros. Eccles and Rouse, a Baltimore-based real estate developer and builder of urban commercial, residential and industrial projects from Nashville, TN to Providence, RI. Ms. Smith has also worked on various mixed-use projects for Struever Bros., including the revitalization and transformation of former industrial areas, including historic buildings, to vibrant urban communities. She was part of the THINK team, led by Frederic Schwartz and Raphael Vinoly, one of the final two teams in the competition for the World Trade Center site in New York City.

Ms. Smith's combined loves of baseball and city life served her well in Atlanta, where she was president of Turner Sports and Entertainment Development, a division of Turner Broadcasting System, and was Vice President of Planning and Development for the Atlanta Braves baseball team. During her tenure, projects that came to fruition included the 20,000-seat Philips Arena, home of the NBA Atlanta Hawks and NHL Atlanta Thrashers, a renovation of the CNN Center, improvements to the area surrounding Centennial Olympic Park, and the design and conversion of Atlanta's 1996 Olympic Stadium into Turner Field, the home of the Braves.

From 1989-94, Ms. Smith was the Baltimore Orioles Vice President for Planning and Development of Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Her concern for urban development, along with her study of historical parks and knowledge of the team's operational objectives, greatly influenced the design of this ballpark. She was responsible for much of its civic image and relationship to surrounding buildings and transportation. Ms. Smith's thrusts to impose urban planning and design on the world of sports have helped change the way America views sporting venues and helped to make them proven generators of area economic development. Working for Larry Lucchino, who was then President of the Baltimore Orioles, Smith played a major role in executing Mr. Lucchino's vision of "building a ballpark with old-fashioned charm and modern amenities."

Prior to her tenure with the Orioles, Smith was based in Los Angeles, directing the redevelopment of Pershing Square--downtown's oldest park. From 1981-84, she worked in New York as Coordinator of Architecture and Design for Battery Park City, a 92-acre, $3 billion waterfront development project at the tip of lower Manhattan that includes the World Financial Center.

Ms. Smith holds a Masters degree in Urban Planning from City College of New York and a bachelor of Architecture degree from Mississippi State University. She is an associate member of the Urban Land Institute, American Institute of Architects, and the American Planning Association. Major publications, including the New York Times, New Yorker, Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune and Esquire, have cited her work.

A native of Jackson, MS, Ms. Smith resides in Baltimore with her husband Bart Harvey and three children.

MEG VAILLANCOURT

Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations

As Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations, Meg Vaillancourt assists President/CEO Larry Lucchino in coordinating the club's government relations and directing the organization's many philanthropic efforts. As executive director of the Red Sox Foundation, Meg works with the team's owners, partners, Red Sox players and their wives, sponsors and fans to support a wide range of non-profit organizations throughout New England. The philanthropic arm of the team, the Red Sox Foundation is focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities for children and families as well as social service programs to support those in need.

A New Hampshire native, Meg was raised in the Manchester Children's Home and attended public schools and St. Paul's School in Concord. A history major, she graduated with honors from Harvard College and went on to graduate studies in British and American politics at Oxford University as a Rhodes Scholar. She began a career in journalism as a reporter/producer for "The Ten O'Clock News" on WGBH-TV and as a contributing reporter for national news programs on PBS-TV and radio. As an associate producer for the award-winning series "Frontline," she helped produce a national documentary examining the economic effects of the end of the Cold War on the nation's defense system. A longtime writer for The Boston Globe, she covered national and local politics as a State House reporter and wrote for the Business section covering public policy, labor issues and the business of sports.

She left journalism to work for New England Patriots owner Robert Kraft as Vice President/Corporate and Community Affairs for the Patriots and The Kraft Group. She oversaw the team's government and community relations, assisted in the opening of Gillette Stadium, and worked with the Kraft family in support of their many philanthropic activities, including The Patriots Charitable Foundation. She was also responsible for coordinating public appearances by Patriots players.

A resident of Boston, Meg joined the Red Sox in 2003. As head of the Red Sox Foundation, she seeks to harness the passion fans have for the Red Sox and transform it into a positive force in our community. Through funds raised at special events and other charitable donations, the Red Sox Foundation provides support to a wide variety of non-profit groups throughout New England. Created by the Red Sox owners and partners immediately after the ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino purchased the team, the Red Sox Foundation has become the largest professional sports foundation in New England and one of the largest in all of Major League Baseball. Though barely three years old, the Red Sox Foundation has already donated more than $8 million to non-profit groups and charitable programs across New England.

THE RED SOX FOUNDATION

The Red Sox Foundation is committed to using the power of baseball, the team and Red Sox Nation to create new and strengthened community partnerships that will improve the lives of children and adults across New England. The Foundation's efforts are primarily focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities, as well as social service programs in urban neighborhoods.

Initially funded through generous donations from the team's owners and partners, the Red Sox Foundation is the cornerstone of Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner and President/CEO Larry Lucchino's charitable commitment to this community and families throughout New England. Support from Red Sox players, their wives, corporate partners, fans and through funds raised through special events like the "Welcome Home Luncheon" and Picnic in the Park underscore the community commitment shared by the team and our fans.

Indeed, the strong sense of teamwork shared by supporters and charitable partners has helped the Foundation generate more than $8 million in donations to charities and non-profit programs in the past three years. A relatively new player on Boston's philanthropic scene, the Foundation has already become the largest sports foundation in New England and one of the largest in all of Major League Baseball.

The Red Sox Foundation is committed to creating new partnerships, such as the Teen Center at Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury and the Red Sox Scholars program and the team's outreach to children in group homes, or what were once called orphanages, in each New England state.

The Foundation also funds the team's youth programs, including the Rookie and RBI Leagues and Red Sox Children Retreats, weekend camps for inner-city children at the 300-acre Ron Burton Training Village in central Massachusetts. Some 400 charities and non-profits are helped each year through donations from the Red Sox Foundation. The executive director of the Red Sox Foundation is Meg Vaillancourt, the club's Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations.

RICHARD L. BRESCIANI Vice President/Publications and Archives

Dick Bresciani is the Red Sox' Vice President/Publications and Archives after serving as the Vice President of Public Affairs since November 1996. He had been Vice President of Public Relations since August 1987. Dick joined the Red Sox in May 1972 as assistant public relations director, became publicity director in 1978 and public relations director in June 1984 before being named a Vice President in 1987.

Bresciani oversees all Red Sox publications, photography, the club's historical archives and alumni. He coordinates the selections of the annual national Tony Conigliaro Award recipient and Red Sox Hall of Fame inductees. He was chairman of the Red Sox Task Force Committee for the 1999 All-Star Game.

Dick is on the Board of Directors of the BoSox Club, the Red Sox booster organization, and the Cape Cod NCAA Summer Baseball League. He was part of the first group inducted into the Cape Cod League Hall of Fame Jan. 20, 2001 and is on their Hall of Fame advisory committee. On Jan. 31, 2003 Dick was inducted into the UMass Athletic Hall of Fame and is a member of their selection committee.

In 2001 Dick was the Red Sox coordinator for the dinner committee of The New England Sports Lodge of B'nai B'rith that honored then-owner John L. Harrington as The Sam Cohen Sportsman of the Year. He was co-chairman of the 2001 American Liver Foundation's All-Star tribute that raised close to $150,000. The last six years he has served on the Public Visibility Committee for The United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

On February 8, 1998 Dick received an "Award of Distinction" from the Massachusetts Baseball Coaches Association for "significant contributions to the development of the youth of the community." In November 1997 he was named the 1997 winner of the Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence in Major League Baseball. The Cape Cod League also honored Bresciani in July 1997 for 30 years of dedicated service.

A graduate of Hopedale (MA) High School and the University of Massachusetts with a degree in journalism, Dick was the recipient of the University's Alumni Award for Professional Excellence in 1994. He received the "Good Guy" Award from the BBWAA in 1987, the Western Mass. Jimmy Fund Recognition Award in 1989, the 1989 Brad Jernegan Award from the BoSox Club and the New England Intercollegiate Baseball Coaches Assn. Distinguished Service Award in 1990.

Before joining the Red Sox Bresciani was assistant sports information director at UMass for 11 years. He was also the director of public relations and statistics for the Cape Cod summer baseball league from 1967-71 during which time the league received full NCAA accreditation and subsequent financial grants from Major League Baseball.

Dick and his wife, Joanne, reside in Wellesley, MA.

STEVE FITCH Vice President/Human Resources and Controller

Steve Fitch was named Vice President/Human Resources and Controller in March, 2005 after serving as the Vice President and Controller since March, 2003. He manages the accounting and human resource departments for the Red Sox and their affiliated entities. He is responsible for the production of monthly, quarterly and annual statements, budgets and forecasts.

Prior to joining the Red Sox in 2003 Steve was the executive director of finance for eight years with the San Diego Padres. He was responsible for budgeting, financial statement reporting, accounting staff management and served as the liaison for the Diverse Business Partners Program with MLB. From 1990-94 he held various accounting-related positions, and from 1987-90 he worked in a Detroit-area Certified Public Accounting firm.

The Concord, MI native earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University. He earned his Michigan CPA license in 1989.

Steve is a member of the AICPA and Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants. He currently resides in the Back Bay area of Boston.

ROBERT C. FURBUSH
Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Robert C. Furbush has been Vice President and Chief Financial Officer since October 1987. He joined the Red Sox as controller in November 1983 and was promoted to treasurer in June 1984.

Furbush is a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Waltham, MA where he was captain of the basketball and baseball teams. In high school he played in an All-Star baseball game at Fenway Park. He earned a degree in economics at Boston College and played three years of varsity basketball, two for Coach Bob Cousy. In his senior year he won the Ronald J. Hickey Award for scholastic and athletic achievement. After two years of Army service, including one in Vietnam, Bob got a graduate degree in accounting at Northeastern University, became a Certified Public Accountant, and worked for Ernst & Young before he joined the Red Sox. Bob has served on the Board of Directors of National American Insurance Company Limited and is a member of both the Major League Baseball Non-Uniformed Pension Plan Committee and the AICPA. He served on the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force Committee. Bob and his wife, Emily, live in Framingham, MA, and have three children, Sarah, Stephen and Mark.

GLENN GEFFNER
Vice President/Media Relations

Glenn Geffner was promoted to Vice President/Media Relations in March, 2005 after spending the previous two years as the Red Sox' Director of Public Relations.

Geffner oversees the club's Public Relations Department, including the day-to-day publicity of the Red Sox' on-field and off-field activities; local, national and international media interaction with players, uniformed staff and front office members; all media services; and the production of the annual Red Sox Media Guide and Post-Season Media Guide.

The 2005 season marks Geffner's 14th year in professional baseball, his ninth in the major leagues.

After graduating from Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, the Miami, FL native spent five seasons with the International League's Rochester Red Wings, then the Triple-A affiliate of the Baltimore Orioles. In Rochester, Geffner served as the club's Public Relations Director, while also doing radio play-by-play.

Geffner joined the San Diego Padres as Director of Public Relations in 1996 and spent the next six seasons in San Diego. After pinch hitting as a play-by-play man on Padres radio and television broadcasts and co-hosting the weekly Padres Report television program in 2001, Geffner made the full-time move to the Padres radio booth in 2002 before joining the Red Sox in 2003.

The 36-year-old resides in Lexington, MA with his wife Christine and sons Corey (4) and Gregg (1).

JONATHAN GILULA
Vice President/Business Operations

Jonathan Gilula was promoted to Vice President/Business Operations in January, 2005. He will oversee all aspects of ballpark operations and will manage the relationship between the Red Sox and key service providers, including Aramark, Fenway Park's concessionaire. Gilula will continue to work closely with the Ballpark Planning and Development Department in the planning of the long-term viability of Fenway Park, while also cultivating new business opportunities for the ball club.

Gilula joined the Red Sox in October, 2002 as the Special Assistant to the President & CEO and worked on various special projects, including the design and implementation of recent improvements to Fenway Park, such as the Green Monster Seats, the Big Concourse and the Right Field Roof. He also played a central role in the refurbishment of the Red Sox spring training facilities in Fort Myers, FL and construction of the Red Sox Academy in the Dominican Republic.

Gilula began his career in baseball in June, 1998 with the San Diego Padres after being hired by former Padres CEO Larry Lucchino to work on the planning and development of a new ballpark in downtown San Diego. As Director of Ballpark Development for the Padres, Gilula coordinated all aspects of the design and construction of Petco Park, which opened in 2004.

Jonathan was born in New York City, NY and grew up in La Jolla, CA. He graduated with a degree in Politics from Princeton University, where he was captain of the varsity tennis team from 1997-98. He is single and currently resides in Boston.

JOSEPH F. McDERMOTT, Vice President

Joe McDermott has been a Red Sox Vice President since February 1990. McDermott joined the Red Sox organization in 1975 as an administrative assistant to the Vice President of Business Administration. In 1978 he became executive assistant with responsibilities for stadium and security operations while performing administrative duties for the Red Sox general partners.

He was named Vice President of Property Management in 1987. Under McDermott's direction, the club began a special crowd control supervisor program and expanded the in-game customer relations function. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force Committee.

McDermott is a graduate of Cathedral High School in Boston and attended Northeastern University. He currently serves on the board of directors of the Greater Boston Fire Safety Council.

During 29 years of Red Sox employment, through the 2004 season, Joe has not missed a home game, an outstanding record of 2,323 consecutive Fenway Park games.

Joe and his wife, Joanne, reside in Medfield, MA. They have two sons, Joseph and Jeffrey, and two grandsons Jacob Walter and Joseph Francis III.

MICHAEL D. PORT Vice President/Baseball Operations

Mike Port was named Vice President/Baseball Operations in October 1996. He became interim general manager of the Red Sox on February 28, 2002. The club finished in second place in the A.L. East with a 93-69 record and was in first place as late as July 6. He joined the Red Sox in February 1993 as an assistant general manager after spending much of his early life and career in California.

Port was born and raised in California where he attended Fallbrook High School. He later attended the University of Santa Clara and graduated from California Western University as a Business Administration major.

Mike began his career in baseball when he was signed as an undrafted amateur free agent second baseman by the San Diego Padres in August, 1968. In the spring of 1969, after injuring his right arm, he was released by the Padres as a player but was hired as the general manager for the Padres' Florida State League club in Key West. His manager at Key West was Don Zimmer. Later, he became the general manager at Lodi of the California League from 1970-71. In 1972, he joined the Padres front office as promotions director. A year later, Mike became the Padres minor league director and in 1977, his title expanded to minor league director and assistant to the president.

In 1978, Mike left the Padres to join the California Angels as their minor league director. That November, the Angels promoted him to director of player personnel and development in charge of organizing their five minor league clubs, overseeing the scouting department and negotiating player contracts on the major and minor league levels. In January 1980, Mike was named Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer, and on September 1, 1984, he succeeded E.J. "Buzzie" Bavasi as the Angels' Executive Vice President/General Manager. During his tenure, the Angels won the A.L. West Division in 1986 (they lost the A.L. pennant in a seven-game series with the Red Sox), finished second in 1985 and third in 1989. Under his direction the Angels signed and developed

After leaving the Angels in late 1991, Mike became president of the Arizona Fall League as it prepared for its inaugural season in 1992. He headed the league's initial organization and is credited with much of its success, as each year it helps to facilitate the development of young talent from major league clubs.

Mike was the recipient of The Boston Baseball Writers' Association annual "Good Guy" Award presented in January 2000. In 2003, Topps Chewing Gum honored him at the Major League Farm and Scouting Directors Meeting with its annual "Advancement in Baseball" Award. In November of 2003, he was selected by the Arizona Fall League to receive the Roland Hemond Award in recognition of his contributions to the league's developmental efforts.

CHARLES H. STEEDMAN

Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services

Charles H. (Chuck) Steedman was named Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services in March, 2005. He is responsible for the thriving business, Fenway Enterprises, that puts America's Most Beloved Ballpark to use when the team is on the road or in winter hibernation. The booking of Fenway for weddings and special events, as well as the operation of the Red Sox' year-round tour program is under his oversight.

In addition, Chuck is the point of contact for the business relationship with the club's broadcasting partners, WEEI Radio, NESN, Viacom, and the Spanish Baseball Network.

More prominently, Chuck is the point person for the Red Sox' grand World Championship Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts Lottery. It was his idea to offer the trophy to the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts that request it. He has also been the coordinator for many of its travels to New York; Los Angeles; Washington, DC; Atlanta; Florida; and the Dominican Republic.

Steedman is an original staff member of the club's ownership group. When Tom Werner and Les Otten initiated the effort to purchase the club, Steedman was with them from the start. As founder and principal of Steedman & Partners, he coordinated financial analysis, legal and financial due diligence, relations with prospective investors, and the Major League Baseball application process.

Steedman's background in media and sports business includes tenures at The University of Connecticut, Raycom Sports, the American Skiing Company, and Resorts Sports Network. In addition, he has served as a consultant for a number of arena and stadium revenue projects, broadcast negotiations, and event creation and management projects.

A native of East Brookfield, MA, Steedman graduated from the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) in 1984 with a degree in Sport Management and later added an MBA from Queens College in Charlotte, NC. He is married to the former Lisa Allen and has two children, Andrew (13) and Michael (8). They reside in Hopkinton, MA.

ELAINE WEDDINGTON STEWARD

Vice President and Club Counsel

Elaine W. Steward was appointed Vice President and Club Counsel on March 7, 2002. Elaine joined the Red Sox in July 1988 as associate counsel and was named assistant general manager in January, 1990. She was named legal counsel in February of 1995, while continuing with her responsibilities as assistant general manager, and she was appointed a Vice President on January 30, 1998.

Steward is a native of New York City and graduated with honors from St. John's University in 1984 with a B.S. in Athletic Administration. While attending St. John's she served as an intern in the New York Mets public relations department and was a member of the St. Vincent's College Honor Society. She was a recipient of the prestigious Jackie Robinson Foundation Sports Management scholarship.

Upon graduation from St. John's University School of Law in 1987, Elaine was an intern in the Office of the Commissioner of Baseball through the Executive Development program. She was admitted to the New York State Bar in April of 1988 and is a member of the American Bar Association. In 1999 she was selected as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Leaders of Boston and was elected into the YWCA Academy of Women Achievers. In 2001 she received the Outstanding Alumna Award from the St. John's University Black Alumni Association.

JOSH BYRNES
Assistant General Manager

Josh was named Assistant General Manager December 7, 2002, coming to the Red Sox after three years as the Rockies' Senior Director/Baseball Operations and Assistant General Manager. This is his 12th year in a major league front office.

Byrnes began his front office career in 1994 as the Cleveland Indians moved into Jacobs Field. In Cleveland, Byrnes was involved in a multitude of tasks, including the advent and implementation of the club's video advance scouting system. Byrnes served as advance scout in 1995-96, and the Indians led the AL in wins and ERA both seasons. Byrnes also assisted John Hart and Dan O'Dowd in contract negotiations and personnel strategy. After the 1996 season, Byrnes was named Assistant Director of Scouting, and in 1998 he was promoted to Director of Scouting.

After the 1999 season, Byrnes became the Assistant General Manager of the Colorado Rockies. His responsibilities ranged from assisting the General Manager to overseeing the farm and scouting departments. During Byrnes' time in Colorado, the Rockies saw the development and impact of young players such as Jason Jennings (2002 NL Rookie of the Year) and Juan Pierre. Byrnes also oversaw the selection and signing of Jeff Francis (2004 Minor League Player of the Year).

In his current role, Byrnes assists Theo Epstein in all facets of Baseball Operations, including personnel decisions, negotiations, scouting and player development. 2004 marked Byrnes' seventh trip to the playoffs and third appearance in the World Series.

Byrnes graduated from Haverford College in 1992. While at Haverford, Byrnes captained the winningest team in school history and set college career marks in home runs and RBI. Josh and his wife, Charity, reside in Boston, and have a daughter, Avery.

BILL LAJOIE
Special Assistant to the General Manager/Scouting

Lajoie joined the Red Sox baseball operations department as Special Assistant to the General Manager/Scouting on November 26, 2002. The 50-year baseball veteran came to the Red Sox after spending the previous two seasons as Senior Advisor/Baseball Operations for the Milwaukee Brewers. He was a special assistant to Braves General Manager John Schuerholz from 1993-2000 after joining the organization as a major league and special assignment scout in 1991.

Prior to his 12-year stint in the National League, Lajoie spent 23 years with the Detroit Tigers from 1968-90. Lajoie spent seven seasons as Tigers Vice President/General Manager from 1984-90, winning the World Series in his first year as GM in '84. The Wyandotte, MI native joined the Tigers as a scout in 1968 and was manager of the Tigers' Rookie-level Bristol affiliate in 1969. He began his baseball operations career as a scout for the Reds from 1965-68.

Lajoie played 10 years in the minors (1955-64) following an All-American career at Western Michigan University. Bill and his wife, Mary, reside in Osprey, FL.

CRAIG SHIPLEY
International Scouting

Craig returns as the Red Sox' Special Assistant to the General Manager/Player Development and International Scouting in 2005. He joined the Red Sox on December 7, 2002 after spending the 2001 and 2002 seasons as a professional scout with the San Diego Padres.

A veteran of 11 years as a major league infielder, Shipley began his baseball operations career in 2000 when he served the Montreal Expos as minor league infield and baserunning coordinator.

Shipley became the second Australian native to play in the majors when he debuted with Los Angeles in 1986. He played with the Dodgers (1986-87), Mets (1989), Padres (1991-94, 1996-97), Astros (1995) and Angels (1998), hitting .271 in 582 career games. The 40-year-old came to the U.S. in 1982 and played for the University of Alabama club that lost to Roger Clemens and the Texas Longhorns in the 1983 College World Series championship game.

BILL JAMES
Senior Baseball Operations Advisor

A baseball writer since 1975, Bill James joined the Boston Red Sox as a Senior Baseball Operations Advisor in November of 2002. He works with senior management and the baseball operations group to provide research and analysis of special projects, player contracts and on-going concerns.

The author of the annual Baseball Abstract from 1977 through 1987, Bill came to national prominence as a result of a Sports Illustrated article written in June of 1981. He is the author of more than 30 baseball books and the creator of the popular statistical summary, the Bill James Handbook, now published annually by Baseball Info Solutions. His other contributions to the sport include the concepts of Runs Created (an estimate of the number of runs each hitter has contributed to his team), Sabermetrics (the effort to replace conjecture and speculation about issues of concern to baseball fans with objective and verifiable knowledge), Win Shares (an estimate of each player's contribution to his team's win total) and Secondary Average (a way of summarizing the other things that a player does to create runs, other than hit for average).

Bill lives in Lawrence, KS, with his wife, Susan McCarthy, and their three children: Rachel (19), Isaac (16) and Reuben (11).

THE BOSTON RED SOX MISSION STATEMENT

The Boston Red Sox organization is dedicated to fulfilling five fundamental commitments to Red Sox fans and New England residents:

1. To field a team worthy of their support, with players whose performance and conduct will make them proud.
2. To preserve all that is good about the Fenway Park experience and to take that experience to new levels of warmth and hospitality.
3. To market aggressively and creatively the Red Sox throughout Boston, the Commonwealth and all of New England.
4. To be active participants in the community in terms of charitable and philanthropic activities.
5. To bring World Series Championships back to Boston and New England.

FENWAY PARK

America's Most Beloved Ballpark

ORGANIZATION

Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest ballpark, Fenway Park has been the home of the Boston Red Sox since April 20, 1912, when (after 2 days of rainouts) the park hosted its first regular-season game, an 11-inning 7-6 Boston win over the New York Highlanders in front of 27,000 fans. Tris Speaker drove home the winning run, but the story of the game was pushed off the front page of the local papers by news of the sinking of the Titanic just days earlier.

In 93 seasons, venerable Fenway has been home to many of the greatest players in baseball history, including Hall of Famers Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmie Foxx, Joe Cronin, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and Carl Yastrzemski.

The park has and witnessed some of the most memorable moments in baseball history, highlighted, perhaps, by Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning home run to win Game 6 of the 1975 World Series.

Among the world's most famous sporting venues, Fenway is best-known for the 37-foot high, 231-foot long "Green Monster" left-field wall, which looms only 310 feet from home plate. Equally enticing to hitters is "Pesky's Pole," the right-field foul pole named for Sox great Johnny Pesky, which stands only 302 feet from the plate.

WHY FENWAY?

The new ballpark was constructed for the 1912 season and was named by then Red Sox owner John I. Taylor. He said "It's in the Fenway section of Boston), isn't it? Then call it Fenway Park." Taylor also owned Fenway Realty. Could it have been baseball's first naming rights deal?

It was also Taylor who changed the club's name from Pilgrims to Red Sox in 1907.

Nestled into the Fenway neighborhood of Boston, the park was largely rebuilt for the 1934 season by new owner Tom Yawkey following an off-season fire.

More recently, Fenway has undergone a series of improvements since the Henry-Werner Group purchased the team in 2002. Most visible among them are the addition of the Green Monster Seats in 2003 and the Right-Field Roof Seats in 2004. Three new concourses--Yawkey Way (2002), the Big Concourse in right field (2003) and the Third Base Concourse (2004), have provided new amenities, while making Fenway far more comfortable for fans by creating space where it seemingly did not exist previously.

A new playing field was installed for the 2005 season. At the same time, the Red Sox clubhouse underwent a massive renovation, including the construction of new state-of-the-art weight, training, rehab and video facilities and the addition of a new batting cage off the tunnel between the clubhouse and the Red Sox dugout.

The astounding popularity of the ballpark and the team has enabled the Red Sox to set attendance records in each of the last five seasons. En route to drawing 2,837,304 in 2004, the Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in club annals and enter 2005 with a 145-game sellout streak, 3rd-longest in major league history.

Hundreds of thousands of fans from all over the globe visit Fenway year-round. Tours of the ballpark are available daily. For more information, call (617) 226-6666 or log on to www.redsox.com.

2005 FENWAY PARK IMPROVEMENTS

ORGANIZATION

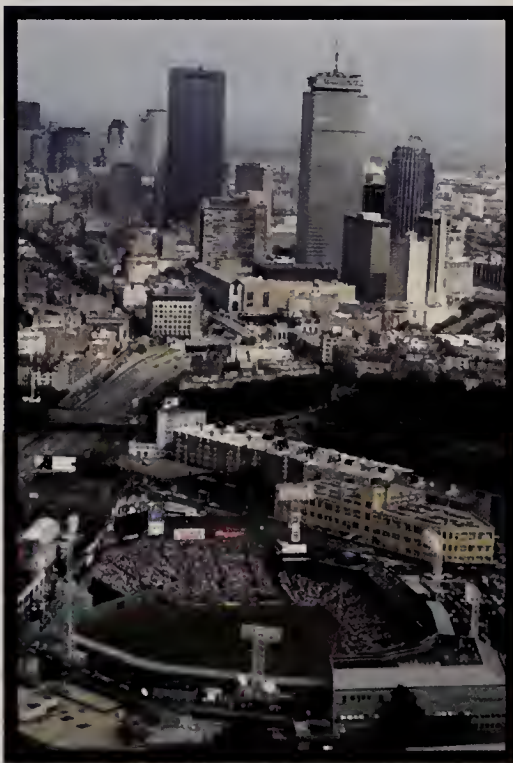

Since 2002, the Red Sox have demonstrated a strong commitment to preserving and improving "America's most beloved ballpark," providing fans with more space, more concessions, more information, and enhancing the overall Fenway Park experience. 2005 marks another round of changes to Fenway, both in and around the ballpark, as well as several equally important behind the scene improvements.

The team will unveil an expanded grandstand concourse located above the second floor of the newly expanded Red Sox clubhouse. Between home plate and first base, fans will now have another "destination" during games. This open-air venue featuring great standing room views, brand new concessions, and plenty of new "space" to enjoy the Fenway experience. This expansion also allows the Sox to move several partially obstructed handicapped seating locations to better spots with unimpaired views of the playing field. In addition, the Red Sox will add 32 wheelchair position and 32 companion seats in right field, near the new elevator added in 2004.

In the third base concourse area, the Red Sox will open a new food court. In 2004, the new Gate E concourse opened with new bathrooms, expanded concessions, and fan service areas. This food court will give fans more food and beverage options as well as additional space to enjoy this new concourse.

After years of long rain delays and poor playing conditions, the Red Sox have installed a new playing field at Fenway Park. In addition to a new drainage system and new sod, a crown that intensified the water's negative impact on the park has been removed. These improvements are intended to decrease the amount of flooding and subsequent rainouts that have inconvenienced fans and players for years. And with the crown's removal, those fans in the first few rows will have better sightlines to view play in all areas of the field.

The exterior of Fenway will also see major improvements for the 2005 season. On the first floor of the Jeano building, from Gate E to the ticket office, the boards and blocks covering up the original Fenway exterior have been removed. In keeping with National Park Services standards and examining original Fenway Park drawings, the brick masonry of the building is being restored to its early 1900's look, along with the addition of historic arched windows, light fixtures, and awnings. These changes will compliment the new restaurant, Game On!, located at the corner of Brookline Avenue and Lansdowne Street. Game On!, a new two floor sports cafe will be open year-round, improving the Fenway neighborhood experience and the overall vitality of Lansdowne Street. In addition to this new restaurant, the Red Sox, teaming with Lansdowne Street property owners, will add new street trees and historic light fixtures, while also expanding sidewalks by several feet. Also on

Lansdowne, the Sox have removed the long dormant cement blocks next to Gate C, and added 1934 windows for the new home of WEEI's Fenway radio studio. With this move, the Sox continue their quest to energize all of their gates, and add to the fan experience along Lansdowne. Finally, along the Van Ness Street facade, long thought of as the "backdoor of Fenway Park," the team will add a new tribute to those players whose numbers have been retired at Fenway. In 2004, along with addition of the Ted Williams statue, sidewalks were expanded, historic light fixtures were placed and new street trees were planted along the street. The addition of the Red Sox retired numbers, and plaques honoring these legends will continue these improvements to the Gate B area.

Behind the scenes, the Red Sox are investing in several improvements to help make Fenway Park a year-round facility, capable of hosting all types of parties, functions, and events. By modernizing and increasing power, as well as updating energy systems, the team has increased its ability to adapt to the increased variety of game and non-game related uses.

For the 2005 season, the Red Sox will also expand their clubhouse facilities, and begin the process of bringing up clubhouse conditions to Major League standards. Above the player's parking lot, a second floor has been added to allow for the new expanded facilities. The new floor will contain a new weight room, players lounge, and media room. The weight room is nearly three times the size of the original with additional machinery, state-of-the-art training devices, and the space to allow more players to work out for longer periods of time. And, the new media interview room, three times the size of the original, provides a better environment for press conferences and interviews. The Sox have also added a new training room and hydro room.

Behind the dugout, the team has excavated under the concourse and added a new Red Sox batting tunnel, bat swing area, and pitcher's mound. This tunnel will allow the team to have its own batting cage (previously shared with the visiting team in center field), take swings during innings, and allow pitchers to throw in all weather conditions. New storage areas and bathrooms have also been added in this newly created space.

The Red Sox hope that these improvements will continue to benefit the fans and allow Fenway Park to continue to be a fun, family-friendly, and comfortable destination for millions of fans each year.

FENWAY PARK HISTORY

APRIL 9, 1912: In the first game at Fenway Park, the Red Sox beat Harvard 2-0 in an exhibition game played in snow flurries in front of 3,000 fans.

APRIL 20, 1912: Following a pair of rainouts, the Red Sox win the first official game at Fenway, beating the New York Highlanders (who'd later become the Yankees) 7-6 in 11 innings. Tris Speaker drove home the game winner in front of 27,000 fans.

APRIL 26, 1912: First baseman Hugh Bradley hit the first home run at Fenway and the first over the left field wall vs. Philadelphia. It was the second and last home run of his major league career.

MAY 8, 1926: In the first Fenway fire, the bleachers along the left-field foul line burned down and weren't replaced, giving fielders the chance to snare foul flies behind the third base grandstand.

1931: The Red Sox, who first wore uniform numbers in 1931, have retired five numbers: Ted Williams' No. 9 and Joe Cronin's No. 4 on May 29, 1984; Bobby Doerr's No. 1 on May 21, 1988; Carl Yastrzemski's No. 8 on August 6, 1989; and Carlton Fisk's No. 27 on September 4, 2000.

JULY 3, 1932: The Sox are hammered by the Yankees 13-2 in the first Sunday game at Fenway Park. Sunday baseball was approved in Boston 3 years earlier, but not at Fenway due to its proximity to a church. The Sox played their Sunday games at Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue until the law was changed. They actually played the first Boston Sunday game, a 7-3 loss to Philadelphia, at Braves Field, April 28, 1929 in front of 22,000 fans (the Braves' April 21 game was rained out).

JANUARY 5, 1934: A 5-alarm, 4-hour blaze, the second Fenway fire, virtually destroyed the construction underway by new owner T.A. Yawkey to refurbish the park.

APRIL 17, 1934: The Washington Senators, led by player-manager Joe Cronin beat the Sox 6-5 in 11 innings in the first game at the New Fenway. Duffy's Cliff in left field and the original wooden left field wall were both removed. The new wall was made of concrete and tin.

SEPTEMBER 22, 1935: The largest crowd to ever see a game at Fenway Park--47,627--turned out for a doubleheader with the Yankees. A year earlier (on August 19, 1934), 46,995 watched a Detroit Tigers doubleheader. And a week earlier, 46,766 said goodbye to Babe Ruth at a Yankees doubleheader on August 12, 1934. Those crowds will never be equaled under Fenway's current dimensions. More stringent fire laws and league rules after World War II prohibited overcrowding that was permitted in the 1930's.

MORE FENWAY FACTS

► Prior to 1912 the Red Sox played their home games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds, now part of Northeastern University.

► Other teams have played at Fenway Park besides the Red Sox. In 1914 the "Miracle Boston Braves" played their World Series games at Fenway en route to a 4-game sweep over the favored Philadelphia Athletics while Braves Field was under construction. The Boston Patriots (now the New England Patriots) were fall occupants from 1963-68 before eventually ending up in Foxboro. They were not, however, the first pro football team to play at Fenway. The Boston Redskins played 4 years at the park before heading to Washington in 1937. The Boston Yanks played at Fenway from 1944-48 prior to traveling to New York, Dallas, Baltimore (where they became the Colts) and eventually to Indianapolis.

► Since 1990, the Red Sox have hosted a 4-college Beanpot Tournament each April. Boston College, Harvard, Northeastern and Boston University competed the first 6 years. When BU dropped baseball, UMass replaced the Terriers in 1996. On April 27, 1997 UMass pitcher Scott Barnsby no-hit Northeastern in the semifinals, 1-0. It was the first no-hitter at Fenway since Dave Morehead's in 1965. The Red Sox have also hosted Cape Cod League and college all-star games as well as state high school tournaments, most recently in 1998.

► Collegiately, Boston College teams, mostly of the Frank Leahy era, and Boston University, with stellar quarterback Harry Agganis (later a promising Red Sox first baseman who died during the 1955 season), also played at Fenway Park.

1936: A 23-foot tall screen was installed above the left field wall. The screen would remain until the Green Monster Seats were constructed in 2003.

JULY 30, 1936: Thomas A. Yawkey, A.L. President Will Harridge and the Red Sox team flew from St. Louis to Chicago, the first major league team to do so in one plane.

JULY 13, 1939: The Sox played their first road night game in Cleveland, a 6-5 win in 10 innings. Joe Heving was the winning pitcher.

1940: Bullpens were constructed in front of the bleachers replacing the old bullpen areas in the outfield foul territory beyond the dugouts. Box seats were added to the right field grandstand reducing the distance to the right field foul pole to 302 feet.

1946: Skyview seats were added to Fenway Park.

JUNE 9, 1946: Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit righthander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, a 56-year-old construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

JULY 9, 1946: The Red Sox hosted their first All-Star Game at Fenway Park, a 12-0 American League win. Eight Red Sox were on the All-Star team, but Ted Williams stole the show, going 4-for-4 with two homers, a walk, five RBI and four runs scored.

JUNE 13, 1947: The Red Sox defeated the White Sox 5-3 in Fenway's first night game. Arc lights were installed in 1947. The Red Sox were the third-to-last of the 16 major league clubs to do so. Dave Ferriss was the winning pitcher. Green paint replaced advertisements covering the left field wall. No more Calvert owl ("Be wise"), Gem Blades ("Avoid 5 o'clock shadow"), Lifebuoy ("The Red Sox use it") and Vimms ("Get that Vimms feeling").

MAY 12, 1948: The first Red Sox game was televised from Fenway on WBZ-TV.

OCTOBER 4, 1948: The first playoff game in A.L. history took place at Fenway, and Cleveland rookie lefthander Gene Bearden beat the Red Sox 8-3. Shortstop-manager Lou Boudreau led the Indians with two homers and two singles. The defeat prevented the only cross-town World Series in Boston history. Cleveland went on to beat the Boston Braves 4-2 in the World Series.

1952: The visitors' clubhouse was relocated to the third base side and connected to dugout.

SEPTEMBER 21, 1956: Batting lefthanded, the Yankees' Mickey Mantle hit the longest known home run to straight-away center field at Fenway off righthander Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet before striking the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

JULY 31, 1961: Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay.

JANUARY 6, 1963: The Boston Red Sox and the Boston Patriots agreed to a two-year contract allowing the Patriots to play their AFL home games at Fenway Park for the 1963-64 seasons. The contract was later renewed, and the Patriots continued to play their home games at Fenway through 1968. Overall, their record at Fenway Park was 17-16-5.

OCTOBER 21, 1975: The first World Series night game was played at Fenway Park, and it was a classic. The memorable Game 6, delayed three days by rain, lasted 4:01 and ended with Carlton Fisk's oft-replayed home run off Pat Darcy leading off the last of the 12th. The Red Sox had tied the game at 6-6 in the last of the eighth on Bernie Carbo's three-run, pinch-hit homer with two outs.

JUNE 19, 1977: Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an eighth-inning blast off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. The blast traveled approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the right field roof facade.

1993: Organized tours of Fenway Park began.

1993-94: Three-year restroom renovation was completed.

1995: Energy-efficient lighting, heating/cooling and control systems were installed throughout the facility via Boston Edison Company energy conservation program.

MARCH 19, 1997: A 25-foot Coca-Cola contour bottle design atop the light tower above the left field wall was unveiled signifying the Red Sox' partnership with Coca-Cola and their commitment to the fans, the community and the Jimmy Fund through the "Monster Refreshment" program. The program has ensured ticket price savings for fans and significant contributions to the Jimmy Fund for each Red Sox home run hit over the left-field wall or one that hits the Coke bottle. In 1997 the Red Sox hit two home runs off the Coke bottle: Wil Cordero April 13 vs. Seattle and Tim Lincecum May 11 vs. Texas.

MAY, 1997: The batting cage beneath the center field bleachers was completely renovated.

MARCH, 1999: Improvements to the Red Sox and visitors clubhouses were completed.

JULY 13, 1999: The Red Sox hosted their third All-Star Game, a 3-1 A.L. win. For the first time in history, the All-Star Game was a three-day event featuring a celebrity hitting contest, a Futures game and a home run derby.

APRIL 2002: Two rows of "dugout" seats (on the infield side of both dugouts to backstop) were added. A media interview room was constructed adjacent to Red Sox clubhouse. The family room was converted to a players lounge, and a new, expanded family lounge was built.

SEPTEMBER, 2002: Yawkey Way and the Gate A concourse expansion opened with concessions, restrooms and fan-friendly attractions for all ages.

APRIL, 2003: Green Monster seats debuted above the left field wall. Two rows of additional seats and new camera pits were constructed on the outfield end of Red Sox and visitors dugouts. Two new rows of seats behind the plate and a new backstop were added. A new manual out-of-town scoreboard and advertising panels were installed on the left field wall. The Legends Suite debuted in Suite R-1, giving groups of fans the chance to watch a game with a Red Sox great. The Hall of Fame/.406 Club was refurbished and decorated. Yawkey Way officially opened after a one-month trial in September of 2002. The SmarTix program was launched.

JULY/AUGUST 2003: Big Concourse with restrooms (including family restroom), concessions, customer service booth, portable turnstiles and picnic areas opened in right field. New ticket booths opened at Gates B and C. Gate D food court/expanded concessions on lower concourse opened. ARAMARK commissary moved to old Laundry Building area.

SEPTEMBER 6-7, 2003: Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band performed a pair of sold-out concerts at Fenway Park.

APRIL 9, 2004: New seating on the right field roof debuted.

APRIL 16, 2004: Red Sox legends Johnny Pesky and Bobby Doerr joined Mayor Thomas M. Menino in unveiling a new statue of Ted Williams outside of Gate B.

SEPTEMBER 10 AND 12, 2004: Jimmy Buffett and the Coral Reefer Band packed Fenway for a pair of sold-out concerts.

OCTOBER 8, 2004: David Ortiz crushed a two-run homer off Jarrod Washburn with two outs in the bottom of the 10th, giving the Red Sox an 8-6 win over the Angels and a seep of the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series.

OCTOBER 20, 2004: Johnny Damon homered twice and drove in six runs, leading the Red Sox to a 10-3 win over the Yankees at Yankee Stadium and capping the greatest comeback in baseball history. Down three games to none in the best-of-seven series, the Sox stormed back to become the first team in major league history to win a post-season series after dropping the first three games. The pennant was the 11th in club history.

OCTOBER 27, 2004: 86 years of heartache were erased with a 3-0 win in St. Louis, as the Red Sox completed a sweep of the 100th World Series for their first World Championship since 1918.

47-TERRY FRANCONA

Manager

HEIGHT: 6-1

WEIGHT: 185

OPENING DAY AGE: 45 (Turns 46 on April 22)

BORN: April 22, 1959 in Aberdeen, SD

RESIDES: Yardley, PA

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL RECORD: 383-427 (.473)

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER: Third Base Coach for the Detroit Tigers (1996), Manager for the Philadelphia Phillies (1997-2000), Bench Coach for the Texas Rangers (2002), Bench Coach for the Oakland Athletics (2003), Manager for the Boston Red Sox (2004-)

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

WHAT WILL HE DO FOR AN ENCORE?: In his first season at the helm in Boston, Francona guided the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...became the winningest manager in club post-season history, as Boston went 11-3 in beating the Angels in the ALDS (3-0), the Yankees in the ALCS (4-3) and the Cardinals in the World Series (4-0)...led the Sox to a 98-64 regular-season record and the American League Wild Card, finishing 2nd in the A.L. East, 3.0 games behind the Yankees...in the franchise's 104-year history, only one skipper posted a better record in his first season: Jake Stahl managed the 1912 Red Sox to a 105-47 record and the World Series championship...Francona became just the 6th manager in club annals to lead the Red Sox to the postseason in his first year at the helm, joining Jake Stahl (1912), Ed Barrow (1918), Dick Williams (1967), Joe Morgan (1988) and Kevin Kennedy (1995), just the 3rd to win the World Series in his first year (Stahl in 1912 and Barrow in 1918).

MORE 2004 NOTES: Managed a total of 50 players (25 position players and 26 pitchers, with David McCarty on both lists)...in reaching the postseason for the first time in 5 major league managerial seasons, Francona saw his club overcome 16 players enduring 19 stints on the disabled list, missing a total of 1,170 games (in 2003, the Sox lost 497 games to D.L. time)...was named the 44th manager in Red Sox history December 4, 2003...agreed to a 3-year contract with a club option for 2007.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

CAREER NOTES: In his 26th season in pro baseball, Francona begins his 6th season as a major league manager, his 2nd with the Red Sox...previously, guided the rebuilding Phillies to a 285-363 record from 1997-2000...only 37 when hired by the Phillies, he was the youngest manager in the majors at the time...began his coaching career immediately upon the conclusion of his playing days in 1991, serving as hitting instructor for the White Sox' Rookie-level Gulf Coast League club...he managed Chicago's Single-A South Bend affiliate in 1992 and skippered Double-A Birmingham from 1993-95, earning Southern League Manager of the Year and Baseball America Minor League Manager of the Year honors after leading the Barons to the league championship in '93...in 1994, when he managed basketball great Michael Jordan, Francona was named the top managerial prospect in the minors by Baseball America...Francona also managed in the Arizona Fall League in 1992 and 1994...he guided Aguilas to the Dominican Winter League championship following the 1995 season...Francona, who concluded his minor league managerial career in 1995 with a 4-year record of 296-266, made the jump to the major leagues in 1996, when he served as third base coach on Detroit manager Buddy Bell's staff...in 1997, he was named manager of a Philadelphia club that had finished 5th in the N.L. East with a 67-95 record in 1996...under Francona's leadership, the Phillies improved their record in each of the next 3 seasons...they went 68-94 in 1997, including the league's 3rd-best record (44-33) after the All-Star break...the 1998 Phils finished 75-87, vaulting to 3rd place in the division and staying in the Wild Card chase until mid August...in 1999, Francona's Phils started 61-48 through August 6 en route to a 77-85 record and a 3rd-place finish...the Phillies went 65-97 in 2000...in 2001, he served Indians General Manager John Hart as a Special Assistant to Baseball Operations and guided Team USA to a 7-3 record and the Silver Medal in the Baseball World Cup in Taipei, Taiwan, dropping the title game to Cuba...Francona returned to the dugout as Jerry Narron's bench coach with the Rangers in 2002 and spent 2003 as Ken Macha's bench coach with the A.L. West champion Athletics.

PLAYING CAREER

A first-round draft pick (22nd overall) by the Montreal Expos in 1980, Francona played 12 pro seasons from 1980-91, including 10 years in the majors with the Expos (1981-85), Cubs (1986), Reds (1987), Indians (1988) and Brewers (1989-90)...he batted .274 with 16 homers and 143 RBI in 708 major league games as a first baseman and outfielder, the same positions played by his father Tito, who spent 15 seasons in the major leagues with 9 teams from 1956-70...Terry played only 194 minor league games over parts of 2 seasons before being promoted to the majors for the first time on August 18, 1981 after hitting .350 for Double-A Memphis and Triple-A Denver...hit his first major league home run off Cardinals relief ace Bruce Sutter September 16, 1981...went 4-for-12 in five games in Montreal's 1981 Division Series vs. Philadelphia...was 0-for-1 in 2 games in the 1981 N.L. Championship Series vs. Los Angeles...his 2 best major league seasons were derailed by knee problems...was hitting .321 through 46 games in 1982 before undergoing season-ending surgery on his right knee...was batting .346 through 58 games in 1984 before a June 14 injury to his left knee necessitated season-ending surgery...made one major league appearance on the mound, fanning one in a perfect inning for the Brewers May 15, 1989 at Oakland...concluded his pro career with 86 games at Triple-A Louisville (Cardinals) in 1991, including 5 pitching appearances in which he allowed just one earned run in 7.2 innings.

SUMMARY: After splitting 4 consecutive seasons between Triple-A and the major leagues with the Pirates (2000-2002) and Red Sox (2003), enjoyed his first full big league season and finished 10-9 with a 4.03 ERA in 32 games (29 starts) for Boston...established career highs in wins, appearances, starts, innings pitched and strikeouts...finished strong, going 5-0 with a 3.78 ERA (21 ER/50.0 IP) in his last 9 starts, all Red Sox wins...did not lose after August 15...had started the year 5-9 with a 4.13 ERA (59 ER/128.2 IP) through his first 23 games (20 starts)...held the opposition to a .249 batting average, 9th-lowest in the American League...averaged only 2.4 walks per 9 innings, 10th-fewest in the A.L...his ERA was 12th-best in the league...the Sox went 17-12 in his 29 starts, 16 of which were quality starts...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 16 of his last 21 starts.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN: The Red Sox scored a total of 22 runs in the 8 starts Arroyo lost (he also lost a relief appearance), including 2 runs or fewer in 4 of his setbacks.

ROAD WARRIOR: Finished the year 7-4 with a 3.06 ERA (35 ER/103.0 IP) in 17 games (16 starts) on the road...his road ERA ranked 5th in the A.L...opponents hit just .214 (81-for-379) on the road...was 3-5 with a 5.35 ERA (45 ER/75.2 IP) in 15 games (13 starts) at Fenway Park, where opponents batted .291 (90-for-309).

TOUGH TO HIT: Opponents batted just .249 (171-for-688) with 17 homers...among Red Sox starters, only Pedro Martinez and Curt Schilling allowed a lower opponents average, and Arroyo ranked 9th in the A.L...Arroyo held righthanders to a .227 average (75-for-331) and 7 homers...lefties hit .269 (96-for-357) with 10 homers...the opposition had a .314 on-base percentage and a .403 slugging percentage.

MAKE 'EM EARN IT: Allowed 19 unearned runs, tied with Tim Wakefield and Kansas City's Brian Anderson for 3rd-most in the major leagues...in all of baseball, only teammate Derek Lowe (28) and Arizona's Brandon Webb (28) allowed more.

KEEPING THEM IN THE YARD: Allowed 17 homers in 178.2 innings, working an average of more than 10 innings per long ball...over his last 16 starts, beginning July 9, gave up only 6 long balls in 91.2 innings, an average of one approximately every 15.1 innings.

HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT: Led the major leagues with 20 hit batsmen, tying the Red Sox record set by Howard Ehmke in 1923.

DOWN BY WAY OF THE K: Arroyo, who had never before struck out more than 7 in a game, chalked up 12 K's July 19 in Seattle...the total would stand as the club season high until Curt Schilling fanned 14 September 21 vs. Baltimore...Arroyo struck out the side in the 4th, 5th and 6th and recorded 11 consecutive outs via K between the 3rd out in the 3rd and the first out in the 7th...the last major leaguer to record at least 11 straight outs on strikeouts was Arizona's Randy Johnson, who rang up 13 outs in a row on K's July 4, 2001 at Houston.

INTERLEAGUE INTRIGUE: The former National Leaguer posted a stellar 3.07 ERA (10 ER/29.1 IP) in 5 interleague starts despite an 0-4 record...led the club in starts and innings pitched (29.1) in interleague play...June 9 vs. San Diego, allowed just 2 runs (one earned) in 5.0 innings before being forced from the game following a 2:21 rain delay...left trailing 2-0 and took the loss, as the Sox fell 8-1...was a 6-3 loser June 14 at Colorado, allowing 4 runs (3 earned) on 7 hits in 6.0 innings...was a tough-luck 4-0 loser to the Giants June 20 at SBC Park, as Jason Schmidt one-hit the Red Sox...Bronson surrendered only 2 runs on 4 hits in 6.1 innings, walking one and fanning 7.

DON'T EVEN THINK ABOUT IT: Was the toughest Red Sox starter to run against, allowing just 4 stolen bases in 9 tries.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked at least 6.0 innings in 20 of 29 starts, 7.0 or more in 9...completed 8.0 innings twice...threw a total of 2,814 pitches, an average of 15.8 per inning...induced 11 ground-ball double plays...won his 10 games against 9 different opponents, beating Tampa Bay twice...tied Pedro Martinez for 8th in the A.L. with a 3.94 ERA in night games.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Began the year with 4 starts in his first 5 outings, but moved to the bullpen for 2 outings when Byung-Hyun Kim was activated from the D.L...in his return to the rotation May 15 at SkyDome, limited the Jays to just 3 hits in a season-high 8.0 shutout innings in a 4-0 win...remained in the rotation the rest of the season...also worked 8.0 innings of 3-hit shutout ball July 9 vs. Texas...walked 2 and punched out 7...made 3 relief appearances (none after May 9), going 1-1 with a 5.40 ERA (2 ER/3.1 IP)...threw a team season-high 124 pitches June 20 at San Francisco.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Had no record and a 7.81 ERA (11 ER/12.2 IP) in 6 post-season appearances (2 starts)...had a 3.00 ERA (2 ER/6.0 IP) in one ALDS start vs. Anaheim...started the series-clinching Game 3 at Fenway, limiting the Angels to 2 runs on 3 hits in 6.0 innings-plus...walked 2 and fanned 7...allowed a solo homer to Troy Glaus in the 4th and was pulled with a 6-1 lead after walking Jeff DaVanon to start the 7th...the Sox won 8-6 in 10 on David Ortiz's walk-off homer...had a 15.75 ERA (7 ER/4.0 IP) in 3 games (one start) in the ALCS vs. New York...allowed 8 hits and 2 walks, fanning 3...started Game 3 at Fenway, and was tagged for 6 runs on 6 hits and 2 walks in 2.0 innings-plus...left after the first 3 men reached in the 3rd...gave up homers to Hideki Matsui with a man on in the first and Alex Rodriguez with the bases empty in the 3rd...fanned 2 in a no-hit, no-run 10th inning out of the pen in Game 5 at Fenway...gave up a run on 2 hits in 1.0 inning in Game 6 in the Bronx...made 2 relief appearances in the World Series, posting a 6.75 ERA (2 ER/2.2 IP)...allowed 2 runs on 4 hits and a walk with 4 K's in 2.2 innings...was touched for 2 runs on 4 hits in 2.1 innings in Game 1 at Fenway...walked none and punched out 4...got one out and issued one walk in the 8th inning of the series-clinching Game 4 win at Busch Stadium.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: The Cubs' Opening Day starter at third base, Bellhorn was traded to Colorado June 19 and combined to hit .221 with 10 doubles, a triple, 2 homers and 26 RBI in 99 games between the 2 stops...with Chicago, hit .209 (29-for-139) with both homers and 22 of his 26 RBI...as a Rockie, Bellhorn hit .236 (26-for-110) with 3 doubles and 4 RBI in 48 games...made 61 starts overall in 2003, 47 at third base, 12 at second and 2 at shortstop...appeared at least once at every position except pitcher, catcher and left field.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted a combined .225 (40-for-178) with a homer and 15 RBI from the left side and .211 (15-for-71) with one homer and 11 RBI from the right side...went 3-for-22 (.136) with a homer and 6 walks as a pinch hitter...the long ball was a game-winning solo shot off Steve Kline in the top of the 9th in Chicago's 2-1 win May 17 at St. Louis...it was Bellhorn's 2nd career pinch home run but first since his first career homer on July 3, 1997 at San Francisco...did not homer again in his final 142 at-bats in 2003.

MORE 2003 NOTES: Went 1-for-3 with a triple, 4 RBI, 2 runs and 2 walks in Chicago's 15-2 Opening Day win at New York but went 0-for-23 with 10 K's in his next 9 games until April 12...hit in 7 of his next 8, going 11-for-26 (.423) but finished April with a .194 average...went 2-for-2 with a double and 3 RBI May 2 vs. Colorado...made his Rockies debut June 19 vs. Detroit at second base and went 2-for-3 with a walk and a run...started 5 of the next 7 games...slumped after the All-Star break, beginning the 2nd half with a 3-for-22 slide before being placed on the 15-day D.L. with right shoulder tendinitis August 16...hot .389 (21-for-54) with 5 doubles, a triple, 4 home runs and 16 RBI during a 16-game rehab stint at Triple-A Colorado Springs...was activated by the Rockies on August 23 and hit .257 99-for-35) the rest of the way...batted .350 (7-for-20) in September.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Made his first career Opening Day roster and enjoyed the finest season of his major league career in his lone full season with the Cubs, batting .258 with 27 homers and 56 RBI...his 27 long balls were the most ever by a Cubs switch-hitter, breaking Augie Galan's 1937 record of 18...started games at all 4 infield positions, playing 77 games (63 starts) at second base, 36 games (29 starts) at third, 22 games (7 starts) at first base and 12 games (10 starts) at shortstop...also made one appearance in left field June 5 at Milwaukee...became the first Cub ever to homer at all 4 infield positions in a single season...batted leadoff 52 times and also hit 2nd (16 times), 5th (twice), 6th (23 times), 7th (4 times) and 8th (12 times)...batted .273 (84-for-308) with 14 doubles, 19 homers, 33 RBI and 64 runs scored over his final 83 games...the switch-hitter batted .241 with 17 homers from the left side and .303 with 10 home runs from the right side...drove in all 3 runs in a 3-0 victory May 5 at Los Angeles, going 2-for-4 with a solo homer and a 2-run single, both off Kevin Brown...hit his first career grand slam May 30, a 3rd-inning shot off Pittsburgh lefty Jimmy Anderson...had a career-high 8-game hitting streak June 28-July 6, going 12-for-25 (.480) with 3 homers...homered from both sides of the plate June 30 against the White Sox at Comiskey Park, launching a 6th-inning 2-run blast as a right-handed batter off Mark Buehrle and a 9th-inning solo shot from the left side off Rocky Biddle...was the first Cub to homer from both sides of the plate in a game since Ellis Burton turned the trick against the Milwaukee Braves on September 7, 1964...as part of the Cubs' 10-run 4th inning August 29 at Milwaukee, he again homered from both sides of the plate, this time hitting a 2-run shot batting righthanded off Andrew Lorraine and a 3-run shot batting lefthanded off Jose Cabrera...in doing so, became the first switch-hitter in N.L. history to homer from both sides of the plate in an inning...the only A.L. player to do so was Cleveland's Carlos Baerga on April 8, 1993 vs. the Yankees...the Baseball Hall of Fame received the bat Bellhorn used to hit the 2 homers...hit his first 2 career first-inning leadoff homers: July 26 at St. Louis off Chuck Finley and September 11 vs. Montreal off Masato Yoshii...ended the season riding a 7-game hitting streak.

2001: Split his final season in the A's organization between Oakland and Triple-A Sacramento...hit .135 with a homer and 4 RBI in 38 major league games, making 12 appearances at second base, 9 at third, 5 at shortstop and one in right field (October 4 at Anaheim)...with Sacramento, batted .269 with 12 long balls and 36 RBI in only 48 contests...posted a .538 slugging percentage and a .370 on-base percentage...played 18 Triple-A games in the outfield, his first pro experience outside of the infield.

2000: In 117 games with Triple-A Sacramento, batted .266 with 17 doubles, 11 triples, 24 homers, 73 RBI and a career-high 20 steals...led the Pacific Coast League with 111 runs and 94 walks...ranked 2nd in triples...slugged .521 and recorded a .399 on-base percentage...legged out 3 triples June 20 vs. New Orleans...tied the minor league season high with 6 runs July 9 vs. Salt Lake...played 94 games at third base, 12 at second, 7 at shortstop and 4 at first...appeared in 9 September games for Oakland, going 2-for-13.

1999: Missed most of the year due to a torn tendon in his left wrist...was on the D.L. April 8-July 29...spent a 12-game rehab assignment with the Arizona Rookie League A's July 13-26 before appearing in 17 games for Double-A Midland in July and August...hit .298 with a .412 OBP in the Texas League...played only second base at both stops.

1998: Went 1-for-12 in 2 stints (11 games) with Oakland, but spent the bulk of the season with Triple-A Edmonton, where he batted .249 with 20 doubles, 4 triples, 10 home runs and 44 RBI in 87 games...played 44 Triple-A games at third base, 34 at second, 3 at shortstop and one at first base...with the Athletics, appeared in 5 contests at third base, 2 at shortstop and one at second base.

1997: In just his 3rd pro season, made his major league debut, appearing in 68 games for the Athletics and batting .228 with 6 homers and 19 RBI...made his debut June 10 at Detroit, singling off Willie Blair in his first big league at-bat...hit his first home run June 23 at Seattle off Derek Lowe...slammed his first career pinch-hit home run July 3 at San Francisco off Doug Creek...went 4-for-4 August 21 vs. Boston...for the A's, played 40 games at third base, 17 at second and one at shortstop...also appeared in 70 games for Triple-A Edmonton, helping the Trappers to the PCL title by batting .328 with 11 homers and 46 RBI...slugged .564 with a .472 on-base percentage at Edmonton...ranked 4th in the PCL with 64 walks...appeared at second base (42 games), shortstop (23 games) and third base (5 games) in Triple-A.

1996: Spent his first full season at Double-A Huntsville, batting .250 with 10 homers, 71 RBI and 19 steals in 131 games...his 73 walks were 5th-most in the Southern League...saw time at second base (57 games), shortstop (55 games) and third base (12 games).

1995: Made his pro debut playing shortstop at Single-A Modesto, where he batted .258 with 6 home runs and 31 RBI in 56 California League contests.

CAREER NOTES

TURNING 30: Has made 30 or more starts in each of his 6 full major league seasons starting in 1999 after breaking in with San Diego at the age of 24...has won at least 9 games in each of the 6 campaigns, including a career-high 14 wins with the Cubs in 2003, his 4th career and 2nd straight season with 10 or more victories.

BELOW AVERAGE: Has limited opponents to a .243 average (1,057-for-4,348) in his career, the 11th-lowest mark in the majors beginning in 1998...his .226 mark (507-for-2246) against righthanders is 7th-lowest among all pitchers over the last 7 seasons (minimum 2,000 batters faced)...has held foes to a .233 average (114-for-489) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs, and a .151 mark (309-for-2051) with 2 strikes.

3-YEAR RETURNS: In his last 3 seasons with the Cubs, limited opponents to a .223 average, 7th-lowest among all major leaguers in that span...went 35-36 with a 3.80 ERA in 94 starts over the 3 seasons...with 576 strikeouts and just 486 hits allowed in 587.2 innings, averaged 8.8 K's per 9 innings (11th-best among all big league pitchers) and 7.4 hits per 9 innings (7th-lowest in the majors) in that span.

SUMMARY: Capped his 3-year stint with the Cubs by going 9-13 in 30 starts...posted a 3.68 ERA, 2nd-lowest of his career (3.60)...struck out 190 in 181.0 IP, an average of 9.4 K's per 9 innings (tied for 5th-best in the N.L.)...limited foes to a .229 average, 8th-lowest in the league...after starting the season 6-3 with a 3.05 ERA (22 ER/65.0 IP) in 10 starts through May 28, won just 3 games the rest of the way with a 4.03 ERA (52 ER/116.0 IP) over his final 20 starts...dropped his first start of the year April 8 at Cincinnati and then went 5-0 with a 1.53 ERA (6 ER/35.1 IP) in 5 starts April 14-May 6...tied his career high with a 5-game losing streak June 18-July 16 despite a stellar 2.61 ERA (11 ER/38.0 IP) over the 6-start stretch.

A LITTLE HELP?: Was the victim of poor run support, as his average of 4.03 runs of support per game was 6th-lowest in the N.L...the Cubs scored just 79 runs while he was on the mound, an average of only 2.6 per start.

HOME SWEET HOME: Went 7-6 with a 3.19 ERA (40 ER/113.0 IP) in 18 starts at Wrigley Field and 2-7 with a 4.50 ERA (34 ER/68.0 IP) in 12 road starts...in his career, is 45-35 with a 3.72 ERA (271 ER/655.1 IP) in 105 starts at home and 24-40 with a 5.14 ERA (286/501.0 IP) in 89 appearances, all but 2 as a starter, on the road.

CAREER NOTES

BACK WHERE IT ALL BEGAN: By signing a minor league contract with the Red Sox in January, the 9-year pro returned to his original club, 6 years after being claimed off waivers by the Twins in 1999...was originally signed by Boston as a non-drafted free agent July 24, 1996...pitched for short-season Single-A Lowell in '96 and Single-A Sarasota in 1997...spent 1998 and the start of 1999 with Double-A Trenton...was 21-24 with a 3.84 ERA in 66 games (62 starts) during his first stint in the Red Sox chain.

SUMMARY: Opened his 2nd campaign in the Cleveland organization on the big league roster and went 0-1 with a 6.32 ERA in 9 relief appearances before being outrighted to Triple-A Buffalo, where he worked in long relief for the remainder of the campaign and went 10-1 with a save and 5.13 ERA in 24 games (4 starts)...had his contract purchased by the Indians June 27, but was outrighted 2 days later without seeing additional major league action.

AT BUFFALO: Went 10-1 with a save and a 3.60 ERA in 20 relief appearances for the Bisons, finishing tied for 8th in the International League in wins...struck out 41 and walked 10 in 52.2 innings overall, a 4-to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...went 4-1 with a save and a 1.38 ERA (2 ER/13.0 IP) over his first 6 outings (one start)...rode an 8-game winning streak through the end of the season, including victories in 4 straight outings August 3-13...all but 5 of his 20 relief appearances were 2.0 innings or more...made one appearance in the playoffs, tossing 1.0 inning and suffering the loss in Game 2 of Buffalo's International League semi-final series against Durham.

PREVIOUS HIGHLIGHTS

2003: Notched a 2.51 ERA in 33 bullpen appearances for Cleveland after beginning the year on the disabled list to recover from off-season surgery on his right shoulder...participated in extended Spring Training until making his first rehab outing with Single-A Kinston April 24...appeared once more before joining Double-A Akron, where he tossed 16.0 shutout innings over 8 games...posted a 1.23 ERA (2 ER/14.2 IP) in 8 contests for Triple-A Buffalo prior to having his contract purchased by the Indians June 25...took the hill for the first time July 1 at Kansas City, and after allowing a pair of runs in 9.0 innings over his first 7 games, tossed 13.1 scoreless innings over his next 9 outings July 21-August 13 to lower his ERA to a season-low 0.81...had a career-high 4 strikeouts July 11 vs. the White Sox...was one of 5 Indians pitchers to hold Minnesota scoreless in Cleveland's 14-inning 5-0 triumph August 13...held opponents to a .250 (9-for-36) average with runners in scoring position...stranded 15 of 20 inherited runners to score...surrendered just one home run in his 43.0 innings, a 9th-inning, 2-out solo blast off the bat of Tampa Bay's Aubrey Huff in an 8-3 Indians win August 22.

2002: Was re-signed by Minnesota as a minor league free agent March 6 and appeared in 23 games before a strained right rotator cuff forced him to the disabled list June 9...returned to make 6 rehab outings in August, but had season-ending surgery to repair a torn labrum in his right shoulder on September 12...the procedure was performed by Dr. James Andrews...was ejected for the first time in his career when he hit Cleveland's Ricky Gutierrez with a pitch April 11 at Jacobs Field...received a 3-game suspension from Major League Baseball, which he served April 18-21...tossed a season-high 3.0 innings

May 17 at Yankee Stadium, allowing 4 hits and walking 5 but not allowing a run...held right-handed hitters to a .261 average (18-for-69).

2001: Began the year with Minnesota's Triple-A Edmonton club, appearing in 12 games before being called up by the Twins May 5 for the remainder of the season...went 3-2 with a 3.67 ERA in a career-high 44 games, all in relief...struggled to a 6.15 ERA (18 ER/26.1 IP) in the Metrodome, but recorded a 1.50 ERA (5 ER/30.0 IP) on the road...limited opponents to a .196 average (11-for-56) with men in scoring position...opposing batters hit just .237 overall, including a .198 average (25-for-126) by righthanders...picked up his first big league win May 29 at Anaheim, tossing 1.0 inning of scoreless relief in Minnesota's 6-5 victory...worked a career-high 4.0 innings June 1 at Texas.

2000: Made his major league debut August 26 vs. Detroit after spending the majority of the year with Minnesota's Triple-A Salt Lake affiliate, where he went 4-4 with 8 saves and a 3.44 ERA in 54 games, all but one in relief...fanned 87 batters in 86.1 Pacific Coast League innings, an average of 9.1 punchouts per 9 innings...held the opposition to a .243 average (27-for-111) with runners in scoring position, while lefties hit just .238 (25-for-105) against him...went 2-0 with a 2.45 ERA (4 ER/14.2 IP) in 8 August contests leading up to his promotion to the Twins...appeared in 11 games for Minnesota, giving up 8 runs in 13.2 innings for a 5.27 ERA.

1999: Started the year with Boston's Double-A Trenton club, posting a 7.20 ERA (12 ER/15.0 IP) in 3 starts before being placed on waivers...was picked up by Minnesota and assigned to Double-A New Britain, where he went 7-10 with a 4.34 ERA in 25 games, all but one as a starter...led the team with 24 starts, 145.0 innings pitched and 125 strikeouts...was the only pitcher in the Eastern League to toss 2 shutouts, one a 4-hitter July 9 at New Haven...also tossed a 7.0-inning shutout August 15 vs. Akron...went 2-6 with a 6.08 ERA (41 ER/60.2 IP) over his first 12 starts through June, but settled down to go 5-5 with a 3.09 ERA (29 ER/84.1 IP) in his last 13 games (12 starts).

1998: In his first Double-A season, tied for the Eastern League lead with 29 starts with Trenton, logging 149.1 innings a year after working 165.2.

1997: Ranked 2nd in the Florida State League with 149 strikeouts for Boston's Single-A Sarasota squad...went 8-11 with a 3.80 ERA, leading the team with 25 starts and 165.2 innings pitched.

1996: Signed with the Red Sox as a non-drafted free agent July 24 and assigned to short-season Single-A Lowell...went 3-2 with a 2.36 ERA in 9 games (8 starts)...struck out 57 in 45.2 innings to lead the club with 11.2 punchouts per 9 innings.

CAREER NOTES

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Has topped 100 runs scored and 30 doubles in each of the last 7 seasons...has stolen 30 or more bases 4 times in his big league career and has 7 seasons—including 6 of the last 7—with at least 20 stolen bases...stole 19 in 2004.

RUN, JOHNNY, RUN!: With 31 steals in his 2002 Sox debut and 30 in 2003—Damon is only 3rd player in club history to post at least 2 seasons of 30 steals, the first since 1914...Harry Hooper stole 40 in 1910 and 38 in 1911...Tris Speaker topped 30 steals 5 times in a 6-year span, swiping 35 in 1909, 35 in 1910, 52 in 1912, 46 in 1913 and 42 in 1914...Johnny is the 13th player in club history to record at least 2 consecutive seasons with 20 steals, only the 4th since 1919...the last was Ellis Burks, who turned the trick 3 straight years in 1987 (27 steals), 1988 (25) and 1989 (21)...Tommy Harper topped 20 in 3 straight seasons in 1972 (25), 1973 (an A.L.-best 54) and 1974 (28)...before Harper was Billy Werber in 1934 (40), 1935 (29) and 1936 (23)...Tris Speaker holds the club record with 7 straight 20-steal seasons from 1909-15...Harry Hooper had a 4-year run from 1910-13 and a 5-year run from 1915-19...rounding out the exclusive club are Chick Stahl (1901-02), Patsy Dougherty (1902-03), Freddy Parent (3 straight years, 1903-05), Heinie Wagner (1907-08), Harry Lord (1908-09), Amby McConnell (1908-09) and Larry Gardner (1911-12).

STOP, THIEF!: Ranks 2nd in the A.L. with 153 stolen bases since the start of 2000...only Ichiro Suzuki of the Mariners has more (157 in 11 more attempts).

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Over the last 2 seasons, has averaged 4.13 pitches seen per plate appearance (5,743 pitches seen in 1,392 plate appearances) 2nd in the American League to only Jason Giambi (4.18) among active players.

DON'T EVEN THINK ABOUT IT: Has grounded into only 57 double plays in 5,553 career at-bats (only 17 in 3 seasons with the Red Sox)...ranks 3rd among active players, grounds into a double play in only 5.4 percent of the at-bats in which he hits in a double play situation...trails only Ichiro Suzuki (4.7) and Jose Valentin (5.1) (the hardest major leaguer to double up in his career, averaging one GIDP every 100.7 at-bats).

AND THE PAT TABLER AWARD GOES TO...: Was 7-for-15 (.467) with 2 doubles, a triple and 16 RBI with the bases loaded in 2004 and is a career .408 (49-for-120) hitter with 5 doubles, 4 triples, 4 homers, 122 RBI, 13 walks, a .438 on-base percentage and a .617 slugging percentage with the bases full in his regular season career...owns the best career bases-loaded average among active players with at least 100 at-bats with the bases full...in 3 seasons with the Red Sox, has hit .405 (17-for-42) with a grand slam in bases-loaded situations...these numbers do not include his grand slam off Javier Vazquez that broke open Game 7 of the 2004 ALCS at Yankee Stadium.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed arguably the finest season by any leadoff hitter in baseball, batting .304 with 35 doubles, a career-high 20 home runs, a personal-best 94 RBI and 123 runs scored runs scored...his 76 walks also represented a career best...with 19 steals, led the club, but saw his run of 6 straight 20-stolen base seasons come to an end...appeared in 150 games, 2 behind team leader Manny Ramirez...it was the 5th time in his career Johnny has played in at least 150, the 4th time in the last 5 years...won the Jackie Jensen Spirit Award presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked among A.L. leaders with 123 runs scored (2nd, one behind Vladimir Guerrero), 189 hits (6th), 57 multi-hit games (tied for 7th), 621 at-bats (9th) and 76 walks (tied for 10th)...his .355 (55-for-155) average with runners in scoring position was 3rd-best in the league...hit .330 at Fenway Park, the 9th-best home average in the league...his .317 average at night was 10th in the A.L...hit .319 off righthanders, 9th in the league...struck out once every 9.9 at-bats, tied for the league's 6th-best ratio.

RUN PRODUCER: Damon's 91 RBI out of the lead-off spot were the 2nd-most in Red Sox history behind Nomar Garciaparra, who knocked in 98 from the top spot in the lineup in 1997...only 2 other players have knocked in more runs in a season out of the No. 1 spot in the lineup in baseball history: Anaheim's Darin Erstad knocked in 100 in 2000, and the Yankees' Alfonso Soriano drove in 99 in 2002.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Topped 100 runs and 30 doubles for the 7th year in a row.

WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH...: Ranked 3rd in the A.L. with a .355 average (55-for-155) with runners in scoring position...batted .436 (34-for-78) with runners in scoring position and less than 2 outs...was 7-for-15 (.467) with 2 doubles, a triple and 16 RBI with the bases loaded.

STARTING WITH A BANG: Hit 3 first-inning leadoff home runs, bringing his career total to 15...went deep June 29 at New York off Javier Vazquez, August 17 vs. Toronto off Ted Lilly and September 7 at Oakland off Mark Redman.

HEROICS: Led off the 9th with a walk June 11 vs. Los Angeles and scored the game-winner on David Ortiz's single...singled home Gabe Kapler with 2 outs in the top of the 9th to cap a 2-run rally off Mariano Rivera, giving the Sox a 3-2 win September 17 at New York...had homered in the 3rd inning of the game to give Boston a 1-0 lead.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Went 5-for-5 with a double, 2 RBI and 2 runs April 7 in Baltimore...singled in his first at-bat the next night, giving him 6 hits in 6 at-bats before he grounded to 3rd in the 3rd...hit a solo homer May 7 vs. Kansas City, his first long ball at Fenway Park since July 27, 2003 vs. New York...his 3rd walk May 28 vs. Seattle was the 500th of his major league career...went 3-for-5 with 3 doubles June 6 at Kansas City, his most 2-base hits since a career-best 4 double-night July 18, 2000 vs. the Cubs with Kansas City...his solo homer June 9 accounted for Boston's lone run in its 8-1 loss to San Diego, while his 2-out double in the 7th June 8 scored Gabe Kapler with the game's only

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES: Only one player in the A.L. with as many or more stolen bases was thrown out less...Carlos Beltran was 41-for-45 in stolen base tries, good for a 91 percent success rate...Damon was 30-for-36, an 83 percent success rate.

CAREER NIGHT: Went 5-for-7 with a double, a triple, 3 RBI and 3 runs scored in Boston's 25-8 win June 27 vs. Florida...went 3-for-3 with a single, a double and a triple in the club's 14-run first inning, joining the Red Sox' Gene Stephens (1953) as just the 2nd player in major league history to collect 3 hits in a single inning, the first ever with a single, double and triple...that bat Johnny used to make history was sent to the Baseball Hall of Fame...the 5-hit game was the 3rd of his career, his first as a Red Sox.

HEROICS: Keyed a come-from-behind 9-6 win May 7 at Kansas City, hitting a 2-run homer in a 4-run 7th and an RBI double in a 4-run 8th...finished the day 2-for-4 with 3 RBI, 2 runs scored and a stolen base...down 4-2 to the Rangers in the bottom of the 8th May 13 at Fenway, delivered a run-scoring single to cut the deficit to 4-3, setting the stage for Todd Walker to tie the game with an RBI single and Nomar Garciaparra to win it with an RBI double...hit a solo homer to lead off the bottom of the 6th, snapping a 3-3 tie and giving the Red Sox a 4-3 win June 13 vs. Houston...delivered a one-out RBI single in the top of the 10th to give Boston a 4-3 win and a split of a 4-game series June 19 at Chicago...ripped an RBI single to snap a 2-2 tie in the top of the 11th, leading the Sox to a 4-2 win July 12 at Detroit...finished the night 3-for-4 with a home run, 2 RBI, a stolen base and a walk...after Jason Varitek cracked a game-tying 3-run homer in the bottom of the 7th, Damon followed with a solo shot of his own off Chris Hammond, part of a 6-run inning that lifted the Red Sox to a 6-4 win over the Yankees July 27 at Fenway.

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Saw an average of 4.12 pitches per plate appearance, 4th-most in the American League behind Seattle's Edgar Martinez (4.32), Chicago's Frank Thomas (4.26) and New York's Jason Giambi (4.22)...in all, saw a total of 2,842 pitches in 2003, 2nd to only Giambi in the A.L.

RED SOX

SUMMARY: In his first career major league action, the Rule 5 draft choice appeared in 22 games for the Red Sox, all in relief, finishing with no record and a 4.23 ERA...opened the year on the 15-day D.L., missing the first 11 games of the season with a left shoulder strain that sidelined him for much of Spring Training...was activated April 19 and posted no record with a 4.23 ERA in 22 games before returning to the D.L. July 9 (retroactive to July 5) with a blister on the middle finger of his left hand...was activated September 16, but did not pitch again.

QUICK START: Posted a 1.59 ERA (2 ER/11.1 IP) in his first 7 big league outings April 23-May 12, including perfect innings in his first 2 appearances April 23 at New York and April 28 vs. Tampa Bay...did not allow a run in his first 4 outings (7.0 IP), holding opponents to an .091 average (2-for-22) with one walk and 3 K's...after recording a 1.59 ERA in his first 7 games, registered a 6.06 ERA (11 ER/16.1 IP) in his next 15 outings before going on the D.L. in July.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: Made his major league debut April 23 at Yankee Stadium, working a 1-2-3 9th with one strikeout to close out an 11-2 Red Sox win...induced Gary Sheffield to bounce to third, fanned Hideki Matsui for his first big league K, then ended the game with a Bernie Williams groundout to third.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Worked a season-high 3.0 innings in game 2 of a May 1 doubleheader at Texas, allowing 2 hits and no runs with one strikeout...in all, worked more than 1.0 inning in 8 of his 22 outings...fanned a season-best 3 on 2 occasions, in 2.1 innings May 20 at Tampa Bay and in 1.0 perfect inning June 20 at San Francisco.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Spent most of his 3rd pro season with the Mets' Single-A St. Lucie affiliate, sandwiched around a mid-season promotion to Double-A Binghamton where he pitched 7 games from June 6-July 11...combined to go 4-11 despite a 2.52 ERA in 26 appearances (20 starts)...opened the season with St. Lucie and posted a 2.08 ERA in 11 outings (7 starts) through May 31 to earn a promotion to Binghamton...went 1-3 with a 3.60 ERA in 7 starts for the B-Mets and returned to St. Lucie after the All-Star break...went 3-3 with a 1.93 ERA in 8 outings (6 starts) upon his return...was selected by the Red Sox in the Major League Rule 5 Draft at the Winter Meetings in New Orleans on December 15.

TOUGH LUCK: Went 3-8 despite a 2.01 ERA in 19 games (13 starts) for St. Lucie...did not allow an earned run in 6 outings (31.0 IP) April 27-May 24 yet went 0-2 with a save in that span...dropped 1-0 decisions May 8 at Tampa and May 19 at Dunedin...did not earn his first St. Lucie win until his 12th outing July 16 vs. Vero Beach despite entering with a 2.08 ERA...lost 3 straight outings August 1-16 despite allowing 2 runs or less in all 3.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Struck out 93 and walked 14 in 85.0 innings with St. Lucie, an average of 9.8 strikeouts and 1.5 walks per 9.0 innings...limited Single-A opponents to a .211 batting average, including a .194 (42-for-216) mark by righties and a .250 (22-for-88) mark by lefties...combined at both stops to surrender just 4 homers in 125.0 innings, including just one by a lefty, and has allowed just 7 homers in 262.1 career minor league innings...gave up 5 earned runs in 6.0 innings May 31 at Brevard County to raise his ERA to 2.08 from 1.30...without that outing, his season-ending ERA with St. Lucie would drop to 1.59 from 2.01...struck out at least 10 twice, fanning 11 in 5.2 innings August 16 at Sarasota and 10 in 5.0 innings May 2 vs. Daytona.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Went 5-5 with one save and a 4.35 ERA in 24 games (19 starts) with the Mets' Single-A Columbia affiliate...struck out 103 in 101.1 South Atlantic League innings...went 3-0 with one save and a 1.45 ERA through the end of May and 2-5 with a 6.05 ERA the rest of the way...struck out 10 in 6.0 innings July 3 vs. Augusta.

2001: Made his pro debut with New York's short-season Single-A Brooklyn club, going 1-2 with a 2.00 ERA in 9 games (5 starts)...held opponents to a .200 average and no homers, while striking out 40 in 36.0 innings...collected his first pro win August 10 vs. Vermont, allowing one unearned run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings.

PERSONAL

LEONARD EDWARD (LENNY) DiNARDO...graduated from Santa Fe (FL) High School in 1998 and pitched 3 seasons at Stetson University in Deland, FL.

LENNY IN THE COMMUNITY: Made countless community appearances during his rookie season...participated in the World Series Trophy Tour...performed at the 2005 Hot Stove, Cool Music fund raiser for the Jimmy Fund...went on the 2005 Red Sox Cruise.

MILESTONES TO GO BEFORE I

SLEEP: Enters the 2005 season needing 25 saves for 200 in his major league career...through the end of 2004, 33 pitchers (10 of whom were active at the end of 2004) had reached 200 saves all-time...also, Foulke's 7th relief outing of 2005 will be his 500th career bullpen appearance.

30-30 VISION?: Foulke's 32 saves in 2004, his first season with the Red Sox, were 7th-most in a single season in club history...the Sox record is 46, set by Tom Gordon in 1998...with 30 saves in 2005, Foulke would become the first Red Sox pitcher ever with multiple 30-save campaigns.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES: Foulke has converted 175 of 206 career save opportunities--an 84.9 percent success rate, tied for 8th-best among active major league closers...in the American League, only New York's Mariano Rivera (87.5), Detroit's Troy Percival (86.3) and Detroit's Ugueth Urbina (85.0) have better lifetime save percentages.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Has recorded an ERA of 2.97 or lower and has made at least 65 appearances in each of the last 6 seasons...has at least 32 saves in 4 of the last 5 years, including 2 40-save campaigns...saved 42 for the 2001 White Sox and 43 for the 2003 A's.

TOUGH TO HIT: Has limited opponents to a .214 (519-for-2,428) batting average and 70 home runs lifetime...has not allowed a better-than-.225 average in his 7 full seasons, keeping opponents below .200 in 1999, 2001 and 2003...they hit just .206 in 2004...righthanders have hit .205 (251-for-1,227) with 34 homers all-time...lefties have hit .223 (268-for-1,201) with 36 homers...in 493 career relief outings, Foulke has allowed a .206 (469-for-2,274) mark...overall, opponents have hit .209 (308-for-1,473) with the bases empty, .221 (211-for-955) with men on, .226 (127-for-562) with men in scoring position, .211 (370-for-1,751) in his first inning, .207 (449-for-2,171) from the 7th inning on and .205 (270-for-1,319) in close-and-late situations...first batters faced have hit .205 (95-for-463).

COME EARLY, STAY LATE: Foulke has excelled both early and late in the season...into 2005, he is 4-3 with 25 saves in 28 chances and a 1.85 ERA (20 ER/97.1 IP) in 77 March/April outings and 7-2 with 34 saves in 39 chances and a 1.92 ERA (21 ER/98.1 IP) in 78 September/October regular season outings...is 16-11 with 91 saves in 105 chances and a 2.43 ERA (79 ER/292.1 IP) in 229 career outings after the All-Star break.

STAY RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE: Over the last 3 seasons, Foulke has stranded 50 of 61 inherited runners, allowing only 18 percent of inherited runners to score...in his career, into 2005, Foulke has allowed only 21.6 percent of all inherited runners to score (40 of 185).

RED SOX

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, went 5-3 with 32 saves (5th most in the A.L.) and a 2.17 ERA in 72 appearances...in 83.0 innings, allowed only 63 hits and a .206 average...walked only 15 and fanned 79...the Red Sox went 59-13 in games in which he appeared and even won 5 of the 7 games in which he suffered a blown save (over the last 2 seasons, his clubs are 9-3 when he blows a save)...set down 58 of 72 first batters faced (81 percent), and stranded 13 of 17 inherited runners.

EARNING HIS KEEP:

Matched his career high in appearances for the 4th time in the last 5 years, appearing in 72 games...joined Mike Timlin (76 appearances) and Alan Embree (71) to give the Red Sox their first-ever trio of pitchers with 70 appearances in a season.

STRETCHING IT OUT: Had 7 saves of more than 1.0 inning, 5 of the 4-out variety, a 5-out save and one 2.0 inning save: August 16 vs. Toronto.

GREAT START:

Was 1-0 with 10 saves and a 0.36 ERA (1 ER/25.1 IP) in 22 appearances through May 28 before his first blown save May 30, when Seattle's Raul Ibanez hit a 3-run homer to give the Mariners a 7-5 lead at Fenway...the Sox tied it with 2 in the bottom of the inning and won it on David McCarty's walk-off 2-run homer in the 12th.

AT HOME ON THE ROAD: Was 1-0 with 17 saves in 19 chances and a 1.18 ERA (5 ER/38.0 IP) in 33 road appearances and 4-3 with 15 saves in 20 chances and a 3.00 ERA (15 ER/45.0 IP) at Fenway Park.

NICE HANDS: Did not commit an error for the 5th straight season...begins 2005 with a 328-game errorless run dating to his last miscue, July 18, 1999 with the White Sox at Milwaukee.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Pitched at least 1.0 inning in 70 of 72 appearances, including each of his first 60 outings before throwing 0.2 innings September 5 vs. Texas and 0.1 inning September 8 at Oakland...collected his 150th career save May 11 vs. Cleveland, while his 32nd and final save of this season was No. 175 of his career...struck out 3 batters in consecutive outings July 19-20 at Seattle...before July 19 at Seattle, when he suffered a blown save by allowing 2 home runs, had allowed only 2 homers in 40 games (48.0 IP)...had allowed 2 homers in a relief appearance only twice in his career in the regular season, last April 28, 1999 with Chicago vs. Tampa Bay...tossed a season-high 2.0 innings 7 times...recorded a save in 7 straight appearances August 21-September 3, part of a run in which he converted 16 straight save chances July 20-September 17...had at least one punchout in 12 straight outings August 10-September 3 (16 K's)...did not walk a batter over his final 16 appearances starting August 26 (15.2 IP)...made his 500th career appearance September 28 at Tampa Bay.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Threw 1,265 pitches, an average of 15.2 per inning...pitched 3 days in a row 4 times: April 15-17, April 19-21, August 16-18 and September 20-22...his ERA was below 2.00 all year until September 20, when he began a 3-appearance stretch in which he surrendered 4 runs in 3.0 innings, including 2 blown saves...earned a save against 14 clubs...was 6-for-6 in save chances vs. Toronto and 4-for-4 vs. Tampa Bay...was 4-1 with 15 saves and a 1.76 ERA (8 ER/41.0 IP) against A.L. East foes.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Had a spectacular postseason and was named World Series MVP by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America...went 1-0 with 3 saves and a 0.64 ERA (1 ER/ 14.0 IP), pitching in 11 of Boston's 14 contests, finishing 8...opponents hit just .120 (6-for-50)...earned one save in 2 scoreless appearances in the ALDS vs. Anaheim, working 3.0 innings, allowing 2 hits and an intentional walk, while striking out 5...got the final 4 outs to save Boston's 8-3 win in Game 2 at Angel Stadium...with the Sox clinging to a 4-3 lead in the 8th, came on to strike out Troy Glaus with the tying man at first...worked a 1-2-3 bottom of the 9th after the Sox had broken it open with 4 in the top of the inning...fanned 3 in 1.2 scoreless innings in Game 3 at Fenway...pitching in a 6-6 game, retired the only 2 batters he faced in the 8th with the go-ahead run at first...after the Angels loaded the bases with one out in the 9th, Foulke punched out Garret Anderson and Troy Glaus to keep the game tied...the Sox won it in the 10th on David Ortiz's walk-off, series-ending home run...made 5 appearances and picked up a save in the ALCS vs. the Yankees, working 6.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball...walked 6 and fanned 6...fanned 3 in 2.2 no-hit, no-run innings in the do-or-die Game 4 at Fenway...struck out 2 in a scoreless 9th to save a 4-2 win in Game 6...closed out all 4 games of the World Series sweep vs. St. Louis, earning a Game 1 win and a Game 4 save...allowed a run on 4 hits and a walk with 8 K's in 5.0 innings...allowed an inherited runner to score, sustaining a blown save but then earning the win with 1.2 scoreless innings in Game 1, an 11-9 Sox triumph...fanned 2 and retired all 4 men he faced to wrap up a 6-2 win in Game 2...allowed a Larry Walker solo homer but nothing else in working the 9th in Boston's 4-1 Game 3 victory...allowed a leadoff single by Albert Pujols, then set down 3 in a row to seal the Red Sox' first World Championship in 86 years in Game 4 at Busch Stadium...Scott Rolen flew out to right, and Jim Edmonds struck out before Edgar Renteria grounded back to the pitcher...Foulke fired to Doug Mientkiewicz to give the Red Sox their 6th World Championship.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his only season in Oakland, was named to the A.L. All-Star team for the first time and earned A.L. Fireman of the Year honors after posting a 9-1 record with a league-high 43 saves and a 2.08 ERA in 72 appearances for the A.L. West champions...tied for 7th in A.L. Cy Young Award voting, the only relief pitcher in the league to receive votes...his 9 wins, 2.08 ERA and .184 opponents average were all career bests, while his 72 appearances matched his personal high for the 3rd time in 4 years...finished strong, posting a 2-0 record, 19 saves in 20 chances and a 1.24 ERA (5 ER/36.1 IP) in 30 games after the All-Star break, including a 1.21 ERA (4 ER/29.2 IP) in August and September.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: In addition to leading the league in saves, led the A.L. and tied Eric Gagne of the Dodgers and Billy Wagner of the Astros for the M.L. lead with 67 games finished, tied for the league lead with 9 relief wins, finished 2nd in save percentage (43-for-48, 89.6) and average allowed by a reliever (.184), was 3rd in relief innings pitched (86.2, most by any major league closer) and hits allowed per 9 innings by a reliever (5.92),

February 1, 2005

SIGNED BY: Luis Rosa (Cubs)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2005

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Split the season between Tampa Bay and Triple-A Durham, going 0-5 with a 6.97 ERA in 11 big league appearances (8 starts)...lost his first 3 starts with the Devil Rays and was 0-4 with a 6.69 ERA (27 ER/36.1 IP) in 8 games (7 starts) when he was optioned to Durham May 19...appeared in only 3 more games (one start) for the Rays the rest of the way...went 4-2 with one save and a 3.97 ERA (25 ER/56.2 IP) in 18 games (8 starts) for Durham.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had success working out of the pen for the Bulls, posting a 1.17 ERA (2 ER/15.1 IP) in 10 outings...with Durham, boasted a 1.13 ERA (1 ER/8.0 IP) and an .077 (2-for-26) batting average against in 5 August contests...won 3 straight starts July 21-31...notched his lone save with 2.0 perfect innings August 20 vs. Toledo...with Tampa Bay, tossed 6.0 shutout innings of 5-hit ball with a season-high 6 strikeouts May 1 vs. Oakland.

SUMMARY: Spent the majority of the season with Tampa Bay and led the Devil Rays with 16 quality starts en route to going 6-11 with a 3.91 ERA in 25 starts...set a career-high with 156.1 innings and was only 5.2 innings shy of qualifying among the league ERA leaders...with a 3.91 ERA, would have tied Roger Clemens for 15th in the A.L...his .228 batting average against would have ranked 4th in the A.L. behind only Pedro Martinez (.215), Barry Zito (.219) and Tim Hudson (.223)...held righties to a .220 average, and limited opponents to a .209 average with runners in scoring position, placing him 5th in the A.L. in both categories...his 3.08 ERA on the road also ranked 5th in the league...received only 3.91 runs of support per start, 6th-lowest in the A.L. and lowest in the A.L. East...threw the pitch that shattered the Cubs' Sammy Sosa's bat in the first inning of a June 3 game at Wrigley Field, leading to the "corked bat" incident.

A CLOSER LOOK: Started the season in Durham, where he went 1-0 with the 8th-best ERA in the International League (2.53) in 7 games (6 starts)...called up to Tampa Bay May 17, he made his Rays debut that night in Baltimore, his first big league appearance since July 24, 1998 with the Cubs...earned the win with 6.0 innings of 2-hit ball May 23 at Anaheim, his first major league victory since June 28, 1998 with the Cubs at Kansas City...went 0-6 in his final 7 starts, as the Rays scored only 14 runs in the 7 starts...August 31 at Oakland, became the first pitcher ever to be ejected from a complete-game when he was ejected from the dugout in the top of the 9th inning by first base umpire Joe Brinkman.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: In his lone season in the Rangers organization, led Triple-A Oklahoma City with 14 saves and was 2nd on the staff with 46 appearances...began the season in the starting rotation, but was moved to the bullpen in mid May...as a reliever, posted a 2.20 ERA (16 ER/65.1 IP) in 41 outings...did not allow a run in his final 13 games (13.2 IP), including his last 11 regular season contests (11.2 IP)...earned the win April 22 at Nashville, his first pro win since June 28, 1998 with the Cubs at Kansas City.

2001: Released by the Cubs March 13 and did not pitch in the regular season...bothered by knee problems for much of the year...fanned 46 in 47.0 innings for Zulia in the Venezuelan Winter League.

2000: Missed the first half of the season while recovering from 1999 right elbow surgery...rehabbed with the Cubs' Rookie-level team in Mesa, AZ, going 0-1 with a 2.70 ERA (3 ER/10.0 IP) in 4 starts...was transferred to Single-A Lansing, but strained his left side in a start August 7 at West Michigan, an injury that sidelined him for the remainder of the season.

1999: Opened the season on the D.L. while rehabbing from 1998 elbow surgery...made a total of 8 rehab starts for Single-A Daytona, Double-A West Tennessee and Triple-A Iowa, but continued to experience discomfort...had reconstructive surgery to repair the ulnar collateral ligament July 2 and missed the rest of the year.

1998: Went 4-0 in June and entered July tied with Kerry Wood for the Cubs team lead with 7 wins before spraining his right elbow July 24...was placed on the 15-day D.L. the next day and had surgery August 21 to repair the ulnar collateral ligament and transpose the ulnar nerve in his right elbow...fanned a career-high 10 batters April 25 at Los Angeles...tossed his 2nd career shutout May 9 vs. San Francisco.

1997: In his first big league season, led the Cubs with 11 wins...was the first Cubs rookie to lead the team in wins in his first full season since Ken Holtzman in 1966...was promoted to Chicago from Triple-A Iowa May 27 and won his major league debut in a start that evening at Pittsburgh...was the first Venezuelan-born pitcher to ever start for the Cubs...won 5 straight starts June 23-July 16...twirled a 4-hit shutout June 23 at St. Louis.

1996: Spent the season with Double-A Orlando and pitched in the Southern League All-Star Game...was named the Topps Southern League Player of the Month for May after going 5-0 with a 0.73 ERA...was on the D.L. from July 6-August 10 with a right elbow strain.

1995: Earned a promotion to Single-A Daytona from Single-A Rockford in June, and went 5-1 with a 1.22 ERA (6 ER/44.1 IP) in 19 Florida State League games (2 starts).

1994: Went a combined 9-5 with one shutout and a 3.53 ERA in 31 games (14 starts) with Single-A Rockford and Single-A Daytona.

1993: Playing for Rookie-level Huntington of the Appalachian League, went 3-9 with one complete game and a 6.25 ERA in 12 starts.

1992: In his first professional season, led the Arizona Rookie League with 10 hit batsmen at Mesa...went 0-5 with a 7.80 ERA in 14 games (7 starts).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

HE'S DONE IT ALL: Halama has split time nearly evenly as a starter and reliever in his 6-plus years in the major leagues, making 114 starts and 91 relief appearances, including 50 bullpen outings of 2.0 innings or more...is 52-43 with a 5.06 ERA as a starter and 10-8 with a 2.76 ERA out of the pen.

FIRST THINGS FIRST: Has retired 74 percent of first batters faced when coming on in relief...into 2005, first batters faced have hit only .193 (16-for-83) with 6 walks against him.

DOUBLE UP: Induces an average of 1.06 double-play groundouts per 9 innings, 8th-most among all major league pitchers with at least 700.0 innings since 1999.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Pitching for his 3rd team in 3 years, went 7-6 with a 4.70 ERA in 34 games (14 starts) for the Devil Rays in his 6th full major league campaign...worked 118.2 innings, his highest total since 2000 when he worked 166.2 innings as a full-time starter for Seattle...went 5-5 with a 6.03 ERA (50 ER/74.2 IP) as a starter, but thrived in a relief role, posting a 2-1 record and a 2.45 ERA (12 ER/44.0 IP)...his first 14 appearances were out of the bullpen prior to joining the Rays rotation June 18...went on to make 12 starts in a row through August 21...appeared in 6 games out of the bullpen August 28-September 22 before closing out the year with a pair of starts...had 5 quality starts, all of which came against American League East foes, including 2 against the Red Sox.

I'M A RELIEVER: Held opponents to a .214 average (34-for-159) in 20 relief appearances...tossed at least 40.0 innings of relief for the 3rd straight year, working 44.0 innings from the pen, his highest total since 2002 (50.2 innings)...10 of his 20 relief outings were 2.0 innings or more, including 7 games of 3.0 or more innings...allowed 6 runs in 34.1 innings in his 10 outings of 2.0 or more innings, for a 1.57 ERA...surrendered 6 runs in 9.2 innings in his other 10 games for a 5.59 ERA...went 5.1 innings on 2 occasions, his longest relief outings of the year...gave up 3 hits in 5.1 scoreless innings in game 2 of a doubleheader April 29 at Boston, a 7-3 Red Sox win...surrendered 3 runs on 3 hits in 5.1 innings to take the loss May 12 vs. Texas, a 9-8 Rangers victory.

NO FEARING THE MONSTER: Took the hill 3 times at Fenway Park, going 1-0 with a 3.00 ERA (4 ER/12.0 IP)...after appearing in both ends of a doubleheader April 29, returned to Boston August 9 and handed Curt Schilling his lone Fenway loss of 2004 by tossing 6.0 innings of 3-run ball in an 8-3 Tampa Bay win.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Worked 2.0 shutout innings March 31 vs. the Yankees in the Tokyo Dome, closing out a 12-1 Devil Rays setback and the 2-game stint with New York in Japan...in his first start of the season June 18 at Arizona, outdueled Randy Johnson, yielding 2 runs in 5.0 innings en route to a 6-2 triumph...in a 2-0 victory July 16 vs. Baltimore, allowed just 3 hits in 8.0 shutout innings, his longest start of the year.

SUMMARY: Made 13 starts and 22 relief appearances for the A.L. West champion Oakland Athletics, going 3-5 with a 4.22 ERA in 35 games...was 3-5 with a 4.84 ERA (36 ER/67.0 IP) as a starter, while posting no record and a 3.24 ERA (15 ER/41.2 IP) in relief...began the year in the starting rotation, taking the hill 9 times before being replaced in the rotation by Aaron Harang...returned to the rotation for 3 straight starts in place of the injured Mark Mulder August 23-September 4, going 1-1 with a 6.00 ERA (10 ER/ 15.0 IP)...11 of his 22 relief outings were 2.0 innings or more, including his first 4 June 3-14...did not pitch in Oakland's Division Series loss to the Red Sox.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Limited left-handed hitters to a .214 average (24-for-112), while righthanders hit .287 (93-for-324)...as a reliever, retired 18 of 21 first batters faced (86 percent) and stranded 18 of 20 inherited runners...posted a 1.98 ERA (3 ER/13.2 IP) in 6 June relief appearances, his first 6 outings after leaving the starting rotation...in 5 interleague games, notched a 2.13 ERA (3 ER/ 12.2 IP) and held opponents to a .196 batting average (9-for-46)...twice worked a season-high 4.0 innings in relief, August 2 vs. the Yankees and August 15 vs. Toronto.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Made the 100th start of his career September 4 at Baltimore, taking the loss after allowing 6 runs in 4.1 innings in his final start of the season...picked up the 50th win of his career in his first start April 5 vs. Anaheim, giving up just one unearned run in 5.2 innings in Oakland's 4-2 win...fanned the White Sox' Willie Harris for his 400th career strikeout May 8 in Oakland.

PREVIOUS HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Went 6-5 with a career-best 3.56 ERA in his 4th and final season with the Mariners...went 2-4 with a 2.31 ERA (13 ER/50.2 IP) in 21 games as a reliever and 4-1 with a 4.83 ERA (27 ER/50.1 IP) in 10 starts...after making 5 spot starts over the seasons first 4 months, made 5 straight starts July 25-August 16...following his August 16 start vs. the Yankees, was optioned to Triple-A Tacoma, where he went 0-1 with a 6.14 ERA (10 ER/14.2 IP) in a pair of starts...was recalled September 1 and appeared in relief in 4 games, going 1-1 with a 2.89 ERA (3 ER/9.1 IP)...retired 18 of 20 first batters faced (90 percent) and allowed just one of 8 inherited runners to score...in 6 games (2 starts) in May, went 1-1 with a 0.47 ERA (1 ER/19.1 IP)...had a 1.23 ERA (1 ER/7.1 IP) and held the opposition to a .192 average (5-for-26) in 4 interleague appearances...posted a 6.23 ERA (21 ER/30.1 IP) during the day and a 2.42 ERA (19 ER/70.2 IP) at night...6 of his 9 home runs given up were solo shots.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Split the season between Toronto and Triple-A Syracuse, working a combined 58.2 innings in 52 games...started the year with the big league club, and went 0-1 with a 6.04 ERA (15 ER/22.1 IP) in 24 games (2 starts) before getting designated for assignment June 22...struggled to a 7.94 ERA (5 ER/5.2 IP) in 8 April games, and rebounded with a 1.17 ERA (1 ER/7.2 IP) in 11 May contests, including 7 straight scoreless appearances (5.2 innings) May 14-30...worked a season-high 3.2 innings June 1 at Seattle, and made 4 more appearances before being optioned to Syracuse for the remainder of the season...in his first outing June 27 at Indianapolis, struck out 2 in a perfect 9th to earn his first save since September 11, 2002 with Toronto at Cleveland...saved 4 games in all, and went 3-2 with a 5.20 ERA in 28 games, including 5 straight scoreless outings (7.1 innings) August 25-September 5 to close out the year.

PREVIOUS HIGHLIGHTS

2003: Went 3-3 with a 3.17 ERA and limited the opposition to a .217 batting average in 40 games out of the bullpen for the Blue Jays after starting the year and spending May and June at Triple-A Syracuse...tossed 10.1 scoreless innings in 4 relief appearances for Syracuse before getting promoted to Toronto April 19...posted a 10.80 ERA (6 ER/5.0 IP) in 5 games and returned to Syracuse, where he went 4-0 with a 3.06 ERA (12 ER/35.1 IP) in 20 games until making the jump again to Toronto on June 30...worked 12.0 shutout innings over his first 9 appearances June 30-July 18, including a career-high 4.2 innings July 11 vs. the Yankees when he retired 14 of 16 batters faced...went 3-0 with a 0.71 ERA (1 ER/12.2 IP) in 8 September contests, including a stretch of 7 straight scoreless appearances (9.1 innings) September 3-21...without the August 13 outing at Seattle in which he allowed 6 runs in 1.1 innings outing, would have finished the year with a 2.22 ERA (13 ER/52.2 IP).

2002: Spent the majority of the year in the Padres organization, appearing in a combined 46 games with Triple-A Portland and the parent club before being claimed off waivers by the Blue Jays on August 30...opened the campaign with Portland, and in 31 games went 7-2 with a 3.03 ERA, while limiting opponents to a .210 average, including a .174 mark by lefties (12-for-69)...went 6-0 with a 2.53 ERA (18 ER/64.0 IP) in 12 starts...went 1-2 with a 4.50 ERA (11 ER/22.0 IP) in 19 relief appearances, including a string of 9 games April 19-May 14 with only one unearned run and 4 hits allowed in 15.1 innings...earned a promotion to San Diego following his July 21 outing vs. Oklahoma, and made his major league debut July 25 at Arizona, giving up 3 runs on 2 hits and 2 walks in 0.2 inning...after allowing 6 runs over 3.1 innings in his first 2 games, surrendered 6 earned runs over 15.1 innings (3.52 ERA) in his last 13 games with the Padres...in the Toronto bullpen, posted no record and a 1.69 ERA (1 ER/5.1 IP) in 10 appearances, including his first big league save September 11 at Cleveland.

2001: In his final season in the Phillies chain, appeared in 26 games (19 starts) for Double-A Reading and enjoyed 2 stints with Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, where he went 1-1 with a 3.60 ERA (6 ER/15.0 IP) in 6 games...began the year in the Reading rotation, going 3-6 with a 4.11 ERA (39 ER/85.1 IP) and working at least 6.0 innings in 10 of 14 starts before his promotion to Scranton/Wilkes-Barre...worked 9.2 innings over 5 relief appearances and was re-assigned to Reading, where he appeared in 12 games (5 starts)...returned to Scranton September 3 and made his first Triple-A start, earning the win at Ottawa by limiting the Lynx to 2 runs (one earned) on 5 hits in 5.1 innings.

2000: Spent his 2nd consecutive season with Philadelphia's Double-A Reading club, going 9-2 with a save and a 3.63 ERA in 27 games...with just 25 walks in 119.0 innings, ranked 3rd in the Eastern League for fewest walks per 9 innings pitched (1.70)...opened the season in the bullpen, making 8 appearances and notching a 2.77 ERA (4 ER/13.0 IP) before being sent to Single-A Clearwater, where he went 1-0 with a 0.64 ERA (1 ER/14.0 IP) in a pair of starts, including 8.0 innings of shutout baseball May 17 vs. Charlotte...returned to Reading and went 9-2 with a 3.74 ERA (44 ER/106.0 IP) in 17 starts, including wins in each of his first 3 outings and in 6 of his first 9...made 10 quality starts...did not walk a batter and struck out 17 over his final 5 starts August 12-September 3, going 2-0 with a 2.59 ERA (7 ER/24.1 IP)...held opponents to a .202 batting average with runners in scoring position between Reading and Clearwater.

1999: Ranked 2nd in the Eastern League with 57 appearances for Double-A Reading...racked up 8 saves, including 4 in an 8-game span June 12-July 1 and 3 in 3 appearances September 1-4...of his 8 saves, 4 came in outings of 2.0 innings or more...held lefties to a .200 average (24-for-120), while righthanders hit .315 (75-for-238)...made 2 starts for Reading in August, both coming in the back end of doubleheaders...allowed 7 runs in a combined 7.0 innings in the spot starts...following the season, played for the Peoria Javelinas of the Arizona Fall League.

1998: Appeared in 41 games (8 starts) for Single-A Clearwater, going 3-3 with 3 saves and a 4.01 ERA in his 2nd straight Florida State League campaign.

1997: Enjoyed time at the high-A level for the first time in his career, going 5-10 despite a 3.90 ERA in 22 games (16 starts) for Clearwater...was hampered by an inflamed left elbow, which forced him to the disabled list May 28-July 3.

1996: Led Single-A Piedmont with 11 wins and tied for the South Atlantic League lead with 28 starts...fanned a career-best 156 in 168.0 innings, an average of 8.36 strikeouts per 9 innings.

1995: Was selected by the Phillies in the 12th round of the First-Year Player Draft and assigned to Rookie-level Martinsville, where he went 4-2 with a 5.14 ERA in 13 starts.

CAREER NOTES

KOREAN CONNECTION: Kim is one of only 8 natives of South Korea to play in the major leagues...he is, however, the 4th of those 8 to pitch for the Red Sox...Jin Ho Cho appeared in 13 games for Boston in 1998 and 1999...Sun-Woo Kim made 35 appearances in 2001-02...Sang-Hoon Lee got into 9 games in 2000.

STARTING AND RELIEVING: In his career, is 27-21 with 86 saves in 108 chances and a 3.18 ERA (118 ER/333.0 IP) in 283 relief appearances and 4-7 with a 4.08 ERA (39 ER/86.0 IP) in 16 starts...has held opponents to a .197 (236-for-1200) batting average and 27 homers out of the bullpen and a .241 (79-for-328) mark with 12 homers as a starter.

THE RIGHT STUFF: Has limited right-handed hitters to a .190 (156-for-822) average and 17 homers in his big league career...lefties have managed to do only slightly better, batting .225 (159-for-706) with 22 long balls.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Split an injury-plagued season between Boston and Triple-A Pawtucket, making only 7 appearances (3 starts) for the Red Sox...finished 2-1 with a 6.23 ERA for Boston and 2-6 with a 5.34 ERA in 22 games (19 starts) for the PawSox...began the year on the 15-day D.L. with a right shoulder strain...was activated April 29 after missing 19 games and made 3 starts, going 1-1 with a 6.17 ERA (8 ER/11.2 IP)...was optioned to Pawtucket May 11 and was recalled September 21 and appeared in 4 games the rest of the way.

WITH THE RED SOX: After making a rehab start with Single-A Sarasota and a pair with Pawtucket, Kim won his 2004 debut April 29 vs. Tampa Bay, working 5.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball...walked one and fanned 2...his next 2 starts came against the Indians...May 5 at Jacobs Field, did not figure in the decision, allowing 5 runs (4 earned) on 6 hits in 3.1 innings...walked one and struck out 2...5 days later at Fenway, took the loss, tagged for 6 runs (4 earned) on 5 hits and 3 walks in 3.1 innings...did not record a strikeout...made 4 relief appearances in September/October, allowing 2 runs on 3 hits and a walk in 1.0 inning September 23 vs. Baltimore and 2 runs on 2 hits and a walk September 29 at Tampa Bay before throwing shutout ball his last 2 times out...in game 2 of an October 2 doubleheader at Baltimore, fanned one in 2.1 perfect innings to earn the win in relief, his first major league win since his April 29 debut...the following day, on the final day of the regular season, pitched a 1-2-3 inning against the Orioles...was not on the Red Sox' post-season roster.

AT PAWTUCKET: Optioned on May 11, Kim made 2 starts for the PawSox before missing his May 22 start vs. Charlotte with a sore back...traveled to his native South Korea for 18 days where he received treatment for a muscle imbalance that was causing the back woes...placed on the PawSox D.L. June 9, he was activated June 24 and spent the next 2 months in Pawtucket's rotation, initially working approximately 2.0 innings every 3rd day before stretching out to 4.0 or 5.0 innings after the All-Star break...earned his first victory with the PawSox in his 15th start August 7 at Ottawa, allowing a run on 5 hits in 5.0 innings...next won in his final 2004 start, August 27 at Scranton, working 5.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball...walked one and punched out 6...made 3 relief appearances during the final week of the season, closing out the Triple-A campaign with 2 scoreless outings of one inning each...was 0-1 with an 11.57 ERA (3 ER/2.1 IP) out of the pen for the PawSox and 2-5 with a 5.09 ERA (33 ER/58.1 IP) in 19 starts.

SUMMARY: Acquired from Arizona in a May 29 deal for Shea Hillenbrand, Kim went 9-10 with 16 saves and a 3.31 ERA in 56 games (12 starts) for the Red Sox and Diamondbacks...he posted career highs with 9 wins and 122.1 innings pitched...as a Red Sox, went 8-5 with 16 saves and a 3.18 ERA in 49 appearances, all but 5 in relief...his 16 saves in 19 chances tied for 10th in the A.L. despite the fact he served as the Sox' closer for only the season's final 3 months...combined to make 12 starts between Arizona and Boston after entering 2003 with just one major league start...made his final start in Boston's 25-8 win vs. Florida June 27 before making his final 41 appearances in relief.

FOR STARTERS: Began the season in Arizona, where he went 1-5 with a 3.56 ERA in 7 starts...was a victim of poor run support, as the Diamondbacks managed a total of 18 runs in his 7 starts, an average of 2.57 runs per start...his losses included a 2-1 setback at Colorado in his April 4 season debut and a 1-0 defeat April 24 at Montreal...missed nearly a month with a bruised right ankle, on the 15-day D.L. from April 30-May 26...returned to allow just one run in 7.0 innings in a no-decision May 27 at San Francisco...was dealt to Boston 2 days later.

CASE CLOSED: Solidified the Red Sox bullpen by becoming the club's closer July 1, going 6-4 with 16 saves and a 2.28 ERA (12 ER/47.1 IP) in 42 relief appearances...walked 10 and fanned 50 from the pen...did not allow an earned run in 34 of the 42 outings, including no earned runs in his first 11 appearances as the closer...allowed just 2 homers over his final 47.1 innings beginning July 1, just one in a save situation, which he converted nonetheless...only one of his 3 blown saves resulted in a Red Sox loss (8-7, August 20 vs. Oakland).

FINISHING KICK: Did not allow an earned run over his final 13 appearances of the season...went 3-1 with 5 saves and a 0.00 ERA in 12 September outings (13.0 IP)...his only setback came September 10 at Baltimore, when he was touched for 4 unearned runs in Boston's 13-10 loss...pitched in 3 straight games September 21-23, going 1-0 with 2 saves...displayed excellent control down the stretch, striking out 18 batters and walking just one over his last 16 outings (17.0 innings) beginning August 23.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: In his finest season, earned a trip to the All-Star Game and set a Diamondbacks single-season saves record, finishing 8-3 with 36 saves and a career-best 2.04 ERA in 72 appearances...did not allow a run in 61 of his 72 outings...converted his first 10 save opportunities, stranding all 9 inherited runners...did not allow a run in his first 7 appearances (6.2 IP), and was touched for only one run in 19.0 innings for a 0.47 ERA through May 8...recorded at least one strikeout in each of his first 20 appearances, piling up 42 K's in his first 26.0 innings (14.5 K's per 9 innings)...included in that stretch was a performance in Philadelphia on May 11, when he became the 33rd big leaguer to strikeout the side on 9 pitches...fanned Scott Rolen, Mike Lieberthal and Pat Burrell...although his strikeout numbers tailed off in the 2nd half, he still finished with 92 K's in 84.0 innings for a 9.9 K's per 9 innings ratio...after allowing 5 earned runs in a 10.1-inning stretch May 11-26, went on another roll, tossing 15.0 shutout innings over 12 outings May 29-June 21, allowing only 6 hits while fanning 15 and converting all 7 save chances in that span...allowed 7 earned runs over 2 appearances in Houston June 25 and 27...entered the game on the 25th with the score tied and a man aboard in the 8th, but was tagged for a pair of 2-run homers...just 36 hours later, he was called upon with Arizona clinging to a 4-3 lead in the 9th and after retiring the first man, 3 of the next 4 reached before Gregg Zaun ended the affair with a pinch-hit grand slam...without those 2 outings, would have finished the year with a 1.30 ERA...recovered to record 7 straight saves in his next 8 appearances...included in that stretch were saves in his first 4 appearances after the All-Star break...the first 3 came on consecutive days after the break in Los Angeles July 11-13...worked an inning in each contest allowing only one hit to earn N.L. Player of the Week honors...he followed on July 16 by recording the final 2 outs in Arizona's 5-3 win in San Francisco...set the club record with his 31st save August 20 vs. Cincinnati...3 days later at Bank One Ballpark, fanned Sammy Sosa with 2 men aboard to protect a 3-2 win over Kerry Wood...closed 2002 by allowing only 3 earned runs in his last 25.2 innings for a 1.05 ERA in 22 outings, including no earned runs in his last 8 outings (8.2 IP)...he appeared in the last 3 games of the season, retiring all 8 Rockies he faced and earning a pair of saves...Kim's only work in the ALDS vs. St. Louis came in the series finale...entered in the 8th inning with Arizona trailing 4-3 and allowed 2 runs on 2 hits and 3 walks.

2001: Opened the year in a set-up role, but took over as closer just 3 weeks into the season when Matt Mantei went down with an elbow injury that eventually required "Tommy John" surgery...Kim responded with 19 saves in 23 opportunities and a 2.44 ERA for the World Series champs while going through stretches in the year where he was virtually unhittable...finished with 113 strikeouts in 98.0 innings, an average of 10.4 K's per 9 innings...led all N.L. relievers by limiting opponents to a .173 average, holding right-handed hitters to a .151 mark (27-for-179) and lefties to a .199 average (31-for-156)...he also shattered Arizona's single-season appearance record, pitching in 78 games...Kim recorded 13.0 consecutive shutout innings May 3-22, allowing only 3 hits while fanning 18...fanned 7 Cubs in 3.0 innings May 18 at Wrigley Field...later worked 13.2 consecutive shutout innings July 1-27, featuring a streak of 36 batters faced without allowing a hit until San Diego's Ben Davis doubled on July 25...the hitless streak featured 30 at-bats and 6 walks with 22 strikeouts...overall in 11 July appearances, Kim had a 1.23 ERA, allowing 2 earned runs and fanning 24 in 14.2 innings while holding the opposition to an .087 (4-for-46) average...from June 9-July 29, he retired the first man he faced in 21 consecutive appearances...posted a 1.08 ERA in 14 August appearances, allowing only 2 earned runs in 16.2 innings...of the 8 earned runs he was charged with in September, 6 were the direct result of 5 homers...despite the long ball troubles, B.K. proved he was ready to pitch in a pennant race, facing the Dodgers 4 times in a 9-day stretch in late-September and allowing only 2 hits in 7.0 shutout innings...he also delivered his first major league hit, an 8th-inning, 2-run single off Jeff Fassero August 17 vs. Chicago...had an eventful post-season en route to becoming the first Korean to ever appear in a World Series...he earned a save in Game 3 of the NLDS at St. Louis, coaxing a double play grounder from pinch hitter Mark McGwire to seal a 5-3 win...Kim also earned saves in Games 4 and 5 of the NLCS against the Braves, capped by the rescue in the National League title clincher...he saved the final game of the NLCS in relief of Randy Johnson with Arizona holding a 3-2 lead, retiring 6 of the 7 men he faced, including Julio Franco on a fly ball to center to seal the pennant...came within an out of recording saves on consecutive nights during the World Series in Yankee Stadium only to fall victim to 2-run homers in each game that eventually led to a pair of Diamondbacks losses...had not pitched in 10 days when he took the mound in Game 4 of the Fall Classic on Halloween night at Yankee Stadium...entering in the 8th inning with Arizona leading 3-1, he struck out the side then coaxed a ground out by Derek Jeter to open the 9th before allowing a single to Paul O'Neill...Kim fanned Bernie Williams for the 2nd out in the 9th, but Tino Martinez connected for a game-tying home run that sent the game into extra innings...Jeter untied it in the 10th with a 2-out homer just after the clock struck midnight for the first-ever big league game in November...was again summoned from the pen in the 9th inning of Game 5 with the D-Backs leading 2-0...Kim gave up a leadoff double to Jorge Posada, then retired the next 2 hitters before Scott Brosius tied the game with a homer to left.

2000: In his first full major league season, finished 6-6 with 14 saves and a 4.46 ERA in 61 games (one start)...was 2-3 with 14 saves in 16 opportunities and a 1.82 ERA in his first 33 appearances and 4-3 with no saves in 4 opportunities with a 7.84 ERA in 28 games (one start) the rest of the way...overall, held opponents to a .200 average and logged 111 strikeouts in 70.2 innings, 14.1 K's per 9 innings...twice fanned 5 in a relief outing, April 11 at San Diego and June 11 vs. Anaheim...was optioned to Tucson July 30 after giving up 9 earned runs in 7.1 innings in late-July...made 2 starts for the Sidewinders in an attempt to regain his pre-All Star break form, pitching 8.1 innings and giving up just one hit while fanning 13, then was recalled by the Diamondbacks August 10...he allowed just one hit in his first 5 appearances (7.2 IP) after returning from Tucson, striking out 10...made his lone major league start September 26 at Colorado, allowing 4 earned runs in 2.1 innings in a no-decision.

1999: Signed with Arizona February 19 and opened the year with Double-A El Paso, where he went 2-0 with a 2.11 ERA in 10 relief outings...opponents hit .092 (6-for-65)...fanned 32 in 21.1 innings before a May 14 promotion to Triple-A Tucson, where he went 4-0 with a save and a 2.40 ERA in 11 games (3 starts) over a pair of stints...chalked up 40 strikeouts in 30.0 Triple-A innings, limiting opponents to a .192 (21-for-107) average...Kim made his major league debut May 29 at Shea Stadium, retiring the Mets in order in the 9th, ending the game with a strikeout of Mike Piazza to save an 8-7 win...was on the 15-day D.L. August 2-September 7 with a neck strain...earned his first major league win by recording just one out October 2 vs. San Diego.

PERSONAL

BYUNG-HYUN KIM...is single...graduated from Kwang-ju First High School in 1997 and attended Sungkyunkwan University in Seoul, South Korea...was named both Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Pitcher for the Korean National High School Championships...was selected as a delegate to the Korean Junior National Team in 1996, then was named to the National Team in both 1997 and 1998...in '97, he beat Cuba in the Four Nations Invitational Games in Osaka, Japan...in '98, he got his first taste of competition on U.S. soil performing against the U.S. Olympic team in Tucson in the summer of 1998, fanning 15 in 6.2 innings...the team's tour of the U.S. included a stop at Fenway Park...he then accompanied the national team to Italy for the World Championships, where they beat the U.S. in the finals with Kim earning the save with 3.0 innings of hitless relief to preserve a 3-1 win...that same year, he was a member of the Gold Medal-winning club in the Asian Games, which also included teams from Chinese Taipei and Japan...B.K. fanned 12 against China, including 8 in a row at one point...his work in the Asian Games earned him the opportunity to sign a baseball contract, receiving a deferment from any military commitment to the Korean government.

May 5 with a bone chip in his right elbow...underwent right elbow surgery and began a rehab assignment with Nashville June 25...appeared in 6 games for the Sounds and one with the Single-A Hickory Crawdads of the South Atlantic League before being activated July 13, replacing Bronson Arroyo on the Pirates roster...pitched in 12 more games for Pittsburgh before being released August 15...was replaced on the roster by Arroyo.

2001: Spent the entire season with Pittsburgh and led the club with 71 appearances...went 3-2 with 2 saves and a 3.39 ERA and limited the opposition to a .211 average...fanned 80 in a career-high 79.2 innings...allowed just 2 earned runs in his first 13 games (15.0 IP)...boasted a 2.83 ERA (13 ER/41.1 IP) in 37 games at PNC Park compared to a 3.99 ERA (17 ER/38.1 IP) in 34 road games...compiled a 2.08 ERA (4 ER/17/1 IP) when working without a day's rest and a 2.14 ERA (5 ER/21.0 IP) when pitching on 2 days rest...had a 2.68 ERA (17 ER/57.0 IP) in 50 night games, but posted a 5.16 ERA (13 ER/22.2 IP) in 21 day contests.

2000: Spent the majority of the season with the Pirates after signing a minor league contract with Pittsburgh February 9...owned a 0.91 ERA (2 ER/19.2) in 13 outings when pitching on one or fewer days of rest...held opponents to a .164 (10-for-61) average with runners in scoring position, including a .120 (3-for-25) mark with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...went 2-1 with a 1.82 ERA (6 ER/29.2) in 22 games in July and August.

1999: Was designated for assignment by the Mets May 10 after being scored upon in 8 of his 12 appearances...did not pitch again due to pain in his right elbow...was outrighted to Triple-A Norfolk May 12 and transferred to Single-A Pittsfield May 15...sent back to Norfolk June 21 and was officially placed on the D.L. that day.

1998: Finished 5th in the International League with 133 strikeouts and 9th with a 3.98 ERA...began the season with Tampa Bay's Triple-A affiliate, the Durham Bulls, before being released July 1...signed with the Mets 2 days later and was sent to Triple-A Norfolk...had his contract purchased by New York September 10, but did not appear.

1997: Spent the bulk of the season in the Mariners organization, but endured 2 D.L. stints stemming from the same injury...recorded a 1.42 ERA (1 ER/6.1 IP) in 5 outings before being struck by a line drive in the groin area April 8...underwent testicular surgery and was placed on the D.L. April 9...made 2 rehab appearances with Double-A Memphis before being activated May 6...was placed on the D.L. again May 27 with a sore groin area...rehabbed with Triple-A Tacoma before being reinstated July 1...pitched in 4 more games for the Mariners before being released July 17...signed with Houston July 27 and closed out the season with Triple-A New Orleans.

1996: Missed the entire season due to right elbow problems...signed with Seattle December 10.

1995: Became the 55th player in major league history to play for the Mets and Yankees, the 9th to do so in the same season...stumbled out of the gate for the Mets, posting a 13.00 ERA (13 ER/9.0 IP) through his first 7 outings...was waived by the Mets and claimed by the Yankees June 5...pitched shutout ball in his first 7 games with the Yankees (9.1 IP)...placed on the 15-day D.L. July 6 with inflammation in his right elbow and missed the remainder of the season.

1994: Began the season with Triple-A Norfolk, but was promoted to New York April 25...went on to record one of his finest major league seasons, going 3-2 with 2 saves and a 2.66 ERA (14 ER/47.1 IP) in 37 games for the Mets...fanned 48 in 47.1 innings...was placed on the D.L. July 27 with a bone spur in his right shoulder and did not pitch again.

1993: Started the season with Milwaukee and earned his first career major league win in his Brewers debut April 9 vs. Oakland...made his lone big league start April 24 vs. Texas, allowing 5 runs (4 earned) over 5.0 innings in a 15-4 loss...notched his first career save May 1 at Texas...traded to the Mets June 12...reported to Norfolk following the trade, and had his contract purchased by New York August 18...his season came to a premature close when he sprained ligaments in his right foot September 8 at Houston.

1992: Led Triple-A Omaha with 21 starts, 136.1 innings pitched and 114 strikeouts...finished 4th in the Pacific Coast League with 7.42 strikeouts per 9 innings...was in Spring Training with the Red Sox, but was outrighted March 24...signed with Kansas City as a minor league free agent April 3 and sent to Omaha.

1991: Made his major league debut in his only appearance of the season with the Red Sox October 5 vs. Milwaukee...spent the majority of the season with Triple-A Pawtucket, but also made 7 starts for Double-A New Britain...had his contract purchased by Boston September 8.

1990: Went a combined 8-11 with 7 complete games (one shutout) and a 4.54 ERA in 27 starts between Pawtucket and New Britain.

CAREER NOTES

DON'T GO ANYWHERE: Has spent all 7 of his pro seasons in the Red Sox organization with the exception of 9 days, when he was traded with Brandon Lyon to Pittsburgh July 22, 2003 and re-acquired with Lyon and Jeff Suppan July 31...pitched exclusively as a reliever in 2004 for the 2nd year in a row after making all but 4 of his first 112 outings as a starter from 1998-2002.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Spent most of the year at Triple-A Pawtucket, but made his major league debut with 2 stints with the Red Sox...made 49 relief appearances in all, going 2-1 with a 8.44 ERA in 11 games with Boston and 3-3 with a save and a 3.74 ERA in 38 contests in a PawSox uniform.

SHOW TIME: After 172 minor league appearances over 6-plus seasons, earned his first promotion to the majors May 21 when righthander Scott Williamson was placed on the disabled list with right elbow inflammation...made his debut the next night vs. the Blue Jays, earning the victory with 1.0+ inning of relief in Boston's 5-2 triumph...replaced Pedro Martinez to start the 7th inning with the score tied 2-2...retired the side in order, including a strikeout of Simon Pond for the first out...following a Mark Bellhorn RBI single in the bottom half of the 7th, allowed a Reed Johnson bunt single to lead off the 8th and was pulled in favor of Alan Embree, who picked off Johnson at first...after surrendering a run in his next outing May 26 vs. Oakland, tossed 7.0 straight scoreless innings over his next 5 games May 27-June 4...allowed 9 runs in 2.2 innings in his next 3 outings before returning to Pawtucket June 16 to make room on the roster for Trot Nixon...was recalled July 2, and picked up the loss that night in Atlanta when he gave up a Nick Green 3-run homer in the bottom of the 12th...was optioned back to Pawtucket after the game.

AT PAWTUCKET: Ranked 3rd among PawSox hurlers with a 3.74 ERA...worked 2.0 innings or more in 19 of his 38 outings, including 8 of his last 11...was 1-2 with a 2.55 ERA (7 ER/24.2 IP) in 15 games April 8-May 19 prior to his first jump to Boston...May 14 at Charlotte, recorded all 9 outs in his 3.0 innings of work via strikeout, while allowing only one hit...went 2-1 with a save and a 3.75 ERA (15 ER/36.0 IP) in 23 games after returning to Pawtucket for good, including a 2.53 ERA (6 ER/21.1 IP) in 9 August contests...earned his lone save July 20 at Columbus, working a perfect 9th to secure a 5-4 victory...had a 2.91 ERA (11 ER/34.0 IP) on the road and a 4.59 ERA (17 ER/33.1 IP) at McCoy Stadium.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Combined to make 45 relief appearances for Boston's Double-A Portland (34 outings), Pittsburgh's Double-A Altoona (3) and Boston's Triple-A Pawtucket (8) affiliates...had made just 4 career relief appearances over 5 pro seasons prior to 2003, none since 2001...saved 14 games, 2nd to only Sarasota's Juan Perez (18) among Red Sox farmhands...went 3-1 with a team-high 14 saves and a 2.25 ERA (10 ER/40.0 IP) in 34 outings with Portland, while limiting Eastern League foes to a .212 average prior to his trade to Pittsburgh July 22...posted no record and a 2.25 ERA (1 ER/4.0 IP) in 3 appearances with Altoona...was reacquired by the Red Sox July 31 and went 2-1 with a 1.93 ERA (3 ER/14.0 IP) over 8 outings with Pawtucket the rest of the way in his first career Triple-A experience.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Limited righties to a .205 (25-for-122) batting average while lefties hit .261 (24-for-92) at his 3 stops...pitched at least 1.0 inning in 43 of his 45 outings...tossed 2.0 innings or more 9 times...had 53 strikeouts in 58.0 innings, an average of 8.2 Ks per 9 innings...did not allow a hit with the bases loaded all season (0-for-9)...limited the opposition to a .120 average (9-for-75) with runners in scoring position.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned his first professional save April 27 at New Haven with a scoreless 9th inning...went 2-0 with 3 saves over 5 outings May 4-21...did not allow a run over his final 9 Portland outings, going 1-0 with 4 saves in 10.0 innings June 28-July 21...did not allow an earned run in 25 of his 34 outings with the Sea Dogs, and allowed more than one earned run just once...made his Triple-A debut with Pawtucket August 1 at Buffalo, fanning one in a scoreless inning...after allowing 3 earned runs in 3.2 innings over his first 3 PawSox outings, closed his campaign with 9.2 scoreless innings over his last 5 appearances, earning 2 wins, striking out 10 and walking just one in that stretch.

SUMMARY: Made his Double-A debut, spending the entire season at Trenton...finished 5-12 with a 5.31 ERA in 27 starts, 2nd-most on the club...ranked 2nd among Red Sox farmhands and 3rd in the Eastern League with 127 strikeouts...pitched 5.0 innings or more in 20 of 27 starts...allowed 2 runs or less in 11 starts...received a loss or no-decision in 12 starts in which he allowed 3 earned runs or less...had 6 or more strikeouts in 11 starts...posted his 127 strikeouts in 139.0 innings, an average of 8.2 punchouts per 9 innings...limited the opposition to a .276 average (152-for-550), including a .274 mark (54-for-197) by lefties and a .278 mark (98-for-353) by righties...opponents hit just .216 (16-for-74) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...9 of the 12 homers he allowed were solo shots.

MORE 2002 HIGHLIGHTS: Struck out 10 and limited New Britain to just 3 hits in 6.0 innings to earn his first win of the season April 30...had his best month in May, when he went 1-1 with a 3.64 ERA (12 ER/29.2 IP) in 5 starts, limiting the opposition to a .196 batting average...pitched 6.0 scoreless innings in a win May 21 at Harrisburg...tossed a season-high 8.0 shutout innings in his next start, allowing just 4 hits and no walks, only to receive a no-decision May 26 at Altoona...lost 4 straight starts June 12-29.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2001: Went 9-12 with a 3.35 ERA in 25 games (24 starts) for Single-A Sarasota...allowed 2 earned runs or less in 16 of his 25 outings...had 123 strikeouts in 145.0 innings, an average of 7.6 strikeouts per 9 innings...pitched at least 5.0 innings in 23 of his 25 outings, and tossed 6.0 innings or more in 17 outings...after going 1-3 with a 5.79 ERA (18 ER/28.0 IP) in 5 outings in April, went 8-9 with a 2.77 ERA (36 ER/117.0 IP) over his final 20 starts...struck out a season-high 9 in his April 5 season debut vs. Tampa and again August 25 vs. Clearwater...earned a win in his lone relief appearance April 21 vs. Fort Myers, limiting the Miracle to a run on 3 hits and no walks in 6.0 innings, fanning 7...allowed just one hit in 6.0 innings in a May 17 win at Fort Myers...tossed a 7.0-inning complete game June 19 at Jupiter, but took the loss after being touched for 3 unearned runs.

2000: Made just 2 appearances for the Gulf Coast Red Sox before being promoted to Single-A Augusta, where he went 9-6 with a 4.64 ERA in 23 starts to help the Greenjackets to an 83-58 mark and a division title...struck out 107 in 120.1 innings...went 6-1 with a 3.07 ERA (20 ER/58.2 IP) at home and 3-5 with a 6.13 ERA (42 ER/61.2 IP) on the road...struck out 14 in a win August 20 vs. Asheville, allowing just one hit in 8.1 innings...closed out the season with his strongest month in August, going 3-1 with a 2.80 ERA (11 ER/35.1 IP) in 6 starts.

1999: Began the year with Single-A Augusta, going 2-4 with a 6.30 ERA in 10 starts before completing the season with short-season Single-A Lowell, where he turned in a 3.68 ERA and an 0-3 mark in 11 starts...pitched his best in August, posting no record and a 1.80 ERA (4 ER/20.0 IP) in 5 starts for the Spinners.

McCARTY (Cont.)

HEROICS: In a 4-4 tie, banged a one-out double in the 8th April 19 vs. New York, his first hit of the season...eventually scored the game-winning run on a Gabe Kapler 2-out single...came off the bench to stroke a 2-run triple down the right field line to break a 3-3 tie and lead the Sox to the 5-3 win May 11 vs. Cleveland...was his first triple since June 1, 2000 with Kansas City, also at Fenway Park...May 30 vs. Seattle, crushed J.J. Putz's 3-0 pitch into the centerfield bleachers to give the Sox a 9-7 12-inning win, his first career walk-off homer.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Was 5-for-16 (.313) with 2 of his 4 homers and 5 of his 17 RBI in 10 games against Tampa Bay...batted .284 (19-for-67) with a pair of homers and 9 RBI in 44 games at Fenway and .238 (20-for-84) with 2 homers and 8 RBI in 45 games on the road...hit .345 (10-for-29) when leading off an inning.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Had a big spring, hitting .410 (25-for-61) with 3 doubles, 7 homers and 18 RBI in 26 games...tied David Ortiz for the team home run lead, while pacing the club in batting average, hits and RBI...hit his first homer of the season May 8 vs. Kansas City, a 2-run shot off Nate Field in the 9th inning to cap Boston's 9-1 win...went 3-for-5 with a double and a run scored in a 14-6 win July 10 vs. Texas...was 2-for-3 with a pair of RBI in his 600th career game, a 4-0 win over the Orioles July 22 at Fenway...hit a 2nd-inning 3-run homer off Tampa Bay's Mark Hendrickson August 2 at Tropicana Field to erase a 2-0 deficit and propel the Sox to a 6-3 win...was on the D.L. with a ganglion cyst in his right wrist from August 17 (retroactive to August 13) through September 1...missed 17 games...finished 2-for-4 with a homer, an RBI and 2 runs scored in a 7-3 win September 27 at Tampa Bay as the Sox clinched a playoff spot.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Claimed off waivers from Oakland on August 5, McCarty appeared in 16 games for the Red Sox down the stretch, batting .407 (11-for-27) with 3 doubles, a homer and 6 RBI...after an 0-for-7 start with the Red Sox, went 11-for-20 (.550) in his last 10 regular season games...between Oakland and Boston, finished with a .340 (18-for-53) batting average, 5 doubles, a home run and 8 RBI in 24 games...also appeared in 91 games for the Athletics' Triple-A Sacramento club, hitting .270 with 15 homers and 72 RBI.

2003 WITH THE ATHLETICS: Hit .269 with 2 doubles and 2 RBI in 8 games with Oakland, including a .438 mark (7-for-16) vs. left-handed pitchers...joined Oakland July 8 after 91 games at Triple-A Sacramento, where, at the time of his promotion, he was leading the Pacific Coast League with 72 RBI and 69 runs scored and ranked 2nd with 40 extra base hits (23 doubles, 2 triples and 15 home runs)...overall at Sacramento, he hit .270 (95-for-352) with a .351 on-base percentage and a .474 slugging percentage...McCarty was with Oakland during Spring Training as a non-roster invitee, and hit .395 with 5 home runs and a team-leading 17 runs scored in 23 Cactus League games.

2003 WITH THE RED SOX: After going hitless in his first 7 at-bats with the Red Sox, went 7-for-8 with a double, a homer and 6 RBI in 4 appearances on Boston's August 19-31 homestand...delivered a pinch-hit single August 20 vs. Oakland, went 2-for-2 with a 3-run homer and an RBI double August 26 vs. Toronto in a start in left field, crushed a pinch-hit 2-run double August 30 vs. New York and went 3-for-4 with 2 runs scored in a start in left field August 31 against the Yankees...September 27 at Tampa Bay, hit an apparent game-tying home run in the top of the 9th only to be called out when second base umpire Joe West called interference on a fan who caught the ball in the first row of the left field bleachers...closed out the season with a 3-for-4 effort September 28 at Tampa Bay.

INVOKING MEMORIES OF THE SPLENDID SPLINTER: McCarty's .407 batting average in 27 Boston at-bats was the highest average posted by a Red Sox player with as many at-bats since Rudy Pemberton batted .512 in 41 at-bats in 1996.

IN THE POSTSEASON: In his first career playoff action, made one appearance in each of the Red Sox' 2 post-season series...was announced as a pinch hitter but was pulled after a pitching change in Game 1 of the ALDS at Oakland...struck out as a pinch hitter against Mariano Rivera for the final out of Game 2 of the ALCS at New York.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Opened the season with Kansas City but was released May 15 and signed with Tampa Bay 6 days later...after 29 games at Triple-A Durham, during which he hit .325 with 8 home runs and 22 RBI, had his contract purchased by the Devil Rays...was outrighted to Durham July 24 but did not play before he was released on August 7...between Kansas City and Tampa Bay, hit .136 with 2 homers and 4 RBI in 25 big league games...played in 11 games (9 starts) in left field and 9 games (8 starts) at first base...was 2-for-6 as a pinch hitter...with the Royals, went 3-for-15 (.200) over his first 6 games before finishing his stay in Kansas City with 17 straight hitless at-bats...with Durham, hit safely in 24 of 29 games, including each of his last 10, batting .375 (15-for-40) during the tear...had an RBI single in his first at-bat for Tampa Bay June 25 vs. Toronto, then went 5-for-33 as a Devil Ray.

2001: Appeared in 98 games for the Royals, hitting .250 with 7 homers and 26 RBI...started the season 6-for-48 (.188) over his first 22 games, then raised his average to .242 by going 14-for-47 (.298) from May 15-June 14...endured a 3-for-39 drought June 15-August 3, which dropped his average to .194 after 63 games...finished the year going 24-for-66 (.364) in his final 35 games...was just 2-for-25 (.080) with one RBI as a pinch hitter after proving to be the Royals' most effective pinch hitter in 2000, when he hit .391 (9-for-23)...hit .207 with 5 homers and 15 RBI in 53 games before the All-Star Break and .310 with 2 home runs and 11 RBI in 45 games following the break...hit a game-tying solo homer off Seattle's Kazuhiro Sasaki with one out in the bottom of the 9th May 27 before the Mariners rallied for a 5-4 win in 11 innings...recorded a season-high 3 hits and 3 RBI August 20 vs. Chicago, going 3 for 4 with a home run in the 10-1 Royals win.

2000: A non-roster invitee to Spring Training, he spent the full season with the Royals, hitting .278 with a career-high 12 long balls and a personal-best 53 RBI in 103 games, another career best...started 48 games at first base, 5 as DH, 3 in left field and 3 in right field...batted .391 (9-for-23) with a home run and 9 RBI as a pinch hitter, good for the highest average of any pinch hitter in the A.L. with at least 20 at-bats...his 3rd career pinch homer (first since 1996) came May 27 vs. Anaheim off Troy Percival, a game tying two-run shot with one out in the bottom of the 9th inning of a 6-5, 10-inning Royals win...hit .342 (26-for-76) with runners in scoring position...batted .365 against lefthanders and .223 against righties...tripled May 24 vs. Texas, his first 3-base hit since May 19, 1995...matched his career high with 4 hits and knocked in 3 runs June 1 at Boston...it was his first 3-RBI game since July 21, 1996...hit his first career grand slam July 19 in a 10-5 victory at Cleveland, a 6th-inning blast off Chuck Finley...the 4 RBI established a career best.

1999: Spent the full season with the Tigers' Triple-A Toledo club, slamming a career-high 31 homers, 2nd-most in the International League...batted .268 with 77 RBI in 132 games for the Mud Hens...averaged a homer every 15.03 at-bats, the 4th-best ratio in the league...led Tigers farmhands in homers, walks (70) and runs scored (85)...hit just .194 (13-for-67) in his first 20 games, then hit safely in 10 of 11 at a .364 (16-for-44) clip to boost his average to .261...homered in consecutive games May 24 at Richmond and May 25 at New Orleans...had a pair of 2-homer games June 11 and June 13 at Syracuse...hit 7 home runs in July, then batted .301 with 7 home runs in August...appeared in 115 games at first base and committed just one error in 1,073 chances for a .999 fielding percentage...also appeared in 20 games in the outfield...made 2 appearances on the mound for the Mud Hens, allowing one run on one hit in 2.0 innings...walked one and fanned none.

1998: Spent the bulk of the season with Seattle's Triple-A Tacoma affiliate, and ranked 10th in the Pacific Coast League with a .317 batting average...also appeared in 8 games for the Mariners between May 13 and June 11...with Seattle, belted his only major league homer of the year May 23 vs. Tampa Bay...went 3-for-5 June 9 at San Francisco but was sent back to Triple-A 2 days later...finished with 11 homers and 52 RBI in 108 games for the Rainiers...led the club with a .411 on-base percentage...was hitting .322 (39-for-121) at the time of his promotion to Seattle, having hit safely in 24 of 32 games to start the season...went 4-for-6 with 4 RBI May 11 at Calgary...batted .341 (74-for-217) for Tacoma from July 5 through the end of the season...saw action at all 3 outfield positions as well as first base...hit .330 against Triple-A lefthanders and .313 vs. righthanders...batted .354 (74-for-209) on the road.

1997: Spent his final season in the Giants organization at Triple-A Phoenix, where he ranked among Pacific Coast League leaders in batting (2nd at .353), slugging (3rd at .590) and on-base percentage (4th at .419)...slugged 22 homers and drove home a career-best 92 runs...hit at least .320 in every month of the season...had a two-homer game June 30 at Tucson...hit .426 in August.

1996: Spent nearly the entire season with San Francisco...led Giants pinch hitters with 9 RBI...cracked his first homer of the season April 22 vs. Houston, his first big league round tripper in 207 at-bats since May 15, 1994...was on the 15-day D.L. June 6-27 with a sprained right ankle, suffered when he tripped over a shoe in his hotel room.

1995: Began the season with the Twins but was traded twice, acquired by Cincinnati June 8, and by San Francisco July 21...hit a combined .227 (17-for-75) in the majors...made his N.L. debut September 1 vs. New York...hit a combined .344 with 12 homers and 51 RBI in 74 games during Triple-A stops at Indianapolis and Phoenix.

1994: Was on the Twins' Opening Day roster...played 32 games at first base and 14 in the outfield before being optioned to Triple-A Salt Lake City June 30...hit .260 with a homer and 12 RBI in 44 games with the Twins...then hit .253 with 3 round trippers and 19 RBI in 55 games for Salt Lake.

1993: Split the season between Minnesota and Triple-A Portland...was batting .398 with 27 RBI in 31 games with Portland when his contract was purchased by the Twins on May 17...went on to hit .214 with a pair of homers and 21 RBI in 98 games for Minnesota...singled off the Yankees' Jimmy Key in his major league debut the night of his call-up in the Metrodome...belted his first homer off Roger Pavlik June 7 at Texas...hit safely in 13 consecutive games May 22-June 7...for the Twins, made 67 appearances in the outfield and posted 8 assists...also played 36 games at first base...including one more mid-season stint at Triple-A, hit .385 with 8 homers and 31 RBI in 40 games for Portland.

1992: Played 129 games at Double-A Orlando and 7 for Triple-A Portland in his first full pro campaign...was rated as the Twins' No. 1 prospect by Baseball America for the 2nd consecutive season...with Orlando, hit .272 with 18 home runs and 79 RBI, 4th-most in the Southern League...was promoted to Portland September 1 and went 13-for-26 (.500) with a homer and 8 RBI in 7 games to finish the year with a combined .284 average, 19 homers and 87 RBI in 136 contests.

1991: Made his pro debut with Single-A Visalia after being selected by Minnesota with the 3rd overall pick in the draft...after hitting .380 with 3 homers and 8 RBI in 15 games, was promoted to Double-A Orlando August 11...between the 2 stops, finished at .304 with 6 homers and 19 RBI in 43 games...was named the Twins' No. 1 prospect by Baseball America.

MILLAR (Cont.)

GOOD THINGS COME IN THREE'S: Millar slammed 3 solo home runs July 23 vs. New York, becoming just the 24th player in Red Sox history to register a 3-homer game, the first since Bill Mueller July 29, 2003 at Texas...the 3-homer game was the 13th by a Boston player at Fenway Park, the first in exactly 2 years, since Nomar Garciaparra celebrated his birthday with 3 homers in game one of a July 23, 2002 doubleheader vs. Tampa Bay...Millar became just the 2nd Red Sox player to hit 3 home runs in a game against the Yankees...Mo Vaughn turned the trick May 30, 1997 at Fenway...the only New York player to ever slam 3 home runs in a Red Sox-Yankees game was Lou Gehrig in 1927...Millar homered in each of his last 3 at-bats, the 4th player in club history to go deep in 3 straight trips to the plate in the same game...also turning the trick: Ken Harrelson June 14, 1968 at Cleveland, Mo Vaughn September 24, 1996 vs. Baltimore and Nomar Garciaparra July 23, 2002 vs. Tampa Bay (game one).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: 9 of his 18 homers were hit in 2-strike counts...batted .325 (77-for-237) with 11 homers and 42 RBI when playing first base...hit .273 (65-for-238) with 6 homers and 26 RBI in the outfield...posted a .349 average (37-for-106) with 4 long balls when leading off an inning...hit 5 homers and knocked in 25 in 81 games before the break and 13 homers and 49 RBI in 69 games after...the Sox were 33-11 (.750) when Millar had an RBI in 2004 and are 77-23 (.770) when he has an RBI over the last 2 years.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Matched his career high with 4 hits May 6 in Cleveland, his first 4-hit effort since June 24, 2003 vs. Detroit...posted a 9-game hitting streak from May 1-10, during which he hit .485 (16-for-33)...hit a solo homer off Baltimore's Eddy Rodriguez May 31, his first long ball in 32 games and 116 at-bats since April 23, then went deep again off Anaheim's Bartolo Colon the next night...homered in 3 straight games July 21-23 for the first time since August 19-22, 2001 with Florida with 5 blasts in that span...was named the American League co-Player of the Week for the week of July 19-25 after batting .583 (14-for-24) with 6 homers, 11 RBI, a .615 on-base percentage and 1.333 slugging percentage in 6 games...shared the honor with Baltimore's Miguel Tejada...had an RBI in 6 straight games from July 21-26 (13 RBI)...August 11 vs. Tampa Bay, matched his career highs with 4 hits and 3 runs...hit safely in a season-best 10 straight games August 9-18...batted .438 (14-for-32) with 10 runs, 2 homers, 5 doubles and 11 RBI during the tear...fell a triple shy of the cycle September 7 at Oakland, clubbing his 99th career home run and matching his career-high with 3 runs scored...crushed his 100th career homer September 15 vs. Tampa Bay as part of a 2-for-4 effort with a double and 2 RBI... September 16 vs. Tampa Bay, went 2-for-4 with a homer, double and 4 RBI (to match his season high) to cap a 3-game series vs. the Devil Rays in which he went 6-for-11 with 2 homers, 3 doubles and 6 RBI...was the hero September 28 at Tampa Bay, slugging a 2-run homer off Tampa Bay's Danys Baez in the 11th inning to lead the Sox to the 10-8 victory.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Posted a .238 (10-for-42) average with 4 doubles, a home run, 6 RBI, 8 walks and 7 strikeouts in 14 post-season contests as the Red Sox won their first World Championship in 86 years...started the first 12 games of the postseason at first base before David Ortiz played first in Games 3 and 4 of the World Series in St. Louis, where there was no designated hitter...Millar went 3-for-10 (.300) with a homer, 4 RBI and 2 runs scored in the ALDS against the Angels...was 2-for-4 with a homer and 2 RBI in the Red Sox' 9-3 Game 1 win at Angel Stadium...his 2-run homer off Jarrod Washburn gave the Sox a 3-0 lead and ignited a 7-run 4th inning...went 1-for-3 with a run scored in Game 2...batted .250 (6-for-24) with 3 doubles, 2 RBI, 5 walks and 4 runs scored in 7 ALCS games against the Yankees...was 1-for-4 with a 2-run double off Mike Mussina to ignite a 5-run 7th in Game 1...went 2-for-13 in Games 2-5 before a 2-for-4 effort with a double and a run scored in Game 6...added a hit, a walk and a run scored in the pennant-clinching Game 7 win in the Bronx...was 1-for-8 with a double and 2 runs scored in 4 games in the World Series vs. St. Louis...started Games 1 and 2 at first base before appearing as a pinch hitter in Games 3 and 4...his lone hit of the Series came in the first inning of Game 1, a double high off the Green Monster off Woody Williams, part of a 4-run inning that got the Sox off and running.

RED SOX

SUMMARY: Acquired from the Marlins for cash considerations on February 15, Millar enjoyed his finest major league season in his first Boston campaign...established career bests in virtually every category, including 25 home runs and 96 RBI...also registered personal bests with 148 games, 544 at-bats, 83 runs, 150 hits, 60 walks, 3 stolen bases and 9 sac flies (6th-most in the A.L.)...appeared in 148 games: 101 games (96 starts) at first base, 19 games (12 starts) in left field, and 12 games (10 starts) in right field...started 18 games as DH...after hitting .373 in June, his average stood at .319 on July 1, but he hit .238 (69-for-290) with 13 homers and 39 RBI in his final 78 games...at the 2004 Boston Baseball Writers' Dinner, received the Jackie Jensen Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA to the player who best embodies the spirit and desire of Jackie Jensen.

CLUTCH PERFORMER: Hit .308 with men on base, .304 with runners in scoring position and .320 with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...batted .389 (7-for-18) and drove in 21 runs with the bases loaded, including a pinch-hit grand slam June 7 at Milwaukee.

10 GRAND SLAM: Connected for the 10,000th regular season home run in Fenway Park history August 9 vs. Baltimore...the 8th-inning 2-run shot off Travis Driskill came in the 7,101st game at Fenway...Tiger Stadium, Wrigley Field and Yankee Stadium are the only other ballparks that have witnessed 10,000 regular season home runs.

QUICK START: Opened the season by hitting in his first 14 games with an at-bat, the longest tear to start a year by a Red Sox since Lee Tinsley's 14-gamer in 1995...the longest streak ever by a Red Sox to start a season was Eddie Bressoud's 20-gamer in 1964...Millar hit .404 (21-for-52) with 6 doubles, 5 homers and 17 RBI during the run.

INSIDE JOB: Hit the 2nd inside-the-park home run of his major league career August 26 vs. Toronto off Aquilino Lopez...the 9th-inning solo shot was a towering drive to center field that hit off the wall and caromed toward left field along the warning track...the last Red Sox to hit an inside-the-park homer had been Darren Lewis, July 28, 1998 at Oakland...the last Red Sox inside-the-park homer at Fenway Park had been hit by Nomar Garciaparra July 26, 1998 vs. Toronto...Millar's previous inside-the-park homer was also his first homer in the majors, with Florida May 24, 1999 at Chicago off Rick Aguilera.

HEROICS: His first Red Sox home run was a 16th-inning game-winner on the season's 2nd day April 1 at Tampa Bay...gave the Sox a 9-8 win, their first of the year, with the one-out solo shot off Jorge Sosa...clubbed a 7th-inning pinch-hit grand slam off Jayson Durocher to key a comeback from a 10-4 deficit in an 11-10 Red Sox win June 7 at Milwaukee...cut a 10-5 deficit to 10-9 with the long ball...the pinch-hit homer was the first of his career, while the grand slam was his 3rd...hit a 2-run homer in the 8th to snap a 3-3 tie in a 5-4 Sox win July 2 at Tampa Bay...hit a 3-run homer in a 7-run 3rd as the Sox overcame a 5-0 deficit for a 10-9 win over the Angels August 5 at Fenway...hit a 2-run single in a 3-run 3rd and followed a Manny Ramirez 2-run homer with a solo blast of his own in a 3-run 7th leading the Sox to a 7-3 win August 13 at Oakland...doubled home Damian Jackson with 2 outs in the 10th to give the Red Sox a walk-off 7-6 win over Seattle August 23 at Fenway in game 2 of what would become a pivotal 4-game sweep.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Singled in his first Red Sox at-bat March 31 at Tampa Bay, the 1,500th at-bat of his M.L. career...went 3-for-5 with a double, a homer, 4 RBI and 2 runs in a 14-5 win April 3 at Tampa Bay...went 3-for-4 with an RBI and a run in his April 12 Fenway Park debut vs. Baltimore...drove in 4 in his 2nd career 2-homer game in a 9-1 win June 8 at Milwaukee...hit a 3-run homer in the 3rd and a solo shot in the 8th...drew a career-high 4 walks June 12 vs. St. Louis...matched career highs with 4 hits and 5 RBI in a 10-1 win June 24 vs. Detroit.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Posted a .996 fielding percentage at first base, charged with only 4 errors in 943 total chances in 101 games (96 starts)...came within 2 putouts of tying the major league record for putouts by a first baseman in a 9-inning game June 14 vs. Houston...with Derek Lowe on the hill, Millar had 20...the record is 22, shared by 4 American Leaguers (last by Seattle's Alvin Davis on May 28, 1988) and a lone National Leaguer (Chicago's Ernie Banks on May 9, 1963)...made one error in 54 total chances in 31 games (26 starts) in the outfield, good for a .981 fielding percentage...had 3 outfield assists, 2 from left field and one from right.

JUST WIN, BABY: Boasts a career record of 58-37, a .598 winning percentage in all or part of 6 seasons with the Astros (1999-2004)...has posted a .500-or-better record in each of his last 5 seasons beginning in 2000, including a 16-8 (.667) finish in 2001 and a 15-4 (.789) mark in 2002, the 3rd-best winning percentage in the majors...has a .604 winning percentage since the start of the 2000 campaign, one of only 20 pitchers in the majors to record a winning percentage of .600 or better with at least 90 decisions over the last 5 seasons...in his career, is 15-15 in 37 starts in April and May and 43-24 (.642) in 86 starts from June through the end of the season.

LOW HITS: Over the last 5 seasons, has allowed only 8.1 hits per 9 innings, tied with Curt Schilling for 11th-lowest among all major league pitchers with at least 600.0 innings in that span...his .242 batting average against over the last 5 seasons ties for 13th-lowest among qualifying pitchers.

WE'RE GOING STREAKING: Matched an Astros club record with a 12-game winning streak July 7-September 21, 2002 as part of a 15-4 campaign...tied Anaheim's Jarrod Washburn for the longest streak in the majors in 2002...went 15-2 with a 2.66 ERA (44 ER/148.2 IP) in his final 23 starts of the season after a D.L. stint due to a pinched nerve in his neck.

DON'T LEAVE A TENDER MOMENT ALONE: Joined the Red Sox as a free agent December 23, 2004 after being non-tendered by the Houston Astros just 3 days earlier.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Was limited to only 15 starts due to right shoulder tendinitis that forced him to the D.L. June 26 through the end of the season...went 7-7 with a 3.35 ERA in 15 starts, limiting opponents to a .228 average...began the season with wins in 4 of his first 6 starts, going 4-2 with a 2.75 ERA (12 ER/39.1 IP) while holding opponents to a .177 average...went just 2-3 with a 6.95 ERA (19 ER/24.2 IP) during a 5-start stretch May 12-June 4, including a 3-start losing streak over his last 3 outings in that skid...rebounded to go 2-1 with a 0.73 ERA (2 ER/24.2 IP) over his final 4 starts beginning June 9.

DECISION MAKER: Recorded a decision in 23 consecutive starts from July 31, 2003-June 9, 2004, starting with his final 11 starts of 2003 and continuing through his first 12 starts of 2004...went 13-10 in the stretch...recorded only one no-decision in 15 starts in 2004: June 15 vs. the Cubs, a 4-2 Astros setback.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Went 2-1 with a 0.49 ERA (1 ER/18.1 IP) in 3 starts vs. the A.L. in Interleague Play...held lefties to a .212 (32-for-151) average while righties hit .242 (44-for-182)...limited hitters to a .158 (12-for-76) average with men in scoring position, an .083 (3-for-36) average with men in scoring position and 2 outs...batters hit just .167 (2-for-12) with no home runs with the bases loaded, his 3rd straight season without allowing a grand slam...limited foes to a .151 (26-for-172) average with 2 strikes...was 4-3 with a 1.61 ERA (8 ER/44.2 IP) in 7 starts when working on 4 days rest and 3-4 with a 5.11 ERA (25 ER/44.0 IP) in 8 starts when working on 5 or more days rest.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Tossed 7.0 shutout innings despite walking a career-high 7 in an 11-1 win at St. Louis, limiting the Cardinals to just 2 hits...did not allow a run and struck out 7 in a season-high 7.1 innings May 6 vs. Pittsburgh, earning a 5-2 win...left with a strained neck May 12 vs. Florida but made his next scheduled start.

2003: Went 14-13 with a 4.13 ERA in a career-high 33 starts for the Astros...upped his 3-year win total to 45 dating to 2001, recording at least 14 wins for the 3rd straight season...led the Astros with 161 strikeouts and 187.1 innings pitched...allowed just 8.07 hits per 9 innings, 15th-lowest in the N.L...after going 6-9 with a 4.66 ERA (60 ER/116.0 IP) in 20 starts before the All-Star break, went 8-4 with a 3.28 ERA (26 ER/71.1 IP) in 13 starts following the break...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 24 of his 33 starts, including 9 straight from August 6-September 18 when he went 7-2 with a 1.95 ERA (12 ER/55.1 IP)...held foes to a .186 average in that span...overall, limited opponents to a .242 average, including a .227 (83-for-366) mark by righties and a .258 (85-for-329) mark by lefties...held foes to a .215 (14-for-65) average with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...after starting the year 0-3 with a 6.07 ERA (20 ER/29.2 IP) in 6 starts in April, went 3-3 with a 3.63 ERA (14 ER/34.2 IP) in 6 starts in May, including his first win May 5 at Pittsburgh, when he began the game perfect through 5.1 innings...left his May 10 start at Philadelphia with a bruised right thigh after being hit by a first-inning line drive off the bat of Jim Thome, but did not miss his next start...threw Houston's first complete game of the season May 30 at Wrigley Field, a career-best 2-hitter...struck out a career-high 14 and walked just one in the 9-1 win...was his 5th career complete game...struck out 9 in a 6-3 win at Cincinnati July 20...went 4-1 with a 1.69 ERA (6 ER/32.0 IP) in 5 starts in August...notched his 50th career win September 12 vs. St. Louis, allowing 2 runs in 6.0 innings...also doubled twice and recorded a career-high 4 RBI...tossed 6.1 scoreless innings and allowed just 2 hits in a 6-0 win September 18 at Colorado, fanning 7 and walking 5...made the shortest start of his career in which he did not leave due to injury September 23 vs. San Francisco, allowing 9 runs (only 4 earned) in 1.2 innings.

2002: Went 15-4 with a 3.28 ERA, lowest of his career, in 26 starts for Houston...his .789 winning percentage was 3rd-best in the majors...recorded a club-record tying 12-game winning streak July 7-September 21, matching Anaheim's Jarrod Washburn for longest in the majors in 2002...went 11-1 with a 2.00 ERA (23 ER/103.1 IP) in 15 starts after the All-Star break after going 4-3 with a 5.43 ERA (37 ER/61.1 IP) in 11 first-half starts...missed 8 starts due to a pinched nerve in his neck during the first half...overall, went 15-2 with a 2.66 ERA (44 ER/148.2 IP) in 23 starts following his May 29 return from the D.L...went 8-1 with a 2.23 ERA (20 ER/80.2 IP) in 12 daytime starts, the 5th-lowest day ERA in the league...tied for 9th in the league with an average of 7.9 K's per 9 innings...won 15 games despite not earning his first victory until June 10...made his first career Opening Day start April 2 at Milwaukee, a 9-3 loss...was placed on the D.L. April 15 (retroactive to April 13) after experiencing neck spasms and fatigue in his right arm...underwent an MRI that revealed slight compression in the neck area...returned May 29 vs. St. Louis and recorded a no-decision...earned his first 3 wins in 3 straight starts June 10-20, including a combined 3-0 shutout June 15 vs. Texas...won 6 straight starts July 7-August 3, the beginning of his 12-game winning streak...retired 14 of his first 16 batters faced July 22 vs. Milwaukee and did not allow a runner past first in 7.0 innings in a 3-1 win...went 5-0 with a 2.55 ERA (10 ER/35.1 IP) in July and 4-0 with a 2.83 ERA (13 ER/41.1 IP) in August...despite throwing 7.0 shutout innings, recorded a no-decision in Houston's 5-0, 11-inning win September 5 at San Diego...struck out a season-high 10 September 10 vs. Colorado...notched his first major league shutout and his 3rd career complete game in an 8-0 win September 15 vs. St. Louis...walked none and fanned 9...secured his 12th straight win September 21 at St. Louis to tie Mark Portugal's 1993 club record...suffered the loss in his final start of the 2002 season, September 27 at San

EXTRA!...EXTRA!: 104 of his 248 career major league hits (42 percent) have gone for extra bases: 61 doubles, 2 triples and 41 home runs...that includes 21 of 45 in 2004 (47 percent) and 71 of 159 (45 percent) since he joined the Red Sox in June of 2001.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Enjoyed the finest offensive season of his career, setting career highs in batting average (.281), RBI (32), slugging percentage (.525), on-base percentage (.368) and runs scored (27)...his 9 home runs were the most since clubbing a career-high 11 in 2001 (9 with Texas and 2 with Boston)...appeared in 53 games (41 starts, including one as the designated hitter).

START ME UP: Posted a .305 batting average (43-for-141) with 9 homers, 29 RBI and 25 runs scored in his 41 starts...started 4 straight games during Jason Varitek's suspension from August 23-26, going 5-for-16 (.313) with a homer, 4 RBI and 2 runs scored...also made a rare start with Curt Schilling on the mound July 3 at Atlanta.

PLAYING LONG BALL: Slugged 3 home runs in his first 7 at-bats of 2004...his 2-homer effort April 21 at Toronto was the 2nd of the his career (April 18, 2000 with San Francisco at Cincinnati)...hit the 2nd grand slam of his career July 3 at Atlanta off John Thomson, adding to Boston's 2-0 lead en route to a 6-1 win...with his club trailing 3-2 in the 6th August 24 at Toronto, cracked a 3-run homer off Miguel Batista that held up for a 5-4 victory...had 9 home runs in 160 at-bats, an average of one every 17.8 at-bats.

PUTTING UP NUMBERS: Recorded a pair of 4-RBI games July 3 at Atlanta and September 25 vs. New York, tying his career high from August 21, 2001 at Anaheim...scored a career-high 3 runs for the 4th time in his career July 6 vs. Oakland.

TAKING A BITE OUT OF THE BIG APPLE: After going 6-for-17 (.353) against the Yankees in 2003, Mirabelli went 7-for-18 (.389) with 3 doubles, 2 home runs and 7 RBI against the Yanks in 2004...finished the campaign with a lifetime .328 (19-for-58) average, 3 home runs and 8 RBI against the Yankees...hit one of 3 doubles in a 7-run 8th inning September 25 vs. New York, knocking in a pair of runs as the Red Sox went on to win 12-5...finished the day 2-for-3 with 4 RBI and 2 runs scored.

HAND IN HAND: Was behind the dish for all but 2.1 of Tim Wakefield's 188.1 innings in 2004, a year after missing just 2.0 of the knuckleballer's 202.1 regular-season innings.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .364 (16-for-44) with 5 doubles, 2 home runs and 20 RBI with runners in scoring position...was 7-for-17 (412) with a double, a home run, and 9 RBI with runners in scoring position and 2 out...hit .327 (37-for-113) at night and .170 (8-for-47) in day games...batted .311 (14-for-45) against lefthanders...ended the year hitting safely in each of his last 4 starts, going 6-for-16 (.375) with 3 doubles, a homer and 6 RBI.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Played in 2 games (one start) during the Red Sox' run to the World Championship, going 1-for-4 with a run scored...did not appear in the ALDS vs. Anaheim...was 0-for-1 in his lone ALCS action (Game 3) vs. New York...made one World Series appearance, starting Game 1 and going 1-for-3 with a run scored.

CAREER NOTES

CHOOSING SIDES: A switch-hitter, Mueller enters 2005 a career .294 (800-for-2,718) batter with 166 doubles, 18 triples, 45 homers and 292 RBI against righthanders (from the left side) and a career .283 (249-for-879) hitter with 58 doubles, a triple, 27 homers and 124 RBI vs. lefties (from the right side)...he has a .377 on-base percentage and a .418 slugging percentage vs. righties, and a .363 OBP and a .444 slugging percentage vs. lefties.

NO K IN HIS ALPHABET: Has struck out only 488 times in 4,170 career major league plate appearances, an average of only one K every 8.5 plate appearances.

THE OLD LEFT-RIGHT COMBO: The switch hitter homered from both sides of the plate in the same game twice in 2003, just the 7th and 8th time the trick has been turned in Red Sox history...only Reggie Smith has more switch-hit homer games as a Red Sox in his career (3) than Mueller, who is tied with Carl Everett (2) on the club list.

FRIENDLY FENWAY: Owner of a lifetime .292 batting average overall, Mueller is a career .343 hitter (161-for-470) at Fenway Park with 48 doubles, 5 triples, 15 homers and 86 RBI...has a .417 on-base percentage and a .562 slugging percentage at Fenway.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Was limited to 110 games by arthroscopic surgery on his right knee (performed May 28), which sidelined him for 37 games from May 20-July 2...nonetheless, hit .283 with 12 homers, 57 RBI and 75 runs scored...finished strong, lifting his average to .283 to close the season from .261 on August 9...from August 10 through the end of the season, hit .322 (37-for-146) with 3 homers and 17 RBI over his final 44 games...the Sox went 31-13 in those 44 contests...made 96 appearances (94 starts) at third base...also started 14 games at second base while Mark Bellhorn wise sidelined in August.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME: Batted .344 (67-for-195) with 9 home runs and 36 RBI in 54 games at Fenway Park...on the road, was a .225 (46-for-204) hitter with 3 homers and 21 driven in in 56 contests.

MUELLER (Cont.)

HEROICS: His 2-out double in the 10th July 8 scored Johnny Damon from first base and gave the Sox the 8-7 walk-off win over Oakland...was the hero July 24 vs. New York, slugging a 3-1 offering from Mariano Rivera into the Red Sox bullpen to give the Sox the 11-10 walk-off victory in the bottom of the 9th...was his 2nd-career walk-off homer, his first since August 30, 2001 vs. Florida with the Cubs...now has 8 career homers vs. the Yankees, all of which have come in the last 2 years as a Red Sox...the 8 homers are his most against any opponent.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had nearly as many walks (51) as strikeouts (56)...5 of his 12 homers and 13 of his 57 RBI came against the Yankees...had 10 RBI in 15 games vs. Tampa Bay...hit .354 (56-for-158) with 7 homers and 28 RBI in 47 games out of the No. 8 spot in the lineup...was a .356 (31-for-87) hitter when leading off an inning.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Went 8-for-15 (.533) with a homer, 3 RBI and 4 runs in the 4-game series vs. New York April 13-16 to snap a 1-for-25 skid over his previous 5-plus games...homered in consecutive games April 15 vs. Baltimore and April 16 vs. New York for the first time since September 8-9, 2003 at Baltimore...turned the trick again July 23-24 vs. New York and September 3-4 vs. Texas...hit safely in 6 straight games April 15-21, batting .423 (11-for-26)...stroked the 200th double of his career April 24 at Yankee Stadium...August 6 at Detroit collected career hit No. 1,000 with a 6th-inning single to left field...batted .380 (35-for-92) in August...matched his career-high with his 8th career 4-hit game September 21 vs. Baltimore, going 4-for-4 with 2 doubles and a run scored...his 9th-inning 2-base hit off B.J. Ryan put runners at second and third and helped set the stage for Mark Bellhorn's walk-off 2-run single in a 3-2 win.

ABOUT THE KNEE: Underwent an arthroscopic procedure on his right knee May 28, 2004...the procedure was performed by Dr. David Zeman in Phoenix...after experiencing swelling in the same knee during off-season workouts, Mueller again underwent the same procedure, once more performed by Dr. Zeman, February 7, 2005.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started all 14 post-season games at third base and batted .321 (18-for-56) with 3 doubles, 3 RBI, 7 walks, 2 strikeouts and 10 runs scored...was 4-for-12 (.333) with 3 runs scored in the ALDS against the Angels...after going 0-for-4 in Game 1, went 2-for-3 with a run scored in Game 2 and 2-for-5 with 2 runs scored in the series-clinching Game 3...recorded a .267 (8-for-30) average in the 7-game ALCS vs. New York with a double, an RBI and 4 runs scored...went 2-for-4 with a double, a walk and a run scored in Game 3...his lone RBI in the series was among the biggest in Red Sox history...down 3 games to none and trailing 4-3 in the bottom of the 9th in Game 4 at Fenway, grounded a no-out single right back up the middle off Mariano Rivera, scoring Dave Roberts from second to tie the game...the Sox went on to win 6-4 in 12 on David Ortiz's walk-off home run...was 2-for-4 with a walk and a run scored in Game 7, as the Sox clinched the pennant...faced his hometown Cardinals in the World Series, and went 6-for-14 (.429) with 2 doubles, 2 RBI and 3 runs scored in the Series...was 1-for-3 with an RBI in Game 1 at Fenway...added 2 hits, including a double, with a walk and a run scored in 3 at-bats in Game 2...went 2-for-4 with a double, an RBI and a run scored in Game 3 at Busch Stadium.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed his finest season in his first campaign with the Red Sox, winning the American League batting title with a .326 average (40 points above his career mark into 2003) and establishing personal bests with a team-high 45 doubles, 19 home runs and 85 RBI...was named Comeback Player of the Year at the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America annual award dinner in January...also received a special award in recognition of his A.L. batting crown.

BAT MAN: Mueller's first batting title was the 25th in Red Sox history...finished one point ahead of teammate and 2002 batting champ Manny Ramirez...Mueller is the first switch-hitter to win the crown for Boston...the Silver Bat was Boston's 4th in 5 years...Manny led the league in 2002...Nomar Garciaparra won batting titles in 1999 and 2000...since 1979, a Red Sox has won 11 of the last 25 batting titles (Fred Lynn in 1979; Carney Lansford in 1981; Wade Boggs in 1983, 1985-88; Garciaparra in 1999-2000; Ramirez in 2002; and Mueller in 2003)...since 1979, the Red Sox' 11 batting championships are most in baseball...the Padres have won 9, the Rockies 5 and the Mariners 4...the Sox had the 2 top hitters in the league for the 3rd time in their history, the first time since 1958 when Ted Williams hit .328 and Pete Runnels hit .322...in 1942, Williams led the league at .356, and Johnny Pesky hit .331.

ABOVE AVERAGE: En route to hitting .326, Mueller led the A.L. in batting vs. righthanders (.342) and batting at night (.341)...tied for 3rd in the league with a .342 home average...hit better than .300 in every month except June, batting .315 in March/April, a major league-best .418 in May, .253 in June, .330 in July, .315 in August and .333 in September.

FOLLOW THE LEADER: In addition to being the league's leading hitter, tied for 5th in the A.L. with a team-high 45 doubles and ranked 6th with a .398 on-base percentage.

A NIGHT AS BIG AS TEXAS: Keyed a 14-7 win over the Rangers July 29 in Arlington, going 3-for-5 with 3 homers and 9 RBI...hit grand slams from both sides of the plate, a major league first...hit a solo homer off R.A. Dickey in the 3rd...after grounding out in the 4th and lining out in the 6th, hit a grand slam from the right side off lefty Aaron Fultz in the 7th...an inning later, batting left-handed against righthander Jay Powell, hit another slam...the 3-homer game was Mueller's first and the 23rd in club annals...the 9-RBI game was the biggest by a Red Sox since Nomar Garciaparra tied the club record with 10 RBI May 10, 1999 vs. Seattle...the 8th game with 9 or more RBI in Sox history, it was the first in the majors since Sammy Sosa's August 10, 2002...Mueller became just the 12th big leaguer, the 10th in the A.L., to hit 2 slams in a game...he's the 4th Red Sox, joining Jim Tabor on July 4, 1939 (G2) at Philadelphia, Rudy York July 27, 1946 at St. Louis and Nomar Garciaparra, the last major leaguer to do it, May 10, 1999 vs. Seattle...it marked just the 4th time in M.L. history a player has hit slams in consecutive innings, the first time by a Red Sox...it was the 8th time in Sox history the club itself, let alone a single player, hit 2 slams in a single game.

THE OLD LEFT-RIGHT COMBO: In addition to switch hitting grand slams in his 3-home run effort July 29 at Texas, went deep from both sides of the plate July 4 at New York, batting righthanded against David Wells and hitting from the left side off Dan Miceli...the 2 games with homers from both sides were the first 2 of his career...only 3 A.L. players had previously turned the trick twice in the same calendar month: Eddie Murray (May 8 and 9, 1987 for Baltimore), Tony Clark (July 18 and 25, 1999 for Detroit) and Jeff Davanon (June 3 and 4, 2003 for Anaheim)...in the N.L., San Diego's Ken Caminiti homered from both sides of the plate September 16 and 17, 1995 and he achieved the feat 3 times in a month (August 1, 21 and 28, 1996)...it marked just the 8th time in Red Sox history a player has homered from both sides of the plate (see box above).

BEAST OF THE EAST: In 69 games vs. A.L. East foes Baltimore, New York, Tampa Bay and Toronto, batted .354 (81-for-229) with 18 doubles, 3 triples 8 homers and 32 RBI.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch-hitter batted .342 with 11 homers from the left side (vs. righties) and .295 with 8 long balls from the right side (vs. lefties)...hit .342 at Fenway and .309 on the road...was 2nd to Manny Ramirez (.320) in road average on the club...they were the only 2 Sox to bat .300 away from Fenway...hit .358 with men on base, .331 with men in scoring position and .333 with men in scoring position and 2 outs...hit .421 (8-for-19) with 2 homers and 23 RBI with the bases loaded...hit .240 (12-for-50) when leading off, .345 (58-for-168) when batting 2nd, .305 (43-for-141) out of the 7 hole and .400 (48-for-120) with 10 homers out of the No. 8 spot...hit .438 (28-for-64) with 2 homers when he hit the first pitch of an at-bat...was a .363 hitter (73-for-201) with 8 homers after jumping ahead 1-0...hit .347 (25-for-72) with 4 homers and 13 RBI in 19 games against the Yankees...hit .404 (21-for-52) against the Orioles and .414 (12-for-29) against the Angels...was 7-for-12 (.583) against the Marlins...of his career-high 19 home runs, 8 came in July and 12 came in July and August...had 49 multi-hit games, 13

WEIGHT: 210

OPENING DAY AGE: 30 (Turns 31 on April 11)

BORN: April 11, 1974 in Durham, NC

RESIDES: Wilmington, NC

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 6 years, 44 days

ACQUIRED: Selected in the first round (7th overall) of the 1993 First-Year Player Draft

SIGNED BY: Jeff Zona (Red Sox)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2006

CAREER NOTES

COMFY IN HIS SOX: The 7th overall pick in the first round of the 1993 draft, Nixon is the longest-tenured member of the Red Sox organization...Tim Wakefield, acquired April 26, 1995, has the club's longest continuous service in the major leagues...Nixon agreed to a 3-year contract extension through 2006 on February 6, 2004.

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: Nixon ranks 8th in Red Sox history among players with at least 1,500 at-bats with a .496 career slugging percentage...Trot's career .367 on-base percentage stands as 19th-best on the club's all-time list...his 112 Red Sox homers are 24th-most in club history...needs 10 homers in 2005 to move into 20th place and is 38 shy of climbing into the top 15 all-time.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Was limited to just 48 games because of a slight disk herniation in his back, then a strained left quadriceps...still, batted .315 with 9 doubles, 6 home runs and 23 RBI...opened the season on the disabled list with the aggravated back as well as the strained quadriceps suffered during rehab, missing 63 games before being reinstated June 16...completed a rehab assignment with Single-A Sarasota (one game) and Triple-A Pawtucket (5 games) before returning to the Sox June 16 and homering in his 2nd at-bat in Colorado, belting a 4th-inning 1-1 offering from Jason Jennings into the right field seats...went on to hit .273 with 3 homers and 13 RBI in 29 games before the quad forced him back to the D.L...missed 39 games before returning to appear solely as a pinch hitter for 4 games, going 0-for-4...in his 15 games (12 starts), Trot hit .435 (20-for-46) with 8 multi-hit efforts, 5 doubles, 3 homers and 10 RBI to close out the regular season...batted .400 (20-for-50) overall after his 2nd stint on the D.L.

NIXON (Cont.)

IRON MAN: Prior to his injury-plagued 2004 campaign, had appeared in at least 123 games in each of the previous 5 seasons from 1999-2003...averaged 136.2 games a season in that span, spending time on the D.L. just once when he strained his right hamstring and had to miss nearly a month of action in 2000.

PINCH ME, I'M DREAMING: Smacked his first-career pinch-hit homer September 14, a 2-run shot off Tampa Bay's Travis Harper...finished the year with 3 pinch hits in 11 at-bats, one more than his previous career total of 2...drove in 5 runs as a pinch hitter.

9 IN A ROW: Hit safely in a season-high 9 straight games July 16-24, batting .364 (12-for-33) right up to his 2nd stay on the D.L....grounded out in a pinch-hitting appearance September 7 vs. Oakland in his first game back to snap the streak.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .336 (45-for-134) against righthanders while going 2-for-15 (.133) against lefties...compiled a .343 average (24-for-70) at Fenway Park...was 2-for-3 with 4 RBI with the bases loaded...when leading off an inning, hit .378 (14-for-37) with 4 doubles and 3 home runs.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Batted .255 (13-for-51) with 4 doubles, 8 RBI and 5 runs scored in 13 post-season games...went 2-for-8 with 2 RBI in 2 games in the ALDS vs. Anaheim...was 1-for-5 with an RBI single in a 4-run 9th to help ice an 8-3 victory in Game 2 at Angel Stadium and 1-for-3 with an RBI single to start the scoring in the 3rd in an eventual 8-6, 10-inning series-clinching win in Game 3 at Fenway...appeared in all 7 games of the ALCS against the Yankees, batting .207 (6-for-29) with a double, a homer, 3 RBI and 4 runs scored...was 2-for-5 with a double, a homer, 2 RBI, and a run scored in Game 3 at Fenway, taking Kevin Brown deep with a man on in the 2nd inning...hit .357 (5-for-14) with 3 doubles, 3 RBI and a run scored in the 4-game World Series sweep of the Cardinals...after going 1-for-7 in Games 1 and 2 at Fenway, was 1-for-3 with an RBI in Game 3...singled home Bill Mueller to give the Sox a 2-0 lead in the 4th...went 3-for-4 with 3 doubles and 2 RBI in the championship-clinching Game 4...with the Sox up 1-0, ripped a bases-loaded 2-run double on a 3-0 pitch from Jason Marquis to give the Red Sox a 3-0 lead and close out the scoring.

SUMMARY: In his 5th full season, topped his previous career bests with a .306 average and 28 homers, while knocking in 87, the 3rd season in a row he's hit at least 24 homers and knocked in at least 84...had 3 homers and 25 RBI in 46 games through May but slammed 25 long balls and knocked in 62 in 88 games the rest of the way, including 17 homers and 41 RBI in 48 games in June and July...was one of 3 Red Sox (with Manny Ramirez and Bill Mueller) but only 5 players in the A.L. (with Alex Rodriguez and Carlos Delgado) to rank among the top 10 in the A.L. in both on-base percentage (.396) and slugging (.578)...his .974 OPS (on-base + slugging) ranked 4th in the A.L. behind only Delgado, Ramirez and Rodriguez...appeared in only 5 of the last 18 regular season games due to a strained left calf.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked among A.L. leaders in on-base percentage (tied for 7th at .396) and slugging (5th at .578)...his 2 grand slams tied for the A.L. high, while his average of one homer every 15.8 at-bats ranked 8th, and his average of an RBI every 5.1 at-bats tied for 6th...was the 2nd-hardest player to double up in the A.L. behind Ichiro Suzuki, bouncing into 3 double plays in 441 at-bats, one every 147.0 AB's.

STREAKS: Collected 2 hits in 5 consecutive starts April 27-May 3, going 10-for-22 to lift his average to .344 from .309...turned the trick again in 4 straight games June 1-5...drove in at least one run in 8 straight games (12 RBI total) May 30-June 7...homered in 3 straight games June 4 (DH) and June 5, in 4 of 5 games June 4-7 and in 5 of 8 games June 4-11...also went deep 3 games in a row July 2-5 and July 29-31...between July 23 and August 3, hit 7 homers in 11 games.

HAPPY HUNDREDTH: Hit his 100th career home run in game one of an August 8 double-header vs. Baltimore...the 6th-inning 2-run shot off Rick Helling made him the 24th player to hit 100 home runs in a Red Sox uniform.

HEROICS: Snapped a 4-4 tie with a 2-out 2-run homer in the 8th, propelling the Sox to victory April 10 at Toronto in the final game of their season-opening road trip...Trot finished the night 3-for-3 with 4 RBI, a walk, 2 stolen bases (a career first) and a run scored...June 7 at Milwaukee, after the Red Sox had trailed 9-3 and 10-4, hit a one-out solo homer off Mike DeJean in the top of the 9th to tie the game 10-10...Jason Varitek followed with a solo homer of his own to give Boston an 11-10 win...on the pitch after Roger Clemens hit Kevin Millar, Nixon cranked a 2nd-inning 2-run homer to open the scoring and trigger a 10-2 win July 5 at Yankee Stadium...singled home Gabe Kapler with no outs in the bottom of the 10th to give the Sox a 5-4 walk-off win July 19 vs. Toronto...July 20 vs. Toronto, hit a 2-run triple to cap a 5-run 3rd, propelling the Red Sox to a 9-4 win over Toronto...hit a solo homer in the 3rd and a grand slam off Al Levine to cap a 7-run 7th in a 10-4 win July 23 vs. Tampa Bay...finished 3-for-4 with 2 homers and 5 RBI...hit a game-tying solo homer to lead off the top of the 9th off Francisco Cordero July 31 at Texas although the Rangers went on to win 7-3 on an Alex Rodriguez grand slam in the 11th...August 5 vs. Anaheim, snapped a 9-9 tie with an RBI single in the bottom of the 7th, lifting the Sox to a 10-9 win...the hit, off Brendan Donnelly who came into the game with a 0.67 ERA, capped a comeback from a 5-0 deficit...delivered one of the key hits of the season September 1 at Philadelphia, a 9th-inning grand slam off Turk Wendell to cap a 6-run uprising and give the Red Sox a 13-9 win...drove in a career-best 6 in the game.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Made 130 outfield appearances (119 starts), all but one in right field...played 2 innings in center after pinch hitting April 30 vs. Kansas City...posted a .983 fielding percentage (4 errors in 239 chances)...had 4 assists, all from right field.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Ranked 3rd in the A.L. with a .330 (114-for-345) average vs. right-handed pitchers...hit .219 (21-for-96) vs. lefties...25 of his 28 home runs came off righthanders...registered a .318 average (70-for-220) with 10 home runs and 47 RBI at Fenway Park and hit .294 (65-for-221) with 18 homers and 40 RBI on the road...hit .362 (38-for-105) with none on and none out and .302 (42-for-139) with runners in scoring position...hit .303 (20-for-66) with 6 homers in close-and-late situations...batted .477 (31-for-65) with 6 home runs when hitting the first pitch...hit .217 (46-for-212) after falling behind in the count 0-1 and .354 (58-for-164) after jumping ahead 1-0...hit .326 (97-for-298) with 20 homers in innings 1-6 and .266 (38-for-143) with 8 homers from the 7th inning on...17 of his 87 RBI (20 percent) came in 19 games against the Blue Jays...hit 5 of his 28 home runs in 13 games against the Devil Rays.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Hit .294 (10-for-34) with a double, 4 home runs and 7 RBI in 11 post-season games against the Athletics and Yankees...was just 2-for-10 in 4 A.L. Division Series games against Oakland, but provided one of the most dramatic moments of the season when--with the Red Sox trailing the best-of-5 series 2 games to none--he crushed a pinch-hit walk-off 2-run homer off Rich Harden in the bottom of the 11th, giving Boston a 3-1 win...the blast was the 2nd walk-off long ball in Red Sox post-season history, following Carlton Fisk's legendary blast off Pat Darcy, which gave the Sox a 7-6 win over Cincinnati in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series...the last post-season pinch-hit, walk-off home run was hit by Kirk Gibson of the Dodgers in Game 1 of the 1988 World Series against Oakland...batted .333 (8-for-24) with 3 homers and 5 RBI in 7 ALCS games...went 2-for-4 in the Game 1 win at Yankee Stadium...went 3-for-3 with a double and a 5th-inning solo homer off Mike Mussina in Game 4 at Fenway...launched a 2-run blast off Gabe White in the 9th inning of the Red Sox' Game 6 win, providing valuable insurance by turning a 7-6 lead into a 9-6 advantage...in Game 7, launched a 2nd-inning 2-run homer off Roger Clemens to stake the Sox to a 2-0 advantage.

CAREER NOTES

TAKING IT TO ANOTHER LEVEL: In 2 seasons with the Red Sox--after being non-tendered by the Twins--has emerged as one of the dominant offensive forces in the game, batting .295 with 86 doubles, 72 homers, 163 extra-base hits, 240 RBI and a .598 slugging percentage in 278 games...over the last 2 seasons, ranks first in the A.L. and 4th in the majors in doubles, first in the A.L. and 3rd in the majors in extra-base hits, 2nd in the A.L. and 6th in the majors in slugging, 3rd in the A.L. and 5th in the majors in RBI and 4th in the A.L. and 11th in the majors in homers...was named to his first All-Star team and recognized with his first Silver Slugger Award in 2004, when he was also voted team MVP..Ortiz has been named the A.L.'s outstanding designated hitter both of the last 2 seasons and finished among the top 5 in A.L. MVP voting in both 2003 (5th) and 2004 (4th)...no other player has ranked in the top 5 in A.L. MVP voting in both of the last 2 years.

SENIOR OCTUBRE: Helped lead the Red Sox to the 2004 World Championship, batting .400 (22-for-55) with 5 home runs and 19 RBI in 14 games...delivered 3 extra-inning walk-off game-winning hits, a 10th-inning homer to win the Game 3 finale of the ALDS vs. Anaheim, a 12th-inning homer to keep the Sox alive in Game 4 of the ALCS vs. the Yankees and, the next night, a 14th-inning RBI single to slay the Yanks again and force Game 6...no player in major league history has more than 2 post-season walk-off hits in his career, and no player ever had more than one in a single post-season...Ortiz's total of 19 post-season RBI matched the major league record for a single postseason shared by Cleveland's Sandy Alomar Jr. in 18 games in 1997 and Anaheim's Scott Spiezio in 16 games in 2002...was named Most Valuable Player of the 2004 ALCS...in addition to his 2 walk-off game-winning hits, finished the series with a .387 average (12-for-31) with a triple, 3 home runs and 11 RBI...Ignited the Red Sox' World Series win with a towering 3-run homer in the bottom of the first inning of Game 1 off Woody Williams...the Sox would never trail in the series...Ortiz became the 28th player in major league history to go deep in his first World Series at-bat, the first since Anaheim's Troy Glaus in Game 1 of the 2002 Fall Classic...the only other Boston player to turn that trick was pitcher Jose Santiago in Game 1 of the 1967 Series vs. St. Louis off Bob Gibson.

NEW DEAL: A potential free agent at the end of the 2004 season, Ortiz signed a 2-year contract extension with a club option for the 2007 season on May 21, 2004.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed his 2nd consecutive career year, teaming with Manny Ramirez to form the most fearsome 3-4 punch in baseball before turning in an October performance for the ages in helping lead the Red Sox to their first World Championship in 86 years...won the Thomas A. Yawkey Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox' Most Valuable Player...batted .301 with 47 doubles, 3 triples, 41 homers, 91 extra-base hits, 139 RBI, 351 total bases, 75 walks, a .380 on-base percentage and a .603 slugging percentage--all career bests...was named to his first career A.L. All-Star team, won the Edgar Martinez Award as the American League's top designated hitter in a media vote and received his first career Silver Slugger Award...finished 4th in A.L. MVP voting.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked at or near the top of the American League in virtually every major offensive category including: extra-base hits (first with 91), RBI ratio (first with one every 4.2 at-bats), RBI (2nd with 139), total bases (2nd with 351), slugging (2nd at .603), home runs (tied for 2nd with 41), doubles (3rd and 47), home run ratio (3rd with one every 14.2 at-bats) and batting average with runners in scoring position (4th at .350).

SEEING STARS: A first-time All-Star, Ortiz cracked a 6th-inning 2-run homer off Carl Pavano at the Mid-Summer Classic in Houston...also walked twice and scored 2 runs.

DYNAMIC DUO: Ortiz and Manny Ramirez became the first pair of A.L. teammates since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1931 to both bat .300 with 40 homers and 100 RBI...in major league history, the feat has been accomplished only 11 other times (including by Albert Pujols and Jim Edmonds of the Cardinals in 2004)...Ruth and Gehrig are the only other A.L. teammates to turn the trick (in 1927, 1930 and 1931)...Ortiz and Ramirez were also the first pair of teammates in major league history with 40 homers and 40 doubles in a season...the only other Red Sox teammates to club 40 long balls in the same season are Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...Ramirez (130 RBI) and Ortiz (139 RBI) became only the 3rd pair of Sox to reach 130 RBI in the same season...Vern Stephens and Ted Williams both knocked in 159 in 1949, and Walt Dropo and Stephens plated 144 each in 1950.

EXTRA!...EXTRA!: David's league-leading 91 extra-base hits were one shy of matching the Red Sox record of 92, set by Jimmie Foxx in 1938...his 41 homers and 139 RBI are both tied for 9th-most in club annals...since 1950, the only Red Sox with more RBI in a season was Mo Vaughn (143 in 1996)...Ortiz's 47 doubles are tied for 7th-most in Sox history.

TWO CAN PLAY AT THAT GAME: Ortiz and Manny Ramirez homered in the same game 12 times in 2004, setting a club record...Jim Rice and George Scott went deep in the same game 11 times in 1977, and Jimmie Foxx and Ted Williams turned the trick 11 times in 1940...the pair homered back-to-back 6 times in 2004, tying a major league record held by Hank Greenberg and Rudy York of the 1938 Tigers and Frank Thomas and Magglio Ordonez of the 2000 White Sox...prior to this season, no Red Sox teammates had gone deep back to back more than 3 times in a season.

HOME, SWEET HOME: Batted .325 with 17 homers and 64 RBI in 77 games at Fenway and .274 with 24 long balls and 75 RBI in 73 road games...David's 24 road home runs tied Mo Vaughn (1995) for the 2nd-most ever hit away from home by a Boston player...Ted Williams connected for 26 road homers in 1957.

SUMMARY: In his Red Sox debut, posted then career bests with a .288 average, 31 homers and 101 RBI in 128 games and provided far more than his fair share of heroics...finished 5th in A.L. MVP voting behind Alex Rodriguez, Carlos Delgado, Jorge Posada and Shannon Stewart...was named Baseball's Outstanding DH...appeared in only 31 of the club's first 54 games through the end of May, batting .272 with 2 home runs and 19 RBI...moved into the lineup on a regular basis after Shea Hillenbrand was traded to Arizona and hit .293 with 29 homers and 82 RBI in 97 games the rest of the way...appeared in 45 games (44 starts) at first base and 73 games as DH...posted 6 multi-homer games, a single-season total surpassed by only 3 players in Red Sox history...his 21 homers after the All-Star break were 3rd-most in the A.L. and ranked 6th in the majors...his 55 RBI after the break were 5th in the A.L. and 8th in the majors.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Finished 3rd in the A.L. with a .592 slugging percentage...his ratio of an RBI every 4.4 at-bats was 2nd in the A.L., and his average of a homer every 14.5 at-bats was 5th in the league...with 16 game-winning RBI, was one behind league leaders Eric Chavez and Hideki Matsui...ranked 5th in the league with a .961 OPS (on base + slugging)...was 9th with 8 sac flies and 10th with 39 doubles.

POWER SURGE: After hitting 3 homers in his first 50 games (163 at-bats), an average of one every 54.3 at-bats, hit 28 long balls in his last 78 games (285 at-bats), one every 10.2 AB's.

EXTRA!...EXTRA!: 72 of his 129 hits (56 percent) went for extra bases, 39 doubles, 2 triples and 31 home runs...July 27-August 7, saw 12 hits in a row go for extra bases, banging 5 doubles, 2 triples and 5 home runs in that stretch.

STREAKS: Homered in 3 straight games (5 total), going deep once July 3 at Tampa Bay and twice on both July 4 and 5 at New York...went 6-for-14 (.429) with 5 homers, 6 RBI and 6 runs in the 3 games...homered in 6 consecutive starts August 23-30...went deep in 3 straight games August 23-25 vs. Seattle, did not homer as a pinch hitter August 26 vs. Toronto, then went deep in 3 starts in a row August 27 vs. Toronto and August 29-30 vs. New York...in all, homered in 3 straight games 3 times.

SAFE AT HOME: Batted .315 (76-for-241) with 17 homers and 62 RBI in 69 games at Fenway Park and .256 (53-for-207) with 14 long balls and 39 RBI in 59 games on the road.

BIG AUGUST: Set single-month career highs with 11 homers, 24 RBI and 19 runs in August, posting a .723 slugging percentage in 27 games...in all of baseball, only Alex Rodriguez (15) and Frank Thomas (13) hit more homers in the month...the 11 homers were the most by a Red Sox in any calendar month since Nomar Garciaparra hit 11 in July of 1998.

CAREER NOTES

LIKE DEATH AND TAXES.... In 2004, Manny topped 30 homers and 100 RBI for the 7th consecutive season, a feat matched by only Alex Rodriguez in all of baseball...Manny, who has topped 30 long balls and 100 RBI 9 times in the last 10 years (1995-96, 1998-2004), has hit 30 home runs and knocked in 100 in all 4 seasons since coming to Boston...the only other 4 Red Sox with 4 or more 30-homer seasons are Ted Williams (8), Jimmie Foxx (5), Jim Rice (4) and Mo Vaughn (4)...Ramirez joined Foxx as the only players who have ever hit 30 homers in their first 4 seasons with the Red Sox...Foxx topped 30 in each of his first 5 seasons in Boston from 1936-40...only 2 other Red Sox have slammed 30 long balls in 4 or more consecutive seasons at any time during their stay in Boston...Foxx topped 30 5 straight seasons (1936-40), and Vaughn hit 30 in 4 consecutive seasons (1995-98).

SEEING STARS: A 7-time All-Star (1995, 1998-99, 2001-04), Ramirez has been voted an All-Star starter each of the last 4 seasons since coming to Boston...only 2 other Red Sox have been selected to start 4 or more All-Star Games in a row: Wade Boggs (7 straight, 1986-92) and Carl Yastrzemski (6 straight, 1967-72).

STAYING ACTIVE: Into 2005, Ramirez ranks among active major league leaders in slugging (3rd at .599), on-base + slugging (3rd at 1.010), batting (4th at .316), on-base percentage (9th at .411), homers (12th with 390) and RBI (12th with 1,270).

MILESTONE WATCH: Begins 2005 only 10 home runs shy of 400 in his major league career...38 players have hit 400 home runs all-time, and Andres Galarraga has hit 399...needs 30 RBI for 1,300; 19 doubles for 400; 15 extra-base hits for 800; 26 walks for 900; and 428 at-bats for 6,000.

ABOVE AVERAGE: The 2002 A.L. batting champion, Ramirez has ranked among the league's top 5 in batting in 4 of the last 6 seasons (each year since 1999 except 2001 and 2004)...has topped .300 6 straight years.

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: With 17 career grand slams, most ever by a Latin-born player, ranks 2nd among active players...Robin Ventura leads with 18...the only other players with more career slams in major league history are Lou Gehrig (23), Eddie Murray (19), Willie McCovey (18) and Ventura.

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: After 4 seasons in Boston, Manny has already climbed among the franchise's all-time leaders in batting average (among players with 1,500 at-bats), home runs and on-base percentage...his .321 average as a Red Sox is 5th on the club's career list behind only Ted Williams (.344), Wade Boggs (.338), Tris Speaker (.337) and Nomar Garciaparra (.323)...Manny has already slugged 154 home runs in a Red Sox uniform to climb into a tie for 13th place on the club's career list...would climb into 10th place with 17 homers in 2005 and would jump to 9th with 25...among active players with at least 1,500 at-bats, ranks 4th with a .418 on-base percentage, trailing only Ted Williams (.483), Jimmie Foxx (.429) and Wade Boggs (.428).

MR. OCTOBER: The 2004 World Series MVP, Ramirez hit safely in all 14 post-season games, batting .350 (21-for-60) with 3 doubles, 2 homers, 11 RBI and 8 runs scored in leading the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...Ramirez has hit safely in 17 post-season games in a row, going 24-for-73 (.329) with 4 doubles, 3 homers and 12 RBI...the streak is tied for longest in major league post-season history with Yankees Hank Bauer (1956-58) and Derek Jeter (1998-99)...beginning with Game 4 of the 2003 ALDS, Ramirez has hit in 22 of his last 23 post-season contests, batting .340 (33-for-97) with 4 doubles, 5 homers and 18 RBI...with 2 home runs in the 2004 postseason, Ramirez ran his career post-season home run total to 18, moving into a tie for 2nd-most in baseball history and only 4 shy of tying the all-time record...Bernie Williams has hit 22...Reggie Jackson and Mickey Mantle also hit 18...Manny's 5 post-season homers with the Red Sox are surpassed by only 3 players in club annals...Jason Varitek has 9, while David Ortiz and Nomar Garciaparra have hit 7.

SUMMARY: Capped his finest season as a Red Sox with his first career American League home run crown then earned Most Valuable Player honors in the World Series...batted .308 with 44 doubles, 43 homers, 130 RBI, 348 total bases, 108 runs scored, 82 walks, a .613 slugging percentage and a .397 on-base percentage in a team-high 152 games...topped 30 long balls and 100 RBI for the 7th season in a row, a streak matched only by Alex Rodriguez over the last 7 seasons.

IF THE CROWN FITS...: With 43 homers, Ramirez captured his first career home run title, the first by a Red Sox since Tony Armas clubbed 43 homers in 1984...it was the 18th home run title in franchise history.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: In addition to leading the league in homers, Manny topped the A.L. in home run ratio (one every 13.2 at-bats), slugging (.613) and OPS (1.010) and ranked 2nd with 87 extra-base hits, tied for 2nd with an RBI every 4.4 at-bats, 3rd with 130 RBI, 4th with 348 total bases and 7th with a .340 average with runners in scoring position.

SEEING STARS: Named to his 7th All-Star team, (1995, 1998-99, 2001-2004), Ramirez was voted an All-Star starter for the 4th straight season since coming to Boston...only 2 other Red Sox have been selected to start 4 or more All-Star Games in a row: Wade Boggs (7 straight, 1986-92) and Carl Yastrzemski (6 straight, 1967-72)...Manny hit a first-inning 2-run homer off Roger Clemens in the Mid-Summer Classic in Houston.

ONE-TWO PUNCH: Manny and David Ortiz became the first pair of A.L. teammates since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1931 to both bat .300 with 40 homers and 100 RBI...in major league history, the feat has been accomplished only 11 other times (including by Albert Pujols and Jim Edmonds of the Cardinals in 2004)...Ruth and Gehrig are the only other A.L. teammates to turn the trick (in 1927, 1930 and 1931)...Ortiz and Ramirez were also the first pair of teammates in major league history with 40 homers and 40 doubles in a season...the only other Red Sox teammates to club 40 long balls in the same season are Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...Ramirez (130 RBI) and Ortiz (139 RBI) became only the 3rd pair of Sox to reach 130 RBI in the same season...Vern Stephens and Ted Williams both knocked in 159 in 1949, and Walt Dropo and Stephens plated 144 each in 1950.

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: With 2 grand slams in 2004--August 20 at Chicago off Mark Buehrle and September 10 at Seattle off Aaron Taylor, ran his career total to 17, one behind active leader Robin Ventura and 5th-most in major league history behind Lou Gehrig (23), Eddie Murray (19), Willie McCovey (18) and Ventura.

SPREADING THE WEALTH: With his first career homer against the Dodgers on June 12, Manny has homered against 26 of the 30 major league clubs...he has not gone deep against the Rockies or Giants, both of whom he faced for the first time in his career in 2004...he's never faced the Diamondbacks and has not gone deep in 7 career games (25 at-bats) against the Cubs...10 active major leaguers have homered against all 30 clubs.

PINCH ME, I'M DREAMING: Manny collected only the 2nd pinch hit of his major league career when he delivered a 9th-inning single off Brendan Donnelly July 16...now 2-for-18 in the pinch all-time, Manny's last pinch hit came during his first major league season, September 21, 1993 vs. Baltimore...batting for Sam Horn, he singled in the bottom of the 8th against Jim Poole.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Hit .315 with 23 homers and 72 RBI in 78 games at Fenway and .301 with 20 long balls and 58 RBI on the road...Manny's 23 homers at Fenway are the most by a Red Sox since Mo Vaughn hit 27 in 1996...hit .309 with 30 homers and 89 RBI off righthanders and .306 with 13 homers and 41 RBI off lefties...was 8-for-18 with 2 grand slams and 18 RBI with the bases loaded...hit .388 (33-for-85) in April....hit 9 homers in May and August...knocked in 25 runs in August...hit 7 homers and drove in 16 runs against the Yankees...hit 6 homers and drove in 12 in only 9 games vs. Seattle...hit 14 homers with 2 strikes against him...batted .289 (54-for-187) with 15 homers and 46 RBI in 51 games batting 3rd and .318 (121-for-380) with 28 homers and 84 RBI in 100 games batting clean-up...led off 14 innings with a home run...had 27 go-ahead RBI, 14 game-tying RBI and 58 RBI with 2 outs.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Hit safely in 9 straight games from April 7-18, hitting .436 (17-for-39)...became the 69th player in major league history to hit 350 homers, stroking a solo homer off Mike Mussina in the 5th inning April 17...was his 30th career homer vs. the Yankees...his 2-run homer off New York's Javier Vazquez gave the Sox their 2-0 win April 25...fell a triple shy of the cycle June 10 vs. San Diego, going 3-for-4 with 3 RBI and 2 runs...stroked 4 hits July 1 at New York, including a pair of homers...went 4-for-5 with 2 homers and 5 RBI July 10 vs. Texas...his 26 homers before the All-Star Break matched his career high (2001)...either scored or knocked in a run in 9 straight starts in his final 9 games before the All-Star Break, with 18 RBI and 9 runs scored in that span...had an RBI in 6 straight starts (14 RBI total) before the Break...August 20 in Chicago, touched Mark Buehrle for his 16th career grand slam, his first since September 11, 2002 at Tampa Bay...had 11 RBI in 3 games at the White Sox August 20-22...scored a season-high 3 runs August 25 at Toronto...slugged a pair of homers in Boston's 10-7 win over Anaheim August 31...scored a run in 6 straight games from August 25-September 1 (10

SUMMARY: Slammed a team-leading 37 homers, drove in 104 runs, scored 117 and ranked 2nd in the league with a .325 batting average in a career-high 154 games...voted to start the All-Star Game, he led the A.L. with a .427 on-base percentage, aided by a career-high 97 bases on balls...was intentionally walked a league-high 28 times, most ever by a Red Sox right-handed hitter...finished 6th in A.L. MVP voting, his 6th straight top 10 finish...won his 6th A.L. Silver Slugger Award, his 5th in a row.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: Led the American League with a .427 on-base percentage, his 2nd straight OBP crown, and 28 intentional walks...reached base 290 times, 2nd to only Toronto's Carlos Delgado (300) in the A.L...after winning the 2002 batting title, was 2nd in batting at .325, one point behind teammate Bill Mueller...his 117 runs scored and .587 slugging percentage were both 4th-best in the league...trailed only Delgado in the A.L. with a 1.014 OPS (on-base percentage + slugging percentage)...his 97 walks were 5th in the league, while his 37 homers were 7th in the A.L...ranked 8th in the A.L. with 334 total bases and 9th with a career-high 185 hits...led the league with a .385 average vs. lefthanders...was 7th in the league with an average of one homer every 15.4 at-bats...grounded into 22 double plays, 3rd-most in the league.

SEEING STARS: Although he did not attend to rest a tender hamstring, Manny was named to his 7th career All-Star team, voted to start for the 5th year in a row, including all 3 seasons with the Red Sox.

ANYTHING YOU CAN DO...: The combo of Manny and David Ortiz homered in the same game 9 times in 2003, as did the combo of Manny and Trot Nixon...only 4 Sox tandems have homered in the same game more often in a season:

ANYTIME, ANYPLACE: Ramirez ranked among American League leaders in batting average during the day (tied for 6th at .321) and at night (5th at .327), at home (7th at .331) and on the road (tied for 7th at .320)...he hit .326 with the bases empty and .325 with men on...hit .338 with runners in scoring position and .370 with men in scoring position and 2 outs.

I MEANT TO DO THAT: Led the A.L. with 28 intentional walks, 5 shy of the Boston and A.L. record of 33, set by Ted Williams in 1957 and matched by John Olerud of the Blue Jays in 1993...Ramirez's total was a career high and most ever by a Red Sox right-handed hitter.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had 23 go-ahead RBI, 2nd to only David Ortiz (24) on the club...added 10 game-tying RBI and 41 two-out RBI...had 34 multiple-hit games, including 11 games with 3 hits...drove in 2 or more runs 29 times, including 7 games with 3 RBI and 3 games with 4 RBI...hit .385 with 8 homers vs. lefthanders and .305 with 29 homers vs. righthanders...hit .331 with 18 long balls and 48 RBI at Fenway Park and a team-best .320 with 19 homers and 56 RBI on the road...batted .345 with 28 homers in innings 1-6 and .280 with 9 homers from the 7th inning on.

HEROICS: April 4 at Baltimore, teamed with Nomar Garciaparra on a relay to the plate to gun down Deivi Cruz with the tying run to end an 8-7 win over the Orioles...scored the go-ahead run in a 6-5 win May 10 at Minnesota on an alert base-running play, dashing home from third when Torii Hunter's throw to the infield got away on a fly ball to shallow center...singled home Todd Walker for a walk-off 3-2 win over Houston in 14 innings on June 15, completing a 3-game sweep...hit a game-tying single with 2 outs in the bottom of the 9th July 19 vs. Toronto, and the Sox went on to win in 10...made a sliding catch in the left field corner with 2 outs in the top of the 9th to save a come-from-behind 6-4 win over the Yankees July 27 at Fenway...down 3-2 August 9 vs. Baltimore, hit a game-tying homer in the 6th and the Sox went on to a 6-4 win...with the Sox trailing Oakland 2-1 in the 9th and on the verge of losing 3 of 4, slammed a leadoff homer off Keith Foulke to tie the game...Boston went on to win 4-2 in 10, salvaging a split of the 4-game set.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Tied for 5th in the A.L. with 11 outfield assists, the 2nd-highest total of his career...had 19 with the Indians in 1996...made 4 errors and posted a .982 fielding percentage, playing 128 games (126 starts) in left field.

ETC.: Batted 4th in every game in which he appeared...opened the season by hitting safely in 9 in a row, running his hitting streak over 2 seasons to 22 games...hit .342 (13-for-38) during the season-opening 9-game tear...went 4-for-4 with 2 doubles, a homer and 4 RBI in an 11-4 win in game one of a June 3 twinbill at Pittsburgh...walked a career-high 5 times (twice intentionally) June 12 vs. St. Louis...his lone multi-homer game of 2003 came July 3 at Tampa Bay...July 21 vs. Detroit, went 4-for-4 with a double, a homer and 3 RBI...doubled twice, hit his 30th homer, scored 3 and knocked in 3 in a 14-5 win August 21 vs. Oakland...did not play between August 28 and September 3 due to a severe case of pharyngitis.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Hit .265 (13-for-49) with a double, 3 homers and 7 RBI in 12 post-season games against the Athletics and Yankees...went 4-for-20 (.200) with a homer, 3 RBI and a pair of runs in the ALDS vs. Oakland...after going 1-for-12 in the first 3 games, was 2-for-4 in Game 4 and, in the decisive Game 5, delivered the blast that propelled the Red Sox into the ALCS, a 6th-inning 3-run homer off Barry Zito, snapping a 1-1 tie in an eventual 4-3 win...batted .310 (9-for-29) with a double, 2 homers, 4 RBI and 6 runs in the ALCS...was 4-for-5 with a 5th-inning solo homer off Mike Mussina in the Game 1 win at Yankee Stadium...delivered a 2-run single off Roger Clemens to get the scoring started in Game 3 at Fenway...hit a solo homer leading off the 4th off David Wells in Game 5...doubled in a 3-run 7th and scored twice in the Game 6 win in New York.

YOUR TURN...

Manny Ramirez and David Ortiz set a club record by hitting home runs in the same game 12 times in 2004 after turning the trick 9 times in 2003.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

1999: Earned his first career All-Star start and tied for 3rd in A.L. MVP voting after batting .333 with 44 homers (4th-most in Cleveland history) and a league-leading and career-high 165 RBI...ranked among the top 5 in the league in all 3 Triple Crown categories, first in RBI, 3rd in homers and 5th in batting average...broke Hal Trosky's 1936 club RBI record of 162 RBI September 30 vs. Toronto, when he ran his season total to 164 with a 3-run homer off John Bale...was the first player since Jimmie Foxx in 1938 to top 160 RBI and the first Indian ever with back-to-back seasons of 130 or more RBI...his ratio of 1.12 RBI per game is tied for 10th all-time with Babe Ruth (1931) and Hank Greenberg (1935)...the ratio was baseball's best since Jimmie Foxx's 1.17 in 1938...was named to The Sporting News All-Star team for the 2nd time and was also named to the A.L. Silver Slugger Team for the 2nd time...named Indians Co-Man of the Year after also ranking among league leaders in slugging (first at .663), OPS (first at 1.105), on-base percentage (2nd at .442), extra-base hits (3rd with 81), runs scored (4th with a career-best 131), total bases (4th with 346), times on base (6th with 283), hit by pitches (7th with a career-high 13), sac flies (7th with 9) and walks (9th with 96).

1998: Was named Indians Man of the Year after batting .294 with a career-high 45 home runs (3rd-most in club annals) and 145 RBI in 150 games...finished 6th in A.L. MVP voting and was named to his 2nd All-Star team...ranked among A.L. leaders in homers (3rd), RBI (4th), extra-base hits (4th with a career-high 82), slugging (4th at .599), total bases (8th at 342) and OPS (9th at .976)...joined Frank Howard (1968) as the 2nd player in history to hit 8 homers in a 5-game span September 15-19...the barrage included a 3-homer game September 15 vs. Toronto...toured Japan with a major league All-Star team following the season.

1997: Tied for 4th in the league with a .328 average, slamming 26 homers and driving in 88...his .415 on-base percentage was 6th in the A.L., while his .953 OPS and 184 hits ranked 7th...was 8th with 302 total bases and 9th with 40 doubles...walked 85 times, a career-best that would stand until 2003...hit 3 grand slams.

1996: Topped 30 homers and 100 RBI for the 2nd year in a row, batting .309 with 33 long balls and 112 driven in...tied for the A.L. lead with 3 grand slams, finished 5th with 81 extra-base hits, 6th with a career-best 45 doubles and 9th with 320 total bases...led A.L. outfielders with a career-high 19 assists.

1995: Won his first career Silver Slugger Award and was named to The Sporting News All-Star Team after hitting .308 with 26 doubles, a triple, 31 homers and 107 RBI in 137 games...became just the 25th player in major league history with a 30-homer, 100 RBI season at the age of 23 or younger, just the 2nd Indian (Hal Trosky in 1934 and 1936)...was selected by Buck Showalter as a reserve on the A.L. All-Star team, his first trip to the Mid-Summer Classic...was named A.L. Player of the Month for May after batting .394 (39-for-99) with 8 doubles, 11 homers and 27 RBI...smoked his first career grand slam August 4 vs. Chicago off Jason Bere...Manny and Albert Belle combined for 81 homers, most ever by a pair of Cleveland teammates...signed a 4-year contract with a club option for 2000 on December 7.

1994: Finished 2nd to Kansas City's Bob Hamelin in Rookie of the Year voting after a debut season in which he batted .269 with 17 homers and 60 RBI in 91 games...was named the 3rd-best rookie by Baseball America behind Raul Mondesi of the Dodgers and Hamelin of the Royals...Manny was 2nd among A.L. rookies in almost every offensive category including hits, doubles, home runs and RBI...following the season, played for Aguilas in the Dominican Winter League.

1993: Was named Minor League Player of the Year by Baseball America, combining to hit .333 (163-for-489) with 31 homers and 115 RBI in 129 games with Double-A Canton-Akron and Triple-A Charlotte...Baseball America named him the No. 2 Prospect in the Eastern League...was promoted to Triple-A Charlotte July 19, where his teammates included Jim Thome, Alan Embree and Sam Horn...had his contract purchased by Cleveland September 1, and made his major league debut the next day, going 0-for-4 at Minnesota...in his 2nd game, September 3 at New York, he went 3-for-4 a double, 2 homers, 3 RBI and 3 runs scored...his first big league hit was a double off Melido Perez, and his first homer came off Perez in the same game.

1992: Due to injury, played in only 81 games at Single-A Kinston, where he hit .278 with 13 homers and 63 RBI...was named the No. 3 Prospect and the Most Exciting Player in the Carolina League by Baseball America...collected 47 RBI in 47 games May 1-June 30, including at least one in 7 straight games June 4-10...severely bruised the hamate bone in his left hand on July 4 and appeared in just one more game...was 2nd in the league in RBI at the time of injury...batted .302 (25-for-83) in the Florida Instructional League.

1991: Made his pro debut for Burlington of the Rookie-level Appalachian League...took home league MVP honors and was named short-season Player of the Year by Baseball America...won the league home run and RBI titles, barely missing the Triple Crown when he finished 3rd in batting at .326...slugged 19 homers and knocked in 63 in 59 games...also led the league in slugging (.679) and total bases (146)...won Howe SportsData Minor League Player of the Week recognition for the week of August 11-17 after homering in 4 straight games.

CAREER NOTES

THE TOP 'STOP: Over the last 3 seasons, owns baseball's best batting average as a shortstop at .307 (minimum 1,000 plate appearances at shortstop)...in that span, his 119 doubles rank 2nd among shortstops...his 72 stolen bases rank 3rd, and his 254 RBI are 4th.

AWARDS AND HONORS: In 2004, Edgar was named to his 4th N.L. All-Star team, voted to start by fans for the 2nd straight season...he was named a reserve in 2000 with St. Louis and 1998 with Florida, when he became the first Colombian to play in an All-Star Game...he is a 3-time winner of the Silver Slugger award (2000, 2002, 2003), and is a 2-time Rawlings Gold Glove Award recipient (2002, 2003)...he is the only shortstop in Cardinals history to twice win the Silver Slugger and Gold Glove in the same season.

A YEAR TO REMEMBER: Enjoyed his finest season in 2003, establishing career highs with a .330 average, 194 hits, 47 doubles, 100 RBI, 65 walks, 96 runs, a .394 on-base percentage and a .480 slugging percentage...added 13 homers and 34 steals...the 100 RBI were most ever by a Cards shortstop...fell 6 hits shy of joining Honus Wagner (1908) as the 2nd N.L. shortstop with 200 hits and 100 RBI in a season.

AN OCTOBER HERO: In 1997 at the age of 22 and making the first of his 5 career post-season appearances, forever became a part of World Series history with an RBI single that scored Craig Counsell in the bottom of the 11th inning of Game 7, lifting Florida past Cleveland for the World Championship...it was just the 3rd World Series-winning walk-off hit in baseball history (Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski homered to end the 1960 World Series vs. the Yankees, and Toronto's Joe Carter homered to end the 1993 World Series vs. Philadelphia)...batted .333 (5-for-15) with 3 doubles and an RBI for the Cardinals in the 2004 World Series against the Red Sox, grounding to pitcher Keith Foulke for the final out of Boston's series-clinching Game 4 victory.

2.86 ERA (16 ER/50.1 IP) in 7 starts against playoff teams New York (2-0, 4.82), Minnesota (1-0, 1.29), Anaheim (2-0, 2.30) and Atlanta (1-0, 1.00).

ABOVE AVERAGE: Opponents hit just .239 (206-for-861), 4th-best in the league...lefties batted .238 (110-for-462) with 6 homers...righthanders hit .241 (96-for-399) with 17 long balls...held the opposition to a .217 average (81-for-373) after the All-Star break...limited foes to a .271 on-base percentage (2nd in the A.L. to only Minnesota's Johan Santana at .249) and a .387 slugging percentage (5th in the A.L.).

STOPPER: Went 10-3 with a 2.86 ERA (34 ER/107.0 IP) in 15 starts after a Boston loss...in his last 8 starts after a Sox setback, went 7-0 with a 2.05 ERA (14 ER/61.1 IP).

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE: Led the American League and tied Houston's Roger Clemens for the major league lead with 12 home wins...finished 12-1 with a 3.45 ERA (49 ER/127.2 IP) in 18 starts at Fenway Park and 9-5 with a 3.00 ERA (33 ER/99.0 IP) in 14 starts on the road...finished 4th in the A.L. in road ERA...opponents hit .238 (116-for-488) with 15 homers at Fenway and .241 (90-for-373) with 8 long balls on the road.

HE COULD GO ALL THE WAY: Led the staff and tied for 5th in the A.L. with 3 complete games...allowed a run on 5 hits, walked none and fanned 8 May 8 vs. Kansas City...gave up just a run on 6 hits, walked one and registered 10 K's July 3 at Atlanta...went the distance August 3 at Tampa Bay, surrendering 2 runs on 6 hits with a walk and 7 punch outs...worked at least 7.0 innings in 23 of his 32 starts, at least 8.0 in 8.

ANY TIME, ANY PLACE: Was remarkably consistent with a 3.45 ERA at home and a 3.00 mark (4th-best in the A.L.) on the road...was 7-0 with a 2.71 ERA during the day (the 2nd-best ERA in the league) and 14-6 with a 3.48 ERA at night (tied for 5th in the A.L.)...was 11-4 with a 3.16 ERA before the All-Star break and 10-2 with a 3.38 ERA after the break.

DOWN BY WAY OF THE K: Struck out 203 in 226.2 innings, an average of 8.1 K's per 9 innings...with Pedro Martinez (227 K's), gave the Red Sox their first pair of 200-strikeout pitchers ever...fanned 10 or more 4 times, running his career double-digit strikeout game total to 90...that's 4th-most among active pitchers behind only Randy Johnson, Roger Clemens and Martinez...fanned a team season-high 14 September 21 vs. Baltimore...the last Red Sox to fan as many as 14 was Pedro, who punched out 14 Blue Jays July 1, 2002 at Fenway...ran his career strikeout total to 2,745, 18th in major league history and 4th among active pitchers behind only Randy Johnson, Roger Clemens and Greg Maddux.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Issued only 35 walks in 226.2 innings, an average of 1.4 per 9 innings, the 3rd-best ratio in the league...did not issue a walk in 13 of his 32 starts and walked one or none in 22...walked more than 2 only 3 times, never surrendering more than 4 bases on balls in a start...did not walk a batter over 5 consecutive starts (36.1 IP) August 20-September 10.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Finished 8-4 with a 3.84 ERA (51 ER/119.2 IP) in 17 starts when pitching on regular 4-day rest and 13-2 with a 2.61 ERA (31 ER/107.0 IP) in 15 starts when pitching on 5 or more days rest...finished 1-2 with a 5.00 ERA (15 ER/27.9 IP) in 4 starts against Toronto and 20-4 with a 3.02 ERA (67 ER/199.2) against all other foes...the Jays hit .306 (34-for-111)...everyone else hit .229 (172-for-750)...beat 14 teams at least once and 5 times 2 or more times...earned 4 wins in 5 starts against Tampa Bay...opponents were 6-for-7 in stolen base attempts...threw a total of 3,412 pitches, an average of 15.1 per inning...his average of 106.6 pitches per game was 2nd to only Oakland's Barry Zito in the A.L...induced 12 ground-ball double plays.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: In addition to his season-ending 8-game winning streak, longest by a Red Sox pitcher in 2004, won 4 in a row twice: May 19-June 10 and June 22-July 18...fanned a team season-high 14 in a no-decision September 21 vs. Baltimore...worked 8.0 scoreless innings, allowing 3 hits and one walk...left with a 1-0 lead after 8, but Baltimore scored twice in the 9th...the Sox won it in the bottom of the inning on a 2-run single by Mark Bellhorn.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Pitching with a detached tendon in his right ankle--that would require off-season surgery--went 3-1 with a 3.57 ERA (9 ER/22.2 IP) in 4 post-season starts to help the Sox to the World Series championship...was a 9-3 winner in Game 1 of the ALDS at Anaheim, allowing 3 runs (2 earned) on 9 hits in 6.0 innings...walked 2, fanned 7 and allowed solo homers by Troy Glaus and Darin Erstad...bothered by the ankle, dropped a 10-7 decision in Game 1 of the ALCS at Yankee Stadium...was roughed up for 6 runs on 6 hits in 3.0 innings, walking 2 and striking out 1...after having the tendon sutured to the ankle bone, returned to dominate the Yankees in Game 6, a 4-2 win...surrendered only one run on 4 hits in 7.0 innings...walked none and fanned 4...gave the Sox a 2-0 lead in the World Series with a 6-2 win over the Cardinals in Game 2 at Fenway...allowed one unearned run on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, walking one and striking out 4...again, had the tendon sutured to his ankle the day before pitching...had the ankle surgically repaired November 8 in a procedure performed by Dr. George Theodore.

SUMMARY: In his final season with Arizona, overcame a host of injuries to post a 2.95 ERA, 5th-best in the N.L. and Schilling's lowest since 1992, his first season as a major league starter...finished 8-9, striking out 194 (5th in the N.L.) and walking only 32 in 168.0 innings...ranked among N.L. leaders in ERA (5th at 2.95), strikeouts (5th with 194), strikeouts per 9 innings (tied for 2nd with 10.4), walks per 9 innings (2nd with 1.7) and opponents batting average (8th at .230)...the perennial workhorse was limited to 24 starts by a pair of D.L. stints due to an appendectomy that sidelined him for 15 days in April and a fractured bone in his right hand that sidelined him May 31-July 11...he returned to post a 2.67 ERA over his final 13 starts despite pitching through a bone bruise on his left knee, right hamstring and groin problems and a cervical strain in his neck during the season's final 2 months...threw 3 complete games and 2 shutouts...went 7-3 with a 2.18 ERA in 12 road starts, posting the 3rd-best road ERA in the majors...was 1-6 with a 3.69 ERA in 12 starts at home.

IN MEDICAL NEWS...: Was admitted to Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St. Louis April 19 and underwent an appendectomy...was on the D.L. April 18-May 2, missing 14 games...went 3-1 with a 1.40 ERA (6 ER/38.2 IP) in 5 starts upon his return heading into a May 30 outing in San Diego...having worked 6.2 innings of 4-hit shutout ball, he was struck on the right hand by a 7th-inning line drive off the bat of Sean Burroughs...the shot fractured the 3rd and 4th metacarpals in his right hand (it was actually the 2nd time Curt was hit in the game, as Ramon Vazquez lined the first pitch of the night off of Schilling's hand)...returned to the D.L. May 31-July 11, missing 38 games...Curt's left knee locked up in the 8th inning of his August 17 start at Atlanta...a precautionary MRI revealed a bone bruise, which did not prevent him from making his next start...September 1 vs. San Francisco, he tweaked his right hamstring and groin but remained in the game...he developed stiffness in his neck and shoulder during his next start September 6 at San Francisco and missed his September 11 start vs. Los Angeles with a cervical strain in his neck.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: After starting 0-2, Schilling earned his first win with a complete-game 4-hitter April 17 vs. Colorado...walked none and rang up 10 K's while pitching with symptoms that wound up being appendicitis, which would sideline him April 18-May 2...was 1-2 with a 5.01 ERA through 5 starts before tossing consecutive shutouts May 9 at Pittsburgh and May 14 at Philadelphia...in the Pirates gem, a 5-0 win, surrendered 4 hits, walked none and fanned 10...5 days later, pitching at Veteran's Stadium for the final time, he threw a 2-hitter for a 2-0 win...walked none and struck out a season-high 14...the back-to-back shutouts gave Schilling 20.0 consecutive scoreless innings from May 3-19, the longest run by an Arizona starter in 2003...had last thrown 2 straight shutouts July 22 and July 27, 1992 with the Phillies...on the D.L. May 31-July 11, he made a pair of rehab starts for Triple-A Tucson before returning July 12 vs. San Francisco, his final start before the All-Star break...posted a 1.26 ERA in his first 7 starts after the break (July 17-August 17), but went just 3-2 as the D-Backs scored 3 runs or less in 6 of those games...posted consecutive 2-0 victories August 12 at Cincinnati and August 17 at Atlanta...threw 7.0 shutout innings with 11 K's against the Reds in his first start at Great American Ballpark...5 days later, hurled 8.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball, striking out 12, to out-duel Greg Maddux...Curt's left knee locked up between pitches in the 8th inning, but he finished the inning...a precautionary MRI revealed a bone bruise, which did not prevent him from making his next start August 22 against the Cubs, when he matched his season-high with 14 strikeouts over 8.0 innings but lost 4-1...September 1, he blanked the Giants over 8.0 innings on 5 hits with 10 K's, though he tweaked his right hamstring and groin during the start but remained in the game...he developed stiffness in his neck and shoulder during his next start September 6 at San Francisco, when he allowed 4 runs on 6 hits in 6.0 innings in a no-decision...he missed his September 11 start vs. Los Angeles with a cervical strain in his neck, then returned to action September 16 and recorded his 8th win, limiting the Dodgers to a run on 8 hits over 7.0 innings...he was a 6-4 loser September 20 in Milwaukee in what would be his final appearance with Arizona...after the D-Backs were eliminated from the division race, Curt was scratched from his final scheduled start due to the injuries that plagued him over the season's final month.

SUMMARY: Went 23-7 with a 3.23 ERA in 36 games (35 starts)...finished 2nd to Randy Johnson in N.L. Cy Young voting and placed 10th in MVP balloting for the 2nd year in a row...was named to his 5th All-Star team, selected to start his 2nd All-Star Game...for the 2nd straight year, took home N.L. Pitcher of the Year honors from The Sporting News.

TAKE ME TO YOUR LEADER: Ranked among N.L. leaders with 1.15 walks per 9 innings (first), a career-best 23 wins (2nd), 10.97 K's per 9 innings (2nd), 259.1 innings (2nd), 35 starts (2nd), 5 complete games (3rd), a .767 winning percentage (3rd) and a 3.23 ERA (10th).

THAT'S A WINNER: With 23 wins in 2002 and 22 in 2001, Schilling's total of 45 wins over the 2 seasons matched teammate Randy Johnson for most in consecutive seasons by any hurler since Baltimore's Jim Palmer won 45 games in 1975-76, most in the N.L. since Steve Carlton won 47 games for the Phillies in 1971-72...since the institution of divisional play in 1969, Schilling joined Palmer, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Wilbur Wood, Mickey Lolich, Fergie Jenkins and Mike Cuellar as the only hurlers to win at least 22 in consecutive seasons.

ALL-STAR STARTER: Started his 2nd career All-Star Game (also 1999 at Fenway Park)...allowed one hit, walked none and fanned 3 in 2.0 scoreless innings in the July 9 Mid-Summer Classic at Miller Park in Milwaukee...the lone hit he allowed was a one-out single in the 2nd on an 0-2 pitch by Boston's Manny Ramirez.

300 K'S: With 313 strikeouts, topped 300 for the 3rd time in his career (also 1997 and 1998)...in major league history, only all-time strikeout king Nolan Ryan (6) and Randy Johnson (6) have more 300-K campaigns...Sandy Koufax also had 3...Schilling and Johnson became the first teammates in history to each record 300 strikeouts in the same season...Schilling hit the milestone when he fanned Milwaukee's Jorge Fabregas on September 15...he finished with the 2nd-highest strikeout total in the majors at 316, 99 more than the nearest N.L. hurler (Kerry Wood) and 77 ahead of A.L. leader Pedro Martinez.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Schilling finished the year the M.L. leader in walks per 9 innings (1.15), surrendering only 33 free passes in 259.1 innings...through August 21, the day of his 21st victory, Schilling had surrendered only 20 walks all year...his walk total finally surpassed his win total when he issued 3 bases on balls August 26 at Los Angeles...finished with 32 starts in which he walked 2 or fewer, including 15 with no walks.

QUICK START: Opened the season 12-1 with a 2.79 ERA through 14 starts, walking only 10 in his first 103.2 innings...he issued only 8 free passes through his first 103.1 innings, but on June 8 in Boston he walked 2 in the 8th inning, starting with a free pass to Johnny Damon to snap a streak of 44.0 consecutive innings (165 batters) without a walk.

9 IN A ROW: With a 3-2 win over Pedro Martinez June 8 at Fenway Park, Schilling had a career-best 9-game winning streak...posted a 2.78 ERA (23 ER/74.1 IP) during the 10-start tear, which began April 23 at Atlanta...lost consecutive starts after his June 8 win, then ran off 6 straight wins June 30-July 27.

MORE 2002 HIGHLIGHTS: Hurlled his 2nd career one-hitter in his 2nd start April 7 in Milwaukee...established a single-game personal best with 17 K's in the game...the lone hit he allowed in the 2-0 victory was a 3rd-inning single by Raul Casanova...posted a 5-0 record and a 2.80 ERA (14 ER/45.0 IP) in 6 starts in May...walked only 2 and struck out 62 in 45.0 May innings to earn the N.L. Pitcher of the Month recognition, the 3rd time in 4 years he had won the league's May honor...was again named N.L. Pitcher of the Month in July, when he went 5-0 with a 1.64 ERA (7 ER/38.1 IP) in 5 starts, walking 5 and punching out 37 in 38.1 innings...started a 6-game winning streak with a complete-game 5-hitter in a 5-2 win June 30 at Cleveland...the win also began a stretch in which he went 11-2 with a 2.16 ERA June 30-September 10...his ERA stood at 2.76 on September 10, but he went 0-2 with a 7.77 ERA (21 ER/24.1 IP) in his last 4 games (3 starts)...his final appearance of the season was a one-inning relief outing September 29 vs. Colorado, his first bullpen appearance since May 13, 1992 with Philadelphia...had made 308 straight starts.

NUMBERS, PLEASE: Recorded 14 double-digit strikeout games...was 6-2 in 9 starts after an Arizona loss after going 13-1 following a setback in 2001...went 11-2 in 14 starts against the N.L. West...offensively, Schilling established a career high with 15 hits, eclipsing his previous best of 14 with Philadelphia in 1997.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started Game 2 of the NLDS vs. St. Louis, allowing a run on 7 hits with a walk and 7 strikeouts...left the duel with Chuck Finley trailing 1-0...the D-Backs tied the game in the 8th, but St. Louis rallied for a run in the 9th and held on for a 2-1 win.

SUMMARY: Capped a remarkable season by sharing World Series MVP honors with Randy Johnson as the tandem pitched the Diamondbacks past the Yankees to the world championship...went 22-6 with a 2.98 ERA and 6 complete games in 35 starts...fanned 293 and walked only 39 in 256.2 innings...finished 2nd to Johnson in N.L. Cy Young voting and came in 10th in the N.L. MVP vote...an All-Star for the 4th time, Curt led the league in wins (tied with Matt Morris), starts, complete games and innings, ranked 2nd in ERA, strikeouts, walks per 9 innings (1.37) and winning percentage (.786) and finished 3rd in strikeouts per 9 innings (10.27)...the D-Backs were 27-8 in his starts...went 13-1 with a 1.72 ERA when starting the day after an Arizona loss...was 11-1 vs. the N.L. West.

AND THE WINNER IS...: Was lauded extensively for his achievements on and off the field in 2001...won the Roberto Clemente Award, presented by John Hancock...shared Sports Illustrated Sportsman of the Year honors with teammate Randy Johnson...Curt was also named 2001 Man of the Year by The Sporting News, only the 5th pitcher to win the award joining Denny McLain in 1968, Tom Seaver in 1969, Ron Guidry in 1978 and Nolan Ryan in 1990...also won Denver's Branch Rickey Award, the Hutch Award and the Jim "Catfish" Hunter Award for combination of excellence on the field and devotion to community service.

DYNAMIC DUO: Finished 2nd to teammate Randy Johnson in N.L. Cy Young balloting, the first time since 1956 that starting pitchers from the same club finished 1-2...Schilling fanned 293 and Johnson punched out 372, as the duo combined for a major league record 665 K's to break the mark previously held by Nolan Ryan and Bill Singer, who totaled 624 for the 1973 Angels...it was also the first time a pair of teammates ranked 1-2 in strikeouts since Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser turned the trick with the 1944 Detroit Tigers.

SEEING STARS: Schilling was named to start the All-Star Game, but passed the honor to Randy Johnson after pitching at home against Oakland just 2 days prior to the Mid-Summer Classic...although he did not pitch in the game at Safeco Field in Seattle, it was the 4th time 5 years Schilling had been named to the National League squad.

MORE 2001 HIGHLIGHTS: Was 10-1 with a 2.60 ERA through 13 starts...April 10 vs. Los Angeles, tossed the first complete-game 2-hitter in team history...needed only 1 hour, 53 minutes to post a 2-0 win over Kevin Brown...walked none and fanned 10...earned his first 2 career N.L. Player of the Week honors...tossed back-to-back complete games against the Giants May 21 and Padres May 26 to earn the weekly award...in the win in San Diego, Schilling had a perfect game for 7.1 innings before Ben Davis broke up the bid with a bunt single...was again named Player of the Week for his work at home against Montreal on July 31 and the Mets on August 5, when he allowed only 2 earned runs in 17.0 innings with 21 K's...was named N.L. Pitcher of the Month for May, after going 5-1 with a 2.35 ERA...rang up his 2,000th strikeout September 18 at Denver, punching out Juan Uribe.

NUMBERS GAME: Worked at least 7.0 innings in 29 of his 35 starts...one of the outings in which he didn't get to the 7th was when an electrical box exploded in the top of the 3rd July 18 in San Diego, shutting down a bank of lights and forcing the game to be suspended until the next day when Randy Johnson picked it up and completed a combined one-hitter for a 3-0 win...was tagged for a career-high 37 home runs, 31 of which were solo shots...a Barry Bonds grand slam on July 26 snapped a streak of 19 consecutive solos allowed, the longest streak in major league history, 2 more than Jose Rijo (1993) and Mark Leiter (1995).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Helped the D-Backs to the World Championship, finishing 4-0 with a 1.12 ERA in 6 post-season starts...allowed 6 earned runs in a post-season record 48.1 innings pitched...also established major league post-season records for starts (6) and strikeouts (56) while his 3 complete games tied the record...fired a 3-hitter for a 1-0 win over St. Louis in Game 1 of the NLDS...it was his 2nd consecutive post-season complete game shutout going back to the 1993 World Series, when he blanked Toronto on a 5-hitter in Game 5 as a Phillie...it was also the first 1-0 complete game win in Division Series history and the first in any post-season series since Jack Morris' Game 7 win for the Twins over Atlanta in the 1991 World 72 walks and 26 K's in the series...cruised to a 9-1 win in Game 1, allowing a run on 3 hits over 7.0 innings, extending his personal post-season winning streak to 5 consecutive starts dating to Game 5 of the 1993 World Series...then worked 7.0 innings in Game 4 at Yankee Stadium, leaving the contest with a 3-1 advantage after allowing only 3 hits and a walk with 9 K's...the Yanks rebounded to win 4-3 in 10 innings...Curt took the ball in Game 7 and entered the 8th inning in a 1-1 deadlock, but Alfonso Soriano staked New York to a short-lived 2-1 lead with a one-out homer that ended Schilling's night...the D-Backs scored twice in the 9th off of Mariano Rivera to win 3-2.

2000: Began the year on the D.L. recovering from off-season arthroscopic surgery on his right shoulder and ended the year a Diamondback, traded to Arizona July 26 for first baseman Travis Lee, lefty Omar Daal, righty Nelson Figueroa and righthander Vicente Padilla...between the 2 stops, went 11-12 with a 3.81 ERA in 29 starts, throwing 8 complete games and a pair of shutouts...fanned 168 and walked only 45, an average of 1.93 walks per 9 innings, 5th-fewest in the N.L...recorded his 100th career win in his 2nd start of the year, a 6-0 win May 6 in Atlanta...his last start as a Phillie was a complete-game 3-hitter in a 4-1 win July 23 at Pittsburgh...it was his 2nd complete game in 3 starts and occurred in a stretch in which he went the distance in 6 of 9 starts, 4 of them with Arizona...made his Diamondbacks debut July 28 at Florida, scattering 6 hits over 8.0 innings in a 4-1 win...his 11-2 win over the Cubs on August 18 climaxed an 11-start stretch in which Schilling went 8-3 with a 1.90 ERA (19 ER/90.0 IP)...he was involved in the decision in 17 of his last 19 starts, including 15 consecutive decisions (8-7) June 27-September 7.

1999: Despite missing the last 2 months of the season with shoulder problems, finished 15-6 with a 3.54 ERA in 24 starts for the Phillies...ranked 2nd in the N.L. with 8 complete games, was 5th with a .714 winning percentage and a .237 opponents average, 7th with a 3.54 ERA, 8 with 2.2 walks allowed per 9 innings and 10th with 7.6 K's per 9 innings...made only 5 starts after the All-Star break yet led the Phillies in complete games and strikeouts (152), tied for the team lead in wins and ranked 2nd in innings pitched (180.1)...made his 5th Opening Day start for the Phils, his 3rd in a row, most by a Philadelphia righthander since Robin Roberts started 12 in a row from 1950-61...threw 5 consecutive complete games May 7-29, going 3-1 with a 2.22 ERA (11 ER/44.2 IP)...joined Tommy Greene of the 1993 Phillies and Pat Hentgen of the 1996 Blue Jays as one of only 3 pitchers in the 1990's to turn the trick...was named N.L. Pitcher of the Month for May, finishing the month, 5-1 with a 2.42 ERA in 6 starts...recorded his 1,500th career strikeout June 3 vs. San Francisco, fanning Rich Aurilia...his 13 wins before the break were the most by a Phillie since Steve Carlton won 14 in the first half in 1980...was chosen by N.L. manager Bruce Bochy to start the All-Game at Fenway Park, his 3rd straight All-Star selection...starting against Pedro Martinez, took the loss, allowing 2 runs on 3 hits and a walk, while striking out 3 in 2.0 innings...missed his July 28 start vs. Florida with tendinitis in his right biceps, his first missed start since May 14, 1996, a streak of 117 consecutive starts...lost 8-2

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARDPresented by John Hancock

Curt Schilling was the 2001 Recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award presented by John Hancock.

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award, sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball club. These local winners are announced in September on Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre-game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Jamie Moyer; Jim Thome; Curt Schilling; Al Leiter; Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

John Hancock Financial Services, a company that has long recognized its obligation to the community, is a proud sponsor of Major League Baseball and the Roberto Clemente Award.

to Arizona August 7, then went on the D.L. with inflammation in his right shoulder...was activated September 3, beating the Reds 10-2 that day...next time out, dropped a 10-2 decision September 8 vs. Houston...fanned just one, his fewest since April 24, 1994, and was shut down for the remainder of the season...underwent an anterior thermal capsular reduction and posterior capsule release on his right shoulder on December 13...the arthroscopic procedure was performed by Dr. Craig Morgan.

1998: Went 15-14 with a 3.25 ERA in 35 starts, named to his 2nd straight All-Star team...led the majors in complete games (15) and innings (a career-high 268.2), and topped the N.L. in strikeouts (300)...at the time he was just the 5th pitcher in M.L. history to fan 300 in back-to-back seasons joining J.R. Richard, Nolan Ryan, Sandy Koufax and Rube Waddell...Randy Johnson has since fanned 300 in a major league-record 5 straight seasons...Schilling's complete game total marked the most by a Phillie since Steve Carlton went the route 19 times in 1982...they were the most by a Philadelphia righthander since former Red Sox Jim Lonborg's 16 in 1974...Curt fanned a season-high 15 April 15 at Atlanta...his 300th and final strikeout victim was Florida's Kevin Orie on September 26...pitched for the major league All-Star team that toured Japan after the season.

1997: Earned his first All-Star selection and finished 4th in N.L. Cy Young voting...went 17-11 with a 2.97 ERA in 35 starts, tied for most in the league...led the majors with 319 strikeouts, most ever by an N.L. righthander...broke J.R. Richard's mark of 313 when he fanned Devon White September 26 at Florida...shattered Steve Carlton's club record of 310 K's by ringing up Sammy Sosa September 21 at Chicago...recorded 17 double-digit strikeout games, and set a then single-game best with 16 K's September 1 vs. the Yankees...ranked among league leaders in starts (first), K's per 9 innings (2nd with 11.29), innings pitched (3rd with 254.1), complete games (3rd), walks per 9 innings (4th with 2.05), wins (5th), winning percentage (5th at .714), hits per 9 innings (5th with 7.36) and ERA (9th)...he was the Phillies' Opening Day starter for the 3rd time and earned his first season-opening win, combining with Ricky Bottalico on a 3-0 victory at Los Angeles, the Phillies first season-opening shutout since 1984...fanned 3 in 2.0 shutout innings in his All-Star debut at Cleveland...stole the first base of his career on August 22 vs. the Dodgers.

1996: Began the year on the D.L. as he recovered from the previous season's right shoulder surgery...made 4 minor league rehab starts before debuting for the Phils May 14 vs. the Giants...worked 7.0 innings of 5-hit shutout ball in the 7-0 win...despite missing 6 weeks, he went on to lead the league with 8 complete games, including a pair of shutouts...finished 9-10 with a 3.19 ERA in 26 starts...he drove in a career-high 3 runs on July 4 vs. Florida...struck out 7 consecutive batters August 26 at San Francisco, the first pitcher to do so since Roger Clemens (1992)...in all, chalked up 182 K's in 183.1 innings of work.

1995: Had his 2nd straight season cut short by injury, going 7-5 with a 3.57 ERA in 17 starts...was 4-0 with a 2.69 ERA through his first 9 starts before suffering his first loss on June 13...was among the N.L. leaders in innings, strikeouts and average against when he missed his July 23 start due to tendinitis and inflammation in his right shoulder...received a cortisone injection from Dr. Craig Morgan August 4, but the discomfort continued...underwent season-ending arthroscopic surgery performed by Dr. Morgan August 23 to repair a superior labral tear and an anterior posterior (SLAP) lesion and clean up some fraying of the rotator cuff and removing a bone spur from the right shoulder.

1994: Was limited to 13 starts in an injury-plagued and strike-shortened season, finishing 2-8 with a 4.48 ERA...made his first career Opening Day start for the Phillies and began the year 0-7 with a 5.40 ERA through 9 starts, his longest career losing streak...at that point, went on the D.L. for the first time in his career May 16-July 25 with a tender right elbow...had a bone spur removed from the elbow May 20...his injury troubles continued when he had surgery on his left knee June 10 after a freak incident when the knee popped as he got up from a seated position...went 2-1 with a 2.63 ERA (8 ER/27.1 IP) in his final 4 starts.

1993: Helped the Phillies to the National League pennant, finishing 16-7 with a 4.02 ERA in 34 starts...tied for 2nd in the N.L. with 7 complete games...was 4th in the league with 186 strikeouts, 6th with 235.1 innings pitched, 7th with 34 starts and 8th with 16 victories...was the club's Player of the Month in April (4-1 with a 2.54 ERA) and September (4-1 with a 3.47 ERA)...started Game 1 of the NLCS against the Braves and set a record by fanning the first 5 batters he faced...did not figure in the decision in what would be a 10-inning 4-3 win for the Phils...got another no-decision in Game 5, yet wound up the series MVP without earning a win...in his 2 starts, threw 16.0 innings, posting a 1.69 ERA while striking out 19...he started 2 games in the World Series against the Blue Jays, losing Game 1 8-5...allowed 7 runs (6 earned) on 8 hits in 6.1 innings...rebounded to throw a 5-hit shutout for a 2-0 win in Game 5...walked 3 and punched out 6.

1992: Went to spring training with Houston, but was traded to the Phillies April 2...went 14-11 with 2 saves and a career-best 2.35 ERA in 42 games (26 starts)...led the major leagues with a .201 opponents average allowed, while ranking 2nd in the N.L. in complete games (10), tied for 3rd in shutouts (4) and 4th in ERA...his 2.35 mark was the lowest ERA by a Phillies righthander since Jim Bunning's registered a 2.29 mark in 1967...after starting the year with 16 relief appearances (2-2 with 2 saves and a 2.86 ERA), Curt earned a 4-3 win in his first start since 1989, beating the Astros May 19 at the Vet...allowed just 3 hits in 6.0 shutout innings...tossed his first career shutout June 8, a 3-hitter over Pittsburgh...fired back-to-back shutouts July 22 vs. San Diego and July 27 vs. the Mets, part of a 29.0-inning scoreless streak July 22-August 1...fired a one-hitter September 9 vs. the Mets, beating Sid Fernandez 2-1...the lone hit was a Bobby Bonilla solo homer on a 3-2 pitch leading off the 5th...Schilling walked none and fanned 8...only one other Met reached: Chico Walker was awarded first on catcher's interference with 2 outs in the 4th.

1991: Traded by Baltimore to Houston January 10, Curt worked exclusively in relief for the Astros, appearing in 56 games and 13 more with Triple-A Tucson...posted a career-best 8 saves for the Astros, opening the year as closer...converted 5 of his first 6 chances, then struggled in May and June and was optioned to Tucson June 26...at the time he was sent out, was 3-5 with 5 saves and a 4.86 ERA in 28 games...was recalled August 2 and pitched in 28 games the rest of the way, posting 3 saves and a 2.98 ERA (14 ER/42.1 IP).

1990: Was 4-4 with a 3.92 ERA in 15 games (14 starts) Triple-A Rochester, when he was recalled by the Orioles on June 29...made 35 relief appearances for Baltimore, going 1-2 with 3 saves and a 2.54 ERA...earned his first major league save June 29 vs. Minnesota and his first win July 11 vs. Kansas City...did not allow a run in 20 of his first 23 outings, posting a 1.27 ERA...had a stretch of 20.0 consecutive scoreless innings July 27-September 4...was 1-0 with 2 saves and a 1.31 ERA through August before going 0-2 with a save and 6.17 ERA in 13 September outings.

1989: Spent most of the season at Triple-A Rochester, where he led the International League in innings pitched (185.1), while tying for the top spot in wins (13), starts (27), complete games (9) and shutouts (3) for the Red Wings...earned a September recall, and went 0-1 with a 6.23 ERA in 5 outings (one start) for the Orioles.

1988: Started 8-5 with a 2.97 ERA in 21 games (17 starts) with Double-A New Britain, but was traded to the Orioles July 30...went 5-2 with a 3.18 ERA with Double-A Charlotte to earn his first major league promotion...debuted with a no decision in a 4-3 win September 7 vs. Boston...starting against Bruce Hurst at the old Memorial Stadium, allowed 3 runs on 6 hits in 7.0 innings, walking 5 and striking out 2...had a 1-0 lead into the 4th, when he allowed a solo homer to Ellis Burks with 2 outs...gave up 2 more runs in the 5th on a Dwight Evans double...lost his next 3 starts, posting a 15.25 ERA (13 ER/7.2 IP).

1987: Went 8-15 with a 3.82 ERA in 29 games (28 starts) for Single-A Greensboro...led the league with 189 K's in 184.0 innings...was 4th with 7 complete games...fired 3 shutouts.

1986: Signed by the Red Sox as a 2nd-round pick in the January draft, Schilling debuted with Elmira of the short-season Single-A New York-Penn League...led the club with a 2.59 ERA in 16 games (15 starts)...finished 7-3 with 2 complete games and a shutout.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, finished 6-4 with 2 saves, 17 holds and a 3.55 ERA in a team-high 72 appearances, which matched his career high for the 2nd straight season and tied for 8th in the league...his 83.2 relief innings were 3rd-most in his career (108.1 in 1991 and 96.2 in 2002) and ranked 7th in the A.L...Timlin's 65 strikeouts in 83.2 innings were his most since striking out a career-best 85 in 108.1 innings as a Blue Jays rookie 1991...allowed no runs in 52 of his outings, and gave up one run or less in 64 of his 72 outings...allowed 8 earned runs in his first 9 appearances (14.2 innings) of the season for a 4.91 ERA, then posted a 3.26 ERA (25 ER/69.0 IP) in his final 63 outings of the season beginning April 27.

BUSY MAN: Timlin's 72 outings mark the 8th-highest single-season total in club history (8 fewer than Greg Harris' 1993 Red Sox record), 3rd-most by a pitcher in his first season with the team...only Heathcliff Slocumb (76 appearances in 1996) and Rob Murphy (74 appearances in 1989) pitched in more games in their first year as a Red Sox.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Issued just 9 walks in 83.2 innings, an average of 0.97 walks per 9.0 innings, the best ratio by any major league relief pitcher...John Smoltz of the Braves was 2nd with 1.12 walks per 9.0 innings...3 of Timlin's 9 free passes were intentional...did not walk his first batter of the season until May 6 at Kansas City, a season-opening stretch of 20.1 inning without a walk allowed...did not issue another unintentional walk until June 21 at Philadelphia, a stretch of another 19.2 innings...did not issue a walk from July 8-August 27, a season-long streak that covered 25 outings and 24.2 innings...fanned 23 in that stretch...walked 2 batters in an outing only once, September 1 at Philadelphia, but one of the walks was intentional.

FIRST THINGS FIRST: Limited first batters faced to a .181 on-base percentage, 2nd-best in the A.L. and 3rd-best in the majors...trailed only Toronto's Jason Kershner (.179) and Atlanta's John Smoltz (.180) among all major league relievers.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Opponents hit just .239 (77-for-322)...righthanders batted just .198 (34-for-172), 9th-lowest among all A.L. relievers...lefties hit .287 (43-for-150)...allowed a .202 batting average (18-for-89) after August 1...went 5-2 with one save and a 1.43 ERA (7 ER/44.0 IP) in 44 games at Fenway Park and 1-2 with a save and a 5.90 ERA (26 ER/39.2 IP) in 35 outings on the road...issued just 2 walks in 44.0 innings at home...4 of his 6 wins came against former clubs, as he went 3-0 vs. Toronto and 1-1 vs. Seattle...all of his wins came in April (3) and August (3), while both of his saves came in June...recorded 17 holds...threw 1,194 pitches, an average of 14.3 per inning...induced 130 ground ball outs and 82 fly ball outs, a 1.6-to-one ground ball to fly ball ratio...limited opponents to a .222 (10-for-45) batting average with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...allowed just 12 of 45 inherited runners to score, stranding 73.3 percent of inherited runners...averaged just 3.51 pitches per batter faced, 4th-fewest by any A.L. reliever with at least 50 innings pitched.

MR. OCTOBER: Was dominant during the post-season, working 9.2 innings of one-hit shutout ball in the A.L. Division Series vs. Oakland and the A.L. Championship Series vs. New York...in the 2 series, walked 2 (one intentionally) and fanned 11, holding the A's and Yankees to an .034 (1-for-29) batting average...retired all 13 batters he faced, fanning 5, in 4.1 innings of perfect work in 3 ALDS outings against the Athletics...against the Yankees, ran his post-season streak to 23 up and 23 down (with 10 K's) until he surrendered a single to Karim Garcia one out into his 4th appearance of the series in Game 6.

NEW DEAL: Agreed to a contract for the 2004 season with a club option for 2005 on November 14, 2003.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: The Sox went 12-0 in his first 12 appearances of the season...pitched 2.0 innings or more in 7 of his first 10 appearances, then pitched 2.0 innings or more just 3 times the rest of the season...earned wins in back-to-back outings April 10 at Toronto and April 15 vs. Tampa Bay...picked up his first save June 7 in an 11-10 victory at Milwaukee...the save was his first since July 19, 2001 with St. Louis at Houston...boasted 3 consecutive months with an ERA below 3.00, as he notched a season-best 2.25 ERA (4 ER/14.2 IP) in June, a 2.45 ERA (4 ER/13.0 IP) in July and a 2.77 ERA (5 ER/15.1 IP) in August...posted a season-best 7.1 scoreless innings over 8 appearances August 17-29.

CAREER NOTES

OH CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN: Upon signing his new 4-year contract on December 24, 2004, Varitek was named the 18th full-time captain in Red Sox history...according to research by Howard W. Rosenberg, Varitek is the first Sox captain since Jim Rice (1986-89)...before Rice, Carl Yastrzemski served as captain in 1966 and 1969-83...Yaz was the club's first captain since Jimmie Foxx (1940-42) and only the 2nd Sox captain since 1923...from the inaugural 1901 season through 1923, the Red Sox had 14 different full-time captains, most serving for a single season.

CATCH AS CATCH CAN: Into 2005, Jason has caught 788 games for the Red Sox, 4th-most in club history, and 203 shy of breaking Carlton Fisk's Red Sox record of 990...Varitek's .993 career fielding percentage trails only Tony Pena's .994 mark in club history, while his 5,278 career putouts are most ever by a Sox catcher.

NEW DEAL: A free agent following the 2004 season, Varitek signed a 4-year contract to keep him in Boston through the 2008 season on December 24, 2004.

SUMMARY: On the strength of a quick start and an August surge, batted a career-best .296 with 18 home runs and 73 RBI in 137 games...his 2004 average was 23 points higher than his previous career high...also established personal bests with 137 hits, 62 walks and 10 stolen bases, finishing 2nd on the team in steals, 9 behind Sox leader Johnny Damon...his .390 on-base percentage, 10th-best in the A.L., was another career best.

HEROICS: Capped a dramatic come-from-behind victory May 7 vs. Kansas City, doubling home Manny Ramirez in the 9th for the winning run as the Sox battled back from a 6-2 deficit by scoring 2 in the 8th and 3 in the 9th to win 7-6.

CENTRAL STAGE: Batted .379 (36-for-95) against the A.L. Central, .318 (34-for-107) against the West and .260 (53-for-204) against the East.

ON A RUN: Had a 15-game hitting streak from August 17-September 10, one shy of his 2002 career high...batted .424 (25-for-59) with 8 doubles, 3 homers, 8 RBI, and 11 runs during the tear, raising his average to .311 from .292...had multiple hits in 7 of 8 games August 17-September 1, batting .500 (16-for-32) with a 1.000 slugging percentage.

VARITEK (Cont.)

3 TIMES OVER: Scored a career-high 3 runs in a game 3 times in 2004, finishing the year having turned the trick 10 times in his career.

STOP, THIEF!: The 10 stolen bases by Varitek dwarfed his previous career high of 4 from 2002... swiped 2 bags May 8 vs. Kansas City, matching his single-game career high, also accomplished May 3, 2003 vs. Minnesota.

NOT-SO-DOG-DAYS OF AUGUST: Ranked 2nd in the American League and 3rd in all of baseball with a .449 (31-for-69) August batting average, trailing Seattle's Ichiro Suzuki (.463) and San Francisco's J.T. Snow (.452).

WALK THIS WAY: Walked 9 times in his first 7 games en route to his career high of 62 bases on balls...ranks 2nd among all big league catchers with 109 walks over the past 2 years, trailing only Jorge Posada, who has a resounding 178.

CATCH THIS: With 130 games behind the plate, has 788 in a Red Sox uniform to rank 4th in club history...Rich Gedman (857) is 3rd, Sammy White ranks 2nd with 967 and Carlton Fisk is first with 990...with 880 putouts, ran his career total to 5,278, most in Red Sox history...his 2004 putout total was 4th-highest in club annals...holds the first- and 2nd-highest totals as well.

ETC.: The switch hitter batted .350 (48-for-137) with 6 homers and 26 RBI from the right side (vs. lefties) and .273 (89-for-326) with 12 homers and 47 RBI from the left side (vs. righthanders)...batted .336 (77-for-229) with 8 long balls and 41 RBI in 70 games at Fenway and .256 (60-for-234) with 10 homers and 32 RBI on the road...batted .275 (72-for-262) with 7 doubles prior to the All-Star break and .323 (65-for-201) with 17 doubles after the Mid-Summer Classic...hit .337 (31-for-92) with 7 doubles, 6 homers and 12 walks when leading off an inning...was 4-for-12 with 2 doubles and 4 RBI as a pinch hitter...was suspended for 4 games and fined an undisclosed amount by Major League Baseball for an altercation with Alex Rodriguez during Boston's 11-10 win over the Yankees July 24 at Fenway Park...originally appealed the decision, but withdrew and sat out the 4 games from August 23-26 (the Red Sox went 3-1).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Appeared in every game and started 13 of 14 post-season contests behind the plate (all but Game 1 of the World Series, when Doug Mirabelli got the starting nod for Tim Wakefield's lone post-season start)...hit .245 (13-for-53) in the post-season with 3 homers and 11 RBI...went 2-for-12 (.167) in the ALDS vs. Anaheim, but, with the Sox down 3-1 in the 6th in Game 2, launched a 2-run homer off Bartolo Colon to tie the game they'd eventually win 8-3...hit .321 (9-for-28) with a double, 2 homers, 7 RBI and 5 runs scored in the ALCS against the Yankees...went 2-for-4 with a homer and 2 RBI in Game 1...took Tanyon Sturtze deep with a man on in the 7th...doubled in 3 at-bats in Game 2...was 2-for-3 with a long ball, 2 RBI, and 3 runs in Game 3, homering off Javier Vazquez with a man on in the 7th...was 0-for-4 but knocked in a pair of runs in Game 5...his sac fly off Mariano Rivera in the 8th capped a 2-run rally, hanging a blown save on Rivera, as the Sox tied the must-win game they'd eventually go on to win by a 5-4 score...had 3 hits, an RBI and a run scored in 4 at-bats in the Game 6 win...went just 2-for-13 (.154) with 2 runs scored in the World Series, but one of his hits was a 2-run triple with 2 outs in the first inning of Game 2 that set Sox on their way to a 6-2 win.

SUMMARY: Was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team and received the Thomas A. Yawkey Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox MVP...established career highs with 25 home runs, 85 RBI and a .512 slugging percentage in 142 games, 2 shy of his 1999 career best...among major league catchers, ranked 2nd to Jorge Posada of the Yankees in home runs and slugging and tied Florida's Ivan Rodriguez for 2nd, also behind Posada, in RBI...was hitting .292 with 18 homers and 65 RBI at the end of July, but batted .237 with 7 homers and 20 RBI in 49 August-September contests.

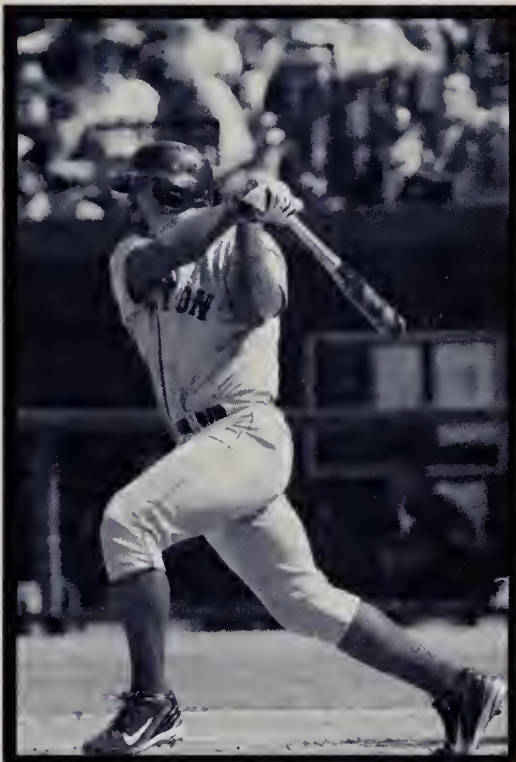

SEEING STARS: Although he did not appear in the game, Varitek was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team in the etopps All-Star Final Vote on MLB.com...joined teammates Manny Ramirez (who was chosen to start in fan balloting) and Nomar Garciaparra (who was selected as a reserve in the first Player Vote) on the roster for the 74th All-Star Game, which was played July 15 at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago...more than 10.6 million votes were cast in the etopps Final Vote...Varitek outpolled White Sox first baseman Frank Thomas, Yankees first baseman Jason Giambi, A's outfielder Eric Byrnes and Angels catcher Bengie Molina.

CATCH THIS: With a career-best 25 home runs, Varitek became just the 2nd catcher in Red Sox history to twice hit 20 homers in a season...only 2 others have done it once...Carlton Fisk turned the trick 4 times (1972-73, 1977-78), Rich Gedman once (1984) and Mike Stanley once (1996)...the only catchers to hit more in a season are Fisk, who slammed 26 in 1973 and 1977; Gedman, who hit 24 in '84; and Stanley, who hit 24 in '96...his career-best 85 RBI were the 3rd-most RBI ever by a Boston catcher...Carlton Fisk knocked in 102 in 1977 and 88 in 1978.

FIREWORKS ON THE FOURTH: Joined David Ortiz and Bill Mueller as one of 3 Red Sox to homer twice in a 10-3 win July 4 at Yankee Stadium...Jason finished 4-for-5 with 4 RBI...the 4 hits matched his career high for the 4th time...the 2-homer game was his 4th to go along with a 3-home run game...hit a 3-run shot off David Wells to erase a 2-0 deficit in the 3rd...touched Wells for a solo shot in the 6th...in all, the Sox hit 7 homers in the game, most ever by an opponent at Yankee Stadium...it marked the 5th time the Red Sox have hit as many as 7 long balls in a game and only the 2nd time in club history 3 players have hit multiple homers in the same game...on June 8, 1950, Bobby Doerr hit 3, Walt Dropo 2 and Ted Williams 2 in a 29-4 win vs. St. Louis.

DOUBLE YOUR PLEASURE: The Sox connected for 11 sets of back-to-back home runs in 2003, and Varitek was involved in 6...according to SABR's David Vincent, only one Red Sox has been involved in more sets of back-to-back home runs in a season...George Scott was involved 7 times in 1977...the only other Boston player to participate in 6 sets was Manny Ramirez in 2001...Vern Stephens (1948), John Valentin (1995) and Ramirez (2002) were each involved in 5 sets.

ALMOST A HERO: Came up with key hits to tie games or give the Red Sox late leads on several occasions only to see the opposition rally: After the Sox had fallen behind 5-0, Varitek slugged a solo home run in the top of the 9th to cap a comeback May 5 at Kansas City, lifting Boston into a 6-5 lead...the Royals rallied with 2 in the bottom of the 9th, however, to win...June 10 at Fenway, hit a game-tying 2-run homer off St. Louis' Kiko Calero in the bottom of the 8th, but the Cards struck for 2 in the 9th for a 9-7 win...with the Sox trailing St. Louis 3-0 in the bottom of the 9th 2 nights later, hit a pinch 2-run homer off Cal Eldred to cut the deficit to 3-2...the Sox eventually tied it on a Nomar Garciaparra RBI triple, before falling 8-7 in 13...the pinch homer was the 2nd of Varitek's career...hung a blown save on Mariano Rivera, singling home Damian Jackson to tie the score in the 8th July 25 at Fenway in a game the Yanks won 4-3 with a run in the 9th.

RED SOX

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Launched a 428-foot 3-run homer off the catwalk above left field at Tropicana Field to help the Sox overcome a 3-0 deficit in a 7-5 win April 2 at Tampa Bay...trailing the Yankees 3-2 in the 4th May 20 at Fenway, hit a go-ahead 2-run homer off Jeff Weaver, helping Boston to a 10-7 win...June 7 at Milwaukee, capped a comeback from a 10-4 deficit by following a game-tying solo homer by Trot Nixon with a go-ahead blast off Mike DeJean, lifting the Sox to an 11-10 victory...singled home Johnny Damon with no outs in the 12th to give Boston a 2-1 win July 8 at Toronto...trailing the Yankees 3-0 in the bottom of the 7th, Varitek slammed a 3-run homer off Chris Hammond to inspire a 6-run inning en route to a 6-4 win.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Appeared in 137 games behind the plate, making 119 starts...the Red Sox went 72-46 (.610) when Varitek started at catcher...Red Sox pitchers posted a 4.46 ERA (533 ER/1075.1 IP) with him catching...gunned down 19 of 80 runners trying to steal, 24 percent...was charged with 9 errors and 6 passed balls.

ETC.: The switch hitter batted .309 (42-for-136) with 10 homers from the right side (vs. lefthanders) and .257 (81-for-315) with 15 homers from the left side (vs. righthanders)...hit .305 (67-for-220) with 13 homers and 49 RBI in 72 games at Fenway and .242 (56-for-231) with 12 homers and 36 RBI in 70 road contests...hit safely in 9 consecutive games June 24-July 4, lifting his average to .306 from .272 by going 17-for-34 (.500) with 7 doubles, 5 homers, 15 RBI and 8 runs in the 9 games...batted .312 (49-for-157) with 12 homers and 40 RBI in 47 games in June and July...his 7 homers in June and his 20 RBI in both months matched his career bests for a calendar month.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Appeared in 11 of the Red Sox' 12 post-season games, starting 9 (all but Tim Wakefield's 3 starts)...hit .294 (10-for-34) with 2 doubles, 4 homers, 5 RBI and 8 runs...his 4 homers were 2nd on the club to Todd Walker, and are tied for 2nd-most in club history in a single postseason...his 6 career post-season homers are 2nd-most in Sox history, one behind Nomar Garciaparra...appeared in all 5 games (4 starts) of the ALDS vs. Oakland, going 4-for-14 (.286) with 2 homers and 2 RBI...was on base 4 times with a single, a 5th-inning homer off Tim Hudson and 2 walks in Game 1...hit a game-tying solo homer off Barry Zito to ignite the decisive 4-run 6th in Game 5...batted .300 (6-for-20) with 2 doubles, 2 homers, 3 RBI and 4 runs in 6 games (4 starts) in the ALCS vs. New York...homered off Andy Pettitte in the 6th inning of Game 2 at Yankee Stadium...sparked a 4-run 3rd inning with a leadoff homer off Pettitte in Game 6 as the Red Sox evened the series...drove in a key insurance run with a pinch-hit fielder's choice grounder in the 7th inning of Game 4 at Fenway...had 2 hits in both Game 2 and Game 7.

CAREER NOTES

SENIOR SOX: Signed by the Red Sox on April 26, 1995, Wakefield enters his 11th season in Boston and is the active player with the longest continuous service in a Red Sox uniform...only 5 other active major league pitchers have worn the same uniform continuously since at least 1995: John Smoltz of the Braves (1988), Trevor Hoffman of the Padres (1993), Darren Dreifort of the Dodgers (1994), Brad Radke of the Twins (1995) and Mariano Rivera of the Yankees (1995).

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: Wakefield ranks 2nd in club history with 387 appearances, trailing only Bob Stanley (637)...his 1,329 strikeouts as a Red Sox stand 4th in club annals...trails only Clemens (2,590), Pedro Martinez (1,683) and Cy Young (1,341)...needs 13 K's to pass Young for 3rd place...with 1,846.1 innings pitched for Boston, ranks 3rd in club history behind Clemens (2,776.0) and Young (2,728.1)...Wakefield's 250 starts are 3rd in Sox history behind Clemens (382) and Young (297)...his 114 Red Sox wins are 8th all time, and needs 10 wins to climb alone into 3rd place behind only Clemens and Young, who both won 192 games in a Red Sox uniform.

MILESTONES TO GO BEFORE I SLEEP: Begins 2005 17 starts shy of 300 in his major league career...needs 61 strikeouts for 1,500 in his career...Wake's first 2005 appearance at Fenway Park will be his 200th lifetime outing on Yakwey Way.

STARTING AND RELEIVING: Is 118-98 with a 4.38 ERA (873 ER/1795.1 IP) in 283 career starts and 10-13 with 22 saves and a 3.75 ERA (113 ER/271.1 IP) in 141 career relief appearances...over the last 2 years, has made 63 of his 67 appearances as a starter.

SUMMARY: The knucklerballer finished his 10th season in Boston 12-10 with a 4.87 ERA in 32 appearances (30 starts), the 2nd year in a row he's made at least 30 starts...his 12 wins were his most since 1998 and gave him 11 or more wins for a 3rd straight season...held opponents to a .264 average...the Sox were 16-14 in his 30 starts with wins in 9 of his last 13...Boston averaged 5.8 runs per game in his starts (173 runs in 30 starts)...14 of his starts were quality starts.

MY ONE AND ONLY: Threw all but 2.1 of his 188.1 innings to Doug Mirabelli...Jason Varitek caught the other 2.1 innings...a season ago, Mirabelli caught all but 2.0 of Wake's 202.1 innings.

TOUGH TO HIT: Limited opponents to a .264 (197-for-746) batting average...lefties hit just .225 (78-for-347) with 10 homers, and righties batted .298 (199-for-399) with 19 long balls...opponents hit just .232 (29-for-125) with 2 homers in Wake's first inning of work and just .224 (19-for-85) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...foes hit .188 (65-for-346) with 116 K's with 2 strikes.

TOP DOWN, BOTTOM UP:

The top 5 men in opposing lineups hit .235 (103-for-439) with 15 homers, while batters 6-9 combined to hit .306 (94-for-307) with 14 long balls.

MAKE 'EM EARN IT: Allowed 19 unearned runs, tied with Bronson Arroyo and Kansas City's Brian Anderson for 3rd-most in the major leagues...in all of baseball, only teammate Derek Lowe (28) and Arizona's Brandon Webb (28) allowed more.

FEELING RELIEVED: Made a pair of relief appearances, fanning 2 in 2.0 innings of 2-hit shutout ball April 29 vs. Tampa Bay and giving up 2 unearned runs on 2 hits in one inning June 9 vs. San Diego.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE MAN OF THE YEAR: Was named the Red Sox recipient of the 2004 Roberto Clemente Award presented by John Hancock...the honor was Wakefield's 6th (1998, 2000-2003), his 5th in a row...he is one of the 30 nominees for the national 2004 Roberto Clemente Award, the winner of which will be announced at the World Series...the Roberto Clemente Award, presented annually by John Hancock as part of its official sponsorship of Major League Baseball, recognizes those players who best exemplify the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to their teams.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked 6.0 or more innings in 21 of his 30 starts, 7.0 or more in 11...completed 8.0 innings 3 times: May 7 at Kansas City, August 18 vs. Toronto and August 29 vs. Detroit, winning the last 2 of those starts...threw 2,993 pitches, an average of 15.9 per inning...fanned 5 or more in 8 starts, including a season-high 7 K's August 29 vs. Detroit and September 20 vs. Baltimore...opponents were 33-41 in stolen base tries...induced 11 double-play ground balls...tied for 2nd in the league with 16 hit batsmen...was 4-0 with a 3.04 ERA (9 ER/26.2 IP) in 4 starts against Toronto and 8-10 with a 5.18 ERA (93 ER/161.2 IP) in 28 games (26 starts) against all other foes...finished 6-6 with a 4.99 ERA (63 ER/113.2 IP) in 19 games (17 starts) at Fenway Park...was 6-4 with a 4.70 ERA (39 ER/74.2 IP) in 13 road starts...went 4-0 with a 3.16 ERA (9 ER/25.2 IP) in 4 starts in domed stadiums...allowed a .237 average (23-for-97) and 2 homers inside.

RED SOX

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned his first win in his 2nd start April 16 vs. New York, limiting the Yanks to 2 runs (one earned) on 4 hits in 7.0 strong innings in the 6-2 win...threw a season-high 116 pitches June 4 at Kansas City...did not allow an earned run in consecutive starts June 30 at New York (6.1 IP) and July 6 vs. Oakland (7.0 IP of 3-hit shutout ball)...after winning 6 games through the end of July, went 5-1 with a 5.03 ERA (22 ER/39.1 IP) in 6 August starts...scattered 8 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings July 22 vs. Baltimore...that start began a 7-start stretch in which he earned half of his season's wins between July 22 and August 29...went 6-1 with a 4.27 ERA (22 ER/46.1 IP) during the run...in his 6 starts after that, went 1-3 with a 7.24 ERA (26 ER/32.1 IP), not winning again until his final start, October 1 at Baltimore, when he limited the O's to 2 runs on 6 hits over 6.0 innings...won 3 straight starts on 2 occasions: July 22-August 8 and August 18-29.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Was 1-0 with a 9.82 ERA (12 ER/11.0 IP) in 4 games (one start)...did not pitch in the 3-game sweep of Anaheim in the ALDS...made 3 relief appearances in the ALCS vs. New York, going 1-0 with an 8.59 ERA (7 ER/7.1 IP)...in one of the key efforts of the series, saved the Sox pen with 3.1 innings of relief in the 19-8 Game 3 loss...in the process, sacrificed his scheduled Game 4 start...earned the Game 5 win with 3.0 innings of one-hit shutout relief...walked one and struck out four in the 14-inning, 5:49 marathon...started Game 1 of the World Series at Fenway and did not figure in the decision, allowing 5 runs on 3 hits and 5 walks in 3.2 innings...struck out a pair.

SUMMARY: Finished 11-7 with a save and a 4.09 ERA in 35 games (33 starts)...finished 2nd on the club with 202.1 innings pitched, one behind Derek Lowe...tied Lowe for team-high honors with 33 starts, matching his 1998 personal best...his .246 opponents average, career-best 169 strikeouts and 7.5 K's per 9 innings, trailed only Pedro Martinez among Sox starters...tied for 8th in the A.L. with 169 strikeouts and tied for 6th in the league with 7.5 K's per 9 innings...limited opponents to a .246 average, tied for 8th in the league...topped 200.0 innings for the 4th time (1996-1998)...won 5 of his last 7 decisions to reach double figures in victories for the 6th time...won at least 11 games for the 6th time in 9 Boston seasons...reached the 30-start plateau for the 3rd time in his career (made 32 starts in 1996 and a career-high 33 in 1998)...had a 3.44 ERA (51 ER/133.1 IP) in his last 21 starts but had just 6 wins, 5 losses and 9 no-decisions to show for it...in those 21 starts, the Sox scored 2 runs or fewer while he was in the game 12 times, one run or fewer on 9 occasions...worked into the 7th in 13 of his last 18 starts, finishing 7 in 8 of the 18...the Sox were 16-17 in his starts, but won 8 of the last 13 after losing 10 of the previous 13...left 4 games with the lead without earning the win...went 2-1 with a 2.01 ERA (7 ER/31.1 IP) in 5 September starts, working at least 7.0 innings in each except his final start, a 2.0-inning post-season tune-up on the season's final day at Tampa Bay.

TOGETHER WHEREVER WE GO: Threw all but 2.0 of his 202.1 regular-season innings with Doug Mirabelli behind the plate...Jason Varitek's lone 2003 regular-season experience catching Wakefield came on the final day of the season, when the pair worked together for the first 2.0 innings of the season finale at Tampa Bay.

HAPPY HUNDREDTH: August 3 at Baltimore, became the 9th pitcher to win 100 games as a Red Sox (Pedro Martinez later became the 10th).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Threw 3,181 pitches, an average of 15.7 per inning...had a nearly even groundball-to-flyball ratio (253 grounders, 245 fly balls)...was 5-4 with a 4.25 ERA (53 ER/112.1 IP) in 18 games (17 starts) at Fenway and 6-3 with a 3.90 ERA (39 ER/90.0 IP) in 17 games (16 starts) on the road...held righthanders to a .228 (92-for-404) average, but they hit 16 homers...lefties hit .266 (101-for-379) with 7 long balls...opponents mustered just a .214 (28-for-131) average in Wake's first inning...they hit .164 (66-for-403) with 2 strikes...his first- and 2nd-half numbers were nearly identical: 6-4 with a 4.10 ERA and a .246 average allowed before the break and 5-3 with a 4.08 ERA and a .247 average allowed after...fanned a season-high 8 on 5 occasions.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Made 2 relief appearances and earned his lone 2003 save with 2.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball to preserve a 2-0 win for Derek Lowe April 13 vs. Baltimore...did not allow a run in 3.0 innings in his 2 bullpen outings, the 2nd coming May 6 at Kansas City...May 26 at New York, denied Roger Clemens his 300th win, earning an 8-4 victory...Wakefield worked 5.0 innings, allowing 3 runs on 4 hits...left his June 6 start at Milwaukee after 2.0 innings after being hit by a Wayne Franklin pitch in the top of the 3rd...made his next start 5 days later vs. St. Louis...worked 6.0 scoreless innings in a 3-

1 win June 23 vs. Detroit before leaving with a lower back strain...made his next start 5 days later vs. Florida...won a season-best 3 consecutive starts July 23-August 3, beating Tampa Bay, Texas and Baltimore...threw 7.0 innings of 4-hit shutout ball in an 11-0 win over Roger Clemens and the Yankees September 6 at Yankee Stadium...worked a season-high 8.1 innings in a 4-3 win over the Devil Rays September 18 at Fenway...allowed 3 runs (one earned) on 7 hits, walking one and fanning 4.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Went 2-2 with a 2.91 ERA (7 ER/21.2 IP) in 5 post-season appearances (3 starts)...was 0-1 with a 3.52 ERA (3 ER/7.2 IP) in 2 games (one start) in the ALDS vs. Oakland...was the starter and loser in Game 2, allowing 5 runs (3 earned) on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, walking 3 and fanning 7 in the 5-1 setback...allowed all 5 runs in the 2nd inning...worked 1.2 innings of 2-hit scoreless relief in Game 4...was 2-1 with a 2.57 ERA (4 ER/14.0 IP) in 3 games (2 starts) in the ALCS vs. New York...started and won both Game 1 and Game 4, in both cases out-dueling Mike Mussina...in the series opener at Yankee Stadium, allowed 2 runs on 2 hits in 6.0 innings-plus, walking 2 and striking out 2 in the 5-2 win...carried a 5-0 lead into the 7th before walking the first 2 hitters he faced...was pulled from the game and both runners came around to score against Alan Embree...in Game 4 at Fenway, limited the Yanks to a run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings-plus...walked 4 and fanned 8...took the loss in relief in Game 7...after working a 1-2-3 10th, allowed a first-pitch home run to Aaron Boone leading off the bottom of the 11th, giving the Yankees a walk-off 6-5 win.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed one of his finest seasons, finishing 11-5 with 3 saves and a 2.81 ERA in 45 games (15 starts)...struck out 134 and walked only 51 in 163.1 innings of work, an average of 7.38 K's and 2.81 walks per 9 innings...his 2.6-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio was a career best, as was his ratio of walks per 9 innings.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked 2nd in the A.L. with a .204 opponents average and finished 4th in the A.L. in ERA...was 2nd in the league with 6.67 hits allowed per 9 innings and 4th with 7.38 K's per 9 innings...limited lefties to a .195 average (3rd in the A.L.) and righties to .214 mark (4th in the A.L.)...was the only pitcher in the league to place in the top 5 in each category, and--with Pedro Martinez--was one of only 2 in the top 10 in both.

RED SOX

CAREER NOTES

BACK TO THE A.L.: Enters his 19th major league season, his first with the Red Sox, after pitching for his hometown San Diego Padres in 2004, his lone full season in the National League in his career...has seen 546 of his 588 major league appearances come in the American League, with the exceptions being his 31 starts last year for San Diego and his 11 starts for Cincinnati in 1995 after a mid-season trade from Detroit...entering 2005, Wells is 212-136 with 13 saves and 4.03 ERA all-time with the Blue Jays (1987-92, 1999-2000), Tigers (1993-95), Reds (1995), Orioles (1996), Yankees (1997-98, 2002-03), White Sox (2001) and Padres (2004).

ACTIVE LEADERS: The 3-time All-Star is the 5th-winningest active pitcher in baseball into 2005, the 3rd-winningest lefty...his 212 wins trail only Roger Clemens (328), Greg Maddux (305), lefty Tom Glavine (262) and lefty Randy Johnson (246).

DON'T WALK: His average of just 1.92 walks surrendered per 9 innings is 4th-best among active pitchers with at least 1,500.0 career innings, the best among all qualifying lefthanders...he trails only Brad Radke (1.68), Jon Lieber (1.76) and Greg Maddux (1.87).

OCTOBER WORKHORSE: Has pitched in the post-season 9 times in his career for 4 different clubs, going 10-3 with a 3.18 ERA in 25 Playoff and World Series outings (15 starts).

WHAT'S IN A NUMBER?: By choosing to wear the number 3 on his uniform, he now boasts the 2nd-lowest number (and 2nd-single digit number) to be worn by a Red Sox pitcher since the club started wearing numbers in 1931...in 1932, lefthander Ed Gallagher wore number 1 for the Red Sox in his lone season in the majors...the lowest number worn by a Red Sox pitcher in recent years was number 11, worn by Hideo Nomo in 2001...first baseman David McCarty wore number 10 in his 3 relief appearances last season.

CAREER NOTES

ROYAL TREATMENT: Prior to signing with the Red Sox as a minor league free agent for the 2005 season, had spent his entire 8-year pro career in the Royals organization, including 90 appearances over 4 seasons (2000-2003) with Kansas City...spent parts of 5 seasons at Triple-A Omaha (1999, 2001-2004).

CONTROL FREAK: Has averaged just 1.6 walks per 9 innings in his minor league career, issuing only 131 free passes in 736.1 career minor league innings.

SUMMARY: Spent his 8th and final season in the Royals organization with Triple-A Omaha, where he went 10-13 with a 5.65 ERA, pitching exclusively as a starter for the first time since his 1997 professional debut...tied for the Pacific Coast League lead with 28 starts, finished 5th with a career-high 167.1 innings pitched and was one of only 14 pitchers in the league with at least 10 wins...walked only 28 batters in 167.1 innings, an average of 1.5 walks per 9.0 innings...walked 2 batters or fewer in all but one of his starts, one or less in 21 of his 28 starts.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Went 7-5 with a 4.31 ERA (46 ER/96.0 IP) in 15 starts at home, but was just 3-8 with a 7.44 ERA (59 ER/71.1 IP) in 13 road starts...enjoyed his finest month in July, going 3-1 with a 2.34 ERA (9 ER/34.2 IP) in 5 starts...compiled a season-high 4-game winning streak over a 5-start stretch from July 10-August 1...tossed 8.0 innings in each of the first 3 starts of the streak, including 8.0 shutout innings July 22 vs. Memphis...fanned a season-high 8 batters on 3 occasions, including his season finale September 2 vs. Nashville...allowed a career-high 39 home runs in 167.1 innings...prior to 2004, had allowed only 47 homers in 569.0 career minor league innings.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003: Had 2 brief stints with Triple-A Omaha, but spent the bulk of the season with Kansas City, going 6-3 with a 5.33 ERA (43 ER/72.2 IP) in 29 games (4 starts) for the Royals...the 6 wins matched his 2001 career high...started the season 5-0 before sustaining his first loss July 22 vs. Oakland...the loss snapped a career-best 7-game winning streak dating to July 15, 2002...owned a 2.12 ERA (7 ER/29.2 IP) in 11 road games (2 starts), but posted a 7.53 ERA (36 ER/43.0 IP) in 18 outings (2 starts) at Kauffman Stadium...boasted a 1.93 ERA (3 ER/14.0 IP) in 6 April appearances...was optioned to Omaha May 16, but was recalled by Kansas City the next day...also optioned to Omaha August 11 prior to being recalled by the Royals for the remainder of the season on September 1.

2002: Pitched at 4 different levels in the Royals chain due to injuries...went a combined 5-3 with a 2.08 ERA (19 ER/82.1 IP) in the minors...opened the season on the DL with right elbow tendinitis...sent to Single-A Wilmington for a rehab assignment April 27, and did not allow a run in 8.0 innings over 4 games (3 starts)...continued rehabbing with Double-A Wichita from May 10-28...activated from the DL May 26, and was sent to Triple-A Omaha May 30...earned a June 30 promotion to Kansas City, where he went 2-0 with a 4.73 ERA (7 ER/13.1 IP) in 8 relief outings before being sent back to Wichita August 1...was 3-1 with a 1.05 ERA (4 ER/34.1 IP) in 5 starts with the Wranglers, earning an August 30 recall to Kansas City, where he closed out the season.

WILSON (Cont.)

2001: Made the Royals' Opening Day roster for the first time and spent the majority of the season with Kansas City...named Royals Pitcher of the Month for July after going 3-1 with a team-best 3.55 ERA (13 ER/33.0 IP) in 6 games (5 starts)...earned his first career save with 4.0 shutout innings May 31 at Texas...notched the win in his first career start with 7.0 innings of one-run ball June 13 vs. St. Louis.

2000: Spent the first half of the season at Double-A Wichita, where he was 3rd in the Texas League with 1.59 walks per 9.0 innings and 4th with 11.16 runners allowed per 9.0 innings...was called up to Kansas City July 28 and made his major league debut that night with 2.0 scoreless innings vs. Tampa Bay...did not allow a run in his first 14.1 innings (6 games), the longest scoreless streak of the season by a Royals pitcher.

1999: Split the season between Single-A Wilmington, Double-A Wichita and Triple-A Omaha...stormed out of the gates for Wilmington, going 8-1 with a 1.13 ERA (6 ER/48.0 IP) in 14 games (4 starts)...was on a 7-game winning streak at the time of his promotion to Wichita in early June...went 5-7 with a 5.45 ERA (45 ER/74.1 IP) in 23 games (10 starts) for the Wranglers.

1998: Went 10-5 with a 3.53 ERA in 18 starts for Single-A Lansing, and ranked 2nd in the Midwest League with 1.15 walks allowed per 9.0 innings before a promotion to Single-A Wilmington...went 0-3 with a 3.75 ERA (10 ER/24.0 IP) in 10 games (2 starts) for the Blue Rocks, including the first relief appearances of his career.

1997: In his first professional season, went 5-3 with a 4.52 ERA (37 ER/73.2 IP) in 15 starts for short-season Single-A Spokane of the Northwest League...the 15 starts ranked 3rd in the league.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS: After opening the year at Triple-A Pawtucket was recalled May 15 and made his major league debut that afternoon, starting at third base in Toronto...went 2-for-4 with a 4th-inning homer off Pat Hentgen for his first M.L. hit...became just the 7th player in club history to hit a homer in his first major league game, the first since Sam Horn on July 25, 1987 at Seattle...the other 5 to turn the trick are Danny Sheaffer (April 9, 1987), Merl Combs (September 12, 1947), Eddie Pellagrini (April 22, 1946), Ben Steiner (April 17, 1945) and Lefty LeFebvre (June 10, 1938)...Youkilis was the first Red Sox to homer for his first big league hit since Creighton Gubanich slugged a grand slam May 3, 1999 at Oakland off Jimmy Haynes.

NICE START: Reached base in each of his first 10 major league games, batting .286 (8-for-28) with 11 runs, a homer, 3 RBI and a .447 on-base percentage...went 2-for-4 with a pair of doubles and 3 RBI May 28 vs. Seattle, the first multi-RBI game of his career...was named A.L. Rookie of the Month for May, batting .318 (14-for-44) with a homer, 7 RBI, 15 runs scored, a .446 OBP and a .477 slugging percentage in 13 games.

CLUTCH HITTING: Hit .339 (19-for-56) with runners in scoring position, including a .361 mark (13-for-36) with men in scoring position and less than 2 outs...among A.L. qualifiers, Ichiro Suzuki of the Mariners led the league with a .372 average with runners in scoring position...Johnny Damon led the Red Sox with a .355 mark.

FILLING IN NICELY: Made 30 starts at third base while regular third baseman Bill Mueller was on the disabled list (right knee inflammation) from May 20 through July 1...hit .284 (31-for-109) with 9 doubles, 2 homers, 18 RBI, 23 runs scored, 19 walks and a .397 on-base percentage in 32 games in Mueller's absence...appeared in just 39 games after Mueller's July 2 return, batting .209 (19-for-91) with 4 homers, 16 RBI and 14 runs scored...started only 22 of the 39 contests in that span.

BRUISED BONES: Was placed on the 15-day D.L. August 17 (retroactive to August 16) with a bone bruise in his right ankle suffered in a home-plate collision with White Sox catcher Sandy Alomar Jr. August 15...was activated from the D.L. September 1...hit just .133 (4-for-30) in 16 games following his return.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Matched his season high with 3 hits June 16 at Colorado, going 3-for-4 with a homer off Jason Jennings, 2 RBI, 2 runs scored and a walk...collected Boston's lone hit off San Francisco's Jason Schmidt June 20, a double to lead off the 6th...notched a career-high 4 RBI June 25 vs. the Phillies...posted a career-best 7-game hitting streak from June 20-July 1, batting .417 (10-for-24)...recorded his first-career 2-homer game August 8 at Detroit, matching his career highs with 4 RBI, 3 runs and 3 hits.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Was on the roster for the ALDS vs. Anaheim and the World Series vs. St. Louis...went 0-for-2 in Game 2 of the ALDS in his only post-season action.

MEDICAL STAFF AND TRAINERS

DR. THOMAS J. GILL Medical Director

Named Red Sox Medical Director in February, Dr. Thomas J. Gill coordinate all aspects of the club's medical operation, including the selection of assistant team physicians and a team of medical consultants. He oversees all major league and minor league coverage and supervises the Red Sox training staff as well as the club's strength and conditioning and injury-prevention programs.

A Boston native, Dr. Gill graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Medical School. He is currently an Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Harvard Medical School and a member of the sports medicine and shoulder services at Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Gill has extensive experience in the research and care of athletic injuries, having served as a team physician for the NFL's New England Patriots, the NHL's Boston Bruins and the New England Revolution of MLS.

In addition to his other responsibilities with the Red Sox, Dr. Gill has assumed the position of Co-Director of Medical Research, seeking to develop new injury prevention and rehabilitation techniques. He has asked Dr. Arun Ramappa of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center to join him in the same capacity.

JAMES W. ROWE, JR. Head Trainer

Jim Rowe returns to the Red Sox for his 11th season as head trainer. Rowe graduated from Springfield College in 1986. He joined the Brewers Single-A affiliate in Beloit, WI in 1985 while a student at Springfield. After receiving his degree in physical education and athletic training, Rowe moved on to El Paso, TX where he served as athletic trainer of the Brewers' Double-A team. Rowe then left baseball for five years to work at Beverly Sports Medicine Clinic in Beverly, MA and at the Pingree School in South Hamilton, MA. In 1994 Rowe returned to pro baseball as athletic trainer for the Pawtucket Red Sox. He then moved to the big league club as head trainer in 1995. Jim is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletics Trainers Association of Massachusetts. The Dover, NH native currently resides in Newmarket, NH with his wife, Elizabeth, and their daughter, Brittany.

CHRISTOPHER CORRENTI
Assistant Trainer/Rehabilitation Coordinator

Chris Correnti enters his fifth season as assistant trainer/rehabilitation coordinator. He oversees the entire Red Sox organization's year-round rehabilitation program from Boston during the major league season and from the club's Spring Training facility in Fort Myers, FL during the off-season. In 1994 Chris served as athletic trainer with the Single-A Lynchburg Red Sox and the Arizona Fall League. He then was athletic trainer with the Double-A Trenton Thunder and the Red Sox' Instructional League squad in 1995. He was also the minor league rehabilitation coordinator/athletic trainer in Fort Myers from 1996-00 and oversaw the off-season strength and conditioning program in Fort Myers. Following his graduation from Illinois State University in 1990, Correnti began his athletic training career with the Houston Astros organization working in the Florida State and Midwest Leagues. He is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and National Strength and Conditioning Association. Chris lives in Fort Myers with his wife Cindy and children Jimmy, Ashlyn, Sarah and Jennifer.

CHANG-HO LEE
Assistant Trainer

Chang-Ho Lee returns for his fourth season as a Red Sox assistant trainer in 2005. Previously he served as an assistant trainer/interpreter for the Pawtucket Red Sox. Chang-Ho came to the Red Sox organization from the Korean baseball team L.G. Twins where he was the head trainer for three seasons. Lee has also been a high school athletic trainer and athletic trainer/therapist at a health care restoration center. He earned an undergraduate degree in athletic training from Cal Poly-Pomona and a masters degree in education from Azusa Pacific University. Chang is also a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. Chang-Ho and his wife Grace reside in Attleboro, MA with their daughter Anna.

2004 IN REVIEW

The Red Sox won their first World Championship since 1918, sweeping the World Series from the St. Louis Cardinals. The Fall Classic capped a historic October run, which saw the Wild Card Red Sox sweep A.L. West champion Anaheim in the Division Series before becoming the first team in major league history to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win a best-of-seven series in a remarkable A.L. Championship Series victory over the Yankees. The Sox closed out the year with a major league-record eight-game post-season winning streak.

The Red Sox earned their 16th trip to the postseason, and their 10th to the World Series, in 104 American League seasons by finishing with a 98-64 regular season record. They clinched the Wild Card with a 7-3 road win over the Devil Rays September 27.

2004 SEASON RECAP AND HIGHLIGHTS

CHAMPS!: The Boston Red Sox captured their 6th World Series championship in 2004, their first since 1918...winners of the American League Wild Card, the Sox swept past the Anaheim Angels 3-0 in the A.L. Division Series before becoming the first team in major league history to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win a best-of-7 post-season series in their unforgettable A.L. Championship Series win over the Yankees...the Red Sox then completed an 11-3 postseason with a 4-game sweep of the Cardinals in the 100th World Series.

► The Red Sox became the first team in history to win 8 consecutive games in a single postseason, capturing the final 4 games of the ALCS and 4 straight in the World Series.

► The Red Sox earned their 17th trip to the postseason in 104 A.L. seasons by finishing 98-64...the Sox finished 3.0 games behind the Yankees in the A.L. East and 7.0 games ahead of Oakland in the Wild Card chase...they clinched a post-season trip with a 7-3 win at Tampa Bay on September 27...the post-season trip was Boston's 2nd in a row, and the Wild Card berth was the club's 4th (1998, 1999 and 2003).

► The Red Sox reached the postseason in consecutive seasons for the 4th time in their history, previously turning the trick in 1903-1904 (although the World Series was not played in '04), 1915-1916 and 1998-1999...the Sox have made the playoffs in 4 of the last 7 seasons beginning in 1998 and in 8 of the last 19 seasons beginning in 1986.

► The Red Sox' 109 regular season (98) and post-season (11) matched their most ever in a single season...the club previously won 109 games in 1912, the inaugural season at Fenway Park, win 105 games in the regular season then 4 in the World Series.

► The Sox' 98 regular season wins were their most since they finished 1978 with a 99-64 record and the 5th-highest total in franchise history...the Sox won 105 in 1912, 104 in 1946, 101 in 1915, and 99 in 1978.

► The Red Sox reached the 90-win plateau for the 23rd time 104 years, for the 5th time in 7 seasons...winners of 93 games in 2002 and 95 in 2003, the Red Sox reached 90 wins in 3 consecutive seasons for the first time since 1977-79...the Sox have won 90 in 3 or more years in a row 4 times (previously 1914-17, 1948-50 and 1977-79).

► With 95 wins in 2003, the Sox' total of 193 wins over the last 2 years is their highest 2-year victory count since 1977-78 (196)...the Sox have won at least 95 games in back-to-back seasons for just the 3rd time in their history: they won 96 games in both 1948 and 1949 and they 97 in 1977 and 99 in 1978.

► With 93 wins in 2002 and 95 in '03, the Red Sox' total of 286 wins over the last 3 years is their highest 3-year victory total since the 1977-79 clubs combined to win 287 games.

SAME OLD STORY: The Red Sox finished the regular season 2nd to the Yankees in the A.L. East for the 7th consecutive year, extending their major league record...the San Francisco Giants have the 2nd-longest run, 5 straight years from 1965-69.

ABOUT THE RECORD: After posting a major league-best 15-6 record in April, the Red Sox were 41-40 over the next 3 months through the end of July...from August 1 through the end of the season, however, they went 42-18 (.700), posting the best record in all of baseball over the final 2-plus months of the season...as many as 10.5 games out of first place as late as August 15, the Red Sox closed within 2.0 games of New York on September 8 and October 2...the highlights of the hot streak were a season-best 10-game winning streak August 24-September 3, part of a stretch in which the Sox won 16 of 17 (August 16-September 3) and 20 of 22 (August 16-September 8).

► The Sox, who had not been more than 12 games over .500 until August 12, finished 34 games over .500...before losing on the season's final day, they were 35 games over for the first time since they finished the 1978 season with a 99-64 record.

► The Red Sox finished 55-26 (.679) at Fenway Park and 43-38 (.531) on the road...the Sox were 18-16 (.529) against A.L. playoff teams (11-5, .688 at home) and 42-31 (.575) against teams that finished with .500-or-better records (27-13, .675 at home)...Boston finished with a better-than-.500 record against every A.L. team except Baltimore (9-10), Cleveland (3-4), Minnesota (2-4) and Texas (4-5)...the Sox were 48-28 (.632) against the A.L. East (26-12, .684 at home), 19-13 (.594) vs. the Central (9-7, .563 at home), 22-14 (.611) vs. the West (14-4, .778 at home) and 9-9 (.500) in interleague play (6-3, .667 at home)...the Red Sox finished 16-18 (.471) in one-run games, winning 8 of their final 9 one-run decisions after an 8-17 start...they were 33-23 (.589) in games decided by 2 runs or less and 27-12 (.692) in games decided by more than 5 runs...the Sox swept 9 series, 6 at Fenway Park.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME: At 55-26 (.679), Boston registered the 2nd-best home record in baseball, trailing only the Yankees (57-24, .704)...the Red Sox, who won 18 of their last 23 at Fenway, were 20-6-1 in 27 home series, winning their last 7 and 9 of their last 10...2 of their home series losses came in one-game "series" vs. Baltimore...25-31 on the road through August 6, the Red Sox went 18-7 the rest of the way to finish 43-38 (.531) away from home.

HOME		ROAD
55-26 (.679)	RECORD	43-38 (.531)
.306*	BATTING AVERAGE	.260
.378*	ON-BASE PERCENTAGE	.342
.504	SLUGGING PERCENTAGE	.441
517*	RUNS	432
6.4*	RUNS PER GAME	5.3
111	HOME RUNS	111
4.07	ERA	4.30
.255	AVERAGE AGAINST	.256
77	HOME RUNS ALLOWED	82

*Led Major Leagues

A HIGHLY OFFENSIVE EXHIBITION: For the 2nd consecutive year, the Red Sox led the major leagues in runs scored with 949...they paced the majors with 373 doubles, matching the major league record, set by the 1930 Cardinals and 1997 Red Sox...they also led the majors with a .360 on-base percentage, a .472 slugging percentage, 620 extra-base hits (2nd-most in M.L. history behind the 2003 Sox' total of 649) and 2,702 total bases (6th-most in major league history)...the Sox tied Anaheim for the major league lead with a .282 team batting average.

► Boston's 949 runs scored were 3rd-most in franchise history, as they topped 900 for the 6th time...the Sox scored a club-record 1,027 in 154 games in 1950 and 961 in 2003...they scored 902 in 150 games in 1938, 907 in 155 games in 1948 and 928 in 162 games in 1996.

► With 222 home runs, 5th-most in the majors, the Sox topped 200 long balls for the 6th time...the total was 2nd-most in franchise history...the Sox hit 238 in 2003 and have now topped 200 in back-to-back seasons for the first time ever...the Sox were led by Manny Ramirez, who with 43 long balls, became the first Red Sox player to lead the A.L. in home runs since Tony Armas hit 43 in 1984.

ONE-TWO PUNCH: Manny Ramirez and David Ortiz were the most productive pair of teammates in the major leagues and posted the biggest numbers of any pair of Red Sox in club history...they became the first pair of A.L. teammates since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1931 to both bat .300 with 40 homers and 100 RBI...in major league history, the feat has been accomplished only 11 other times (including by Albert Pujols and Jim Edmonds of the Cardinals in 2004)...Ruth and Gehrig are the only other A.L. teammates to turn the trick (in 1927, 1930 and 1931)...Ortiz and Ramirez were also the first pair of teammates in major league history with 40 homers and 40 doubles in a season...the only other Red Sox teammates to club 40 long balls in the same season are Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...Ramirez (130 RBI) and Ortiz (139 RBI) became only the 3rd pair of Boston teammates to reach 130 RBI in the same season...Vern Stephens and Ted Williams both knocked in 159 in 1949, and Walt Dropo and Stephens plated 144 each in 1950.

WHEN IT MATTERS MOST: The Sox led the majors with a .295 batting average with runners in scoring position...the White Sox were 2nd at .291 and no other club hit better than .278...the Sox hit .291 with men on base, tied with Anaheim for the major league lead...the Sox scored 282 runs from the 7th inning on, 3rd-most in all of baseball behind Philadelphia (297) and Baltimore (288).

LEFT IS RIGHT: The Red Sox posted 32 wins in games started by lefthanders, trailing only the Yankees (36), Angels (34) and Braves (34) in the majors...Boston finished the year with a .280 team average against southpaws, one point behind Seattle for best in the A.L...the Sox hit .283 vs. righthanders, 3rd-best in the majors behind only Baltimore (.293) and Anaheim (.287).

EARLY SHOWERS: Opposing starters failed to complete 6.0 innings against the Red Sox 88 times and failed to finish 5.0 innings on 45 occasions.

WATCH THIS: Red Sox hitters saw more pitches this season than any team in the major leagues...opponents threw 25,592 pitches to Boston hitters, an average of 159 per game and 17.8 per inning...next on the list are the Athletics (25,133)...the Sox led the majors with an average of 3.93 pitches seen per plate appearance...Oakland was 2nd with 3.89.

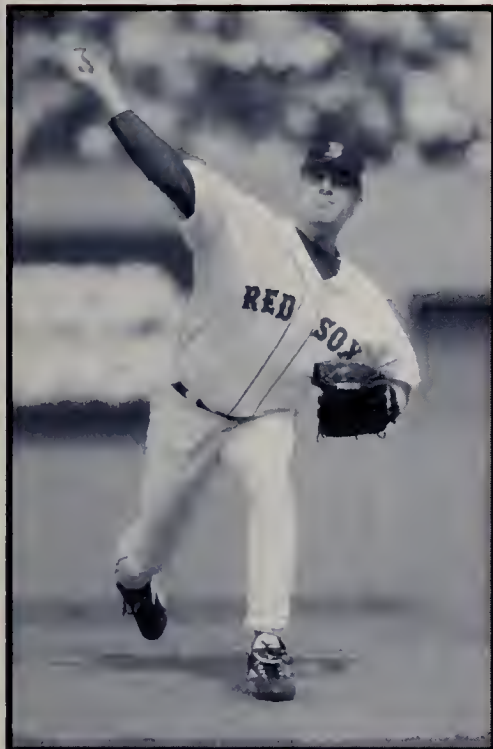

MAKING THEIR PITCH: The Red Sox finished 3rd in the American League with a 4.18 team ERA, while leading the league with 12 shutouts and a .255 average allowed...their 1,132 strikeouts were 2nd to Anaheim in the A.L...Red Sox hurlers allowed only 159 home runs, tied for fewest in the league with Baltimore.

► In addition to 12 shutouts (8 of which came at home), the Sox held their opponent to one run or less 25 times and surrendered 2 or less in 46 of 162 games (28 percent).

FOR STARTERS...: Red Sox starters combined for 73 victories, a total surpassed by only the Cardinals (74) in all of baseball...Sox starters registered a 4.31 ERA, which ranked 3rd in the A.L. behind only Minnesota and Oakland...Boston starters led the A.L. with a .258 average allowed and 796 strikeouts...they trailed only the Athletics and White Sox with 1007.2 innings pitched.

RELIABLE ROTATION: The Red Sox employed the services of only 8 starting pitchers...only 5 of the club's 162 games were started by a pitcher other than the regular starting 5 of Pedro Martinez (33 starts), Curt Schilling (32), Derek Lowe (32), Tim Wakefield (30) and Bronson Arroyo (29)...Byung-Hyun Kim made 3 starts, Abe Alvarez was promoted from Double-A Portland to make one start, pressed into service by a doubleheader, and Pedro Astacio started a doubleheader game on the 2nd-to-last day of the season.

► The Sox had 5 pitchers win 10 or more games for the first time since 1979 when Dennis Eckersley won 17, Mike Torrez and Bob Stanley won 16, Steve Renko won 11 and Dick Drago won 10...5 Red Sox topped 175.0 innings pitched in the same season for the first time since 1929, when Red Ruffing, Milt Gaston, Jack Russell, Danny MacFayden and Ed Morris turned the trick.

BUSY PEN: Mike Timlin (76 appearances), Keith Foulke (72) and Alan Embree (71) gave the Red Sox their first-ever trio of relief pitchers with 70 appearances in a single season...the Red Sox previously had 2 pitchers make 70 or more appearances in a single season just once in club history, in 1993, when Greg Harris (80) and Tony Fossas (71) turned the trick.

WHY SO DEFENSIVE?: The Red Sox finished with a .981 fielding percentage and 94 unearned runs allowed...after recording a .979 fielding percentage with 80 errors and 74 unearned runs allowed in 102 games through July 31, the Sox posted a .983 fielding percentage with only 38 errors and 20 unearned runs allowed in their final 60 games.

HELLO MY NAME IS...: The Red Sox employed the services of 50 players (25 position players and 26 pitchers, including David McCarty on both lists)...the 26 pitchers matched the club record set in 1995 and 2003...the club record for players used is 55 in 1996.

IN MEDICAL NEWS...: 16 players endured 19 stints on the D.L. in 2004, missing a total of 1,170 games...in 2003, 10 players endured 13 stints on the D.L., missing only 497 games...Jeremy Giambi was the only position player to go on the D.L. in 2003, missing 74 games...in 2004, 8 position players went on the D.L. 9 times, missing 421 contests.

PACKING 'EM IN: The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in franchise history, becoming only the 4th team in major league history to sell out an entire season, joining the Indians (1996-2000), Rockies (1996) and Giants (2000)...playing in Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest park, the Red Sox finished the 2004 regular season with a streak of 145 consecutive Fenway Park sellouts beginning May 15, 2003...the streak is 3rd-longest in major league history behind only Cleveland (455 consecutive sellouts from 1995-2001) and Colorado (203 in a row from 1995-97)...since the Red Sox' sellout streak began May 15, 2003, no other club has drawn as many as 32,000 for every home game...the Red Sox's final regular season attendance total was 2,837,304, good for an average of 35,028 per game...the club surpassed 2.8 million in home attendance for the first time, setting a club record for the 5th consecutive season...the previous Red Sox attendance high was 2,724,162 in 2003.

WASHBURN (L), Shields (4), Gregg (6), Ortiz (8) and B. Molina
HR—Millar (1), Ramirez (1), Glaus (1)
T—3:04; A—44,608

Kevin Millar hit a 2-run homer and Manny Ramirez a 3-run blast as the Red Sox sent 10 men to the plate in a 7-run 4th inning, going on to win convincingly 9-3 in the first game of Major League Baseball's 2004 postseason. Curt Schilling scattered 9 hits over 6.2 innings, allowing 3 runs (2 earned) before giving way to Alan Embree, who induced Adam Riggs to pop out to Jason Varitek in foul ground to end the Angels' 7th. Schilling aggravated his right ankle in the inning after fielding Garret Anderson's 2-out slow roller down the first base line. Schilling's throw to first got past Doug Mientkiewicz, an error that set up Trot Glaus' RBI double and subsequently Schilling's exit from the game. Mike Timlin was perfect over the final 2.0 innings, including 3 strikeouts in the 9th, capped by Vladimir Guerrero's swing-and-a-miss for the final out.

HR—Varitek (1)
T—3:48; A—45,118

Manny Ramirez's sacrifice fly in the 7th snapped a 3-3 tie and the Red Sox offense tacked on 4 more in the 9th to win 8-3 and head back to Boston up 2 games to none in the best-of-5 series. Jason Varitek's home run on a first-pitch offering from Bartolo Colon with 2 outs in the 6th knotted the score at 3-3. Pedro Martinez, who threw 116 pitches (79 strikes) over 7.0 innings, surrendered 3 runs on 6 hits and a pair of walks while fanning 6. The Angels took a 3-1 lead in the 5th when Vladimir Guerrero singled home Jose Molina and David Eckstein, snapping an 0-for-7 skid to begin the series. Orlando Cabrera's 2-out, bases-loaded double in the 9th cleared the bases and closed out the scoring.

GAME 3 at BOSTON (Night) Friday, October 8

T—4:11; A—35,547

David Ortiz's 2-out, 2-run homer off the first pitch from lefty reliever and Game 1 starter Jarrod Washburn in the 10th sent the Red Sox to a sweep of the Division Series and a date with the Yankees in the American League Championship Series. Angels right-handed reliever Francisco Rodriguez worked 2.2 innings before manager Mike Scioscia pulled him in favor of Washburn to face the left-handed hitting Ortiz with pinch runner Pokey Reese on first. Vladimir Guerrero's 7th-inning grand slam to right-center field off Mike Timlin capped a 5-run outburst that tied the score at 6-6, nullifying Bronson Arroyo's fine outing of 6.0+ innings. In his first career post-season start, Arroyo struck out 7 and allowed just 2 runs on 3 hits and 2 walks. Derek Lowe, who worked out of a first-and-third jam in the 10th by getting Chone Figgins to ground out to Orlando Cabrera, picked up the win.

HR—Lofton (1), Varitek (1)

Down 8-0 after 6 innings, the Red Sox scored 7 runs to pull within one before their spirited comeback finally fell short, succumbing to the Yankees 10-7 to begin the rematch of the 2003 American League Championship Series. Jason Varitek's 2-out, 2-run homer on an 0-2 pitch from Tanyon Sturtze capped the Red Sox' 5-run 7th, and David Ortiz's 2-RBI triple with 2 outs in the 8th got the Sox to within one before Kevin Millar popped out to Derek Jeter at short to end the threat. Mariano Rivera allowed a pair of one-out singles in the 9th, but Bill Mueller grounded into a double play to end the game. Curt Schilling, pitching with a dislocated tendon in his right ankle, lasted just 3.0 innings, giving up 6 runs on 6 hits and 2 walks. Mike Mussina was perfect through 6.1 innings before Mark Bellhorn stroked a double to left field. The Yankees starter left the game 4 batters and one out later, yielding 4 runs on 4 hits in all. Hideki Matsui went 3-for-5 with 2 doubles and 5 RBI, while Gary Sheffield was 3-for-4 with 2 RBI and 4 runs scored.

Jon Lieber was brilliant through 7.0+ innings, allowing one run on 3 hits and a walk as the Yankees prevailed 3-1 to take a 2-games-to-none series lead. John Olerud's 2-run homer in the 6th upped the Yankees' lead to 3-0, proving to be the difference when Orlando Cabrera's RBI groundout scored Trot Nixon in the 8th for Boston's lone run. Gary Sheffield's first-inning RBI single gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead. Pedro Martinez allowed 3 runs on 4 hits and 4 walks in 6.0 innings, striking out 7 and tossing 113 pitches (64 strikes) in all. Rivera surrendered a one-out double to Manny Ramirez in the 9th, but fanned David Ortiz and Kevin Millar to close out the game.

GAME 3 at BOSTON (Night) Saturday, October 16

After a rainout Friday, the Yankees pounded the Red Sox 19-8 to take a 3-0 series lead, scoring the 2nd-most runs in any Major League Baseball post-season game, 4 runs shy of Boston's 23-run effort vs. Cleveland in Game 4 of a 1999 Division Series. Gary Sheffield, Hideki Matsui and Alex Rodriguez combined to go 12-for-16 with 5 doubles, 4 homers and 12 RBI as Javier Vazquez earned the win by tossing 4.1 innings of 4-run ball, relieving Yankees starter Kevin Brown, who gave up 4 runs (3 earned) on 5 hits and 2 walks in only 2.0 innings. Sox starter Bronson Arroyo allowed 6 runs on 6 hits and 2 walks in 2.0+ innings. Tied 6-6 through 3 innings, the Yankees scored 5 times in the 4th, 2 times in the 5th and 4 times in the 7th to take a 17-6 lead. Tim Wakefield gave up his start in Game 4 to pitch 3.1 innings of relief. Orlando Cabrera, Jason Varitek, and Trot Nixon each knocked in a pair of runs.

David Ortiz crushed a 2-1 offering from Paul Quantrill into the Yankees bullpen with no outs in the 12th as the Red Sox won in walk-off fashion to get in the win column of the American League Championship Series. Manny Ramirez led off the inning with a single to left-center field to set the stage for Ortiz's 2-run blast. The heroics didn't start there, as Bill Mueller tied the score at 4-4 in the 9th by knocking in Dave Roberts from 2nd with a single to center off Mariano Rivera. Roberts, who pinch ran following a Kevin Millar lead-off walk, stole second to set up Mueller's game-tying hit. Boston later loaded the bases with 2 outs, but Rivera got Ortiz to pop out to Miguel Cairo at second, sending the game into extra innings. The Sox worked out of jams in the 11th and 12th to prolong their season, including Curtis Leskanic getting Bernie Williams to fly out to Johnny Damon in center with 2 outs and the bases loaded in the 11th. In the 12th, Leskanic stranded Jorge Posada at second by inducing Tony Clark to fly out to Ramirez and striking out Cairo to end the inning. Sox starter Derek Lowe allowed 3 runs on 6 hits in 5.1 innings of work and Keith Foulke tossed 2.2 innings of scoreless relief. Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez went 5.0 innings, surrendering 3 runs on 3 hits and 5 hits, fanning 6.

David Ortiz's bloop single to center with 2 outs in the 14th scored Johnny Damon from 2nd for the winning run as the Red Sox were victorious for the 2nd straight night to send the American League Championship Series back to New York. Damon worked a one-out walk and advanced to second one out later after Manny Ramirez earned a walk of his own. Boston trailed 4-2 going into the home half of the 8th, but tied the score at 4-4 with an Ortiz lead-off solo homer off Tom Gordon and a Jason Varitek sacrifice fly off Mariano Rivera that scored pinch runner Dave Roberts. Roberts ran for Kevin Millar, who followed Ortiz' blast with a walk, and advanced to third on Trot Nixon's single to center. It was Rivera's 2nd blown save in as many nights. Mike Timlin, Keith Foulke, Bronson Arroyo, Mike Myers, Alan Embree and Tim Wakefield combined to toss 8.0 scoreless innings of relief, which followed Pedro Martinez' 6.0-inning, 4-run outing. Wakefield tossed the final 3.0 innings, working out of runners-in-scoring-position jams in the 12th and 13th before retiring the side in order in the 14th. The Sox grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first on Ortiz's RBI single and Varitek's bases-loaded walk. Boston became just the 3rd team in baseball history to force a Game 6 after dropping the first 3 games of a best-of-7 post-season series, joining the 1998 Braves vs. the Padres and the 1999 Mets vs. the Braves. Boston accomplished the feat with the longest game by time in post-season history.

The Red Sox doubled up the Yankees 4-2, using a Mark Bellhorn 3-run homer and 7.0 innings of one-run ball from Curt Schilling to force a decisive Game 7, something no team down 0-3 in a best-of-7 post-season series had done in baseball history. Schilling, who was pitching on a dislocated right ankle tendon held down by 3 sutures put in the day before, struck out 4 and walked none, avenging his poor outing in Game 1 of the series. Boston snapped a scoreless tie with 4 runs in the 4th on Jason Varitek's RBI single and Bellhorn's 3-run blast, which was originally ruled "in play" by left field umpire Jim Joyce. The ruling was overturned after Joyce conferred with the 5 other game officials, who saw the ball hit a spectator just beyond the outfield wall. The Yankees chipped away at their 4-0 hole with a Bernie Williams solo homer in the 7th and a Derek Jeter RBI single in the 8th. Alex Rodriguez followed Jeter's hit with a slow roller down the first base line, and swatted the ball out of Bronson Arroyo's glove as Arroyo applied the tag. Rodriguez was called out for interference, which returned Jeter to first base. Crew chief and first base umpire Randy Marsh originally let the play go with Jeter coming all the way around to score, but overturned his call after consulting with the rest of the crew, including home plate umpire Joe West, who saw Rodriguez swing at Arroyo's glove. With 2 outs and Jeter on first, Arroyo got Gary Sheffield to pop out to Varitek in foul territory for the final out of the inning. Keith Foulke walked 2 batters in the 9th, but finished the game with a strikeout of Tony Clark.

The Red Sox advanced to their first World Series since 1986 with a 10-3 victory over the Yankees, becoming the first team in baseball history and only the 3rd team in professional sports history to win a best-of-7 post-season series after falling in an 0-3 hole. Derek Lowe allowed one run on one hit over 6.0 innings on 2 days rest, and Johnny Damon slugged 2 home runs, including a 2nd-inning grand slam, as the Red Sox got revenge from their 11-inning, 6-5 loss in Yankee Stadium in Game 7 of the 2003 American League Championship Series. Alan Embree induced Ruben Sierra to ground out to defensive replacement Pokey Reese at second for the final out, clinching a matchup with the St. Louis Cardinals in the 100th Major League Baseball World Series. Lowe used just 69 pitches (44 strikes), and surrendered only a Derek Jeter RBI single in the 3rd with the Sox already up by 6 runs. Series MVP David Ortiz started the scoring with a 2-run homer in the first, and Orlando Cabrera closed it with a sacrifice fly in the 9th. New York scored a pair of runs off reliever Pedro Martinez in the 7th to cut Boston's lead to 8-3, but Mark Bellhorn erased any doubt when he stroked a solo homer to right in the 8th to make it 9-3.

The Cardinals battled back from 7-2 and 9-7 deficits to tie the score, but Mark Bellhorn's 2-run homer off the right-field foul pole on a 1-2 pitch from Julian Tavarez in the 8th proved too much, as the Red Sox won their first World Series game since Game 5 of the 1986 Fall Classic. Boston jumped out to a 4-0 advantage in the first on David Ortiz's 3-run blast and Bill Mueller's RBI single. After the Cardinals tied it at 7-7 in the 6th, the Sox took a 9-7 lead on RBI singles by Manny Ramirez and Ortiz. St. Louis came back in the next half inning to tie the score again, using an Edgar Renteria RBI single off Keith Foulke and a Ramirez fielding error on Larry Walker's fly to left that scored Roger Cedeno. Foulke worked out of a bases-loaded jam to end the threat in the 8th, getting Scott Rolen to pop out and striking out Jim Edmonds.

Curt Schilling, who earlier in the day had all but ruled himself out of his start because of pain from his sutured tendon in his right ankle, decided to pitch just hours before the game and went on to allow just one unearned run over 6.0 innings as the Red Sox were able to overcome 4 errors, 3 by Bill Mueller, to win 6-4 and take a 2-games-to-none series lead over the Cardinals. Mark Bellhorn's 2-RBI double in the 4th proved to be the difference. Varitek got things going in the first with a 2-out, 2-RBI triple to the triangle in right-center field, and Orlando Cabrera closed out Boston's scoring with a 2-out, 2-RBI single to left. Alan Embree relieved Schilling in the 7th, striking out the only 3 batters he faced. Keith Foulke fanned Jim Edmonds to end the 8th, and retired the side in order in the 9th to close it out.

Pedro Martinez allowed just 3 hits in 7.0 shutout innings, and Manny Ramirez hit his 4th career World Series home run as the Red Sox stymied the Cardinals 4-1 to move within one win of ending their 86-year title drought. It was 2 key defensive plays that helped keep St. Louis scoreless through the first 8 innings. After Ramirez's solo homer in the top of the first, the Red Sox left fielder in the bottom half ended a one-out, bases-loaded jam by throwing out Larry Walker at the plate trying to tag up from third on Jim Edmonds' fly-ball out. Then in the 3rd inning, with Jeff Suppan on third and Edgar Renteria on second, Walker grounded one to Mark Bellhorn, who threw to David Ortiz at first for the out. Suppan was caught between third and home on the play, and Ortiz threw a strike to Bill Mueller at third to get the Cardinals pitcher diving back to the bag. The Sox used RBI singles from Trot Nixon (4th inning), Ramirez (5th) and Mueller (5th) for their other 3 runs.

The Red Sox shut out the Cardinals 3-0 to clinch their first World Series Championship since 1918. With 2 outs and Albert Pujols on second in the 9th, Edgar Renteria grounded a comebacker to Keith Foulke, who flipped to Doug Mientkiewicz at first for the final out and a 4-game sweep of the National League champs. Derek Lowe matched Pedro Martinez's effort from the night before, allowing only 3 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings. Johnny Damon's first-inning, lead-off homer got things started, and the Sox offense tacked on 2 more in the 3rd when Trot Nixon smacked a 3-0 pitch off the right-center field wall for a 2-run double. Boston never trailed in the series, becoming only the 4th team in history to win a World Series in that manner, joining the '63 Dodgers, '66 Orioles and '89 Athletics. Manny Ramirez was named World Series MVP, going 7-for-17 (.412) with a homer and 4 RBI.

RED SOX BATTING

For the second consecutive season, the Red Sox in 2004 led the major leagues in runs scored, on-base percentage and slugging percentage. Leading the way were David Ortiz and Manny Ramirez, who combined for 84 home runs and 269 RBI. Ortiz collected an A.L.-high 91 extra-base, one shy of Jimmie Foxx's 1938 club record. Ramirez was second in the A.L. with 87 extra-base hits, 3rd-most in Red Sox history. With 43 long balls, Ramirez won his first A.L. home run title.

REACHING BASE 300 TIMES (H+BB+HP)

Reaching base 300 times by hits, walks and hit by pitches is a difficult feat. It has been done by only 63 players since 1901 (a total of 131 times). Thirty-three A.L. players have done it (75 times) and 30 N.L. players (56 times). Bonds in 2004 reached 376 times, 2nd best in M.L. history and the N.L. high. Fifteen players have done it 3 or more times: Gehrig and Ruth 9, Williams and Bonds 7, Boggs and Musial 6, Rose 5, Foxx, Helton, Hornsby and Bagwell 4, Ja. Giambi, Gehringer, Mantle, Speaker and Thomas 3. Boggs' total of 292 in 1984 fell 8 short but still led the M.L.

RED SOX ROOKIES WITH TEN TRIPLES

In 1997 Nomar Garciaparra led the American League with 11 triples, the first Red Sox to lead the A.L. in triples since Jim Rice led with 15 in 1978. He became the seventh Red Sox rookie to hit 10 or more triples and the first since Ted Williams hit 11 in 1939. Only five other Red Sox have led the A.L. in triples: Carlton Fisk as a rookie in 1972 tied with nine; Jackie Jensen in 1956 tied with 11; Dom DiMaggio & Bobby Doerr in 1950 tied with 11; and Chick Stahl in 1904 led with 22, a Sox record tied by Tris Speaker in 1912. Garciaparra and Fisk are the only Sox rookies to lead the A.L.

PITCHERS BATTING SINCE DH RULE

ROGER CLEMENS singled to CF on an 0-2 pitch in the last of the 8th from LH Norm Charlton (Sea.) 5/23/96 in Fenway Park. It was the first regular season hit by a RED SOX pitcher since 10/3/72 in Detroit, a single in the 7th inning by LUIS TIANI off Woody Fryman. Other than TIM LOLLAR, who singled as a PH 8/12/86 in K.C. (2nd G) and lined out as a PH 8/13/85 vs. K.C., PETE SCHOUREK, who singled as a PH 6/28/2000 vs. Balt. and TIM WAKEFIELD, who had sac. bunts as a PH 4/22/98 in Det. and 6/28/2000 vs. Balt., only eight pitchers have batted a total of nine times for the RED SOX since the DH rule went into effect in 1973. MARTY PATTIN hit the last HR by a Sox pitcher 9/26/72 in Fenway, off Bill Parsons of Milw. BILL LEE hit the last road HR 9/11/72 in Clev. off Ray Lamb.

MOST HOME RUNS IN A SINGLE GAME

The Red Sox record for home runs in a game is 8, set July 4, 1977 vs. Toronto at Fenway Park. Fred Lynn and George Scott hit 2 apiece, and Bernie Carbo (PH), Butch Hobson, Jim Rice and Carl Yastrzemski each hit one. Scott's 2-run blast over the 420-foot sign in center field was the only long ball hit with a man on. The 7 solo home runs still stand as a Major League record. In the bottom of the 8th, Lynn, Rice, Yastrzemski and Scott each went deep as the Red Sox overcame a 6-5 deficit to win 9-6 and end a 9-game losing streak. The Red Sox have also hit 7 HR in one game four times, most recently in a 10-3 win July 4, 2003 at Yankee Stadium (Varitek 2, Ortiz 2, Mueller 2 and Ramirez).

HR	DATE	OPPONENT	HOME RUNS	SCORE
8	7-4-77	vs. Toronto	Lynn (2), Scott (2), Carbo, Hobson, Rice, Yastrzemski	9-6
7	7-4-2003	at New York (AL)	Mueller (2), Ortiz (2), Varitek (2), Ramirez	10-3
7	7-23-2002 (Day of D/N DH)	vs. Tampa Bay	Garcia (3), Ramirez (2), Damon, Nixon	22-4
7	7-24-99	at Detroit	Nixon (3), Garcia (2), Daubach, O'Leary	11-4
7	6-8-50	vs. St. Louis	Doerr (3), Dropo (2), Williams (2)	29-4

The Red Sox have hit 6 homers in a game 17 times and 5 homers on 42 occasions. The last time they hit 6 in a game was in 2003: June 7 at Milw., June 29 vs. Fla. and August 3 at Balt.

Grand Slam Home Runs

SCOTT HATTEBERG (2000), MIDRE CUMMINGS (1998) MIKE STANLEY (1997), RICH GEDMAN (1984) and TONY PEREZ (1982) are the only Sox to hit 2 in one season since BERNIE CARBO hit 3 in 1977... The RED SOX hit 5 pinch HR in 1997, 2nd in the A.L. (Tex. 6)... It tied the Sox 2nd best total (1943, all by JOE CRONIN)... The club record is 6 in 1953... They hit 2 in 1996... In 1995 WES CHAMBERLAIN hit a solo HR in the last of the 9th May 9 off Armando Benitez to beat Balt. 4-3... The Sox hit one pinch HR in 1993 and 1994... In 1992 PHIL PLANTIER hit a 2-run HR Oct. 3 vs. the NYY off Scott Sanderson in the 5th inning to tie the score 5-5, and MO VAUGHN hit a 2-run HR Sept. 21 into the upper deck at Tiger Stadium off Mike Henneman in the 9th inning to tie the score 5-5... PLANTIER hit the only one in 1991, a 3-run HR Sept. 13 into the upper deck at Yankee Stad. off LHP Jeff Johnson in the 6th inng. to put Sox up 5-3... ELLIS BURKS hit the only one in 1990, a 3-run HR off Jay Baller in the 8th inning at Fenway July 14 to beat K.C. 8-7... The Red Sox hit 3 in 1989, none in 1988 and 2 in 1987... The Red Sox hit 3 pinch HR in 1986, highlighted by RICH GEDMAN'S 2-out grand slam in the 8th inning in Det. Aug. 10 off LH Willie Hernandez for a 9-6 win... That was the Sox first PH grand slam since VIC WERTZ hit one in Fenway Park Aug. 25, 1960 vs. Clev... The A.L. PH HR season record is held by JOE CRONIN with 5 in 1943 (including successive 3-run blasts in a DH vs. Philadelphia in Fenway June 17)... CHARLIE MAXWELL (1951), DEL WILBER (1953) and BERNIE CARBO (1977) hit 3 pinch HR... Four of the 12 players who share the A.L. record for PH HR on consecutive AB were Red Sox: CRONIN (1943), WILBER (May 6 and 10, 1953), TED WILLIAMS (Sept. 17 and 20, 1957) and CHUCK SCHILLING (Apr. 30 and May 1, 1965)... Sox pitchers allowed 1 PH HR in 2004, 4 in 2003, 1 in 2002, 2001 and 2000... They did not allow any PH HR in 1999.

Inside-the-Park Home Runs

The RED SOX have hit 126 known inside-the-park home runs (IPH) in their 104-year history including 46 in Fenway Park...POKEY REESE hit the only one in 2004 (May 8 vs. K.C.) in the 5th innng. down the RF line that bounced off the wall past RF Juan Gonzalez...REESE also hit a HR in the 6th innng. over the LF wall, the 7th Red Sox player to hit 2 such HR in the same game and first since TONY ARMAS (Sept. 24, 1983 in Det.). ...KEVIN MILLAR did so Aug. 26, 2003 to lead off the last of the 9th vs. Tor. in Fenway Park... On July 28, 1998 in Oak. DARREN LEWIS did so w/2 on (a liner to RF that Ben Grieve lost in the lights)... The prior game, July 26 vs. Tor. in Fenway Park, NOMAR GARCIAPARRA did so in the 8th innng. w/2 on, a fly ball down the RF line that hit the low wall and bounced away from Tony Phillips into RF...LUIS RIVERA hit one, June 21, 1991 at Fenway Park vs. Oak. (to RF which got by Jose Canseco)...BILL BUCKNER hit one April 25, 1990 in Fenway Park (to RF on which Claudell Washington fell into the stands) in the 4th inning off Kirk McCaskill...MIKE GREENWELL hit a grand slam grounder down the RF line on which Jesse Barfield crashed into the wall Sept. 1, 1990 in Fenway Park in the 7th inning off Greg Cadaret... On July 7, 1989 GREENWELL hit one in Fenway Park in the 6th inning also off Cadaret to LCF just above the 379-foot mark that caromed into RCF....CARL YASTRZEMSKI hit 3 IPH including the 2nd of 2 HR in Det. in the 9th inning on Opening Day Apr. 10, 1968... The only IPH of TED WILLIAMS' career clinched the 1946 pennant on Friday, Sept. 13 in Cleveland's League Park, hit to LF off Red Embree in the 1st inning against the "Boudreau Shift" for a 1-0 win for Tex Hughson..."Super Sub" JOHN KENNEDY hit a pinch IPH on his first Sox at bat July 5, 1970 vs. Clev. in Fenway... On June 17, 1936 RHP WES FERRELL hit one (last Sox pitcher to do so) and his batterymate, brother RICK, did likewise Aug. 18 the same year. 3B BILLY WERBER hit 3 in 1934...2B BILL REGAN hit 2 HR in the 4th inning in Chicago June 16, 1928 and the 2nd was an IPH. SS HEINIE WAGNER (1907), 3B LARRY GARDNER (1912) and INF HAL JANVRIN (1913) hit 2 IPH in the same game... TRIS SPEAKER holds the Sox record of 8 IPH in 1912.

LONGEST KNOWN HOME RUN AT FENWAY PARK

On June 19, 1977 Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an 8th-inning bomb off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. It reached approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the RF roof facade.

On September 21, 1956 Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, batting left-handed, hit the longest known home run to straight-away center field off righthander Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet when it struck the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

On June 9 1946 Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right off Detroit righthander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, 56, a construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

Six home runs were hit over the old center field wall to the right of the flag pole. The elevation over the old brick wall was installed prior to the 1976 season and was removed prior to the 2003 season. No one hit a home run over that elevation that was in place from 1976-2002.

Since 1970 Jim Rice leads the Sox with 5 game-ending HR followed by Dwight Evans with 4. Amazingly, two of the five years in which the Sox hit 200 HR (213 in 1977 and 203 in 1970), they did not hit any game-ending blasts.

Note: David Ortiz hit two extra-inning, game-ending home runs in the 2004 postseason. He hit the first one in the 10th inning of Game 3 of the ALDS vs. Anaheim to win 8-6 and clinch the series. He hit the second one in the 12th inning of Game 4 of the ALCS vs. the Yankees to win 6-4 staging the Red Sox dramatic comeback in that series. Trot Nixon hit a game-ending, pinch-hit, 2-run homer in the 11th inng. of Game 3 of the 2003 ALDS vs. Oakland to give the Red Sox a 3-1 win. They are Boston's only walk-off homers in the postseason since Carlton Fisk's historic blast to end Game 6 of the 1975 World Series vs. Cincinnati.

EXTRA-INNING HOME RUNS

Current Red Sox with extra-inning home runs for Boston are David Ortiz with four, Jason Varitek with three, Kevin Millar with two and Johnny Damon, David McCarty, Trot Nixon and Manny Ramirez with one. In 2004 Ortiz (4/11 vs. Tor., 12th inng., game-ending), McCarty (5/30 vs. Sea., 12th inng., game-ending), Ramirez (7/1 at NYN, 13th inng.), Orlando Cabrera (9/22 vs. Balt., 12th inng., game-ending) and Millar (9/28 at TB, 11th inng.) each had one. In 2003 Ortiz (4/27, in Ana., 14th-inng. leadoff), (9/3 at CWS, 10th inng.) and (9/23 vs. Balt., 10th-inng. leadoff), Millar (4/1 in TB, 16th inng.) and Varitek (4/27 in Ana., 14th inng.) did so. In 2002 Damon (8/26 vs. Ana., 10th-inng. leadoff) for 10-9 win. In 2001 Varitek (5/13 vs. Oak., 11th-inng. leadoff) and Shea Hillenbrand (6/5 vs. Det., 18th-inng. leadoff), both game-winners. In 2000 Garciaparra (6/27 vs. Balt., 10th inng.) and Brian Daubach (5/24 vs. Tor., 11th-inng., 6-3 game-winner with 2 on) hit the two Sox extra-inng. HR. In 1999 Varitek (9/15 in Clev., 13th-inng. leadoff) and one out later, Nixon also hit one in Sox 6-4 win. In 1998 Garciaparra (8/11, 10th inng., 2 on vs. K.C. for a 7-4 win) hit the only Sox extra-inning HR. He also hit the only one in 1997 (4/24, 12th inng. solo in Balt. w/2 outs for a 2-1 win).

NOTE: A uniform GWRBI rule was adopted by both leagues in 1979 — "The RBI that gives a team a lead it never relinquishes." Until 1979 the Red Sox rule was simply, the run that was one more than the opposition's final score. GWRBI was discontinued as an official statistic after the 1988 season. * A.L. record

Mike Greenwell's 9 RBI in Sea. Sept. 2, 1996 is a M.L. record for a player who drove in all his team's runs in one game... Previously the last Red Sox with at least 7 RBI in one game was Jack Clark, 7, July 5, 1991 vs. Det... Since Greenwell in 1996 the only Red Sox players with at least 7 RBI in one game are Bill Mueller, 9, July 29, 2003 in Tex., Nomar Garciaparra, 8, July 23, 2002 vs. T.B. and Jason Varitek, 7, May 20, 2001 in K.C... The other current Red Sox with a 6-RBI game with the Red Sox are Manny Ramirez (Aug. 22, 2002 vs. Tex.), Bill Mueller (June 27, 2003 vs. Fla.) and Trot Nixon (Sept. 1, 2003 at Phil.)... Also, in the 1999 Divisional Series, John Valentin had 7 RBI vs. Clev. (Oct. 10), and Troy O'Leary did the same (Oct. 11) in Clev.

MOST RBI ONE SEASON FROM LEADOFF POSITION

In 2000 Darin Erstad had 100 RBI as a leadoff batter to break Nomar Garciaparra's M.L. record of 98 RBI set in 1997. Nomar broke the 40-year record of 85 RBI by Harvey Kuenn for Detroit in 1956. Dom DiMaggio's 84 RBI as the Red Sox leadoff hitter in 1948 was the previous club record. Johnny Damon had 91 leadoff RBI in 2004, the only M.L. leadoff batter with more than 65.

STEALING HOME

By the Red Sox:

In 2004 the Red Sox failed on their only attempted steal of home when MANNY RAMIREZ was out at home on a double steal try on a 3-2 pitch to Kevin Youkilis that was a called 3rd strike June 15 in Col. In 2003 the RED SOX failed on their only attempted steal of home when DAMIAN JACKSON was out when Johnny Damon missed a squeeze bunt try on Aug. 6 vs. Ana. In 2002 the RED SOX failed on their only attempted steal of home on June 1 when SHEA HILLENBRAND was out at home at NYY on a 1st and 3rd double steal try. The RED SOX had one attempted steal of home in 2001. On Aug. 4 (night) HILLENBRAND was out vs. Tex. on a missed suicide squeeze play. In 2000 they did not have any steal of home attempts. They had two steals of home in two tries in 1999. On Aug. 30 JOSE OFFERMAN stole home vs. K.C. in the 5th inning with Donnie Sadler stealing 2nd. On June 4 JEFF FRYE stole home vs. Atl. when LH Tom Glavine threw the ball high and wide to home plate with Darren Lewis at bat on a suicide squeeze play. The RED SOX did not have any steals of home in 1998. Their only attempt was unsuccessful when TROY O'LEARY was out at home on a 1st and 3rd situation Aug. 8 in Tex. In 1997 the RED SOX were unsuccessful on their only two attempted steals of home, both from missed squeeze bunt plays. SCOTT HATTEBERG was out at home Apr. 15 vs. Oak. and TROY O'LEARY was out June 29 vs. Det. In 1996 the RED SOX had two steals of home, both on double steal plays. On Aug. 21 MO VAUGHN stole home vs. Oak. in the 4th inning, with John Valentin stealing 2nd as Mike Stanley struck out. On Aug. 5 vs. Tor. MIKE GREENWELL stole home as Stanley stole 2nd while Jeff Frye fanned. The RED SOX did not have a steal of home attempt in 1995. The last RED SOX player to steal home on a straight steal attempt was BILLY HATCHER with two outs Apr. 22, 1994 vs. Ana. in the last of the 7th inning on a 3-1 count to tie the score 5-5 with LH Chuck Finley the pitcher. That was the third straight year the SOX had a steal of home. In 1993 IVAN CALDERON did so May 21 vs. the NYY with two outs in the last of the 7th inning when LH Neal Heaton made a 1-3 pickoff try with Hatcher on first base. On Aug. 3, 1992 HATCHER stole home in the bottom of the 3rd inning vs. Tor. with Juan Guzman pitching. That was the first steal of home for the RED SOX since June 16, 1988 when MARTY BARRETT did so in the top of the 4th inning in Balt. against LH Jeff Ballard. Prior to BARRETT it was May 28, 1973 as TOMMY HARPER stole home in K.C. against Dick Drago. Prior to HATCHER in 1992, the last RED SOX to steal home at Fenway was JOE FOY Aug. 28, 1968 vs. Oak.'s Blue Moon Odom.

By the Opposition:

In 2004 the opposition did not have any steal of home tries. In 2003 the opposition failed in the only steal of home try, May 7 in K.C. on a double steal play. In 2002 the opposition did not have any steal of home tries. In 2001 the opposition failed in 3 steal of home tries. On Sept. 20, 2000 OMAR VIZQUEL stole home for Clev. with Rheal Cormier pitching in the 5th innng. of the night game during the day-night DH in Fenway Park. It was the first straight steal of home vs. the RED SOX since DEVON WHITE in Ana. Sept. 9, 1989 in the 6th inning with Joe Price pitching. The only other straight steal of home vs. the RED SOX since ROY WHITE of N.Y.Y. Aug. 1, 1972 at Fenway, was by CLAUDELL WASHINGTON of NYY. Sept. 15, 1988 at Fenway in the 5th inning vs. Roger Clemens. Prior to Vizquel the last successful opponent steal of home came on a double steal July 5, 1994 in Fenway with CHRIS TURNER of Ana. scoring.

RED SOX PITCHING

In 2004 the Red Sox had two pitchers with 200 strikeouts for the first time: (Pedro Martinez 227 and Curt Schilling 203). Schilling, who finished second to the Twins' Johan Santana in A.L. Cy Young voting, led the league with 21 wins and a .778 winning percentage. He is the first Red Sox pitcher to lead the league in wins since Martinez (23-4) in 1999. The Red Sox had four pitchers with 30 games started while Bronson Arroyo had 29. Five pitchers won 10 or more games for the Red Sox for the first time since 1979, and five topped 175.0 innings pitched for the first time since 1929.

Most Strikeouts by an Opponent (Since 1972)

Randy Johnson's 15 strikeouts April 10, 1998 were the most by a lefthander vs. the Red Sox since Mickey Lolich had 15 K's October 2, 1972 in Detroit. When Roger Clemens fanned 16 Red Sox July 12, 1997 at Fenway Park, it was the first time in 20 years an opposing pitcher struck out more than 13 Red Sox. From 1972 through 2004 only 6 pitchers struck out more than 13 Red Sox in a game (a total of 11 times). Nolan Ryan had 6 such efforts, all from 1972 through 1977, including 3 in 1974.

In 2004 LH Ted Lilly struck out 13 Red Sox (9 IP) 8/23 in Tor. and also fanned 10 (5.2 IP) 5/22 in Bos... Victor Zambrano (10 in 6 IP) 4/29 for TB in Bos. and Johan Santana (12 in 8 IP) 8/1 in Minn. were the only other opposing pitchers to strike out 10 or more Red Sox in one game.

Career 10-Strikeout Games by Red Sox

Ten pitchers have struck out 10 or more batters in a game for the Red Sox at least 6 times... Pedro Martinez did it 72 times, followed by Roger Clemens 68 times, Smokey Joe Wood 18 times, Bruce Hurst (the only lefty) 13 times, Jim Lonborg and Ray Culp 10 times, Luis Tiant and Dave Morehead 9 times, Cy Young 8 times and Bill Monbouquette 6 times... In 2004 Pedro Martinez had 6 10-K games, Curt Schilling had 4 and Bronson Arroyo had one... In 1999 Martinez set a new team one-season high of 19 such games to break Clemens' record of 12 times in 1988.

Extra-Inning Complete-Game Shutouts

The Red Sox have had 26 extra-inning complete-game shutouts. Twenty pitchers accomplished that feat for 24 wins and 2 ties. The last Red Sox pitcher to do so was lefty Bruce Hurst August 7, 1988, when he won 3-0 in 10 innings in Detroit. That was the first since righthander Mike Torrez topped Minnesota 1-0 in 10 innings at Fenway Park on July 18, 1980.

Cy Young had 4 such games (1903, 1904 and 2 in 1907), including one tie. The only other Sox hurlers to have more than one were lefty Ray Collins (1913, 1914), and righthanders Sam Jones (1918) and Joe Bush (2 in 13 days in 1918), all with 2. Jones, 1-0 (10 innings) vs. Cleveland (G1) July 8, and Bush, 1-0 (12 innings) vs. Cleveland July 9, did so on consecutive days at Fenway.

Young went 15 innings (the longest shutout) to beat Detroit 1-0 at the Huntington Avenue Grounds May 11, 1904. Babe Ruth had the longest effort by a lefthander, a 1-0, 13-inning win August 15, 1916 vs. Washington. Other 13-inning shutouts were by Young, a 0-0 tie vs. Philadelphia September 9, 1907 in the Huntington Avenue Grounds and Ed Durham, who beat Detroit 1-0 at Fenway September 12, 1931. Lloyd Brown (1933) and Dutch Leonard (1916) were the only other lefties, in addition to Hurst, Collins and Ruth, to have extra-inning shutouts.

PITCHING

FIELDING

In 2004, catcher Jason Varitek's 880 putouts led the American League and were the fourth-most in Red Sox history. It was the fifth time he had 800 in a season. His 5,278 career putouts entering 2005 are a Red Sox record, ahead of Carlton Fisk (5,111). Varitek's .998 fielding percentage in 2004 ranks second among all-time Red Sox catchers for a single season.

Righthander Bronson Arroyo had 24 putouts in 2004, most by a Red Sox pitcher since Roger Clemens (31) in 1991. Arroyo tied Cleveland's Jake Westbrook for the A.L. lead.

RED SOX TRIPLE PLAYS

On July 8, 1994 at Fenway Park, SS JOHN VALENTIN turned an unassisted triple play (9th in regular-season M.L. history, 10th overall) in the 6th inning vs. Seattle (1B George Burns 9/14/23 vs. Cleveland is the only other Red Sox to do so). With Mike Blowers on second and Keith Mitchell on first, Marc Newfield hit a line drive to VALENTIN, who tagged second to retire Blowers and also tagged Mitchell between first and second to complete the rare play. Ironically, VALENTIN led off the bottom of the inning with the Sox trailing 2-0 and hit a 3-2 pitch off Dave Fleming into the left field net, only the 2nd of the 10 to homer in the same inning in which he turned an unassisted triple play (shortstop Neal Ball of Cleveland vs. Boston on July 19, 1909). It was Boston's first triple play since July 28, 1979, when the club tied the M.L. record by turning 3 triple plays in a single season. Those were the first Red Sox triple plays since May 25, 1972 vs. Baltimore.

The Red Sox hit into their first triple play in more than 5 years when SCOTT HATTEBERG lined into a 6-4 triple play, August 6, 2001 in the 4th inning vs. Texas. In the 6th inning HATTEBERG hit a grand slam as the Sox won 10-7, making him the only player in history to hit into a triple play and hit a grand slam in the same game. Prior to HATTEBERG the last Red Sox to hit into a triple play was TIM NAEHRING, who grounded into one, 5-4-3 June 6, 1996 in the first inning vs. Chicago. The Sox won 7-4 as JOHN VALENTIN hit for the cycle. July 17, 1990 vs. Minnesota the Red Sox became the first M.L. team to hit into 2 triple plays in the same game. In fact it is the only game in M.L. history with 2 triple plays. In the 4th inning, with the bases loaded, TOM BRUNANSKY grounded to third baseman Gary Gaetti, who stepped on third, then threw to second baseman Al Newman who relayed to first baseman Kent Hrbek. In the 8th inning, with runners on first and second, JODY REED grounded to Gaetti, who stepped on third to start another 5-4-3 triple play. In spite of the history-making event, the Red Sox won the game 1-0.

Prior to 1990 the last triple play turned against the Red Sox was July 4, 1988 in Kansas City. JIM RICE fled out to Willie Wilson in center field. Wilson threw to second baseman Frank White to double up MIKE GREENWELL. White then threw to first baseman George Brett to get ELLIS BURKS. Prior to that the last one was September 4, 1965 in New York. BOB TILLMAN grounded to Clete Boyer at third base. Boyer started a 5-4-3 double play with Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone. Pepitone then threw back to Boyer to get TONY CONIGLIARO at third.

RED SOX HISTORY

HOW THEY BECAME THE RED SOX

As one of four clubs to enter into the newly formed American League in 1901, the Red Sox were initially called the Boston Americans. Other nicknames for the club at that time were the Somersets, after original owner Charles W. Somers; Plymouth Rocks; Speed Boys; Puritans; but they were mainly called the Americans or Pilgrims. These various names were applied until December of 1907, when the current name "Red Sox" was adopted. The origin of this name is traced to the Boston Red Stockings, a powerful National League in the 1870's and 1880's. In 1907 the Red Stockings (who later became the Braves) abandoned the red hosiery they customarily wore. Manager Fred Tenney believed that the red dye in the socks could possibly cause infection in spike wounds. Red Sox Owner John I. Taylor stated, "From now on we'll wear red stockings, and I'm grabbing that name Red Sox!"

THE HISTORY OF THE BOSTON RED SOX

The American League was formed in 1901, and Boston is one of only four cities to have remained in the league for all 100 years with Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland. The Boston American League Base Ball Club, officially known as the Americans, but also known by the media as the Pilgrims or Somersets after owner Charles Somers, started their inaugural season on the road April 26 against the Baltimore Orioles (now the New York Yankees), but didn't pick up their first win until April 30 in Philadelphia, in a 10-inning 8-6 decision pitched by Cy Young. Young also pitched and won the Huntington Avenue Grounds home opener May 8 against Philadelphia, 12-4. In 1903, the team finished in first place with a 91-47 record earning themselves a berth in the first-ever World Series against the National League Pittsburgh Pirates. Game One of the first World Series was played at Huntington Avenue and pitched by Young, who lost but then won two games in the Series. The Pilgrims won five games to three, in a best of nine series, bolstered by their band of fans, the "Royal Rooters" who were known for their rowdy behavior. 1904 brought another successful year for the Pilgrims, with Cy Young pitching the first perfect game of the modern era in the Huntington Avenue Grounds against Philadelphia on May 5. With a 95-59 record, the 1904 Pilgrims were set to play the New York Giants in the World Series, but Giants manager John McGraw and owner John Brush refused to play, making this the first of only two times since 1903 when the World Series was not played. The Pilgrims, also were known as the Puritans in 1905. In 1907, the cross-town National League Red Stockings adopted the name "Doves" and changed the team colors from red to blue. Puritans owner John I. Taylor snapped up the popular color, and renamed his team the Red Sox. In the latter half of the decade, Young continued to dominate, throwing a no-hitter in New York in 1908 on the way to his record 511 career wins. The Red Sox, however, would not see post-season play again until the next decade.

Taylor decided the Red Sox needed a new ballpark, Fenway Park opened in 1912, and a decade of dynasty began. The new park, called Fenway Park because of its location in the Fenway part of Boston, opened on April 20, 1912, with the Red Sox taking a 7-6, 11-inning decision from the New York Highlanders (Yankees). With a 105-47 record, the Sox headed for the World Series led by fireballer Smoky Joe Wood's 34-5 record, and centerfielder Tris Speaker's .383 batting average. This time, John McGraw did bring the New York Giants to the World Series, and the Sox summarily defeated them four games to three. The Red Sox picked up a young left-handed pitcher in 1914 by the name of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, who would figure prominently in the Red Sox World Series dynasty of the next several years. The Red Sox went to the World Series three more times in the teens, and emerged victorious with each visit. The 1915 World Series was marked by the strong hitting performances of the legendary Sox outfield of Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker, and Harry Hooper. After dropping Game One, the Sox won the next four to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies for the championship. In 1916, Ruth was the season and the Series hero, with a 23-12 regular season record and a 1.75 ERA. In Game Two of the World Series, Ruth pitched a 14-inning, complete game 2-1 win against the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Sox went on to take the Series four games to one for the second straight year. The Red Sox played their World Series games in 1915 and 1916 in the new and larger capacity National League Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue, which held 40,000 fans. In 1918, Ruth extended his streak to 29 2/3 scoreless World Series innings, a record that stood until 1961, and also tied for the league lead with 11 home runs. In the World Series against the Chicago Cubs, Ruth and Carl Mays each won two games to lead the Sox to their fourth world championship in seven years. The next decade, however, would not be so kind to the Red Sox.

1920-1929

After Sox owner Harry Frazee sold Ruth and most of his best players to the Yankees, the "Roaring Twenties" were anything but for the ailing Red Sox. The team failed to clear the .500 mark in each year of the decade, losing over 100 games in three consecutive seasons from 1925-1927. To add to the difficulty on the field, the ballpark itself suffered a setback. In 1926, fire roared through Fenway Park, destroying much of the left-field bleacher sections. Unable to cover the cost of repairing the damage, then-owner Bob Quinn could not rebuild the sections, and the difficult decade for the Sox continued. All was not gloomy, however, as there were several standout performances by individual players during the decade. Pitcher Sam Jones won 23 games in 1921, and Howard Ehmke won 39 games for the Sox in 1923- 1924, including a no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1923. First baseman Stuffy McInnis, a member of the 1918 world champion team, set American League fielding records with a .999 fielding pct. in 1921 and still holds the Red Sox career fielding pct. record at first base of .996.

The 30's brightened for the Red Sox, and though the team did not make it back to the great years of the teens, a new dynasty of ownership began in 1933, when 30-year-old millionaire Tom Yawkey bought the club. His first order of business was to rebuild the fire-scarred stadium. Ironically, on the night of January 4, 1934, during the construction of the new Fenway Park, another fire raged through the ballpark, destroying much of the progress. The park was ready for Opening Day 1934, however, when the Sox lost to Joe Cronin and his Washington Senators on April 17. The Red Sox fielded far better teams in the 1930's than they had in the decade prior, and also saw attendance figures increase, especially after Fenway was refurbished. On August 12, 1934, 46,766 fans attended Ruth's farewell game at Fenway, spilling out onto the field. The next season, the Sox set their record single-day attendance which still stands, with 47,627 fans attending a doubleheader on September 22 against the Yankees. 1935 also saw shortstop Joe Cronin traded to the Sox from Washington to become player-manager. 1938 was the high point of the decade, with Cronin leading the Sox to an 88-61 record, and MVP Jimmie Foxx hitting a still-standing team-record 50 home runs with 175 RBI and a league-high .349 average. Veteran Lefty Grove led the league in ERA for four of the last five years of the decade. 1939 also brought forth a new era in Red Sox baseball, when Ted Williams began his legendary career. That season, the Red Sox had five future Hall of Famers on the roster including Williams, Cronin, Foxx, Grove and Bobby Doerr, and they finished with a strong 89-62 record. This decade also saw the Red Sox take the field with numbers on their uniforms for the first time in 1931. For some Red Sox players, these were the numbers that would forever be associated with them as Boston legends.

The 40's got even better for the Red Sox. 1941 was a landmark year for the team, with Williams hitting .406 and Grove picking up his 300th career win. Williams is the last man to hit over .400 for a season, and Grove is one of 2 pitchers to get his 300th win as a Red Sox, the other being Cy Young. Williams continued his consistent hitting by picking up his first Triple Crown in 1942, and his second of four batting titles in the forties. Rookie Dave Ferriss was 21-10 in 1945, on his way to helping the team return to the World Series in 1946 when he was 25-6. The Sox won the pennant by a comfortable 12-game margin in 1946, winning 104 games in the process, but lost the World Series for the first time in franchise history to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games. Fenway also played host to the 1946 All-Star Game, in which Williams went 4 for 4 with two home runs and five RBI. Coming off the AL pennant year, Williams won a 2nd Triple Crown in 1947. Lights were also installed that season to start the era of night baseball at Fenway. 1948 and 1949 were both tough seasons for the Red Sox. While collecting 96 wins in each year, they finished both seasons only one game out of first place. They lost a one-game playoff to the Cleveland Indians in 1948. Had the Sox won that game, they would have played the Boston Braves in the World Series. In 1949, they lost the final two games of the season in Yankee Stadium to finish one game behind the Yankees. The Sox teams of the late 40's were led by pitcher Mel Parnell who won 25 games and the ERA title in 1949, while Ellis Kinder also picked up 23 victories in 1949. By the end of the 1940's, however, Williams had clearly established himself as one of the greatest players in baseball. He had played eight seasons of major league baseball through 1949, during which time he amassed two MVPs, two Triple Crowns, four RBI titles (one tied with teammate Vern Stephens), four home run titles, and four batting titles. Dom DiMaggio, one of baseball's greatest centerfielders, had a .298 career average, scored 100 runs seven times, was a seven-time All-Star and led the AL in 1950 with 11 triples, 15 stolen bases, and 131 runs scored. In 1948, he had 503 putouts, playing in the AL's smallest park, a record that stood until 1977. He is one of only 5 outfielders to have 500 putouts in one season. Johnny Pesky, an excellent all-around shortstop, had 200 hits in each of his first three major league seasons, and had a .313 career average for the Red Sox. The decade, overall, was the most successful for the team since the teens.

1950-1959

The 50's were another decade of strong hitting for the Sox, starting off with the Rookie of the Year Award-winning performance by first baseman Walter Dropo in 1950. Walter was a part of perhaps the best hitting Red Sox team ever, with the starting lineup averaging .313, and the entire team hitting .302. Infielder Billy Goodman won the batting championship in 1950 with his .354 average, while the team amassed a 94 – 60 record, which would ultimately be their best for the decade. For the second time in his career, Williams put off baseball for military service in the Korean War in 1951 and 1952, after serving three years during World War II. Upon his return, he continued his usual impressive hitting numbers with a tremendous league-leading .388 in 1957 with 38 home runs and winning a second straight title with a .328 average at the age of 40 in 1958. Meanwhile, Jackie Jensen won the RBI title in 1955 (tied), 1958 and 1959, and the MVP in 1958. Rookie third baseman Frank Malzone joined the team full-time in 1957 and won three Gold Glove Awards in 1957, 1958, and 1959. Some Red Sox pitchers also fared well in the 1950's, as Parnell continued his successful pitching through the first half of the decade, winning 69 games for the Sox from 1950 to 1953 along with a no-hitter in 1956. Frank Sullivan had 90 wins from 1954 to 1960, and Ellis Kinder became one of the American League's best relief pitchers of the early 1950's. In 1959 infielder Pumpsie Green made his debut as the first Red Sox African-American ballplayer.

The end of the 50's also brought the end of the Williams era in Red Sox history. Never one to go out quietly, Williams hit his 521st and final home run into the Red Sox bullpen in his final at-bat on September 28, 1960. The spot he vacated in left field was filled in 1961 by rookie Carl Yastrzemski who would later match some of Williams' feats, while pitcher Don Swall would collect Rookie of the Year honors after winning his first 10 straight decisions at Fenway on the way to a 15 – 7 record overall. Fenway Park also hosted the 1961 All-Star Game, only the second such game in the park's 50-year history. Sox pitching landmarks continued in 1962 when both Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette pitched no hitters, while Monbouquette went on to win 20 games in 1963, and Yaz won his first batting title. Dave Morehead would also throw a no-hitter on September 16, 1965 against Cleveland at Fenway Park, but the Sox had their worst record of that decade, losing 100 games overall. One bright spot of 1965 was the emergence of Lynn, MA native Tony Conigliaro, who hit a league-leading 32 homers in his second season, the second of his six consecutive seasons of 20 or more home runs. After another losing season, finishing ninth in 1966, the Red Sox overcame 100-1 odds and won the "Impossible Dream" pennant in 1967, with a 92 – 70 record. Though they did not win the World Series, that season lives on as one of the greatest in Red Sox history. 1967 proved to be career years for Jim Lonborg, who had a 22 - 9 record plus two wins in the World Series on his way to the Cy Young Award, and Yastrzemski, who won the Triple Crown and MVP. First baseman George Scott and outfielder Reggie Smith were key performers in the Red Sox pennant drive. Ken Harrelson led the league with 109 RBI in 1968, while Yaz continued his strong hitting and won his third batting title. Yaz and Rico Petrocelli finished the 60's with a 40-home run season in 1969, ready to lead the Sox into the next decade.

The era of Yaz continued into the 70's while he again hit 40 home runs and led younger players, such as Conigliaro, who notched 36 home runs in 1970. In 1972, another young player made his mark by winning the Rookie of the Year Award. Catcher Carlton Fisk, a New Hampshire native, made his first full year in the majors count, leading the Red Sox to a second-place finish, just ½ game out of first place, for their best finish since 1967. His batterymate, Luis Tiant, thrilled Sox fans and took home the ERA title that season. Two other famous rookies, Jim Rice and Fred Lynn, were added to the mix in 1975, and made their mark on another AL championship season. Lynn won both MVP and Rookie of the Year honors, the first player to do so in the same year, while Rice hit 22 home runs and Lynn hit 21. Tiant, Rick Wise, and Bill Lee combined for 54 of the Red Sox 95 wins in 1975, with Tiant and Wise pitching all three of the Red Sox wins in the World Series. In Game 6, Bernie Carbo's two-out, three-run home run in the 8th inning tied the game paving the way for the subsequent dramatics. Fisk left his mark on baseball history during Game 6 of the Series, when he hit a 12th-inning pitch off the left-field foul pole for a dramatic finish for the Red Sox, in what many consider to be the greatest World Series game ever. Once again, however, the Sox came up short, and were defeated by Cincinnati Reds in 7 games. On July 9, 1976 owner Tom Yawkey passed away. Mrs. Jean R. Yawkey, Haywood Sullivan and Edward "Buddy" LeRoux were approved by the A.L. as the new owners in May, 1978. The Sox continued to be successful through the end of the 1970's. In 1977 they had 97 wins and finished just 2 ½ games out of first. They finished 1978 with 99 wins, just one game out after losing 5-4 in a one-game playoff against the Yankees. Those 2 seasons were great years for Rice, who won the home run title in 1977, and took home MVP honors in 1978, after ending the season with the home run and RBI crowns. Lynn had a terrific 1979 season and won the batting championship, while Yaz got his 3,000th hit on September 12. That July, he also hit his 400th home run. Dwight Evans also did his part, not only with his bat, but also in right field, picking up three Gold Glove Awards in the last four seasons of the decade. Versatile Bob Stanley made his entry upon the scene in 1977, and in his 12-year Red Sox career racked up a club-record 132 saves and became the club's all-time leader in games pitched. Shortstop Rick Burleson teamed with second baseman and Fall River, MA native Jerry Remy to form one of the club's best double play combinations.

3B Carney Lansford won a batting championship in 1981. Dwight Evans tied for the 1981 league HR title, one of seven of his 20-plus HR seasons in the decade. Rice won the HR title in 1983 with 39, followed closely by Tony Armas, who had 36. Armas then hit 43 in 1984 to lead the league. The early 80's were not particularly successful for the Red Sox as a team, however, and they failed to finish higher than 3rd until their A.L. championship season of 1986. Evans got 1986 off to an auspicious start, hammering a home run in Detroit on the first pitch of the season. Roger Clemens, who won the Cy Young Award and MVP honors, dominated AL batters in 1986, winning 24 games, including his first 14 decisions in a row, with a 2.48 ERA. He also broke a major league record, striking out 20 in one game April 29 vs. Seattle. Under manager John McNamara's leadership, the team won 95 games and came from a 3 games to one deficit in the ALCS to a World Series matchup with the Mets, which the Sox lost in 7 games. Overall, however, the season was filled with many personal milestones, with Rice accumulating his 2000th hit, Don Baylor hitting his 300th homer, Clemens winning 20 games for the first time, and Wade Boggs winning his third of five batting titles in the decade. In 1987, Boggs won another batting title, while Clemens had his 2nd 20-win season and Cy Young Award, but the Red Sox finished a disappointing 5th. The Red Sox returned to their winning ways in the late '80s, topping the AL East again in 1988 with Joe Morgan's miracle team. After Morgan took over from John McNamara in July, the Sox won 12 straight and 19 of 20 games, to come from 9 games behind and move into first place in the AL East. "Morgan's Magic" became the team's slogan, but the Red Sox were overpowered by Oakland in the ALCS. Nevertheless, the successful teams of the late 80's ushered in a decade of milestones and achievements in the 1990's.

The Sox started the decade off on the right foot. They won the AL East in 1990 with strong performances by Boggs, Evans, Clemens, Mike Boddicker, and rightfielder Tom Brunansky, whose great diving catch saved the final game of the season. Once again, the Sox played the A's in the ALCS, and met the same fate, losing in 4 games. 1991 brought the beginning of the Mo Vaughn era, and the hard-hitting first baseman took his place as a fan favorite, while Dalton, MA native Jeff Reardon pitched his way to 40 saves as the Sox headed to a 2nd-place finish. In February 1992 Mrs. Yawkey passed away leaving her majority general partnership to the continued direction of John L. Harrington with Haywood C. Sullivan as general partner. After the 1993 season Sullivan sold his interest in the club to the Yawkey Trust and Harrington became CEO of the organization. The Sox fared well after the new division set-up was established in 1995, reaching post-season play 3 times in the last 5 years of the decade, including back-to-back appearances in 1998 and 1999, the first time the team had accomplished that feat since 1915-1916. In 1995, the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians started a Division Series rivalry that would last throughout the decade. Behind the powerful hitting of Vaughn, who led the league in home runs and picked up the MVP Award, and the stable pitching of Clemens and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield, the Sox won the East Division title and battled the Indians in the 1995 Division Series, only to be swept in 3 games. In 1996, Clemens struck out 20 batters in a game for the 2nd time in his career, tying his own major league record. In 1997, highly-touted shortstop Nomar Garciaparra made his way to Fenway and picked up the Rookie of the Year Award while leading the league in hits. In 1998, he was joined by another superstar, Pedro Martinez. The '98 Sox won the Wild Card for the first time. Strong pitching was the key to the team's success with Martinez going 19-7 with a 2.89 ERA, while Tom Gordon achieved a major league record 43 consecutive saves on his way to 46 saves in all. The Sox went on to face Cleveland in the Division Series, where they were defeated once again. The pitching would figure into another great season for the Sox in 1999, a year in which Fenway hosted the final All-Star Game of the century, the 3rd in the history of the park. Martinez was MVP of the game, retiring all 6 batters he faced, 5 on strikeouts, ultimately winning the Cy Young Award unanimously, and falling just short of MVP honors with a 23-4, 2.07 season. Once again, he led the Sox to a Wild Card berth and the Division Series against the Indians. This time, the Sox emerged victorious, coming back from losing the first 2 games to dramatically win the series and travel to the ALCS for the first time since 1986. In some form of poetic perfection, the Sox met the Yankees in the series, and the high point was game 3, where Sox ace Martinez met former Sox ace Clemens at Fenway Park. Riding home runs by Garciaparra, John Valentin and Brian Daubach, the Sox cruised to a 13-1 win, their only win in the series.

2000 featured great performances by Pedro Martinez, who won his 2nd straight unanimous Cy Young Award, and Nomar Garciaparra, who won his 2nd consecutive A.L. batting championship with a .372 average. Reliever Derek Lowe tied for the league lead with 42 saves. The Sox finished 2nd, just 2 ½ games behind the Yankees, with an 85-77 record, and set a new Fenway Park attendance record of 2,586,024. On December 13, 2000, the Red Sox signed outfielder Manny Ramirez to bolster the team's offense into the new millennium. Despite major injuries to Garciaparra, Martinez, John Valentin and catcher Jason Varitek the Red Sox led the A.L. East for most of the first half in 2001. Through August 24, the Sox were still only 3 games behind the Yankees before they went into a tailspin that resulted in 21 losses in the next 26 games. They won the last 5 games of the season to finish with an 82-79 second-place record. Manager Jimmy Williams was replaced by pitching coach Joe Kerrigan prior to the August 16 game vs. Seattle. Newcomer Ramirez had a tremendous first half and despite a late-season hamstring injury hit .306 with 41 homers and 125 RBI. OF Trot Nixon won the team's MVP Award for his .280 average in 144 games with 27 HR, 100 runs and 88 RBI. RHP Hideo Nomo made his Sox debut April 4 in Baltimore and won 3-0 with the club's first no-hitter since 1965. Nomo also pitched a one-hitter May 25 vs. Toronto and led the A.L. with 220 strikeouts. Varitek hit 3 HR with 7 RBI in a 10-3 win in K.C. May 20, the first Sox catcher to hit 3 HR in one game. The team set new attendance records at home, 2,625,333 in 81 dates with 69 sellouts and 2,700,811 on the road in 80 dates. The 68-year Yawkey era would come to a close when a new ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino took control prior to the 2002 season. In March of 2002 the new ownership replaced General Manager Dan Duquette with Vice President of Baseball Operations Mike Port, on an interim basis, and brought in Grady Little as manager to replace Joe Kerrigan. The team had a hot start, winning its first 8 road games for the first time, and had a M.L.-best 40-17 record through June 6. The Sox led the A.L. East from April 15 through June 22 and ultimately finished 2nd in the A.L. East with a 93-69 record, including 51-30 on the road (tied with the Yanks for the best road record in baseball), the most road wins in club history. Derek Lowe pitched Fenway Park's first no-hitter since 1965 when he blanked Tampa Bay 10-0 April 27. Lowe (21-8) and Pedro Martinez (20-4) gave the Sox two 20-game winners for the first time since 1949. Ramirez led the A.L. with a .349 avg. despite missing 39 games with a fractured left index finger. Lowe, Martinez, Ramirez, Garciaparra, Shea Hillenbrand, Johnny Damon and Ugueth Urbina were selected for the A.L. All-Star team and Lowe, Hillenbrand and Ramirez started the game. The team again set an attendance record (2,650,063 in 81 dates). The 2003 Red Sox had an exciting 95-67 regular season, their most wins since 1995, a second-place East Division finish and the 16th trip to the postseason. The club won its third Wild Card playoff berth and came from a 2-0 game deficit in the ALDS to win 3 straight and eliminate Oakland to advance to the ALCS vs. the Yankees. A dramatic 7-game series developed that wasn't resolved until Aaron Boone's 11th-inning homer stopped the Red Sox' World Series bid. Some astute off-season deals by new GM Theo Epstein helped make the team an offensive powerhouse that set many club, league and major league records. The addition of David Ortiz, Kevin Millar, Bill Mueller and Todd Walker, solidified a batting order that produced 961 runs, 2nd-most in club history. A club record 6 players hit 20 HR and the Sox set a new team mark with 238. They set new M.L. records of 2,822 TB, 649 extra-base hits and a .491 slugg. pct., while their 371 doubles fell 2 shy of the M.L. mark held by the Sox (1997) and the Cardinals (1930). The Red Sox came from behind to win 40 games, including 13 in which they trailed by at least 3 runs, had an A.L. best 23 last at bat wins. Their 26 one-run wins, 11 extra-inng. wins and 8 walk-off wins were also league highs. They were 53-28 .654 at home, 2nd best in the A.L. (their most home wins since they also won 53 in 1988). Derek Lowe (17-7), Pedro Martinez (14-4), John Burkett (12-9) and Tim Wakefield (11-7) led a staff whose 1,141 strikeouts led the A.L., 4th best in club history. The Sox tied the club record (1995) by using 26 pitchers. Johnny Damon (30), Nomar Garciaparra (19) and valuable sub Damian Jackson (16) gave the team 3 players with 15 SBs for the first time since 1914. Mueller (.326) edged Manny Ramirez (.325) for the A.L. batting title while Garciaparra (105), Ramirez (104) and Ortiz (101) gave the Sox 3 players with 100 RBI for the 1st time since 1984. It was the Sox'

4th straight season with a new home attendance figure, 2,724,162. In his first year as manager Terry Francona led the 2004 Red Sox to a 98-64 record, clinching a Wild Card berth to enter the postseason for the 17th time in franchise history. The Sox swept the Anaheim Angels in the ALDS as David Ortiz's dramatic HR in the 10th inning of game 3 insured a rematch with the Yankees for the AL pennant. After dropping the first 3 games to New York, the Red Sox rallied behind the bat of Ortiz, the baserunning of Dave Roberts, an airtight bullpen, and the gritty performance of Curt Schilling to win the final 4 games of the series, completing the greatest comeback in ML history. The Red Sox then swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win the World Series for the 6th time in franchise history, and the first since 1918. Led by Series MVP Manny Ramirez, the Red Sox never trailed. Derek Lowe became the first pitcher ever to win the clinching game of 3 playoff series in one postseason. Key off-season acquisitions Schilling and Keith Foulke lived up to their billing, while the mid-season trade of Nomar Garciaparra for Orlando Cabrera, Doug Mientkiewicz, and the seperate acquisition of Roberts, improved the club's defense and speed and added depth to the bench. Schilling (21) combined with Pedro Martinez (16) to win more games than any other pair in the AL. Martinez (227) and Schilling (203) also became the first Red Sox teammates ever to strike out 200 batters in the same season. Offensively the Sox were led by Ramirez and Ortiz, who became the first AL teammates to bat .300, hit 30 HRs and drive in 100 runs since 1931. They also became just the second pair of Red Sox to hit over 40 HRs in a single season. The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in franchise history and 4th time in ML history. The club set an attendance record for the 5th straight season with a season total of 2,837,304, the only M.L. team to increase their attendance in each of the last 7 seasons.

BOSTON RED SOX OWNERSHIP HISTORY

- 1901-02 Charles W. Somers of Ohio was one of the founders and financiers of the new American League who also owned the Cleveland team and made his fortune in the lumber and coal business.
- 1903-04 Henry J. Killilea was a Milwaukee lawyer and expert on baseball law who played an important role in the negotiations that ended the National League-American League war in early 1903.
- 1904-11 John I. Taylor was an avid sportsman and son of the owner, publisher and editor of The Boston Globe. He changed the team's nickname to "Red Sox" in 1907 and oversaw the land acquisition and construction of Fenway Park, which opened in 1912.
- 1912-13 James R. McAleer was a National League outfielder during the 1890s who came out of retirement to help form the new American League's St. Louis franchise in 1901 as a player-manager. In December 1911 he bought 50 percent of the Red Sox from Taylor and was named club president.
- 1914-16 Joseph J. Lannin was a Canadian-born hotel and real estate tycoon in New York and Boston. He was a zealous baseball fan with a minority share in the National League Boston Braves before he purchased McAleer's 50 percent controlling interest in the Red Sox in early 1914.
- 1917-23 Harry H. Frazee was a long-time flamboyant baseball fan who was born in Peoria, Illinois and became successful in real estate management, stock brokerage and as a Broadway theatrical producer. He purchased the Red Sox in late 1916 from Lannin in a deal that included Fenway Park.
- 1923-33 J.A. Robert Quinn was a career baseball executive who was business manager of the St. Louis Browns prior to putting together a syndicate that purchased the Red Sox from Frazee August 1, 1923. He was appointed team president and presiding owner.
- 1933 Thomas A. Yawkey was a New York entrepreneur who bought the team February 25, 1933, four days after his 30th birthday, and placed the team in a Trust.
- July 9, 1976 Tom Yawkey died leaving his widow, Jean, as the primary beneficiary.
- 1978 The Yawkey Estate sold the team to a partnership including Jean R. Yawkey, Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr. and Haywood C. Sullivan. The sale was approved by the American League May 23, 1978.
- 1981 Jean R. Yawkey moved to Boston, established the Jean R. Yawkey Trust, and transferred team ownership interests to it. She appointed John L. Harrington as co-Trustee.
- 1987 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr., giving it two out of three General Partner votes.
- 1992 Jean R. Yawkey died in February and the Jean R. Yawkey Trust continued with John Harrington as Trustee with sole authority over Red Sox matters.
- 1993 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Haywood C. Sullivan's one General Partnership unit, giving it all three General Partnership units of the Red Sox, along with the three Red Sox limited partnership units previously acquired (53.49 percent).
- 2002 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust sold the club to a group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino December 20, 2001. The sale was approved by Major League Baseball January 16, 2002 and closed February 27, 2002.

NOTE: The W-L-T columns total one game less than the 16,163 game total reflected above as a result of a protested game and a major league ruling. On July 28, 1924 the Red Sox played a 10-inning game vs. St. Louis, a supposed 10-5 win. St. Louis protested the game and A.L. President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed on September 13 as the 2nd game of a doubleheader. The game of July 28 was discounted and Red Sox Manager Lee Fohl and the St. Louis manager were credited with a no decision. The Red Sox won the replay of the protested game 13-11.

The major league rule from 1920 on states: "If a protested game of at least five innings duration was ordered replayed in its entirety, then no win or loss is credited, but both managers are credited with a no-decision game."

THE BOSTON RED SOX HALL OF FAME

In 1995 the Red Sox Hall of Fame was instituted to recognize the outstanding careers of former Red Sox players and managers. A 15-member selection committee comprised of Red Sox broadcasters and executives, past and present media personnel, and representatives from The Sports Museum of New England and the BoSox Booster Club is responsible for nominating candidates. The accomplishments of non-uniformed Red Sox personnel are also considered for special commendation and placement in the Hall. A memorable moment in Red Sox history is regarded as well for its special significance.

To be eligible for nomination, players must have played at least three years with the Red Sox and must also have been out of uniform as an active player at least three years.

The non-uniformed person(s) selected and the memorable moment selected will be chosen only by a unanimous vote of the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

2004 INDUCTEES

Six former Red Sox stars were inducted into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame during the fifth Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies on November 10, 2004. The players who were enshrined in the Hall were: Wade Boggs, Bill Carrigan, Dennis Eckersley, Billy Goodman, Bruce Hurst and Pete Runnels. The non-uniformed personnel selections were former Red Sox player, executive and owner Haywood Sullivan and Pawtucket Red Sox chairman Ben Mondor. Jimmy Collins, a member of the Cooperstown Hall of Fame, was officially inducted as well. The Memorable Moment selection was Bernie Carbo's two-out, pinch-hit, game-tying, three-run home run in the eighth inning of Game 6 in the 1975 World Series vs. the Cincinnati Reds.

WADE BOGGS, 3B (1982-92)

Boggs set a then-rookie record with a .349 batting average (118-338) in 104 games in 1982. The Red Sox third baseman won his first of five batting titles with a .361 average in 1983 and then four consecutive titles from 1985-88. Wade was voted to eight straight All-Star Games and is the only player in M.L. history with 200 hits and 100 runs in seven straight seasons. His .338 Red Sox career batting average ranks second on the club's all-time list below only Ted Williams' .344. Boggs leads all third basemen for most games (1,165), assists (2,956) and double plays (299). He also ranks on the Red Sox all-time lists for on-base pct. (3rd, .428), doubles (4th, 422), walks (4th, 1,004), hits (5th, 2,098), total bases (6th, 2,869), runs (6th, 1,067), extra-base hits (6th, 554), at-bats (7th, 6,213), games (7th, 1,625) and RBI (13th, 687). Wade will be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown in July 2005.

BILL CARRIGAN, C-MGR (1906-16)

Carrigan began his Red Sox career as a catcher in 1906 before becoming a player-manager from 1913-16 and manager from 1927-29. Bill appeared in 709 games and hit a career .257 (506-1970) with 235 RBI. He is among Red Sox all-time career leaders for catchers in fielding percentage (.971), assists (854) and putouts (2,961). He is one of only 11 players who spent 10 or more years exclusively with the Red Sox. In 1,103 games as Red Sox manager, his record was 489-500-14 (.494), including 322-246 (.567) between 1913-16. The Lewiston, ME native led the Red Sox to consecutive World Series Championships in 1915 and 1916 after a second-place finish in 1914.

DENNIS ECKERSLEY, RHP (1978-84, 1998)

Eckersley had a career-high 20 wins, 35 starts and 268.1 IP in 1978, his first season with the Red Sox. He threw a career-high 17 complete games in 1979 and is the last Red Sox pitcher to pitch seven consecutive complete game wins. Eck had a .500 or better record in seven of eight Red Sox seasons and was voted to the A.L. All-Star team in 1982. Dennis is among all-time Red Sox pitchers in games started (191), strikeouts (771), wins (88), innings pitched (1371.2) and winning percentage (.553). After re-establishing himself as a closer with the Oakland A's, he returned to Boston in 1998 and went 4-1 with one save before retiring. He was inducted into Cooperstown's Baseball Hall of Fame in July 2004.

BILLY GOODMAN, INF-OF (1947-57)

Goodman won the A.L. batting title with a .354 average in 1950 and finished 2nd in the A.L. MVP voting. In 1948, his first full season in the majors, he hit .310 (138-445) for the Red Sox, and from 1948-57 hit .290 or better. The two-time A.L. All-Star selection (1949, 1953) hit .306 (1,344-4,399) in 1,177 games with 688 runs, 248 doubles, 34 triples, 14 HR and 464 RBI. Billy is also among Red Sox career leaders in on-base percentage (.386), at-bats, doubles, games played and walks (561).

BRUCE HURST, LHP (1980-88)

Hurst is one of the most successful left-handed pitchers in Red Sox history. He had six consecutive seasons with 10 or more wins and 115 or more strikeouts from 1983-88. In the 1986 ALCS vs. the Angels he went 1-0 with a 2.40 ERA in 15 innings pitched, and in the 1986 World Series he went 2-0 with a 1.96 ERA in 23 innings pitched. He struck out 190 in 1987 (the Red Sox LHP record) and was voted to the A.L. All-Star team that season. In 1988 Bruce went 18-6 with a 2.99 ERA with four shutouts, including a 3-0, 10-inning shutout in Detroit on August 7. He is among Red Sox pitching leaders in wins (88), strikeouts (1,043), 10-K games (13), games started (217) and innings pitched (1459). Overall he was 88-73 in 237 games with Boston.

BEN MONDOR (1977-)

Mondor purchased the bankrupt "Rhode Island" Red Sox of the International League in 1977 and turned it into one of the most successful minor league franchises in the country. The AAA Pawtucket Red Sox owner has supported the development of many Red Sox prospects and has made numerous contributions to the Red Sox organization through the years. He has seen hundreds of Red Sox play for the PawSox including Nomar Garciaparra, Mo Vaughn, Roger Clemens and Wade Boggs. Ben has received numerous honors from professional baseball including the I.L.'s Executive of the Year as well as recognition from the Boston Baseball Writers Assn. In his tenure, the PawSox have finished first in the league four times and advanced to the postseason 11 times.

PETE RUNNELS, 2B-1B (1958-62)

Runnels, a line-drive hitter who thrived at Fenway Park, won two batting championships with the Red Sox: his first in 1960 (.320) and the second in 1962 (.326). He made a bid for the title in 1958 with a .322 average but teammate Ted Williams passed him on the last day of the season with a .328 average. The three-time A.L. All-Star (1959-60, 66) batted over .300 in five consecutive seasons with the Red Sox and is among all-time Red Sox leaders with a .408 on-base percentage and .320 career batting average. Pete also tied an A.L. record with six hits in a game on August 30, 1960 vs. Detroit. A versatile player, Runnels played all infield positions as well as the outfield. He led the league in fielding at second base in 1960 (.986) and at first base in 1961 (.991).

HAYWOOD SULLIVAN (1966-93)

Sullivan was a part of the Red Sox organization for 35 years. He was a success story that took him from the dugout as a reserve catcher (1955-60) to the front office as executive (1966-77), general manager (1978-83) and Red Sox owner (1978-93). Sullivan is the only person to serve in all such capacities for the Red Sox. As a player, he was a top prospect as a catcher and signed a bonus contract with the Red Sox on June 15, 1952 after being a standout catcher and quarterback at the University of Florida. He joined the Red Sox front office in 1966 to become the vice president of player personnel at the age of 35, one of baseball's youngest top executives at the time. Haywood helped put together some of Boston's most exciting teams such as the 1967, 1975 and 1986 pennant winners. During his tenure with the club, the team also won Eastern Division titles in 1988 and 1990.

2002 INDUCTEES

The fourth Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies were held on November 14, 2002. The six former Red Sox stars inducted into the Hall were: Rick Burleson, Dave "Boo" Ferriss, Tex Hughson, Duffy Lewis, Jim Lonborg and Fred Lynn. The non-uniformed personnel selection was former Red Sox Chief Executive Officer John Harrington. Lefty Grove, a member of the Cooperstown Hall of Fame, was formally inducted at this time. Earl Wilson's no-hit game vs. the Los Angeles Angels on June 26, 1962 at Fenway Park was the Memorable Moment selection. A surprise inductee was former Red Sox General Manager and current Public Affairs Consultant Lou Gorman.

RICK BURLESON, SS (1974-80)

Burleson played in 1,031 games for the Red Sox and became one of the best all-around SS in the A.L. Rick (1,004) and Everett Scott (1,093) are the only Red Sox who played in 1,000 games at SS. The 3-time all-star holds the M.L. record for double plays by a SS with 147 in 1980. He also holds the club record for most career double plays for shortstops with 699, is 2nd with 3,247 assists and 3rd with a .970 fielding pct. Rick won the Rawlings Gold Glove® Award in 1979 when he led the A.L. with a .981 pct., which tied him for 1st on the club's all-time list with Rico Petrocelli (1969) and Vern Stephens (1950). He compiled a .274 batt. avg. with 302 doubles and 361 RBI. In 1977 he was the A.L. SS of the year when he hit .293 with 194 hits, 36 doubles, 7 triples and 13 SB, with a league-high 663 at-bats. He also hit .291 in 1976, hit 22 or more doubles for 7 seasons and played in 152 or more games 5 times. Burleson hit .444 in the ALCS 3-game sweep over Oakland in 1975 and .292 in the dramatic 7-game World Series against Cincinnati.

DAVE "BOO" FERRISS, RHP (1945-50)

Ferriss joined the Red Sox in 1945 as a 23-year-old rookie after his discharge from the army air corps due to an asthma condition. The Red Sox were a seventh-place team but Ferriss had a great rookie season, 21-10, a 2.96 ERA and 26 complete games. He defeated all seven A.L. teams the first time he faced them. He was 2nd in the A.L. in wins, fourth in the MVP voting and was named to the A.L. All-Star team. In 1946 the Red Sox won their first pennant in 28 years, and Ferriss was spectacular with a 25-6 record, a 3.20 ERA, 26 complete games and three saves in five relief appearances. He led the A.L. with an .806 win pct., became the fourth Red Sox pitcher to win 20 games in each of his first two seasons, at one point hurled nine straight complete game wins and again was named to the All-Star team. Dave began 1946 with 10 straight wins and later in the season won 12 straight to join Walter Johnson (Washington, 1913) and Preacher Roe (Brooklyn, 1951) as the only pitchers in M.L. history to have two streaks of 10 or more wins in one season. He pitched a 4-0 shutout in Game 3 of the 1946 World Series vs. St. Louis and had a 65-30 career record. Arm and asthma problems shortened Dave's career and he was in just four games in 1949 and one in 1950.

JAMES "LOU" GORMAN (1984-)

Gorman joined the Red Sox in 1984 as vice president of baseball operations and general manager, a position he held through the 1993 season. Since then he has been executive consultant for public affairs with an emphasis on community projects plus coordinator of the Red Sox Hall of Fame, which began in 1994. Gorman led the Red Sox to three post-season appearances, including the 1986 A.L. pennant and Eastern Division titles in 1998 and 1990 and six winning seasons in 10 years for an overall 837-782 record. The club set season attendance records four times and drew over two million eight straight years.

JOHN HARRINGTON (1973-02)

Harrington served the Red Sox in numerous capacities for 29 years. He was originally hired by the late Tom Yawkey in 1973 to be the club's treasurer, and assumed the role of trustee to the Jean R. Yawkey Trust in 1981, which became the majority partner of the Red Sox in 1987. Under Harrington the Red Sox significantly expanded and refurbished Fenway Park and moved the spring training site in 1993 to a state-of-the-art facility in Fort Myers, FL. He was affiliated with many charities and foundations, most notably The National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund. John was very active in M.L. baseball, served on several important committees, including the Realignment and Revenue Sharing Committees, and was instrumental in the development of inter-league play. During 2001 he oversaw the sale of the ball club by the Yawkey Trust that was finalized in February 2002. Proceeds from the sale that achieved a record-breaking price went to the Yawkey Foundation, the Trust's beneficiary, and ensured a perpetual source of support for many local charities.

CECIL "TEX" HUGHSON, RHP (1941-44, 1946-49)

Hughson joined the Red Sox in 1941 and in 1942 was one of the best pitchers in the A.L. He tied for the M.L. high in wins with a 22-6 record and also led the league with 22 complete games, 281 IP and 113 strikeouts. He beat the first-place Yankees five straight times that year. The three-time All-Star led the league in 1944 with a .783 winning pct. and an 18-5 record before leaving for military service in mid-August. Hughson came back in 1946 to go 20-11 with a 2.75 ERA and three saves in four relief appearances as the Red Sox won the A.L. pennant. "Tex" tossed a 1-0 CG win, his sixth shutout and fourth by 1-0, in Cleveland Sept. 13, 1946 to clinch the pennant. He was 12-11 in 1947 but arm problems curtailed him the next two years and he retired prior to the 1950 season. In five full, and three partial seasons, Hughson had a 96-54 record with 99 complete games and a 2.94 ERA. His .640 winning pct. is fourth-best all-time for the Red Sox.

GEORGE "DUFFY" LEWIS, LF (1910-17)

For eight years Lewis teamed with Hall of Famers Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper to comprise one of baseball's greatest all-around outfielders. "Duffy" hit .289 in 1,184 games with the Red Sox with 343 extra-base hits and 793 RBI, and played in over 150 games five years. He was also one of baseball's best bunters and base runners and stole 102 bases. Lewis was best known for his great fielding ability that included mastering Fenway Park's tricky incline in front of the original left-field fence. He was so adept at playing the incline that it became known as "Duffy's Cliff." He ranks fourth all-time for Red Sox outfielders with 180 assists and 35 double plays. He helped the Red Sox win World Series titles in 1912-15-16 and hit .284 in 18 Series' games. In 1917 Lewis led the second-place Sox with a .302 avg., 29 doubles and 65 RBI. He became one of the first major leaguers to enlist in the military for World War I and missed the entire 1918 World Championship season while serving in the navy.

JIM LONBORG, RHP (1965-71)

Lonborg spent 7 years with the Red Sox and had a 68-65 record with 6 saves and a 3.94 ERA, despite a knee injury and shoulder problem that caused him to miss most of the 1968 and 1970 seasons. Jim made the M.L. roster for good in 1965 and was 9-17 as a rookie for a 9th-place team. In 1966 he led the staff with 181.1 IP and was 10-10 with a 3.86 ERA in 45 games, including 22 starts. The "Impossible Dream" pennant season came in 1967 and Lonborg was the dominant A.L. pitcher with a 22-9 record, a 3.16 ERA and 15 CG. He led the league in wins, plus 39 starts and 246 strikeouts, was an all-Star and won the A.L. Cy Young Award. He pitched a 5-3 CG win to beat and eliminate Minnesota on the final day and sparked the Red Sox winning rally with a bunt single. In Game 2 of the World Series in Fenway Park he beat St. Louis 5-0 with a 93-pitch, one-hitter. He retired the first 19 batters, issued a walk, and lost the no-hit bid on a Julian Javier double with two outs in the eighth. Lonborg also won Game 5 in St. Louis, 3-1, with a no-walk, three-hitter. He extended his scoreless string to 17 innings until Roger Maris hit a home run in the last of the ninth inning.

FRED LYNN, CF (1974-80)

Lynn made his big league debut with the Red Sox Sept. 1974, hit .419 in 15 games, then in 1975 had one of the best all-around rookie seasons in baseball history. He became the 1st player to be voted winner of the Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player Awards in the same season while winning the 1st of his 4 Rawlings Gold Glove® Awards. In 145 games Fred was 2nd in the A.L. with a .331 avg. and led the league with 103 runs, a .566 slugg. pct. and an A.L. rookie record of 47 doubles. On June 18, 1975 in Detroit, Lynn hit 3 home runs, a triple and single for 10 RBI and 16 TB that tied an A.L. record. He also made one of that season's greatest plays in July when his last of the 9th inning diving catch in LCF preserved a crucial 1-0 win vs. the Yankees. He hit .364 in the ALCS sweep of Oakland and followed with a .280 World Series avg. vs. Cincinnati that included a 3-run home run in historic Game 6. In 1979 Lynn led the league with a .333 avg., a .637 slugg. pct. and a .423 on-base pct. He hit 39 HR, had 84 extra-base hits, scored 116 runs, drove in 122, hit .387 with men on base, won another Gold Glove and was 4th in the MVP voting. That year Lynn set a Fenway Park record with 28 HR by a LH batter and played in his 5th straight All-Star Game. During his Red Sox career Fred hit .308 in 828 games with 124 HR, 521 RBI and a .520 slugg. pct.

2000 INDUCTEES

The Red Sox hosted the third Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies on May 18, 2000. Six former Red Sox greats were inducted into the Hall: Dwight Evans, Bob Stanley, Reggie Smith, Bill Monbouquette, Jackie Jensen, and Larry Gardner. Former Red Sox broadcasters Ken Coleman and Ned Martin were also enshrined in the Hall as non-uniformed selections. Cooperstown Hall of Fame members Curt Gowdy, a former Red Sox broadcaster, and Tris Speaker, a former Red Sox great, were inducted as well. Dave Henderson's 9th-inning, 2-out, go-ahead home run in Game 5 of the 1986 ALCS in Anaheim was chosen as the special Memorable Moment.

RED SOX HALL OF FAME (Cont.)KEN COLEMAN (1966-74, 1979-89)

Coleman was one of the legendary radio and TV voices of the Red Sox for 20 years. He also broadcast Cincinnati Reds games (1975-78), called play-by-play in two Red Sox World Series (1967 and 1986) and two Red Sox ALCS (1986 and 1988). The Quincy, MA native was also the voice of the Cleveland Indians and NFL Cleveland Browns from 1952-65. Ken called every touchdown that Hall of Fame running back Jim Brown ever scored. Additionally he has written five sports broadcasting books and is one of the founding fathers of the BoSox Booster Club, the most successful professional sports booster club in America. Ken passed away on August 21, 2003 after a brief illness.

DWIGHT EVANS, RF (1972-90)

Evans played in 2,505 games for the Red Sox, 2nd most in club history. The 3-time All-Star hit 379 HR, 925 XBH and had 1,346 RBI. He ranks 2nd all-time on the Red Sox in games and at-bats (8,726), 3rd in XBH, runs (1,435), 2B (474) and walks (1,337) and 4th in HR, RBI, hits (2,373) and TB (4,128). From 1981-90, Dwight hit 251 HR, the most of any A.L. player. He tied for the A.L. lead in HR in 1981 and led the league 3 times in walks. The 8-time Rawlings Gold Glove® performer led the A.L. with a .994 fielding pct. in 1976 and in DP in 1975 and 1980. Evans is also remembered for his great catch in the 11th inning of Game Six of the 1975 World Series vs. Cincinnati at Fenway Park that took a HR away from Joe Morgan and resulted in an inning-ending DP. In 2 World Series (1975 and 1986) he hit .300 with 3 HR and 14 RBI in 14 games. In 2002 Dwight served as the Red Sox M.L. hitting coach.

LARRY GARDNER, 3B (1908-17)

Gardner joined the Red Sox in 1908 after attending the Univ. of Vermont. The Enosburg Falls, VT native helped Boston win 3 World Series (1912, 1915, 1916) and 2 2nd-place finishes. He hit a sac. fly off the Giants' Christy Mathewson in the last of the 10th as the Sox won the final game of the dramatic 1912 World Series. The LH batter hit .283, 150 2B, 87 3B, 16 HR with 496 R and 481 RBI as a Red Sox. His 87 3B and 134 SB are 5th on the Red Sox all-time list. In Game 4 of the 1916 World Series, his 3-R homer won the game. After his retirement from baseball, he became athletic director and baseball coach at the Univ. of Vermont until 1952.

JACKIE JENSEN, RF (1954-59, 1961)

Jensen won the A.L. MVP Award in 1958, a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1959 and was named to 2 A.L. All-Star teams (1955 and 1958). He played in 1,039 games for Boston after 3 seasons with the NY Yankees and 1 with the Senators. Jackie led the A.L. with 22 SB in 1954 and led the league in RBI 3 times (tied for A.L. lead with 116 in 1955, led with 122 in 1958 and 112 in 1959) and in triples with 11 in 1956. He led the Sox in RBI 6 times in his 7 seasons. He is among Red Sox all-time leaders in HR (170), RBI (733), walks (585), slugg. pct. (.478), OBP (.374) and TB (1,842). His fear of flying appeared to force an early retirement after the 1959 season. He came back in 1961 for one more season before permanently retiring.

NED MARTIN (1961-92)

Martin announced Red Sox games on TV and radio for 32 straight seasons. He began his career in 1956 in Charleston, WV covering the AAA American Assoc. team for five years. He joined Curt Gowdy in the Red Sox booth in 1961 and stayed for the rest of his Red Sox career. Ned announced the A.L. playoffs on CBS radio 4 times and worked the 1975 World Series on TV for NBC. The Duke graduate was also a talented football announcer and did play-by-play for the Boston Patriots of the AFL (1965), Dartmouth (7 years), Harvard (6 years) and Yale (2 years). He worked with Ken Coleman (1966-72) on both Red Sox radio and TV broadcasts. Ned passed away suddenly on July 23, 2002 of a heart attack en route home to Clarksville, VA after attending the tribute to Ted Williams the day before at Fenway Park.

BILL MONBOUQUETTE, RHP (1958-65)

Monbouquette was 96-91 with a 3.69 ERA and 72 CG in 254 games in his Red Sox career. He is 5th all-time for the Sox with 228 games started, 6th with 1,622 innings pitched and 8th with 969 strikeouts and tied for 9th with 96 wins. The Medford, MA native went 20-10 with a 3.81 ERA in 1963 and pitched a no-hitter in Chicago Aug. 1, 1962. He struck out 17 Washington Senators May 12, 1961. From 1960-63 he won 14 or more games each year (63-48), was a 4-time All-Star and started the first 1960 All-Star Game for the A.L. in Kansas City. Monbo was 114-112 with a 3.68 ERA in 11 M.L. seasons with Boston, Detroit, the Yankees and San Francisco.

REGGIE SMITH, CF-RF (1966-73)

Smith was drafted from the Minnesota Twins system by the Red Sox in 1963 and made his M.L. debut in 1966. As a rookie in 1967 he hit 2 home runs in the World Series vs. the Cardinals. During his Red Sox career, Reggie batted .300 or better 3 times and won a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1968 after leading all A.L. OF with 390 putouts. He also led the A.L. in doubles twice with 37 in 1968 and 33 in 1971. He played in 2 All-Star Games as a Red Sox (1969 and 1972) before being traded to St. Louis for RHP Rick Wise and OF Bernie Carbo in October 1973. With Boston he hit .281 with 204 2B, 33 3B, 149 HR and 536 RBI. The 6-time All-Star hit over .300 7 times and hit 20 or more HR 8 times.

BOB STANLEY, RHP (1977-89)

Stanley compiled a 115-97 record in a club-record 637 appearances with a 3.64 ERA and a Sox-record 132 saves during his Red Sox career. The 2-time A.L. All-Star is the Red Sox all-time leader with 85 relief wins and ranks 5th with 1,707 innings pitched and 6th in wins. In 1978 Steamer was 15-2 .882, the club's all-time highest one-season winning pct. (15 decs.). In 1983 he set a team record of 33 saves (now tied for 3rd best) in 64 games, all in relief, and 145.1 innings. From 1981-83 Stanley led the A.L. in relief innings pitched, including a league record of 168.1 relief innings in 1982. He also led the A.L. with 13 relief wins in 1978 and with 10 in 1981.

1997 INDUCTEES

On September 8, 1997, the Red Sox held the second Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies. Five former Red Sox greats were inducted: Carlton Fisk, Mel Parnell, Rico Petrocelli, Dick Radatz and Luis Tiant. Former Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell was inducted as the non-uniformed selection. Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning, game-winning home run against Cincinnati in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series was chosen as the special Memorable Moment. Also enshrined were former Red Sox Jimmie Foxx, Harry Hooper and Cy Young who were already Cooperstown Hall of Fame members.

CARLTON FISK, C (1969, 1971-80)

Fisk became the Red Sox starting catcher in 1972 and was the 1st unanimous A.L. Rookie of the Year after hitting .293 with 22 HR, a league-high 9 triples and 28 doubles in 131 games. He also won the Rawlings Gold Glove® Award for defensive excellence that year. In 1975 he came back in late June from a broken arm to hit .331 with 52 RBI in 79 games during the pennant drive. In the ALCS vs. Oakland he hit .417 and had 2 HR in the World Series vs. the Reds. He will long be remembered for his 12th-inning HR that won Game 6 of the Series. In his 11-year Boston career, he hit .284 with 162 HR in 1,078 games and was a 7-time All-Star. In July 2000 Carlton was inducted into Cooperstown's Hall of Fame and in September his # 27 was retired by the Red Sox.

DICK O'CONNELL (1949-77)

O'Connell joined the Red Sox in 1949 and rose through the organizational ranks becoming the executive vice president and general manager on Sept. 16, 1965. Under his guidance and through his player movements, the Red Sox became a perennial contender with A.L. championships and 7-game World Series appearances in 1967 and 1975. The club had winning records with 83 or more wins from 1967-77, including three 90+ win seasons. The Red Sox led the A.L. in attendance in five of those years. Dick passed away on August 18, 2002 at the age of 87.

RED SOX HALL OF FAME (Cont.)MEL PARNELL, LHP (1947-56)

Parnell spent his entire 10-year M.L. career with the Red Sox and compiled a 123-75 .621 record with a 3.50 ERA. He is the third best ever lefty pitcher in Fenway with more than 25 decisions at 71-30 .703. His best year was 1949 when he went 25-7 with a 2.77 ERA and 27 CG, leading the league in wins, ERA, CG and IP (295.1). He was the starting pitcher for the A.L. in that year's All-Star Game. After two 18-win seasons in 1950 and '51, he went 21-8 in 1953 with a 3.06 ERA and a career-high 136 K. He pitched a no-hitter July 14, 1956 vs. Chicago in Fenway Park. Parnell still holds the club career marks for LHPs with 1,752.2 IP, 232 GS and 123 W.

RICO PETROCELLI, SS-3B (1963, 1965-76)

Petrocelli hit 210 HR in 1,553 games, including a league-record for shortstops of 40 homers in 1969, in a 12-year Red Sox career. He was the A.L. starting shortstop in 1967 and 1969. He moved to third base in 1971. In post-season play, he hit 2 HR in Game 6 of the 1967 Series vs. St. Louis in an 8-4 win. In the 1975 Fall Classic vs. the Reds he hit .308 and had a 1.000 fielding pct. Rico's catch of Rich Rollins' pop-up for the final out vs. Minnesota clinched the "Impossible Dream" pennant on Oct. 1, 1967.

DICK RADATZ, RHP (1962-66)

Radatz led the A.L. in saves (24), games (62) and relief wins (9) in 1962, his rookie season with the Red Sox and was named Fireman of the Year. In 1963 the 6-6, 250-lb. "Monster" saved 25 games and went 15-6 with a 1.97 ERA. Overall with the Sox he saved 104 games (2nd to B. Stanley for all-time Red Sox) with 49 wins and 646 K in 576.1 IP. He was selected to the All-Star Game in 1963 and impressed with strikeouts of Mays, Groat, Snider, McCovey and Javier in 2 IP. He again was Fireman of the Year in 1964 for his 29 saves and 16 wins in 79 games.

LUIS TIAN, RHP (1971-78)

Tiant won 122 games with a 3.36 ERA in 8 years with the Red Sox, including three 20-win seasons. He is among all-time Red Sox leaders in several pitching categories. El Tiante won Comeback Player of the Year honors in 1972 (15-6 and A.L.-best 1.91 ERA). He won 18 games in 1975 when the Sox won the A.L. pennant. His 3-hitter in Game 1 of the '75 ALCS beat Oakland 7-1. He shut out the Reds 6-0 in Game 1 of the World Series and defeated them 5-4 in Game 4 on 163 pitches. His last Red Sox start was a 5-0 two-hitter Oct. 1, 1978, vs. Toronto setting up the one-game playoff vs. the Yankees the next day.

1995 INDUCTEES

At the first induction ceremonies held on November 1, 1995, six former Red Sox players entered into the Red Sox Hall of Fame: Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky, Jim Rice, Smoky Joe Wood, Frank Malzone and Tony Conigliaro. Jean R. Yawkey, the majority owner and general partner of the Red Sox until her death in 1992, was also enshrined as a non-uniformed person. Recognition was given to Roger Clemens' first major league record 20-strikeout game April 29, 1986 vs. Seattle as the most Memorable Moment. Former Red Sox greats Joe Cronin, Babe Ruth, Bobby Doerr, Carl Yastrzemski, Tom Yawkey and Ted Williams, who were already Cooperstown Hall of Fame members, were also formally inducted into the Hall.

TONY CONIGLIARO, RF (1964-67, 1969-70, 1975)

Conigliaro hit .267 with 162 HR and 501 RBI during his 802-game Red Sox career. He was the youngest A.L. player to reach 100 home runs. On Aug. 18, 1967 Tony was hit by a pitch sustaining a broken cheekbone and damage to his left eye. He made a remarkable return in 1969 hitting 20 HR with 82 RBI in 141 games earning Comeback Player of the Year honors. After a stint with the Angels in 1971, the Revere, Mass. native returned to the Red Sox briefly in 1975 before retiring from the game. He suffered a serious heart attack in 1982 from which he never completely recovered. Tony passed away in February 1990.

DiMaggio had a .298 career average for 11 seasons with the Red Sox. He hit .301 in 1940, his rookie season, becoming part of a .300-hitting outfield with Ted Williams and Doc Cramer. "The Little Professor" led the A.L. in triples (11) and SB (15) in 1950 and in runs (131) in 1950 and (113) in 1951. He scored more than 100 runs 7 times. The 7-time A.L. all-star is among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several batting departments. In the 1946 World Series vs. the Cardinals Dom scored the winning run in Game 5 that gave the Red Sox a 3-2 lead in the Series.

FRANK MALZONE, 3B (1955-65)

Malzone spent 11 years with the Red Sox and is among the all-time Sox leaders in several categories. He hit .276 with 131 HR and 716 RBI in 1,359 games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Frank had a season-high 103 RBI and tied an A.L. record with 10 assists in 1 game. Malzone became the first player in history to lead the league at 3B in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding pct. He was an A.L. all-star 8 times and won 3 straight Gold Gloves. Malzone currently serves as a Red Sox scout.

JOHNNY PESKY, SS-3B (1942, 1946-52)

Pesky hit .313 (9th on the Red Sox all-time list) in 4,085 AB in Boston. He held the Red Sox record for most hits by a rookie, 205 (broken by Nomar Garciaparra's 209 in 1997) and was the first to have three 200-hit seasons. Pesky is tied for the M.L. record of leading a league in hits 3 straight years and having scored 6 runs in 1 game (May 8, 1946). Over the years Johnny has been involved in many facets of the game with the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio-TV announcer, advertising salesman and special assistant. In 1982 Johnny was awarded the "Good Guy" award by the Boston Baseball Writers.

JIM RICE, LF (1974-89)

Rice played his entire 16-year M.L. career with the Red Sox. He is 3rd on the all-time Red Sox list in HR (382), RBI (1,451), H (2,452) and AB (8,225) and 4th in G (2,089) and R (1,249). In 1978 Jim was the A.L. MVP leading the M.L. with 46 HR, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 TB, 213 H and a .600 slugg. pct. He helped the Red Sox to A.L. pennants in 1975 (.309, 22 HR, 102 RBI) and 1986 (.324, 20 HR, 110 RBI). The 8-time all-star hit 20 or more homers 11 times and had 100+ RBI 8 times. Jim Rice was the Red Sox M.L. hitting coach from 1995-2000.

SMOKY JOE WOOD, RHP (1908-15)

Wood compiled an amazing 117-56 mark with a 1.99 ERA (1st among all-time Sox pitchers) in 218 games for the Red Sox. In 1912 he went 34-5 (most one-season wins ever by a Red Sox pitcher) with a 1.91 ERA to lead the Red Sox to a world championship. He won 3 games in that Series including 2 CG. He pitched a no-hitter vs. St. Louis in 1911 and went 23-17 with a 2.02 ERA. A right thumb injury suffered when attempting to field a ball on July 18, 1913 at Detroit effected his velocity, but despite the pain he endured, he led the A.L. in 1915 with a .750 win. pct. (15-5) and a 1.49 ERA.

JEAN R. YAWKEY (1976-92)

Mrs. Yawkey was chairwoman of the board of directors of the JRY Corp., the majority owner and general partner of the Red Sox. She became president of the club following her husband Tom's death in 1976. Mrs. Yawkey was a director of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum and held the distinction of being the first woman ever elected to serve on their board. She enjoyed a long association with the Jimmy Fund/Dana Farber Cancer Institute and helped to establish the Family Inn in Brookline, MA, a temporary home for families of patients undergoing transplant surgery in Boston-area hospitals. In 1991 the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce inducted Mrs. Yawkey into the Academy of Distinguished Bostonians. Mrs. Yawkey passed away in February 1992.

RED SOX IN COOPERSTOWN

Seventeen baseball immortals enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame played a significant portion of their careers with the Red Sox. In July, 2005 Wade Boggs will become the 17th member of that club. In order of their induction:

WADE BOGGS ELECTED TO BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

Third baseman Wade Boggs, who starred for the Red Sox from 1982-92, was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 2005.

Boggs, who was named on 474 of 516 ballots (92 percent) cast by senior members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, will be enshrined in Cooperstown on July 31 with Cubs second baseman Ryne Sandberg, who also topped the 75 percent needed for election.

Selected by the Red Sox in the seventh round of the 1976 June Draft out of H.B. Plant High School in Tampa and signed by scout George Digby, Boggs went on to play 18 seasons in the major leagues with the Red Sox (1982-92), Yankees (1993-97) and Devil Rays (1998-99). He retired following the 1999 season with a .328 career batting average and 3,010 hits in 2,440 games. Boggs collected 578 doubles, 61 triples and 118 home runs, while driving in 1,013 runs. Boggs drew 1,412 career walks and finished with a lifetime .415 on-base percentage.

A 12-time All-Star, Boggs won five batting championships, all with the Red Sox (1983, 1985-88), and set an American League record with seven consecutive 200-hit seasons from 1983-89. From 1983-89, he also became the only player in history to post seven straight years of 200 hits and 100 runs scored. Now 46-years-old, Boggs hit .300 15 times, including 10 seasons in a row to start his career from 1982-91. He led the A.L. in on-base percentage six times (1983, 1985-89), in intentional walks six times (1987-92), in runs scored twice (1988, 1989), in doubles twice (1988, 1989), in walks twice (1986, 1988), and in hits once (with a career-high 240 in 1985).

As a Red Sox, Boggs hit .338 in 1,625 games from 1982-92 and developed into an excellent defensive third baseman (he won Rawlings Gold Glove Awards with the Yankees in 1994 and 1995). Wade was an eight-time All-Star with the Sox, led the league in batting five times and in on-base percentage six times. He holds club records for third basemen for most games (1,165), assists (2,956) and double plays (299).

He was inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame in 2004.

RED SOX TO FACE TIGERS IN 2005 HALL OF FAME GAME

The Red Sox will face the Detroit Tigers in the 59th Annual Hall of Fame Game May 23, 2005 at historic Doubleday Field in Cooperstown, NY. The Red Sox will be making their first appearance in the Hall of Fame game since 1985, when they dropped a 10-inning 5-3 decision to the Houston Astros 5-3. The Sox, whose 1989 appearance was cancelled due to travel problems, are 4-2 all-time in the Hall of Fame Game. Here's a look at how the Red Sox have fared in the Hall of Fame Game:

YEAR	OPPONENT	RESULT
1940	Chicago Cubs	L, 10-9
1950	New York Giants	W, 8-5
1955	Milwaukee Braves	W, 4-2
1963	Milwaukee Braves	W, 7-3
1975	San Francisco Giants	W, 11-5
1985	Houston Astros	L, 5-3 (10 inning)

NOTE: In 2000 Cy Young Award winner Pedro Martinez was named on every ballot in the polling of A.L. managers for All-Star pitching picks. Consequently, the A.L. asked for and received special permission from the N.L. and M.L.B. to include Martinez in the All-Star festivities and introductions, in recognition of his first-half performance and career excellence. Martinez was permitted on the A.L. bench for the game, but was unavailable to pitch.

ALL-STAR GAMES AT FENWAY PARK

On July 13, 1999 the Red Sox hosted the third All-Star Game ever to be played at Fenway Park. The American League defeated the National League 4-1 as Pedro Martinez, the eventual MVP of the Mid-Summer Classic, started and struck out five of the first six batters he faced for the win. The first game held at Fenway was on July 9, 1946 after a one-year hiatus due to World War II-related travel restrictions. The American League defeated the National League 12-0 in a game highlighted by the hitting heroics of Ted Williams. Williams delivered two home runs, two singles and a walk in his five at-bats scoring four runs and driving in five. The A.L. had 14 hits, the N.L. three. In addition to Williams, seven other Red Sox were A.L. All-Stars in '46: Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Hal Wagner, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris. Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. That game featured solid pitching by both sides and ended in a 1-1 tie that was called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay. The Tigers' Rocky Colavito hit a first-inning home run for the A.L., which managed only four hits in the game. The Nationals' only run scored on an RBI single by the Cardinals' Bill White off Red Sox rookie Don Schwall, who allowed all five N.L. hits in three innings. The other Red Sox representative at the '61 game a Fenway was manager Mike Higgins, who served as a coach.

1945 ALL-STAR REPLACEMENT GAME

Due to the on-going war in Europe and with Japan, no All-Star Game was scheduled for 1945, the only year no game has been played since the series began in 1933.

However, on July-10, 1945 there were 9 exhibitions played with proceeds going to benefit various war relief efforts. On July 9 games were played at Chicago's Comiskey Park (Cubs vs. White Sox), New York's Polo Grounds (Yankees vs. Giants), in Great Lakes, IL (Athletics vs. Great Lakes Navy Team), in Cleveland (Reds vs. Indians) and Indiantown Gap, PA (Pirates vs. Indiantown Gap Army Team). The biggest crowds were 47,144 in Chicago and 41,267 in New York.

On July 10, games were played at Washington's Griffith Stadium (Dodgers vs. Senators), St. Louis' Sportsmans Park (Cardinals vs. Browns), Boston's Fenway Park (Braves vs. Red Sox) and Philadelphia's Shibe Park (Phillies vs. Athletics). The largest attendance was in Washington (28,791) and St. Louis (24,113).

The only major league team that didn't play was were the Tigers, who were denied permission to travel to Pittsburgh by the U.S. Government. The Pirates therefore played a U.S. Army team. The A's played a game each day in two locations.

The game at Fenway Park drew 22,809 plus 846 servicemen and women and raised $70,000 for the United War Fund. New Commissioner Senator A.B. "Happy" Chandler, made his first official visit to Boston and took part in the first-pitch ceremonies with Massachusetts Governor Maurice Tobin.

The Red Sox won the game 8-1 behind rookie pitching star Dave Ferriss and three hits, including a home run, by rightfielder George "Catfish" Metkovich.

MOST HITS IN AN ALL-STAR GAME

Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski are tied with Joe Medwick for most hits in an All-Star Game with four. Williams had his four (two singles, two home runs) on July 9, 1946 at Fenway Park in an American League 12-0 win. Yastrzemski hit three singles and a double July 14, 1970 in Cincinnati in a 12-inning, 5-4 National League win. He was named Outstanding Player of the game.

RED SOX IN THE POSTSEASON

Including a major league-record 8-game winning streak to close out their run to the World Championship in 2004, the Red Sox are 62-58-1 all-time in post-season play, having advanced to the postseason 16 times in 104 American League seasons, including 8 times in the last 19 years. The Red Sox are 12-10 in 22 post-season series, having gone 3-2 in 5 trips to the A.L. Division Series (10-10 in Division Series play), 3-4 in 7 trips to the A.L. Championship Series (15-22 in ALCS play) and 6-4 in 10 trips to the World Series (37-26-1 in World Series games).

The Red Sox are 34-26-1 in post-season home games, including a 27-24-1 post-season mark at Fenway Park. They hosted home World Series games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds in 1903 and at Braves Field in 1915 and 1916.

RED SOX IN THE WORLD SERIES

The Boston Americans, who became the Red Sox in 1908, won the first World Series ever held (1903), which also was one of only four best-of-nine Series to be played (again in 1919-20-21). By beating the Pirates of the more established National League, they caused such an embarrassment that the N.L. refused to participate the following year, when the Red Sox repeated as A.L. Champions. The Red Sox have won 6 of the 10 Series in which they have played (with seven-game losses in 1946-67-75-86), holding an overall record of 37-26-1 in games played.

RETIRED NUMBERS

The Red Sox first wore numbers on their uniforms in 1931. Since then they have retired five uniform numbers: 4 for Joe Cronin and 9 for Ted Williams on May 29, 1984, 1 for Bobby Doerr on May 21, 1988, 8 for Carl Yastrzemski on August 6, 1989 and 27 for Carlton Fisk on September 4, 2000. In 1997, the Red Sox also retired No. 42, joining the rest of Major League Baseball in honoring the legacy of Jackie Robinson.

The Red Sox' policy on retiring uniform numbers is based on the following criteria:

- Election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame
- At least 10 years played with the Red Sox
- Finish his career with the club

- Elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1956.
- Compiled a .301 batting average in 20 major league seasons.
- Spent 24 seasons with Red Sox as player, manager and general manager.
- Sold to Red Sox after 1934 season for $250,000 (a tremendous amount in the Depression era) (Red Sox also sent SS Lyn Lary to Washington to complete deal).
- Managed the Red Sox for 13 seasons (1935-47), most in team history.
- Leads all Red Sox managers with 1,071 wins (Mike Higgins is 2nd with 543).
- Playing career ended with a broken leg at Yankee Stadium, April 19, 1945.
- Managed Red Sox to A.L. pennant in 1946.
- Managed Senators to A.L. pennant in first season as player/manager in 1933.
- Member of Pirates' 1927 World Series team but did not play; received loser's share of $3,985.47.
- A.L. MVP in 1930 at the age of 23 with Senators.
- Led A.L. in Doubles 1933 and 1938; led A.L. in Triples 1932.
- Holds A.L. record with 5 pinch-hit home runs in 1943.
- Became first player to hit pinch homers in both games of a doubleheader, June 17, 1943 (in a stretch when he hit three 3-run pinch homers in 4 at-bats).
- Participated in 12 All-Star Games for A.L.: Player in 6 (1933-35-37-38-39-41), Player/Manager in 1 (1934), Manager in 2 (1940 and 1947), Coach in 2 (1936 and 1944), & Honorary Captain in 1 (1983)...the A.L. won 9 of the 12 games in which he took part.
- In 1940, was named to manage A.L. All-Stars team after league officials ruled Yankees manager Joe McCarthy had managed too many consecutive games (4).
- Promoted to Red Sox general manager, September 29, 1947.
- Named A.L. President, January 31, 1959.
- Named A.L. Chairman, January 1, 1974.
- Formally inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame, November 1, 1995.

CARLTON FISK'S CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Became the 13th catcher to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY on July 23, 2000.
- On September 4, 2000 became the fifth Red Sox to have his number retired by the organization.
- Inducted into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame on September 8, 1997.
- Caught more games (2,226) and hit more home runs (351 of his career 376) than any catcher in M.L. history.
- After 24 seasons, he retired as one of three catchers in major league history to amass 300 home runs, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.
- All-Time Red Sox leader in games caught, 990 and putouts, 5,111.
- Overall appeared in 11 All-Star Games, his last in 1991 at the age of 43.
- A 7-time All-Star (1972-74, 76-78, 80) for the Red Sox, he was voted to start 4 times as a Red Sox.
- Named A.L. Honorary Captain for the 1999 Game at Fenway Park.
- First unanimous winner of the A.L. Rookie of the Year Award in 1972, also led the A.L. in triples with 9.
- Won the 1972 A.L. Rawlings Gold Glove Award for defensive excellence.
- Helped lead the 1975 Red Sox to the A.L. pennant.
- Hit game-winning 12th-inning home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, remembered as one of the most dramatic moments in baseball history.
- Became just the fifth catcher in major league history to score and drive in 100 or more runs in 1977, when he hit .315 with 106 runs scored and 102 RBI.
- Set the M.L. record in 1977 with only 4 passed balls in 151 games (broken by Gary Carter, 1 with Montreal in 1978).

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR VOTING NOTE: In 1947, 33 baseball writers were asked to nominate five rookies for Rookie of the Year honors in order of preference, with votes distributed on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis. Jackie Robinson became the first nationally recognized winner of the BBWAA Rookie of the Year Award, or the "J. Louis Comiskey Memorial Award," as it was called then.

In 1948, 48 writers voted, this time naming only a single candidate on each ballot. Boston Braves' (N.L.) SS Alvin Dark won the award. The following year, the BBWAA began the process of choosing a top rookie in each league with the same three writers from each league city who decided on the MVP Awards voting. The number of voters was reduced to two in each league city in 1961.

The writers adopted the voting method used by Cy Young ballotmakers in 1980. Three rookies were named on each ballot in order of preference, and the votes were distributed on a 5-3-1 basis.

RAWLINGS GOLD GLOVE AWARD (Presented since 1957)

Fourteen different Red Sox have won a total of 34 Rawlings Gold Glove Awards since the award was inaugurated in 1957. Dwight Evans (8) is the all-time club leader while Carl Yastrzemski is 2nd with 7. Only 4 outfielders have won more Gold Gloves than Evans: Willie Mays (12), Roberto Clemente (12), Al Kaline (10) and Ken Griffey, Jr. (10).

THOMAS A. YAWKEY
RED SOX MVP AWARD

Each year the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America presents the Thomas A. Yawkey Award to the Red Sox Most Valuable Player...From 1937 through 1952 the award went to either a Red Sox or a member of the Boston Braves...The Braves moved to Milwaukee prior to the 1953 season and the award became strictly a Red Sox MVP selection...After Mr. Yawkey's death in 1976, the Boston Writers renamed the award in his honor...In 2004 DAVID ORTIZ won the Thomas A. Yawkey Award...In 1996, MO VAUGHN won for the 4th straight year, the first player to do so...CARL YASTRZEMSKI is the leader with 6 selections...VAUGHN, ROGER CLEMENS, DWIGHT EVANS and TED WILLIAMS are tied for the 2nd with four...Thirteen Red Sox have been picked more than once...In addition to YAZ, EVANS, WILLIAMS, CLEMENS and VAUGHN, PEDRO MARTINEZ has three honors, and NOMAR GARCIAPARRA, JIM RICE, RICK BURLESON, CARLTON FISK, FRANK MALZONE, JACKIE JENSEN and ELLIS KINDER have two...Six members of the Braves won the MVP Award from its inception in 1937 through 1952.

Note: In 1979 the American League started a Pitcher of the Month Award in addition to the Player of the Month.

THE HUTCH AWARD

The Hutch Award has been given annually to the Major League player who best exemplifies the character, fighting spirit and competitive desire of the late pitcher (Detroit 1939-53) and manager (Tigers, Cardinals, Reds), Fred Hutchinson. The award, which sits in the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, was instituted in 1965 and is sponsored by the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, WA. Three Red Sox players have received the award: Carl Yastrzemski in 1967, Tony Conigliaro in 1970 and Andre Dawson in 1994. Mickey Mantle was the first recipient in 1965, and Trevor Hoffman was honored in 2004.

TONY CONIGLIARO AWARD

In 1990 the Red Sox instituted a national award to honor the memory of their former star outfielder Tony Conigliaro. The award is presented to a major leaguer who has overcome adversity through the attributes of spirit, determination and courage that were trademarks of Tony C. A special panel composed of the media, members of the MLB office, Tony's brothers Billy and Richie, and a fan make the selection. Announcement of the award is made at the annual major league winter meetings in December and the formal presentation takes place at the Boston Baseball Writers' Association dinner in January.

The first winner was Royals OF Jim Eisenreich, who overcame a neurological movement disorder, Tourette Syndrome, to become a productive performer after being out of baseball for 2 1/2 years. The 1991 winner was Dickie Thon who came back from a severe left eye injury when he was hit by a pitch April 8, 1984. He missed most of the next five years before he joined the Phillies as their regular shortstop in 1989. In 1992 the honor went to Jim Abbott who became an important role model to the physically and mentally challenged. Bo Jackson was the 1993 winner. He was the first player in major league history to compete with an artificial hip after undergoing replacement surgery in April, 1992. The 1994 recipient was Mark Leiter, who courageously handled personal tragedy while trying to maintain his baseball career with the Angels. Mark's nine-month-old son, Ryan, was afflicted with spinal muscular atrophy and passed away in April, 1994 while the Angels' plane was en route to Minnesota. Relief pitcher Scott Radinsky won the award in 1995. He battled back from Hodgkin's disease that was diagnosed in early 1994 and missed the entire season undergoing chemotherapy and radiation treatments. In 1996 Curtis Pride received the honor. Pride was born deaf and overcame the challenge to become a major league player and influential force in the community. The 1997 honoree was Eric Davis. Eric was diagnosed with colon cancer in June, and had surgery for the removal of a malignant mass and 1/3 of his colon. He received chemotherapy treatments that continued through his return to baseball on Sept. 15 and the postseason. Also during this time, Eric's brother, Jimmy, 37, suffered a fatal heart attack. Bret Saberhagen won the honor in 1998. Bret underwent reconstructive surgery for a right shoulder injury in May 1996 after months of intensive rehab proved futile. He missed the 1996 season and was signed in Nov. '96 by the Red Sox. After further rehab he made his first start in 2 years on Aug. 22, 1997. In 1998 Saberhagen went 15-8, 3.96 in 31 starts. Marlins' 3B Mike Lowell won the award in 1999. He underwent testicular cancer surgery Feb. 19 but returned to baseball May 29. He became the Marlins regular third baseman and hit 12 homers with 47 RBI in 97 games. LHP Kent Mercker and RHP Tony Saunders were co-winners in 2000. Mercker suffered a life-threatening cerebral hemorrhage while pitching for Anaheim in May. He returned to the Angels August 12 and pitched the rest of the season. Saunders broke the bone (humerus) in his upper left arm May 26, 1999 pitching for Tampa Bay. On August 24, 2000, he broke it again during a minor league rehab start. In 2001 righthander Jason Johnson and lefty Graeme Lloyd were co-winners. Johnson has Type 1 Diabetes that needs daily monitoring and the use of an insulin pump. He rebounded for the Orioles in 2001 finishing 10-12 in 32 starts and emerged as a clubhouse and community leader through his involvement with the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's fundraising efforts. Lloyd made a comeback with the Expos finishing 9-5 in a career-high 84 games after missing the entire 2000 season following surgery for a torn labrum and rotator cuff in his right shoulder. The injury occurred after he lost his wife Cindy to Crohn's disease on Opening Day 2000. RHP Jose Rijo of the Cincinnati Reds was the recipient in 2002. After missing five seasons due to five elbow operations, Rijo came back with the Reds in August 2001 and made 13 relief apps. He made their Opening Day roster in 2002 after being a non-roster spring training invitee and had his first M.L. start since 1995 on April 21 beating Chicago. He went 5-4, 5.14 in 31 games (9 starts). Oakland RHP Jim Mecir won the honor in 2003. Mecir achieved success despite being born with two club feet, a birth defect that required two operations before the age of 10 and ultimately left his right leg an inch shorter than his left. Both of his lower calves remain severely atrophied. In 2004 Tampa Bay's Dewon Brazelton was the recipient. Brazelton grew up with a twin brother, Fewon, who was afflicted with cerebral palsy. Their parents were not together and the boys called four places home. At 13, Dewon became involved with two local churches and some very caring families. He was a good athlete and student (3.4 GPA) and baseball star at Middle Tennessee State Univ. In 2001 he was Tampa Bay's first-round draft pick (third overall) in the First-Year Player Draft. He made his M.L. debut in 2002, and in 2004 he was 6-8 with a 4.77 ERA in 22 games (21 starts).

Conigliaro died February 24, 1990 after an 8-year struggle to come back from a massive heart attack that left him severely handicapped. Tony signed with the Red Sox in 1963 after graduation from St. Mary's High School in Lynn, MA. In his only minor league season he hit .363 with 24 homers and 74 RBI in 83 games for Wellsville, earning New York-Penn League MVP Rookie of the Year honors. He broke in with the Red Sox the next year, 1964, hit a home run in his first at-bat at Fenway Park, and finished with a .290 average and 24 homers to earn an All-Rookie selection. Tony became the youngest player to lead a major league in home runs when he hit 32 in 1965 and the youngest A.L. player to reach 100 career long balls. Mel Ott was the youngest in history at 22 years, 4 months and 10 days. Tony was 2nd-youngest (22 years, 6 months and 16 days). His promising career was tragically shortened when he was hit in the face by a pitch at Fenway Park August 18, 1967. He made a dramatic comeback in 1969, hit 56 homers with 198 RBI in 2 years, but his performance fell off and he was never the same player. Conigliaro spent 1971 with the Angels and was out of baseball until he tried another comeback with the Red Sox in 1975. After an excellent spring training he made the regular season roster and got the team's first hit of that season and later the club's first home run. He was outrighted to Triple-A Pawtucket in mid-June and retired shortly thereafter.

OPPONENTS

The Red Sox recorded a major-league best 15-6 record in April, 2004. After playing near .500 ball for three months (41-40), the Sox closed out the year by posting baseball's best record (42-18, .700) from August 1 through the end of the season. The sprint to the finish included a 10-game winning streak August 24-September 3, part of a stretch in which the Sox won 16 of 17 and 22 out of 23.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

The Red Sox have two new minor league affiliates in 2005: the Single-A Greenville (SC) Bombers of the South Atlantic League and the Single-A Wilmington (DE) Blue Rocks of the Carolina League. They replace the Sarasota Red Sox and the Augusta Greenjackets.

The Bombers had previously been affiliated with the New York Mets for 22 years and were originally known as the Columbia Mets until 1993. They were then known as the Capital City Bombers until they moved to Greenville, SC following the 2004 season.

The Blue Rocks have played in 6,532-seat Frawley Stadium as the Single-A affiliate of the Kansas City Royals since 1993, when the Peninsula Pilots moved to Wilmington from Hampton, VA. The franchise has led the Carolina League in attendance each of the last seven seasons. The Blue Rocks have hosted three All-Star Games (1994, 1998, 2002), and the franchise has been recognized with the prestigious Bob Frietas Award (1999) and the Larry MacPhail Award (1996) for promotional excellence in Minor League Baseball.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT STAFF

BENCHERINGTON

Director of Player Development

Ben was named Director of Player Development December 7, 2002. He was Assistant Director of Player Development in 2002, following two years as Coordinator of International Scouting. The Meridan, NH native started the 1999 season as a mid-Atlantic area scout before moving to Baseball Operations Assistant in May. Cherington was a video advance scout for the Cleveland Indians in 1998. He earned a Master's degree in sports management from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst in 1997, a year after graduating from Amherst College, where he played four years of varsity baseball. Ben and his wife, Wendi, reside in Boston.

PETER WOODFORK

Director of Baseball Operations

Assistant Director of Player Development

Peter joined the Red Sox organization as Director of Baseball Operations/ Assistant Director, Player Development in 2003. The Swampscott, MA native plays a key role for the Red Sox in contract negotiations, salary arbitration, budgets and league rules. Prior to joining the club, Peter worked in the Major League Baseball Commissioners Office as Coordinator of Salary and Contract Administration from 2001-2003. During that time he was involved in creating the 2003-2006 Basic Agreement between the Players Union and Major League Baseball. Peter is a graduate of Harvard University, where he also started for the three-time Ivy League Champion baseball team. He currently resides in Boston.

RAQUEL FERREIRA

Director of Minor League Administration

Raquel joined the Boston Red Sox as Administrative Assistant in Player Development and Scouting in September of 1999. She was promoted to Director of Minor League Administration on December 7, 2002. Raquel handles all administrative issues for both major and minor league players such as payroll, insurance, contract tenders and player transactions. The Cumberland, RI native is also in charge of the player immigration program and spring training budget for the minor league camp. She received the 2002 Edward F. Kenney Player Development Award bestowed upon a player development staff member for dedication, success and work ethic in baseball. Raquel graduated from the University of Rhode Island in 1992. She resides in Cambridge, MA with her husband Erik and stepson, Erik, Jr.

ROB LEARY

Minor League Field Coordinator

Rob Leary is in his third year as the Red Sox minor league field coordinator. He joined the Red Sox in 2002 as a roving minor league catching instructor. He spent 1995-2001 in the Florida Marlins organization as a major league advance scout (2001), director of field operations (1999-2000), minor league field coordinator (1997-98) and minor league catching instructor (1995-96).

For nine seasons (1986-94) Rob was a player, coach and manager with the Montreal Expos. He was the Expos' 12th-round pick out of Louisiana State University in 1986 and played five seasons in the Montreal system before becoming a player-coach in 1990 with (A) Rockford. He managed Rockford in 1991-92 and (A) West Palm Beach in 1993-94, amassing a 254-236 record. A 1984 graduate of the College of San Mateo and a 1986 graduate of LSU, Rob lives in Melbourne, FL with his wife Candace and their son Connor (4) and Dawson (2).

RED SOX SCOUTING STAFF

JASON McLEOD Director of Amateur Scouting

Jason joined the Red Sox organization as Director of Scouting Administration in 2004. Previously, he worked for the San Diego Padres for 10 seasons (1994-2003) as an intern, coach, assistant director of player development, and an area scout in Southern California.

McLeod played parts of the 1991 and 1992 seasons in the Astros organization as a right-handed pitcher. He was drafted in the 44th round by Houston in 1990. The San Diego-native is the great grand-nephew of Hall of Fame pitcher Carl Hubbell. Jason and his wife Melody reside in Boston.

MINOR LEAGUE COACHING STAFFS

PAWTUCKET RED SOX

Triple-A, International League

RON JOHNSON, Manager

Age: 49

Born: March 23, 1956 in Long Beach, CA

Resides: Wichita, KS

A veteran of 27 years of pro baseball, Ron begins his first season managing AAA Pawtucket. This is his fourth season in the Red Sox organization. Previously, he managed two seasons at AA Portland as well as the Trenton Thunder in 2002 before the Sox AA squad moved to Portland. His 2004 Portland club finished tied for fourth in the Eastern League's Northern Division with a 69-73 record.

Ron has been a manager for the past 13 seasons, spending his first 8 years as a skipper in the Kansas City organization following 6 seasons as a coach in the Royals chain. He left the Royals with a 586-521 record (.529) as a minor league manager.

The Long Beach, CA native took the Royals' A Baseball City club to the playoffs in 1992, his first year as a manager. Ron in 1995 was named Texas Lg. Manager of the Year after leading the Wichita Wranglers to a 72-64 record and a 2nd-half first-place finish in the American Conference's Central Division. He joined the Red Sox organization prior to the 2000 campaign, spending his first 2 years as skipper of the Sarasota Sox.

The Fresno State University graduate was a First Team All-American selection in 1978. He was drafted that year by Kansas City in the 24th round, and went on to hit .261 in 22 major league games with the Royals and Expos from 1982-84.

Ron is the father of five children: Savannah (19), Christopher (18), Christian (10), Cheyanne (7) and Bridget (3). He and his wife, Daphane, reside in Wichita, KS.

MIKE GRIFFIN, Pitching Coach

Age: 47, Turns 48 June 26

Born: June 26, 1957 in Colusa, CA

Resides: Hawthorne, NJ

Mike returns for his 3rd consecutive season with the PawSox as pitching coach. He made the jump to AAA from AA Trenton in 2002 where he held the same position for 4 years (1999-2002).

After spending 3 seasons as the Reds' minor league pitching coordinator from 1987-89, the former major leaguer was a pitching coach for 6 years in the system. As a pitching coach, 4 of his teams captured league championships: A Charleston (1990), AA Chattanooga (1992) and Triple-A Indianapolis (1994 and 1995).

Mike pitched 14 years of pro ball, including major league stops with the Yankees (1979-81), Cubs (1981), Padres (1982), Orioles (1987) and Reds (1989). In 67 major league appearances (24 starts), he was 7-15 with 3 saves and a 4.60 ERA.

The California native graduated from Woodland High School and was drafted by Texas in 1976. A year later, Mike went 17-9 with 19 complete games and 201 strikeouts in 209 innings for A Asheville to earn Western Carolina Lg.'s Pitcher of the Year honors. Three years later he won the James P. Dawson Award as the Yankees top rookie in spring training.

Mike and wife Denise live in Hawthorne, NJ with daughter Kimberly (17) and son Brad (7).

MARK BUDASKA, Hitting Coach

Age: 53

Born: December 27, 1952 in Sharon, PA

Resides: Kihei, HI

Mark begins his 2nd consecutive season for AAA Pawtucket. In 2004, his debut season with Pawtucket, the club posted a 73-71 record and a .264 batting average. In 2002, his first season in the organization, he held the same position with Double-A Portland. In 2001, he coached for Anaheim's Double-A Little Rock affiliate. The Travelers won the Texas League Championship that year and finished 4th in the league in hitting with a .266 team average. Budaska was a hitting coach and first base coach for a major league team in Taiwan from 1998-2000.

The former switch-hitting outfielder played 10 years in the Oakland organization, including stints at the big league level in 1978 and 1981. Mark makes his off-season home in Kihei, HI.

TODD CLAUS, Manager

Age: 36
Born: March 24, 1969 in Endicott, NY
Resides: Wellington, FL

Todd makes his debut as the AA Portland Sea Dogs manager in 2005. He joined the Red Sox organization last season as manager of the single-A Sarasota Red Sox after spending his entire baseball career with the Anaheim Angels organization. He led the SaraSox to a 75-61 record and 2nd place in the Florida State League's West Division in both season halves.

Todd managed the Angels' Single-A affiliate in Cedar Rapids for 2 seasons prior to joining the Red Sox. He led the team to a 66-72 record in 2003 and an 81-58 record and the team's first playoff appearance since 1997 in 2002. In the playoffs, Cedar Rapids went 2-0 to win the West Division crown. Previously, Todd spent 7 seasons as hitting instructor at Rookie-level Provo (2001), Boise (1999-2000, 1995-96), Double-A Midland (1998) and Single-A Cedar Rapids (1997). The Endicott, NY native was also an Angels scout for 3 years (1999-2001).

Todd signed with the Angels as a non-drafted free agent on June 15, 1991 and began his career at Rookie-level Boise. Todd served as graduate assistant coach at the University of North Florida in Jacksonville in 1994.

Todd is a graduate of Cardinal Gibbons High School in Fort Lauderdale, FL. He, his wife Kim, and son Trey reside in Wellington, FL

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT CONSULTANTS

DICK BERARDINO

Dick enters his 38th year in the Red Sox organization, his 3rd season as a Red Sox player development consultant. After 8 seasons as a minor league outfielder, Berardino began a managerial career that spanned 21 seasons, including 20 in the Red Sox system starting in 1971. He joined the Red Sox as a coach in 1968 and served the Red Sox as big league bullpen and third base coach (1989-91), roving outfield/baserunning instructor (1992-96), manager at Single-A Lowell (1997-98), assistant field coordinator (1999-2001) and Spring Training coordinator (2002). A 1955 graduate of Watertown High School and a 1959 graduate of Holy Cross, Berardino received the Red Sox Edward M. Kenney Player Development Award in 1998.

DWIGHT EVANS

A 3-time All-Star, 8-time Gold Glove Award-winning right fielder and a Red Sox Hall of Famer, Dwight Evans will serve as a Red Sox player development consultant for his 2nd year. Evans was the Red Sox major league hitting coach in 2002 after rejoining the organization as a player development consultant in 2001, specializing in outfield and hitting instruction throughout the minor leagues. Evans played 19 years and 2,505 games in a Red Sox uniform, 2nd most in club history. He was a member of 4 A.L. East championship squads (1975, '86, '88, '90) and 2 A.L. championship teams ('75, '86). From 1981-90, Evans hit 251 home runs, the most of any A.L. player, and had 605 extra-base hits in the 1980s, more than any other M.L. player. He retired after the 1991 season and served as a roving minor league instructor with Chicago in 1993 and as Colorado's M.L. hitting coach in 1994.

TOMMY HARPER

Tommy is in his 3rd season as a player development consultant with the Red Sox after 3 seasons as the Red Sox major league first base, outfield, and baserunning coach. Harper spent 3 seasons in a Red Sox uniform (1972-74) and holds the club record with 54 stolen bases in 1973. He enjoyed a 15-year big league career with 8 teams, hitting .257 with 146 home runs, 567 RBI and 408 stolen bases. In 1970 with Milwaukee, Harper became the first infielder (5th overall) to eclipse both the 30 home run and 30 stolen base plateaus in the same season (31 homers and 38 steals). After his career ended, Harper worked in the Yankees system before returning to Boston in the P.R. department in 1980 and as the M.L. first base coach and baserunning instructor from 1981-84. Before rejoining the Red Sox in 2000, Harper coached 10 years with Montreal, his final 7 as the hitting, baserunning and outfield coach.

Tony Cloninger

Tony is a player development consultant for 2005 after serving as senior pitching advisor last season and pitching coach in 2002-03. Tony was diagnosed with bladder cancer in March 2003 and took a medical leave of absence in June to complete his treatments and recovery at his home in North Carolina.

Cloninger is in his 34th year of professional baseball. He was a scout for the San Francisco Giants in 2001 after 15 years with the New York Yankees. He enjoyed a 15-year pro pitching career including 12 major league seasons with the Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves (1961-68), Cincinnati Reds (1968-71) and St. Louis Cardinals (1972). He has a career 113-97 record and a 4.07 ERA over 352 games.

FELIX MALDONADO

Felix will serve his 3rd season as a player development consultant after 7 seasons as Red Sox coordinator of Latin American instruction. 2005 marks his 43rd year in the Red Sox organization as a minor league player, scout, manager, instructor or coordinator. In 1995, Maldonado concluded 7 years as manager of the Gulf Coast League Red Sox after scouting for the Red Sox in Puerto Rico from 1971-89 while serving as an instructor with the Red Sox with focus on Rookie and Single-A teams. He graduated from Ponce High School and Catholic University of Puerto Rico. Maldonado played minor league baseball from 1959-70 as an outfielder, including his final 8 seasons in the Red Sox organization.

FRANK MALZONE

Frank Malzone, a member of the inaugural Red Sox Hall of Fame class in 1995, will serve as a player development consultant in 2005. He spent 11 seasons with the Red Sox and was an 8-time All-Star and 3-time Gold Glove award winner at third base. Malzone ranks among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several categories, and he hit .276 with 131 home runs, and 716 RBI in 1,359 Red Sox games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Malzone recorded 103 RBI and tied an A.L. record with 10 assists in one game. He became the first player in history to lead league third basemen in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding percentage. Previously to his consultant role, Malzone served as a Red Sox scout.

CHARLIE WAGNER

Charlie has been with the Red Sox organization as a pitcher, administrator and scout since 1935. Currently, he serves as a special Spring Training consultant. Wagner signed with the Red Sox in 1935 and made his pro debut with Charlotte in the Class B Piedmont League. He joined the Red Sox in 1938 and was 32-23 with a 3.91 ERA in 100 games over 6 years. He missed the 1943-45 seasons due to entering the Navy during World War II. Injuries limited him to a 1-0 record in 8 games during the Red Sox' pennant-winning season of 1946. In 1947 he became the assistant farm director under Johnny Murphy. At that time the Red Sox had 12 minor league teams spread over 55 leagues. He switched to scouting and minor league pitching instructor in 1962 and has been in those roles ever since. The Red Sox honored Charlie in March 1998 by naming the entrance-way into the Fort Myers Minor League Complex Charlie Wagner Way. On January 18, 2001, Wagner was honored by the Reading (PA) Hot Stove League at their annual banquet. On May 27, 2001, during the Red Sox 100th anniversary celebration at Fenway Park, Charlie threw the honorary first pitch to Red Sox Hall of Fame catcher Carlton Fisk. Charlie resides in Reading, PA.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI

Hall of Fame outfielder Carl Yastrzemski succeeded Ted Williams in left field as a rookie in 1961 and today still follows in his footsteps instructing young Red Sox hitters. A 3-time batting champion and 18-time A.L. All-Star, Yaz became the last major league Triple Crown winner when he led the league in batting average, home runs and RBI in 1967. He was the first A.L. player to collect 400 home runs and 3,000 hits in his career. In 23 years with the Red Sox, Yaz won the MVP award in 1967 and 7 gold gloves. He retired ranked first on the major league all-time list for career games (3,308), 3rd in at-bats (11,988) and walks (1,845), 6th in total bases (5,539), 7th in hits (3,419) and doubles (646) and 9th in RBI (1,844).

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT INSTRUCTORS

JOHNNY PESKY

Age: 85, Turns 86 on September 27

Born: September 27, 1919 in Portland, OR

Resides: Swampscott, MA

Johnny, who began his long career with the Red Sox as a minor league player in 1940 begins his 53rd season with the Red Sox, his 36th in a row. Pesky has been associated with the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio and TV announcer and advertising salesman. In 2005, the Red Sox will again utilize Johnny's teaching skills and knowledge of infield play by having him work with young players in Spring Training as well as at Pawtucket and Lowell. The former All-Star shortstop will tutor minor league infielders on mechanics and defensive positioning. Previously, Pesky was a special assistant to former GM Lou Gorman from 1984-92 after 10 years as a Red Sox coach. Johnny was also Pawtucket's interim manager for part of the 1990 season. Pesky was an outstanding hitter and infielder who hit .307 in a 10-year career with the Red Sox, Detroit and Washington. He held the Red Sox record for most hits by a rookie (205, broken by Nomar Garciaparra in 1997) and was the first to have 3 200-hit years (Wade Boggs did so 7 years and Jim Rice 4). He shares the M.L. record for leading the league in hits 3 straight years and having scored 6 runs in one game (May 8, 1946). In 1985 Boggs broke his record of 172 singles in one season. Pesky coached for Ralph Houk with Triple-A Denver in 1955 and managed in the Detroit system from 1956-60. In the mid-1960s, he was a coach with Pittsburgh and a manager in their system before joining the Red Sox broadcast crew in 1969. He spent 6 years as part of the radio and TV team. Johnny also managed Triple-A Seattle for the Sox in 1961-62 before moving up to manage the big club in 1963-64. In 1982 the Boston Writers gave him their "Good Guy" award. On November 1, 1995, Johnny was honored as one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame.

JIM RICE

Born: March 8, 1953, Anderson, SC
Resides: No. Andover, MA

Jim is a special organizational instructor this year, his 33rd season with the Red Sox, with duties in Spring Training and throughout the system. The Red Sox Hall of Famer spent 6 years as the team's major league hitting coach. Rice was promoted to the post on February 18, 1995 after 3 seasons as the Red Sox roving minor league hitting instructor.

The 8-time All-Star is among the top 5 career Red Sox hitters in 9 offensive categories and compiled a .298 average with 382 home runs in 2,089 games for the Red Sox from 1974-89. Rice collected his 2,452 career hits, including 373 doubles and 79 triples.

Jim slammed 20 or more homers 11 times and drove in 100 runs 8 times. He is the only player to have 3 straight 35-homer, 200-hit years (1977-79). Rice hit 3 home runs in a game twice, August 29, 1977 vs. Oakland and August 29, 1983 in Toronto. From his August 19, 1974 debut through 1986, he played in 93 percent of the Red Sox games (1,790 of 1,935). During his 15-plus major league seasons, he played in 86 percent of the Red Sox games, despite being limited to only 56 in an injury-filled final 1989 season.

Rice was the club's No. 1 draft pick in the 1971 June draft after he won 10 letters in baseball, football, basketball and track for Westside and Hanna High School in Anderson, SC. In 1974 he won the International League Triple Crown, batting .337 with 25 long balls and 93 RBI for Pawtucket. He joined the Red Sox to stay in mid-August. He was also named Minor League Player of the Year, International League MVP and IL Rookie of the Year. Rice helped Boston win the 1975 A.L. pennant with a .309, 22-HR, 102-RBI rookie season. In 1978 he was the A.L. MVP as he led the M.L. with 46 HR, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 TB, 213 H and a .600 slugg. pct. He is the only A.L. player to attain 400 TB since 1937 and the only player to lead either league outright in HR, triples and RBI the same season. Rice led the A.L. in TB 3 straight years (1977-79) to tie Ted Williams and Ty Cobb for the A.L. record. He had four 200-hit seasons, and in 1986 was 3rd in the MVP voting after a .324 avg. with 200 H, 20 HR and 110 RBI in 157 games as the Red Sox again won the A.L. pennant. He was in the top five in A.L. MVP voting six times. In Nov. 1995, he was one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame. In February 2001 Rice was inducted into the Ted Williams Hitters Hall of Fame. Jim and his wife, Corine, are the parents of Chauncy Brandon (25) and Carissa Jacinda (23).

EDWARD F. KENNEY PLAYER DEVELOPMENT AWARD/
GEORGE DIGBY SCOUTING AWARD

In February of 1995 the Red Sox established the Edward F. Kenney Player Development Award and the George Digby Scouting Award. The first award was named for the retired executive who spent more than 45 years in the Red Sox organization, primarily in player development. The 2nd award recognizes the contributions of a man who began discovering talent for the Red Sox in 1944. The awards were created to acknowledge the dedication, success and work ethic of Red Sox baseball operations personnel, attributes so aptly displayed by the awards' namesakes.

LUIS TIANT

Age: 64

Born: November 23, 1940 in Havana, Cuba

Resides: Southboro, MA

Luis will be a Red Sox Special Assignment Instructor in 2005. He rejoined the Red Sox organization in 2002 as pitching coach at Single-A Lowell. Tiant instructs young pitchers during the season and assists the Red Sox with clinics and appearances.

"El Tiante" was one of the greatest fan favorites and clutch performers in Red Sox history during his 8 seasons in Boston. He was inducted into the club's Hall of Fame in 1997. From 1971-78 he compiled a 122-81 record with a 3.36 ERA and 3 20-win seasons. He was A.L. Comeback Player of the Year in 1972, when he went 15-6 and led the league with a 1.91 ERA. When the Red Sox won the 1975 A.L. pennant, Tiant had an 18-14 record. He then beat Oakland 7-1 with a 3-hitter in the first game of the ALCS, shut out Cincinnati 6-0 in the first game of the World Series and beat the Reds again 5-4 in Game 5 with an amazing 163-pitch complete game performance. His final Red Sox appearance was a 5-0 2-hitter vs. Toronto October 1, 1978 at Fenway Park, the win that set up the one-game A.L. East playoff vs. the Yankees the next day.

In 19 seasons (1964-82) overall, Luis compiled a 229-172 (.571) record with a 3.30 ERA and 2,416 strikeouts. He also pitched for Cleveland (1964-69), Minnesota (1970), the Yankees (1979-80), Pittsburgh (1981) and California (1982). Tiant, who pitched in 3 All-Star Games, won 20 or more games 4 times, struck out 200 or more 3 times, led the A.L. in ERA in 1968 (1.60) and 1972 (1.91) and in shutouts 3 times.

From 1992-1995, Luis was a minor league pitching coach in the Los Angeles system, served as pitching coach for Nicaragua in the 1996 Atlanta Olympics and was the pitching coach for the White Sox Single-A Sarasota club in 1997. In 1998, he began a 4-year stint as head baseball coach for Division III Savannah College of Art and Design in Savannah, GA.

Luis and his wife, Maria, have 3 children: Luis Jr., Isabel and Daniel.

TONY LATHAM MEMORIAL AWARD

The Tony Latham Memorial Award is presented each fall to the Red Sox minor league player or players who show the most enthusiasm during the Florida Instructional League season. Latham, who played for the 1983 Winston-Salem Red Sox, drowned in a boating accident off the coast of Florida while a member of the Instructional League team that November.

CITY OF PALMS... CITY OF CHAMPIONS

When the Red Sox captured the 2004 World Championship, they became the 4th team that trained in Fort Myers to win a World Series. The list also includes the 1960 Pittsburgh Pirates, the 1985 Kansas City Royals and the 1991 Minnesota Twins. The Cleveland Indians (1940-42) are the only club to train in Fort Myers and not win a World Series during their time in the City of Palms.

BROADCASTING

Since Red Sox games were first aired on radio in 1926, and televised at Fenway Park on May 12, 1948, a total of 43 broadcasters have announced Red Sox games from Fenway’s broadcast booth on a regular basis. The first radio announcers were Gus Rooney, who was the 1926 Opening Day announcer, followed by Fred Hoey and Gerry Harrison in 1927, all on WNAC. Jim Britt, Tom Hussey and Bump Hadley were the first television announcers in 1948 on TV-4 and TV-7. In 1984 the New England Sports Network (NESN) first began airing Red Sox games on cable with Kent Der Divanis and former Red Sox 2B Mike Andrews as the broadcasters.

RED SOX BROADCASTERS

RADIO 850 WEEI-AM (11th season as flagship station)

Joe Castiglione

Joe Castiglione is in his 23rd season behind the microphone on Red Sox radio. He previously handled play-by-play for the Cleveland Indians on TV in 1979 and 1982 and broadcast the Milwaukee Brewers on TV in 1981. The Hamden, CT native has announced the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers, and did college basketball on New England Sports Network for six winters. During the off-season, he teaches broadcast journalism courses at Northeastern University and Franklin Pierce College. Joe also works in fund raising for the Jimmy Fund.

Jerry Trupiano

Jerry Trupiano returns for his 13th year in the Red Sox radio booth. The St. Louis native is a graduate of St. Louis University where he began his broadcasting career as a disc jockey on the college radio station. Since then, Jerry has covered boxing events, the Houston Aeros of the World Hockey Association (1974), the Houston Rockets (1978-80), Southwest Conference Football (1978-88) and the NFL's Houston Oilers (1980-89). He also hosted a talk show for 14 years in Houston. Jerry's baseball broadcasting background includes play-by-play for the Houston Astros (1985-86), Montreal Expos (1989-90) and three games on CBS Radio Game of the Week in 1991.

NEW ENGLAND SPORTS NETWORK (21st season with Red Sox)

Don Orsillo

Melrose, MA native Don Orsillo, returns for a fifth season of play-by-play on NESN. Prior to joining NESN for the 2001 season, the 35-year-old graduate of Northeastern University called the action for the Single-A Pittsfield Mets (1991-92), the Double-A Binghamton Mets (1993-95), the Triple-A Pawtucket Red Sox (1996-2000) and the American Hockey League's Springfield Indians/Falcons (1991-96).

Orsillo, who called Hideo Nomo's no-hitter in Baltimore in his 2001 NESN debut, won an Emmy Award for outstanding play-by-play in 2003. Following the 2004 season, he appeared in the Farrelly Brothers' film "Fever Pitch" with Fox's Tim McCarver and ESPN's Harold Reynolds. Don resides in Smithfield, RI with his wife Lisa and daughters Sydney and Madison.

Jerry Remy

Jerry Remy is in his 18th year as color commentator on NESN and the Red Sox television network. A long-time Fenway Park fan favorite, the former second baseman played seven seasons with the Red Sox from 1978-84 after breaking into the majors with the Angels in 1975. A pre-season trade brought the Somerset, MA native home in 1978 when he hit .278, scored 78 runs, stole 30 bases and was selected to the American League All-Star team. Jerry batted .275 with seven homers and 329 RBI in 1,154 career big league games. In addition to his work with the Red Sox, Remy has also worked the Saturday Game of the Week with the Fox Network. His Web site, theremyreport.com, is popular among Red Sox fans. Prior to home games, Remy can often be found greeting fans at Rem Dawg's on Yawkey, the popular gathering spot near the corner of Yawkey Way and Van Ness Street, which opened July 21, 2004 and specializes in hot dogs with unique toppings.

J.P. Villaman

950 AM WROL
(5th season with Red Sox)

Local sports talk show host J.P. Villaman returns for his 8th season as the play-by-play announcer on the Red Sox Spanish Radio Network, which will carry all games at home and on the road.

Uri Berenguer

Joining J.P. once again in 2005 will be Uri Berenguer.

J.P. was a winner of the "Circulo Dorado," an award given for excellence in his field. Uri, a former Jimmy Fund patient at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, is the nephew of former major leaguer Juan Berenguer.

In addition, Bill Kulik, president of Spanish Beisbol Network, will again provide some of the play-by-play action in 2005.

BROADCAST EXCELLENCE

Red Sox games were first broadcast on the radio in 1926. The Sox were first televised in 1948.

Over the last 79 years, a total of 43 broadcasters have announced Red Sox games from Fenway Park's broadcast booth on a regular basis.

The club's first radio announcers was Gus Rooney, who was the Opening Day announcer on WNAC in 1926. The following season, Fred Hoey and Gerry Harrison called the action. Jim Britt, Tom Hussey and Bump Hadley were the first Red Sox television announcers in 1948 on TV-4 and TV-7.

Corrections have been made in the above listing thanks to information provided to us from John K. Moynahan, author of 50 Years At The Game, A Sports Traveler's Journey, and other sources. We appreciate this input as we attempt to produce an accurate account of our broadcasters. We are aware that through the years there have been "guest" or temporary fill-in broadcasters for Red Sox games, however, they are too numerous to list here.
